Cherry Says Singles Outdraw Dual Bills

HOLLYWOOD, Aug. 11.—Staunch advocate of single bills is James Owen Cherry, Dallas manager for Interstate Theatres, who is visiting Hollywood. Cherry said pictures playing single bills in Dallas do half again as well as the same pictures on double bills in other cities of the same population.

Many times, he declared, he has outgrossed double features in other cities of 300,000 by two to one. Certain short subjects get billing and marquee space with the feature picture—Warner musicals, M-G-M's Crime shorts and Pete Smith Specialties and Disney cartoons being the most popular.

IN JUSTICE TO A GREAT PICTURE

Through an unfortunate combination of circumstances, the phenomenal business being done by the Twentieth-Century-Fox picture, "ALEXANDER'S RAGTIME BAND", at the Roxy Theatre, has given rise to the publication of several misleading accounts in the trade press as to the amount of business which the picture would do in the first week of its present engagement at the Roxy Theatre.

Most of the published estimates—and indeed our own—were far short of the actual amount paid into the box-office by audiences which, in size, broke all existing house records. In view of this, the Roxy Theatre management feels that it is only simple justice to a great attraction and to exhibitors who have booked this attraction, to publish the correct figures as sworn to and attested by the treasurer of the theatre.

The truth is that for the first 7 days of the engagement of "ALEXANDER'S RAGTIME BAND" at the Roxy Theatre

$87,489.84 in admissions (after Federal tax)

While this business is so much bigger than anybody could reasonably expect a motion picture to gross in this theatre that erroneous estimates are understandable, nevertheless, we regret the publication of false figures and take this advertisement so that exhibitors throughout America will know the true facts.

Preliminary Studio Labor Talks Start

Preliminary conferences on the request of major studios for a 10 per cent reduction in the basic wage scales in effect for the five international unions which are signatories of the five-year basic agreement with the studios were held here yesterday. The discussions will be concluded at a meeting scheduled for this morning in the offices of Pat Casey, studio labor contact.

Little, if any, material change in existing schedules is expected to result from the parleys. It was reported that the unions countered with a request for increases in several labor classifications and that the discussions probably will close with a stand-off agreement to continue present scales until the 1939 parleys next spring.

Over the weekend Mr. Casey emphatically denied reports that the conference was concerned with any possible effect of the Government's anti-trust suit on the studio's basic labor agreement.

Participating in today's conference in addition to Mr. Casey, are Barney

Final details for the conduct of the $250,000 "Movie Quiz" prize contest for patrons of theatres participating in the "Motion Pictures' Greatest Year" campaign were completed over the weekend immediately following approval of the contest by postal authorities.

The contest, which is regarded as the most direct means of bringing new patrons to participating theatres during the campaign, will open Sept. 1 and continue to Dec. 31. During this period theatre patrons will have opportunities to see 94 new season pictures which will be released from Aug. 1 to Oct. 31. Contest Booklet Prepared

The complete list of contest questions, together with rules, instructions to entrants, titles, casts, illustrations and descriptive matter on each of the 94 contest pictures, have been compiled in a 32-page booklet prepared by the contest committee, which is headed by Charles E. 'Four's a Crowd' Received Well by N. Y. Reviewers

"Four's A Crowd" was received in a generally favorable tone by the metropolitan critics following its Music Hall opening. They classified it as one of the "screwball comedy" variety and dwelt on its characterizations and scattered comedy moments. Excerpts from reviews follow:

Herald-Tribune—Depends almost entirely on daffy situations and antic performing. . . . At its best, even though that is nothing to get very excited about, when it turns loose its funny men in funny interludes.

Journal-American—Definitely on the wacky side. . . . A succession of farcical mixups. . . . The sets are handsome, the heroine's frocks are smart and the tempo is lively.

Mirror—Cast is gay and sparkling. . . . Rollicking good fun. . . . It is a beautifully mounted and smartly costumed production. . . . Has an exhilarating pace. . . . Everybody will enjoy it.

News—Strikes just the right light note for this heavy August weather. . . . Principals work smoothly. . . . Dialogue sparkles now and then to the amused satisfaction of the audience. . . .

Post—Qualifies as relaxing entertainment of a semi-farce nature. . . . Among first class pictures it is moderately entertaining.

Sun—The plot, as often as complicated as it is frothy, is occasionally tiresome. . . . Most of the time the fun is fast and furious—furious to the point of slapstick.

Times—May be listed among the more successful comedies of, on the whole, a rather tragic summer.

World Telegram—There is a general air of slapstick goofiness about "Four's a Crowd" that makes it the proper kind of hot weather entertainment.

British Licensing Protest Spreading

LONDON, Aug. 14.—The Surrey County Council has joined the ranks of those advocating an amendment of the Cinematograph Act of 1909 so that municipalities may issue—or reject—film house licenses in advance. The council has fallen into line with Warwickshire and London, and has asked the County Councils' Association, corporate body of British licensing authorities, to press the Home Office for amendment of the Act.

As it stands at present, the 1909 Act—under which all cinema licensing is controlled—and as interpreted by High Court decision, does not permit local authorities to issue licenses until the buildings have been erected.

By this interpretation of the Act opponents of overbuilding are debarred from voicing early opposition at the preliminary licensing sessions.

It is very likely the whole matter will come before the C.E.A. at an early session and that the association will ask for legislation to be pushed forward during 1938-39.

Such legislation would bring the procedure into direct line with that which exists in regard to saloons—known in England as public houses.

Standing in theatres is to be prohibited entirely in future by Sheffield, one of Britain's largest industrial cities. It has already been tabooed in new houses and the Watch Committee now intends to apply the ban generally.

S. awards of $125 each; 10 of $100 and 10 of $75 in this country. In Canada first prize will be $125; second, $75, and third, $50.

Ask Coburn Examination

Jacob J. Shubert will make an application today to the N. Y. Supreme Court for an order directing the examination before trial of Charles D. Coburn, the defendant in a suit brought by Shubert in behalf of Douco Corp. as its vice-president and director, to recover the proceeds of an alleged sale of the film rights of a play, "The Farmer's Wife." Shubert claims that Duoco Corp. was the owner of a one-half interest in the play and that Coburn, who is allegedly president and a director of Duoco Corp., failed to turn over the proceeds of the sale to it. Coburn, in his answer, denies that any part of the proceeds belong to the corporation.

2. Arrange to book at least 30 of the 94 contest pictures being released between Aug. 1 and Oct. 31.
3. Obtain his supply of the official "Movie Quiz" contest booklets, containing rules and instructions for contestants and a list of the contest pictures, for distribution to his patrons on or after Sept. 1.

St. Louis Radio Pay Poor, States Casey

St. Louis, Aug, 14.—Most of the radio actors in St. Louis earn their living at something else, clerking for railroads, selling insurance, practicing law, etc., according to Arthur Casey, productions head of KMOX and erstwhile stock impresario, in testimony given before Trial Examiner J. J. Fitzpatrick of the NLRB in the hearing of the petition of the American Federation of Radio Actors to be certified as the proper bargaining agency for radio actors, singers and announcers.

The radio stations involved, KSD, KMOX, KWK and WEW, are insisting that the announcers be organized in a separate unit because they are regarded as staff employes and are in a supervisory capacity over actors and singers. Also, the station managements declare, there are few staff singers and actors employed, most of them being free lance performers.

Mr. Casey testified that there are fewer qualified actors in St. Louis than in any other city of comparable size in the United States, amplifying the statement by declaring there are 10 times as many professional actors in Cleveland as in St. Louis.

France Laux, chief announcer for KMOX and a member of A.F.R.A., testified he preferred a separate unit for announcers, declaring he did not think free lance entertainers should have an equal voice with announcers on questions of wages, hours and other working conditions.

WMCA to Broadcast Hines Racket Trial

With microphones barred from the courtroom where James J. Hines, Tammany leader, is to stand trial for alleged participation in the "Dutch" Schultz numbers racker, WMCA has set up equipment in a building nearby the courtroom, and beginning today will broadcast details of the trial.

Due to the uncertainty of time on the trial, definite broadcasting periods have not been allotted. Tentative arrangements, however, provide for daily broadcasts beginning 15 minutes before court opens at about 10 A. M., again at the noon recess between 1 and 2 P. M., and a final broadcast at the adjournment of each day's session about 5 P. M. Harry Hershfield, the newspaper man and cartoonist, and Frankie Basch, will handle the assignment.

WMCA's coverage of the Hines trial is reminiscent of the way in which KNEW covered the trial of Bruno Hauptman in the Lindbergh kidnapping case.

WHN will broadcast from the lobby of the Astor Theatre tomorrow night at the opening of "Marie Antoinette." Nils T. Granlund will be the master of ceremonies.

AFRA Pact On Announcers Is Signed by NBC

The American Federation of Radio Artists on Friday completed a contract with NBC covering conditions of employment of sustaining NBC announcers in New York. The contract is for two years, and will run concurrently with the contract A. F. R. A. secured for network sustaining actors and singers some weeks ago.

The contract will grant a 10 per cent increase in wage for the announcers, although in many individual instances the increases will range as high as 17 per cent. The salary scale for the sustaining announcers has been set at from $250 to $396 per month for seniors, and from $110 to $175 per month for juniors. The pact sets a limitation upon the number of juniors, at a ratio of 1 to 4. At the moment there are 32 sustaining announcers at NBC's New York studios, 26 seniors and six juniors.

The salary increases are retroactive to July 1.

The pact grants NBC the right to hire and fire without consulting A. F. R. A. However, the network will give four weeks' severance notice to announcers it wishes to discharge. Another benefit to the announcers is that NBC no longer will be permitted to offer staff announcers on commercial programs free of charge to sponsors.

A. F. R. A. will continue to work with the agencies for a pact covering artists appearing on sponsored programs.

Communications Men Meeting in Chicago

Chicago, Aug. 14.—The American Communications Association, C.I.O. union for CBS engineers, and Associated Broadcast Technician leaders, met at the Hotel Sherman yesterday prior to an election tomorrow by all CBS engineers, following which the National Labor Relations Board will choose the bargaining agent. The Associated Broadcast Technicians is currently in power as an independent group, and is striving to hold the advantage.

Among those present at the meeting were Louis Goyette, Fred Lange, Robert Brockway and Edward Knight.

WJZ-WEAF to Start New Morning Service

NBC's metropolitan outlets, WJZ and WEAF, will begin their broadcasting day at 6:30 A. M., one hour earlier than heretofore, WJZ effective today and WEAF one week later, Aug. 22.

The purpose of the extension is to supply early-rising listeners with weather forecasts, frequent announcements of the correct time, news bulletins and information on road conditions.

Information on the program is to be interspersed with recorded musical selections. The broadcasting of transcribed music is allowed over the local NBC stations until 9 A. M., although barred over the networks.

Pact Signing Halts G.N. Control Talks

Hammons, president of Educational, signed for his company and Loyd Wright and Edward L. Alperson, cotrustees of Grand National, for theirs. The two Grand National principals left for the coast immediately following the close of the deal and today will call a meeting of Grand National creditors to be held in Los Angeles this week for formal ratification of the agreement.

If the agreement receives final approval at the meeting this week, it will be presented to the U. S. District Court in Los Angeles immediately thereafter. With the anticipated approval of the court, the new company's 1938-'39 production plans may be completed early in September. Mr. Hammons will head the new company with Mr. Alperson in charge of distribution.

Harrison Sees Extension of Admission Tax

Washington, Aug. 15.—Extension of the admission tax was forecast today by Senator Pat Harrison of Missisipi, chairman of the Senate Finance Committee, who also predicted that needs of the Treasury may well result in a broadening of the tax base through the lowering of personal exemptions.

Discussing the Government's financial situation, Senator Harrison said that he could see no way to avoid consideration of a complete new tax bill at the next session of Congress, but stood firm against the imposition of any taxes or rates which would serve to slow down business.

The admission and other nuisance levies are due to expire June 30 next, unless extended, and while there had been some suggestions that they might be abandoned, Senator Harrison's views today merely reinforced those previously expressed by Treasury officials that the revenue from these levies was too important to be released.

Pledges Pass $900,000 in Big Ad Drive

Many Regional Meetings Still to Be Held

Industry pledges to the "Motion Pictures' Greatest Year" campaign passed the $900,000 mark yesterday with the receipt of approximately $40,000 in pledges during the past eight days, according to a tabulation compiled from reports on regional meetings held last week. A prior tabulation placed the total of pledges at more than $875,000.

Indications are that the $1,000,000 goal for the campaign will be reached before the end of the month, inasmuch as there are still nearly a score of regional meetings in the United States and Canada at which pledges will

M-G-M's Total For Season to Be Forty-Five

Will Deliver One Over Contract Minimum

M-G-M will deliver 45 out of the maximum of 52 features scheduled for 1937-'38, closing the season Aug. 26 with national release of "Marie Antoinette." Contracts were sold on the basis of a minimum of 44 and a maximum of 52 features, and the delivery total is one more than the minimum promised.

Of the seven titles that will not be delivered on 1937-'38 contracts, two are in the 35 per cent allocation, one in the 30 per cent group and four designated at 20 per cent. All of the 25 per cent pictures have been made and delivered.

"Marie Antoinette" is the last of four 1937-'38 pictures allocated at 40 per cent. The others, all delivered, are: "Test Pilot," "Rosalie" and "Girl of the Golden West."

The sales department reports contracts for 1938-'39 are exceeding last year's at this time in number. By last

"Drums" Gets One of Those New Swank Trade Showings

By J. M. JERAULD

A year or so back a trade show was a trade show. Exhibitors and their wives and sisters-in-law dropped into the Astor or some place—usually in the morning—and saw a picture, and the exhibitors went home for dinner and argued about how much they should pay for it.

Of late something has come over trade shows. They're a mild form of premiere without the bright lights, but with flashlight bulbs and crowds on the sidewalk and an occasional autograph hunter who can't tell a circuit operator from a star. (There are some!)

Last night's showing of "Drums" at the Hollywood Theatre was one of those new kind of trade showings. Automobiles with chauffeurs pulled up to the curb. Harry Cohn and Nate Spingold and Harry Charnas arrived that way. Arthur W. Kelly and Mrs. Kelly also impressed the waiting crowd and the photographers got busy

Graetz and Lopert Oppose Scramble for French Films

The scramble by American foreign film distributors for French pictures has reached "ridiculous" heights and has created "a terrible situation" because inferior product is being brought in by distributors who think that anything French will go, in the opinion of Paul Graetz, head of Paris-Exportfilm, who arrived in New York yesterday.

Of 110 features scheduled for production in France this year, only 10 will have box-office potentialities for the American market, he estimated. Many of the French pictures being imported cannot make the grade in Paris and are shunted to the smaller towns, he said.

"Unless American importers concentrate on the 'A' product, the market will be demoralized for everybody," he said. During his present visits he will attempt to stabilize the situation and will negotiate a deal for the distribution of eight films through one channel. Two of these are Danielle Darrieux pictures.

Another comment on the situation was given by E. I. Lopert, head of Pax Film, who returned from Paris yesterday. Mr. Lopert said the American demand has shot the price of American rights to French films to a prohibitive level.

Mr. Lopert plans to make a picture here next year, with Seymour Nebenzahl, who made "Mayerling" and "M," as the producer. The film will be in English, and a story is being sought. He arranged to import two Nebenzahl pictures, "Hostages" and "Werther." The Paris market at present offers little for America, he said, but he predicts that the quality of French films will be better in the fall and winter.

Showmanship Static, Says Herman Wobber

Production has made great progress in the past five years. but the exploitation and presentation of films by exhibitors has remained static, in the opinion of Herman Wobber, 20th Century-Fox distribution chief.

"Just as we look to the studio for box-office pictures of superior earning power and quality, so does the studio look to us for the means to continue to make big, money-making productions," he says in a message to his sales force.

"That support does not stop with the sale and booking of pictures. It goes beyond that. It is our definite responsibility to see that our productions are properly presented, effectively exploited, not just in a few spots, but in every single situation."

Localized efforts by exhibitors to get "the last possible dollar out of every picture," must be more emphatic this season than ever before, Mr. Wobber says. An "honest inventory" of exhibitors' showmanship efforts over the last five years would show that this phase has not progressed, and, in fact, "many exhibitors have not held their own," he added.

Confirm Death of Frank

Truman H. Talley, head of Movietone News, yesterday received a cable from Berlin verifying the death of Harold Frank, attached to the Prague office, and his wife, in the crash Saturday of a Czechoslovak airliner near Kiehl, Germany. The plane was en route from Prague to Paris. Sixteen persons were killed, including Grit Haid, Vienna film actress. Mr. Frank was a sound man.

A 1938-'39 deal for Republic films has been closed with the Affiliated circuit which has 12 theatres in Philadelphia, Westchester, Pa., and Atlantic City.

"The Show Goes On"

(G. B.)

What is otherwise a rather ordinary story of three circus trapeze performers, a woman and two men, and their personal problem of jealousy and revenge, becomes far more acceptable as audience material by reason of unusually effective suspense action staged high above a theatre audience.

For American audiences, this British picture, produced and directed by Herbert Wilcox for G. B. release, has three known performers in the leading roles of the triangle, Anna Neagle, Tullio Carminati and Leslie Banks. Herman Mankiewicz adapted the story by Nicholas Farkas.

Banks, the dour member of the troupe, and the "catcher" in the trapeze act, is in love with Miss Neagle, but is too shy to tell her. Carminati only realizes that he himself loves her when Banks asks him to be his "voice" in asking the girl to marry. Banks misunderstands and plans his revenge high in the air on the occasion of the opening of their big show. As he is about to drop Carminati, the girl faints, and Banks tosses his partner back in time to catch her. There is a tremendous amount of suspense packed into a few minutes.

Running time, 69 minutes. "G." Charles S. Aaronson

while inside the lobby Lynn Farnol greeted arrivals in a dignified way and Monroe Greenthal glad-handed some of the guests. There was only one reminder of the good old informal trade shows—the advertising salesmen. How those boys devote themselves to their duties wherever there's a cooling system in August!

The Hollywood is a fine place for a trade showing. The lobby is long and cool and the foyer is spacious—also cool. The women have an opportunity to powder their noses before the photographers do their candid camera shots.

Maurice Bergman was there. Others who came in were: Max Cohen, Martin Starr, Si Seadler—attired as faultlessly as though it were the "Marie Antoinette" opening—and Al Sherman, also in a sartorial creation; M. H. Schlesinger, Jack Alicoate, Louis Frisch, Sam Rinzler, Laurence Bolognino, License Commissioner Paul Moss, William and Harry Brandt, Al Sussman, Dave Chatkin, Emanuel Silverstone and Murray Silverstone, Vincent Kearney and Mrs. Kearney, Jack Harris and John Burnett.

The picture went on about 8:50 with no shorts or newsreel to precede it, and in no time at all the audience was looking at Khyber Pass and mountain peaks with snow done in Technicolor. It was a fine way to forget the humidity, and the audience was applauding before the action had really begun at Tokot up in Afghanistan.

If A. W. Smith, Jr., didn't raise the percentages about the end of the second reel it was his own fault.

"Drums" was reviewed in Motion Picture Daily July 26.

presentation to nine managers of cash awards for outstanding work. A. M. Bowles was chairman of the initial session.

Mr. Skouras painted a promising picture of the future with regard to business and the nation's economic situation. He declared that theatre conditions of the last six months were very satisfactory in the face of a general business slump.

W. T. Powers gave a technical talk on film buying deals and was followed by J. J. Sullivan.

After a luncheon recess Spyros Skouras told of the importance to the organization of man power and said that the reputation of the company in the eyes of the public must be maintained.

C. A. Buckley of legal staff, Cullen Espy, Irving Epstein, W. H. Lollier and Dick Dickson also spoke.

Century Refuses to Sign

The Century circuit has no intention of signing with operators' Local 306, which yesterday starting a picketing campaign against the circuit in Brooklyn, a Century spokesman said. Only three theatres were being picketed yesterday, he said, one by the operators' union and the others by musicians, who are assisting the operators in their unionization drive. Business was not affected.

"Band" Big in Chicago

Chicago, Aug. 15.—"Alexander's Ragtime Band" is setting new records at the Chicago here, having opened Friday to the biggest business in the history of the house. Attendance is equivalent to World's Fair days. The theatre is running nine shows daily, with the stage show cut to 25 minutes.

Charge Stars Aiding Reds Causes No Stir

Washington, Aug. 15.—Alleged participation by Hollywood film stars in Communistic activities, charged yesterday by Edward Sullivan, investigator for the special House committee studying un-American activities, aroused little reaction in Washington today, where it was pointed out that this has been common knowledge for a long time.

Mr. Sullivan charged that many film personalities have contributed to various Communistic organizations and that others, opposed to such activities, have been afraid to make their position known because they would lose their work.

The committee investigator mentioned no names in his report, but the identity of a number of film performers who have participated in red organizations has been known in Washington for some time. He alleged that "all phases of radical and Communistic activities are rampant among the studios of Hollywood."

Thorough investigation of all charges of Communistic activity which have been laid before the committee, it was declared by Representative Martin Dies of Texas, chairman, would require time and funds beyond the resources of the committee thus far appropriated.

Hollywood Unit Answers Dies

Hollywood, Aug. 15. — Donald Ogden Stewart, president; Marion Spitzer, vice - president, and Alan Campbell, secretary, of the Hollywood Anti-Nazi League for the Defense of American Democracy, today issued the following statement:

"It is ominous that the Dies investigating committee has adopted the practice of making accusations without revealed facts to substantiate them. When Hitler is mobilizing a million men at the Czechoslovakian border, when another investigator of the Dies committee finds that the National Guard is being invaded by the Nazi Bund, and that there is an effective spy ring throughout the country, these charges leveled at an organization devoted to the task of combating Nazism are in themselves a threat to democracy. The Hollywood Anti-Nazi League repudiates this attack. We stand on our record and call for a real investigation of Nazi activities in this country which, after exposing Nazi activity, will eliminate the need for action against this activity instead of attacking organizations formed for the purpose of taking such action."

Rivoli Negotiating For Strong Product

Facing a shortage of first run product, the management of the Rivoli, which reopened 10 days ago, is negotiating with two major companies with a view to returning the house to its former policy of extended runs.

Big pictures and those which require individual treatment admittedly will be needed for the policy, and the Rivoli believes it will be able to line them up as the season progresses and the film supply from the studio increases. Universal is one of the companies that may provide pictures, it is understood.

For the time being at least the Rivoli will operate on a picture to picture basis, but John Wright, managing director, says the theatre will remain open and that present negotiations will assure a product supply.

"Gateway," which re-lighted the Rivoli after it had been dark 11 weeks, grossed a weak $9,000 in seven days. The film was held an additional four days to permit Universal's "Little Tough Guy" to start today.

At the Rialto, "Smashing the Rackets" proved a good attraction, taking $10,000 in eight days.

Columbia's "I Am the Law" will start at the Capitol Aug. 25. "Four Daughters" will open Thursday at the Music Hall and will be released nationally Sept. 24.

Ask Coordination of Government Pictures

London, Aug. 15.—The suggestion that the confused and disunited production of films by Government departments should be coordinated through an advisory committee, is made in a report issued by the Select Committee on Estimates. It suggests that such a council should be set up to advise and guide the departments on the making or procuring of films for Government publicity purposes.

Divers methods are adopted by various departments at present. The Admiralty provides facilities for a selected firm, which limits the expenditure to the purchase of copies and the purchase and conveyance of a projector.

The council criticises this procedure, called inadequate, inefficient and uneconomical, and incidentally declares that not enough attention is paid to making sure that the films should reach a wide public audience on their own entertainment merits.

Ten Studios Given Nylander Summons

Hollywood, Aug. 15.—New formal steps in seeking collective bargaining contracts with producers were taken today in the interests of the Screen Directors Guild and the Screen Writers Guild. Dr. Towne Nylander, regional director of the National Labor Relations Board, today issued formal complaints to 10 studios, charging they refused to bargain collectively with the directors' organization and ordering them to appear on charges, August 22, when the directors' petition to be declared the bargaining agency for directors, assistants and unit managers will be heard. Dr. Nylander cited the N.L.R.B. ruling that the film industry is engaged in interstate commerce and therefore under Wagner Act jurisdiction.

Leonard Janofsky, attorney for the writers guild, today sent notices of certification of the guild as the writers' bargaining agency to 13 studios and declared, "We expect an early reply as to your attitude on this question."

M-G-M's Total For Season to Be Forty-Five

Friday there was a total of 5,400 contracts, and if the pace continues M-G-M will have its best sales year, it was said.

Distribution executives explain the increase by the company's fairness in designating percentages and the fact that "a satisfied customer is the best customer."

Few if any long-term deals are being made. Three-year circuit deals were negotiated two years ago and only a few running for three years have been closed since, it is understood.

Expect Columbia to Make 3 in England

Columbia is expected to schedule three features for production in England during the new season as a result of the study of new quota requirements and producing facilities completed in London recently by Joseph A. McConville, foreign manager, it was learned yesterday.

The three features would be intended for world distribution and may be made by Zoltan Korda at the London Films studios, it was said. No definite plans have been set yet, however, and a final decision is expected after Mr. McConville makes his report to Harry and Jack Cohn on his arrival in New York. He is aboard the Rex, due here tomorrow.

20th-Fox Nears End Of Season's Output

HOLLYWOOD, Aug. 15.—With production moving forward swiftly following the return of Darryl F. Zanuck from his European vacation, by the end of this week every picture slated for release by 20th Century-Fox before Dec. 31 will either be in work or completed.

Mr. Zanuck has set starting dates for production of 10 releases that will be available during the first two months of 1938. Meantime, the studio has delivered to New York, has in the cutting rooms or in actual production a total of 22 films, for release during the first five months of the new season.

"Nation" Tests Started

Screen tests of 15 young players were under way today at Eastern Service Studios for parts in "One Third of a Nation." Several promising youngsters were tested yesterday and others will go before the cameras today, according to Harold Orlob, who is producing this independent venture starring Sylvia Sidney.

Shooting will start on the Long Island stages as soon as Miss Sidney returns from Europe Sept. 5.

G. B. Adds Three to Force

Additions to the G. B. sales staff were made yesterdav by the home office. Robert Moore was added to the Kansas City sales force, Ed Cohen at Omaha and Alvin Stein at Milwaukee.

"U" List Will Stay At 40, Says Joseph

While Universal will continue to add acceptable pictures to its schedule throughout the season the policy does not imply an increase in the schedule beyond the 40 pictures announced for the new season, John Joseph, Universal advertising and publicity director, said yesterday on his arrival in New York from the studio.

Universal recently signed Constance Bennett for "Service DeLuxe" and W. C. Fields for "You Can't Cheat an Honest Man," and has similar deals in work, Mr. Joseph said. Where additions of this kind are made, however, they will be fitted into the schedule either as substitutions or originally planned productions without increasing the total for the season, it was said. The company adopted a "flexible" production plan at the beginning of the season under which it listed only 24 titles, thus making possible a policy of filling out the program as advantageous deals materialize.

Mr. Joseph said that both the new "assignment" or unit production system and the establishment of advertising and publicity headquarters at the studio were working out to good advantage. He will be in New York for three or four weeks, during which time Lou Pollock, eastern advertising and publicity manager, will take a vacation.

of a suit filed Oct. 13, 1936, to recapture alleged William Fox assets from the All-Continent Corp.

Eugene O'Dunne, Jr., of Washington, special assistant to the chief counsel of the U. S. Bureau of Internal Revenue, declared today, "We have traced millions of assets into All-Continent. Charges of fraud have been frequent. This offer requires release not only of All-Continent but of any other transferee to whom Fox might have transferred his assets."

The recapture suit, now pending in the U. S. District Court, was filed by Hiram Steelman, trustee of the William Fox estate, who is petitioning the court to accept the settlement offer as the best available.

Strike Started at Du-Art Laboratory

A strike of 55 employes was called at 6 P. M. yesterday at the Du-Art Laboratories by Motion Picture Laboratory Technicians Union, Local 702. John H. Rugge, union president, said the laboratory refused to negotiate a contract calling for a closed shop, higher wage scales and working conditions.

Mr. Rugge said all employes in the title and laboratory departments are members of the union. Pickets were posted.

Claim New Emulsion For Dufaycolor Film

Three recent developments which bring Dufaycolor nearer to its use in 35 mm. film by the Hollywood studios were made known by Col. Leslie R. Naftzger, vice-president and general counsel of the company, upon his return yesterday from two months in Europe.

A newly perfected emulsion, said to be five times as fast as the emulsion used heretofore in Dufaycolor, speeds up the film, and makes it possible for Dufaycolor to be used with the same facilities as used for black and white film, Col. Naftzger said. No special lighting, no filters and no special cameras are required, he explained.

Also, permission has been obtained to use a red sensitized dye in the United States which previously was barred from this country because of the question of certain infringements with Kodak patents. The dye has been developed by Ilford, British raw stock company. The third development is that Dufaycolor has obtained rights to a green dye perfected by the British Chemical Co., which is said to blend better into the spectrum than the green previously used.

Films in production or planned with Dufaycolor in England are far in excess of previous seasons, Col. Naftzger stated, and the British company will within the next 12 months print a minimum of 15,000,000 feet of film. The company has built a new plant at North Elstree.

A plant for New York has been under consideration for some time, but this will come upon the perfection of the process to a point where Dufaycolor can be made available in quantities to American film producers.

THE Nehi program, featuring Tim and Irene, winds up its NBC-Blue schedule, after 26 weeks of broadcasting, with the airing of Sept. 2—but from present indications the comics will step immmediately into another show. They have prepared a three times weekly, 15-minute show centered around the "Mr. & Mrs. Anybody" sketches they have been presenting on the Nehi program. The idea is something like the "Easy Aces" formula, and CBS is reported to be more than passingly interested.

While on the subject of meritorious radio offerings, a palm to NBC and the University of Chicago for the "Roundtable" programs. The discussions heard on this hour are unquestionably the most intelligent and informative in the entire network list of educational offerings, save possibly the "Town Hall" debates. It does seem, however, that NBC could bear down a lot more heavily than it has, in extending some publicity to this show.

Those reports of a new Old Gold show, with Robert Benchley as the star, are well founded, and an official announcement will come from Lennen & Mitchell, the Old Gold agency, in a day or so. Martin Gosch, who worked hard in the preparation of the program, will handle the production when the series reaches the air, probably some time in October over CBS.

Haberdashery

Cincinnati, Aug. 15.—Typewriter or linotype manufacturers, or both, might do well to discontinue placing the letters "i" and "o" next to each other on equipment furnished local newspapers. Following closely on the heels of a "shirt wave" radio story last week, another daily, in a current issue, carried a headline on the theatre page reading: "New shirts at Cincinnati theatres."

A. F. R. A. Hearing in St. Louis Is Closed

St. Louis, Aug. 15.—After six days of testimony, the hearing conducted by J. J. Fitzgerald, trial examiner for the National Labor Relations Board, on the petition of the American Federation of Radio Artists to be certified as the bargaining agency for the singers, actors and announcers of KSD, KMOX, KWK and WEW, has closed. The examiner took the matter under advisement and will make his report in Washington.

The proceedings had been conducted with unusual harmony and a minimum of bickering between counsel until the waning moments of the closing session, when Allan Pearl, local attorney for the N. L. R. B., who attended as an observer, warned Merle Jones, manager of KMOX, that the N. L. R. B. might regard conferences he held with witnesses just before they took the stand as an unfair labor practice. Mr. Jones assured Mr. Pearl his conferences with witnesses had not been for the purpose of coaching.

DONOVAN MAY BE HEAD OF COUNSEL

Firm Already Represents RKO Companies in Trust Action

Coincident with the filing of additional stipulations in Federal court here yesterday for extensions to Nov. 1 of the time for defendants to reply to the Government's bill of complaint in its anti-trust proceeding, it was learned that the law firm of Donovan, Leisure, Newton & Lumbard is being considered in major company circles as the choice for chief counsel to the defendants in the action.

The firm, which is headed by Colonel William J. Donovan, already is counsel for most of the RKO corporate and individual defendants, as well as for Irving Trust Co. which, as reorganization trustee for RKO, is also defendant. The Donovan firm has been identified with many important anti-trust cases in the past, the most recent of which was that brought by the Government against major oil companies and allied enterprises and tried at Madison, Wis., a year ago.

The new stipulations filed yesterday revealed that Goldwater & Flynn is

'Marie Antoinette' Opening Is Sensational, Willy Nilly

By IRENE KUHN

Metro advertised it as a premiere without ostentation. But when the big lights pierced the torrid atmosphere of Broadway after dark last night, and the invitees began arriving at the Astor for the opening of "Marie Antoinette" the premiere lived up to traditions and more.

The simplicity that canny Howard Dietz advertised as marking the opening of a brilliant picture, four years in the making, just wasn't there. Instead there were bejewelled and sparkling girls, men in faultless summer evening attire, 70 police, afoot and on horseback, arc lights that made the hot night torrid, shuffling mobs, NTG and Ray Saunders taking turns at the WHN mike in the lobby, fashion critics and commentators—even, believe it or not, two pickets. One succumbed to the heat and then there was only one. Just one A. F. of L. gent urging an eager mob not to patronize the theatre. Heywood Broun,

Snider Will Seek "Another Chance" For Distributors

A plea that Australian exhibitors give the major distributors "another chance" before pressing for Government action will be urged by Leon S. Snider, joint managing director of the Snider-Dean circuit, when he returns to Australia in the fall, he said last night before leaving for Washington.

Mr. Snider will confer with Abram F. Myers, general counsel of Allied, in Washington for "an interchange of information and ideas" and the various Government moves against the industry will be discussed. It is probable that the interchange will be continued after Mr. Snider returns to Australia.

He said that he has discussed exhibitor grievances with foreign department heads of virtually every major company, that they realize the seriousness of the situation and, anxious to hold the market, have pledged reforms.

Mr. Snider, who is an authorized spokesman for the New South Wales Exhibitors Association, said he will inform the body that the distributors have promised to be "open and fair" in their dealings with exhibitors.

"If they keep their promise, they will get our support against the Government reforms that are brewing," he said. "Otherwise, we will have no alternative."

May Probe "Aggression"

Mr. Snider said that the Australian Government has "unofficially indicated" it would investigate instances of major distributor "aggression" against independent exhibitors, including the building of new theatres in opposition to established operators, and that this might lead to a "divorcement" suit similar to that in North Dakota. In fact, he indicated, it requires only the support of the independent exhibitors in Australia to get such legislation through.

"Ninety per cent of what the distributors in Australia and New Zealand do is right," he declared. "It is the other 10 per cent that creates the trouble."

Leaving Washington, Mr. and Mrs. Snider will go to Chicago and after a short vacation in Canada will depart for Los Angeles where they will meet George Dean, the other joint managing director of the circuit, who will arrive Sept. 5. The Sniders will leave shortly thereafter for Sydney, after a trip of nine months which took them across the country and to London and back.

Levy Closes with Schine

Jules Levy, RKO general sales manager, has closed a deal with the Schine circuit for the entire 1938-'39 lineup in 65 theatres. Mr. Levy says this year's circuit deals are more than 300 ahead of last year at this time.

Hollywood Preview

"Spawn of the North"

(Paramount)

Hollywood, Aug. 16.—"Spawn of the North" is a showman's dream come true. It presents one of the rarest spectacles ever presented on the screen, the breaking of an Alaska glacier, accompanied by the roar of millions of tons of ice as it falls into the sea. It is a virile, gripping drama, heightened by two love stories, one of which is fulfilled, the other not.

It has action, danger and suspense. It has lightning touches of comedy. Its background is virtually virgin territory for exploitation, that of salmon fishing and piracy in Alaska in pioneer days. This Paramount picture has marquee names, George Raft, Henry Fonda, Dorothy Lamour, Akim Tamiroff, John Barrymore, Louise Platt, Lynne Overman.

Several years in preparation, the film emerges as a blend of the menaces of nature and of man to the happiness of a hardy group of Alaskan pioneers, a story based on the history of Seward's Folly.

So breath-taking are some of the scenes that the preview audience at the Westwood Village Theatre was sitting on the edge of its collective seat, and sighed audibly at the conclusion. Raft has his best role to date as an irresponsible Alaskan adventurer. Fonda plays the part of the rat's closest friend who shoots him in the fight between pirates and fishermen. Miss Lamour discards her sarong to become the hardened hotel keeper. Tamiroff is the villainous leader of the Russian pirates. Miss Platt, of whom much may be heard later, is the principal love interest. Barrymore and Overman supply much of the comedy relief and are given a hard race for honors by Slicker, a trained seal. Others in the case are Fuzzy Knight, Vladimir Sokoloff, Duncan Renaldo, John Wray, Michio Ito, Stanley Andrews and Richard Ung.

Henry Hathaway, whose directorial accomplishments include "Souls at Sea" and "Lives of a Bengal Lancer," guided "Spawn of the North." Jules Furthman and Talbot Jennings wrote the screenplay from the widely known novel by Barrett Willoughby. Direction and screenplay both stress action and conflict. The principal conflict is between Raft and Fonda, the former turning to piracy under Tamiroff's leadership and the latter going into the cannery business. After many raids the fishermen arm themselves to rid the territory of the pirates. In spectacular battle scenes during which harpoons are shot through the bottoms of boats and hatchets are thrown with amazing reality, Fonda wounds Raft. Tamiroff escapes and vows vengeance on Fonda but Raft, dying, tricks Tamiroff and carries him and his boat into the path of the falling ice. The picture contains some of the most outstanding natural photography ever recorded. Three cinematographers, Charles Lang, Jr., Farciot Edouart and Gordon Jennings are credited. Albert Lewin produced the picture.

Anti-War Group Now Wants Films Studied

WASHINGTON, Aug. 16.—Inclusion in the Administration monopoly study of the motion picture industry of an investigation into the propaganda tie-up between the industry and the Government was recommended today by the National Council for Prevention of War.

Referring to the recent borrowing of Marine Band uniforms by M-G-M, the council declared there is a "well-worked-out understanding" between the military branches of the Government and the film industry under which, in return for the use of men and equipment, the industry advertises the Army and Navy. "Neither the Government nor the film industry seems to be losing sight of the mutual advantages of their arrangement," it was commented.

U. A. Plans Big Ad Campaign on 'Drums'

The most extensive advertising, publicity and exploitation campaign ever accorded a British production will be undertaken by United Artists for Alexander Korda's "Drums," company officials stated yesterday.

Although the campaign is regarded by the company as directly in line with the merit of the production, it has an interesting sidelight in that it is expected to furnish the answer to the frequently heard British producer's complaint that the sales effort expended on a British picture by an American distributor is seldom of sufficient proportions to realize the full value of the production in the American market.

Among the highlights of the campaign planned for the picture by Lynn Farnol, United Artists advertising and publicity director, is a $60,000 magazine advertising campaign. The appropriation includes a four-color page in the American Weekly, single pages, some in two colors, in Life, Look, Saturday Evening Post, Liberty, Colliers, Scholastic, Parents Magazine and in eight "fan" magazines. The combined circulation of these is about 40,000,000.

To Use Daily Papers

In addition, the cooperative advertising which the company ordinarily conducts for its most important releases will appear in daily newspapers in 59 cities, representing the 48 states, and calculated to reach another 60,000,000 people. A trade paper campaign also is planned.

The publicity arrangements include four picture pages in Life, full pages in Look, Newsweek and Pic, together with feature stories on Sabu, the star, in Colliers, Liberty, syndicates and "fan" magazines. There will be newspaper serializations of the story and the full publicity facilities of the company. Radio programs will also be used. The United Artists' field exploitation staff will be utilized in the campaign and special press book work and national tieups arranged.

Sabu arrives here Sept. 12 for an extended schedule of personal appearances. The picture will open at the Music Hall, Sept. 22 or 29 and special sales effort will be devoted to it.

"Sailor" Week Gross $39,000 at Paramount

"Give Me a Sailor," with Chick Webb and his band on the stage, garnered $39,000 at the Paramount in the week ending last night.

"Modern Times" with Charlie Chaplin, which ran five weeks at the Rivoli in 1936, is reported doing "fair" at the Globe.

who never goes through picket lines, went through this one last night.

Autograph seekers cluttered the entrance, and a cordon of police blocked all but the middle doors watching to see that none but those with pasteboards got in.

Early arrivals included the colorfully dressed Maharajah, Sirdar Hardit Singh Malik, from Kashmir, with his daughter, and the Grand Duke Alexander Romanoff.

Major Bowes, his hand in a bandage since the accident on his yacht which cost him a finger, spoke into the mike. So did Irving Caesar whose girl friend wore a coolie hat tied under her chin.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Howard with Mr. and Mrs. M. H. Aylesworth came in before the theatre darkened. The Neil Agnews, the J. Robert Rubins and Metro's entire official family were on hand. Jack Cohn of Columbia was a bit late. Mrs. Herbert Mundin, wife of the comedian, was prompt. So were Joe Vogel, Eugene Picker, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Shea of the Shea theatres.

House Packed

Astor theatre manager Lee Cameron had the satisfaction of seeing the 1,144 seating capacity of the Astor taken up long before the first flash of the costume drama returning Norma Shearer to the screen. He gave Howard Dietz the good news that the largest advance sale ever recorded for the Astor is on the books, with $8,500 in for tomorrow, not counting brokers or receipts for last night's guests who bought.

"The picture has built continuously in public interest since we first opened the museum here on July 16," Mr. Dietz said. "Just a few persons short of a total of 200,000 have seen the exhibits we've had on display here from July 16th to the weekend when we dismantled the show to get the theatre ready for the picture."

Besides the Metro family all the major companies and most of the important distributors and exhibitors in the metropolitan area turned up last night, as well as a generous helping of well known New Yorkers and regular first nighters.

One face was missing—Norma Shearer's. The star arrived yesterday to attend the premiere but was overcome by the heat and kept in her hotel by physician's orders.

The picture starts a two-a-day run today, with 55 cents to $1 matinee prices and 55 cents to $2.20 at night.

And they were sending guillotines to the exhibitors last night for it was predicted the boys would all lose their heads over "Marie Antionette." Gag credit to Howard Dietz. "Marie Antoinette" was reviewed in the Motion Picture Daily on July 11th.

London's Exhibitors Will Ignore Council

London, Aug. 9.—Exhibitors here, it is understood, will ignore the City Council's suggestion of putting into voluntary action the new rule regarding seating.

It is reported that the Cinematograph Exhibitors' Association will probably examine the whole matter as a national issue following provincial indications of similar municipal action.

"U" to Mail Out Life

A thousand exhibitors will receive from Universal next week the June 20 issue of Life which contained a 14-page picture spread on "Dark Rapture."

The magazines will arrive just before national release date on this film.

O'Brien Film Titled

Hollywood, Aug. 16.—"Renegade Rangers" will be the final title of George O'Brien's next for RKO. It will be the fourth of the series and will complete the present O'Brien contract. He has been signed for six more.

Vitagraph Sues Over Use of Photographs

Vitagraph, Inc., filed a suit yesterday in the U. S. District Court against Behrend Motion Picture Supply House, Inc., in which the defendant was charged with plagiarizing 34 still photographs belonging to the plaintiff. The complaint stated that the defendant is in the business of manufacturing and distributing still photographs, posters and advertising material fo the exploitation and advertisement of motion pictures and that it unlawfully plagiarized and sold the still photographs which were the property of Vitagraph.

The complaint asked for an injunction and for an assessment of damages of $250 for each alleged plagiarism. In response to an application of Vitagraph, Federal Judge Robert P. Patterson yesterday issued a writ to impound the stills pending the outcome of a trial.

To Seek Increase of British Film Market

Representatives in this country of various English companies whose product is distributed in the United States will meet tomorrow at the offices of G. B. to discuss ways and means of increasing the popularity of the British film output among American audiences.

The statement disclosing the purpose of the meeting pointed out that in the current national advertising drive on behalf of the industry, British-made pictures "will not generally be included." That fact apparently has given rise to the planned meeting, which is intended to be followed by others until a program is worked out.

Venezuelans Here on Deal

mittances, George J. Schaefer, executive chairman of the campaign, said yesterday. As the pledges and remittances are received, the exhibitor's name will be forwarded to the exchange at which he obtains his accessories, or he will be supplied with a card denoting the order of his privilege to select materials, so that he may obtain them at the earliest time possible either by personal or mail order. The procedure is expected to prove highly advantageous to early subscribers as a heavy demand for the accessories is anticipated at the start of the campaign.

The exploitation sections of the campaign press book are now being printed. The section is of 16 pages, newspaper size and in two colors. Front and back covers of the section are in three colors. It contains a complete, illustrated list of campaign accessories, suggested ideas, stunts and tieups for local campaigns, instructions to exhibitors on community drives and complete instructions for handling the $250,000 Movie Quiz contest in local theatres.

The exploitation section as well as the remainder of the press book and the accessories are scheduled to be completed and on their way to exchanges in about a week.

Astor Meeting Set

Between 250 and 300 exhibitors from the metropolitan area are expected to attend the regional meeting at the Hotel Astor tomorrow.

Joseph M. Seider is chairman. Among the speakers will be Howard Dietz, James Clark and Oscar Doob. The aim of the meeting is to give every exhibitor complete information on the cooperative business drive and his own participation in it. Mr. Seider urges supervisors, managers and publicity directors to attend the meeting as well as theatre owners.

Additional regional meetings are scheduled for Montreal, Aug. 22; St. Louis, Aug. 22; Denver, Aug. 17; Halifax, Aug. 18, and San Francisco, Aug. 19.

At the Kansas City regional meeting yesterday 100 per cent exhibitor cooperation was pledged, according to word received at campaign headquarters here from Elmer C. Rhoden, head of the Kansas City committee.

Five trailers are being prepared for use in the drive, the first of which is scheduled to be completed within the next few days and in exchanges on Aug. 23.

Rowland Starts Series

William Rowland, head of Rowland Producciones, will start camera work Monday at Eastern Service Studios on his first film in Spanish for RKO release.

George Lewis, who has appeared in Spanish versions for 20th Century-Fox, and Eva Ortega will have the leads. Roberto Snody will direct, with Jack Shilkret handling the music. The title, "La Facinadora" ("Glamour Girl") may be changed. A series of six films is planned.

Connecticut Will Get Behind Ad Campaign

New Haven, Aug. 16.—Complete support of the industry advertising campaign was voted today at a meeting of exhibitors and financial contributions were pledged.

Among those present were representatives of Loew's, Warners, the Fishman theatres, and Jack Schwartz, A. M. Schuman, Maurice Schulman of Hartford, Irving Jacocks of Branford, Leo Bonoff of Madison, George Comdon of Westport, Leo Ricci of Meriden and Joseph Davis of Southintgon.

Jacob Fishman was elected chairman of a regional committee, the other members of which are Harry Shaw, Bernhard Hoffman, Lou Schaefer, Maurice Shulman and A. M. Shuman.

advertising campaign is not recommended by it.

The reasons given for the resolution are that the campaign was undertaken without consultation with the New Jersey organization; that exhibitors, as well as producers and distributors, are asked to share in the cost of the campaign; that participation in it may place exhibitors in "a precarious position" in negotiating new season contracts, and that it might imply undue friendliness with the rest of the industry which is participating in the drive.

Outline Plans in Dallas

Dallas, Aug. 16.—Plans for local participation in the industry's national advertising drive were detailed here at a meeting yesterday, presided over by R. J. O'Donnell, district executive committee member. He introduced R. E. Griffith, district chairman, who outlined the plans, and J. W. Underwood and Hugh Owen also spoke.

A total of $3,500 in cash was collected. A prize of $750 was offered to the salesman who collects the greatest number of pledges from exhibitors in his territory.

Seattle Support Pledged

Seattle, Aug. 16.—A meeting today on the "Motion Pictures' Greatest Year" drive attended by approximately 150 exhibitors and distributors from all parts of Washington was presided over by John Danz, regional director. Subscriptions were pledged by approximately 95 per cent of those represented. Mr. Danz will appoint regional committees and further group sessions will be scheduled some time next week.

acting as counsel for Keith-Albee-Orpheum and officers of that RKO theatre affiliate. Goldwater & Flynn are attorneys for M. J. Meehan, who holds a majority of the K-A-O preferred stock.

The stipulations were signed in behalf of the Government by Wendell Berge, special assistant to the attorney general, and operate as an extension from Aug. 9. All the stipulations provided that if any of the defendants other than those specifically listed in any particular group should be served or should voluntarily appear by Oct. 12, the extensions would automatically cover them.

Goldwater & Flynn signed the extension as attorneys for K-A-O Corp., Malcolm Kingsberg and Leon Goldberg. Simpson, Thatcher & Bartlett acted as attorneys for Paramount Pictures, Inc., Paramount Pictures Distributing Co., Inc., Austin C. Keough, Earl I. McClintock, Barney Balaban, Y. Depinet, William Mallard, William H. Clark and Jules Levy also entered into the extension arrangement.

Schwartz & Frohlich filed a notice of appearance yesterday in the suit, advising the Government that they represent Columbia Pictures Corp. of California, Ltd., Screen Gems, Inc., Mendel Silberberg, William Holman, George Winkler, Ted Elias and Charles Mintz, and would act as their attorneys.

which there was some worry as to which employes would be covered by the law. While he said he could not make a definite pronouncement at this time, Mr. Andrews suggested that in all probability actors and actresses would be exempt as professional workers, a definition which might also be extended to the technical forces of the studios.

Actors Will Vote on Wage Scales Aug. 23

A closed meeting of the membership of the American Federation of Actors to be held Aug. 23 at the Actors' Church will vote on proposed new minimum wage scales for vaudeville and the private entertainment field. The vaudeville scales will apply to all Broadway theatres using stage shows.

The council of the organization has passed on the proposed scales, but they will not be made public until after the membership has taken action. Ralph Whitehead, executive secretary of A. F. A., will preside. Speakers will include Harry Richman, council president; Howard E. Wheeler, Jr., president of the Entertainment Managers Association, and George Wood, theatrical agent.

tion on which he based the report made public this week, in which conditions in the film industry were assailed.

Appearing before the committee today, John P. Frey, American Federation of Labor official, declared that Communists are actively organizing WPA workers and charged that the Workers' Alliance, a Red organization, plays a prominent part in the Federal Theatre Project.

The A. F. of L. official submitted a number of documents and reports, one of which he would not read because of its international character, but which he intimated dealt with conditions in Mexico, including the activities of film stars in that country at the time of the investigation.

Rocky Mountain Unit Will Meet on Aug. 24

Denver, Aug. 16.—The cooperative advertising campaign, the Neely bill and the federal anti-trust suits will be the principal subjects for discussion at the convention of the Theatre Owners and Managers of the Rocky Mountain Region here on Aug. 24 at the Cosmopolitan hotel.

Frank H. (Rick) Ricketson, division manager for Fox Intermountain Theatres, will be the chief speaker. President A. P. Archer will preside. Archer's address, reports of officers and appointments of committees will be the first order of business.

Banner LINES

RAYMOND SCOTT, whose jazz compositions are as noteworthy as their titles are screwy ("Restless Night on an Ocean Liner," "War Dance of a Wooden Indian," "Dinner Music for a Pack of Hungry Cannibals," etc., etc.) is in line to receive an extensive buildup by CBS. The plans are being kept quiet for the moment, but beginning in the fall Scott will head his own jazz laboratory for the network. He will be given free rein in the field of popular music, and CBS will place three large orchestras under his direction. The plan is to create a musical program similar to the dramatic "Workshop" series, one of CBS's most successful developments.

All of which is quite a future for a young man who less than 18 months ago was pounding a piano in a CBS house band.

The air was as blue as it was hot the other night in the vicinity of the CBS production office. The air cooling system in that office went on the fritz while the temperature was about 98 outside, but worse, the radiators, which work with the cooling system, hissed live, hot steam all evening, and despite their frantic efforts, night network supervisor Ed Scobille and his assistant Richard Linkroun, were unable to shut off the steam. They were forced to work the night through in a steam heated, rather than air cooled office, and by the time quitting time rolled around they were garbed only in their B.V.D's.

Charley McCarthy, WHN announcer and commentator, received a missive from a Bronx husband who asked Charley to say a few words on the air about his marriage, which would soon be one year old.

"Just say," read the note, "greetings from Toots to Muggsy!"

Somehow we just cannot dodge discussion of the heat. CBS has set up temporary broadcasting studios in Liederkrantz Hall, and the control room there, which is sound proof and practically airtight save for some air vents, was a veritable hot house until the engineers on duty in that cubicle found a solution to the problem. They now get an allowance of 100 pounds of dry ice from the network each week. The ice is scattered on the floor, and a fan, blowing directly on the ice, radiates the cool air about the room.

sent by 70 stations unable to attend. There are 260 network affiliates.

Assurance was given by Neville Miller of the N.A.B. and several members of the board that the N.A.B. at its next convention will take action to establish an I.R.N.A. section with staff and office facilities of the N.A.B. available to the I.R.N.A. It is also planned to make an appropriation of $2,000 to cover the necessary operating expenses, thus relieving the I.R.N.A. members from the payment of any assessment.

Members of the N.A.B. are automatically members of the I.R.N.A. but N.A.B. membership will be necessary for I.R.N.A. membership. At present, 211 affiliates are N.A.B. members.

In addition to the officers, a committee of 11 was chosen to carry on the functions of the I.R.N.A. until the next N.A.B. convention.

Rosenbaum Issues Statement

The subject of the pending network investigation was discussed. "It was recognized," said Mr. Rosenbaum, "that affiliates have common interests with networks and should protect the present system of network broadcasting. It was thought that the views of the affiliates should be considered by the networks in their formulation of network policies and the view was expressed that in order to enable the affiliates to come forward and sincerely cooperate with the networks in expounding merits of network broadcasting some measures must be devised to satisfy the affiliates that their views on network operating policy would be given proper consideration."

The executive committee of I. R. N. A. was instructed to negotiate with the networks and reach an agreement as to the method of setting up in each network a body which might be called a "board of policy," which would have nothing to do with the board of directors of the network corporations but would have control over network policies. The affiliates of each network would be given adequate representation. The details regarding the selection of representatives, scope of their power, will be subject to negotiations. For the purpose of such a conference appointments have been made with NBC and CBS executives to meet at the St. Regis Hotel in New York, Monday, August 22, for preliminary conferences.

To Address the F. C. C.

The committee was also instructed to prepare and present to the Federal Communications Commission at its hearings a case setting forth the views of affiliates as a group on the subject of network broadcasting. What the nature of this case will be depends upon the kind of assurances received by the committee from the networks on the subject of elimination or modification of practices regarded by the affiliates as being undesirable from the listeners' point of view. The committee named, plus ex-officio officers, includes: Ed Craig, Nashville; Ike Lounsberry, Buffalo; Wm. Scripps, Detroit; Ed Craney, Butte; John Kennedy, Charleston; Arthur Church, Kansas City, Mo., and John Shepard, Boston. George W. Norton, Louisville, will act as advisory counsel.

The meeting, closed to everyone but members, ended late this evening, the majority of members leaving for their homes immediately. The general concensus of members was that the convention was highly satisfactory. Several network officials were on hand, apparently anxious to see what action the affiliates would take.

Morris to Celebrate

The William Morris talent agency will celebrate its 40th anniversary in September. It is the oldest agency of its kind in existence, greatly expanded in recent years because of radio. Founded by William Morris in 1898, his two children, William, Jr., and Ruth, carry on.

Chevrolet to Drop Transcribed Series

As foretold in these columns some weeks ago, the Chevrolet Motor Co. will not renew its transcribed "Musical Moments" series, which have been broadcast for the past three years three times a week over more than 200 stations. The platters will be discontinued near the close of this year.

The decision to discontinue the platters will be a serious revenue loss to radio, as it has been estimated that time for the program has cost the sponsor approximately $1,000,000 a year, and talent has cost an additional $250,000 a year.

Tomlinson Series Planned

Edward Tomlinson, author and lecturer, who has just returned from a tour of Latin America, will begin a series of commentaries on conditions in the countries he visited, over the NBC-Blue Aug. 21, at 6:45 P. M. Mr. Tomlinson will discuss the effects of European propaganda in the Latin Americas, and current political and economic trends there.

Ad Agency Will Use Commercial Pictures

HOLLYWOOD, Aug. 15.—The J. Walter Thompson advertising agency will turn this year to commercial films to advertise its clients' products, according to Stanley Resor, president. He is accompanied by Fred Fidler, head of the company's film division.

Mr. Resor said that several of the agency's clients already have signified their intentions of going into advertising films.

Outside of actual preparation of scripts, the agency has done nothing except to make a survey. "There are 7,000 theatres in the United States which at the present time show advertising films of varying lengths," he said. "We plan at the present time films of a minute or a minute and 20 seconds in length."

Circuit Theatre Staffs May Go Under Wage-Hour Law

WASHINGTON, Aug. 17.—The status of theatre employes under the new Federal wage-hour act may be a matter for definition by the administration, it was indicated here today.

While employes of independent houses are believed to be exempt because engaged in intrastate operations, some question has been raised as to the position of employes of circuits which operate theatres in two or more states.

Managers of houses will be beyond the application of the law under a provision exempting persons employed in executive or administrative capacities. Whether the exemption will extend to ushers and other employes will depend upon the definition which the administrator will issue as to whether theatre operations, particularly those of circuit houses, are in or affect interstate commerce.

The new administrator, Elmer F. Andrews, has just entered upon his new duties and is not yet in a position to make official decisions on any of the inquiries which have been received as to the status of various types of employes. Before the law goes into effect Oct. 24, however, it is planned to dispose of as many of these questions as possible through the issuance of regulations and definitions.

Pat Casey, producers' labor contact, arrived here today for conferences with Administrator Andrews on the application of the law to Hollywood employes, particularly the extras. The conferences will be informal. Mr. Casey plans to proceed to Hollywood from here.

Modify Producer Plan of U. A. to Satisfy Chaplin

A modification of the United Artists' plan for rewarding its producers with reduced world distribution charges and a participation in profits is being worked out at the home office to meet objections to the original plan which were advanced by Charles Chaplin, it was learned yesterday.

Mr. Chaplin is in agreement with the United Artists owners and management on the theory of rewarding producers for successful productions by the means proposed but differs on the method to be employed.

Charles Schwartz of the Schwartz & Frohlich law firm, who is Mr. Chaplin's attorney and a member of

Sign Langdon to Supplant Laurel In Hardy Series

HOLLYWOOD, Aug. 17.—Milton H. Bren, vice-president of Hal Roach Studios, today signed Harry Langdon to a starring contract, effective immediately, under the terms of which he will appear in a series of features opposite Oliver Hardy.

Langdon thus returns to stardom, replacing Stan Laurel, Hardy's co-star since 1927, who was stricken from the Roach payroll last night for an alleged breach of contract. The first Hardy-Langdon feature, which will go into work shortly, will be "Zenobia's Infidelity," from H. C. Brunner's novel about an elephant who forgot. The studio says Hardy and Langdon

Showmanship in Exhibition Is Vital, Declares Zanuck

HOLLYWOOD, Aug. 17.—Showmanship in the production of pictures is not enough—there must be showmanship in the exhibition of pictures, Darryl F. Zanuck told delegates to the western regional meeting of National Theatres, Inc., at a dinner honoring them at the 20th Century-Fox studio last night. "You must get behind the little ones as well as the big ones," he declared.

Introduced by Spyros Skouras as "the man whom we all love, respect and admire," Mr. Zanuck immediately launched into a discussion of what producers expected from exhibitors. "Established policies and principles have changed rapidly in our industry," he said. "There is no set policy in making, distributing and exhibiting of motion pictures. The industry has become more than ever a business in which the person with individual ef-

Drive for Playing Time Also to Be Taken Up

The proposal for establishment of a cooperative distribution system for all American representatives of British producers is scheduled to be discussed informally in connection with advertising and exploitation plans for new season British product at a meeting of the American representatives today, it was stated yesterday at G.B. headquarters where the meeting will be held.

The proposal has the indorsement of all American representatives of British producers and is being advocated in home offices in London now.

The primary purpose of today's meeting, however, will be to explore the possibilities of group action to obtain the maximum playing time for British product here while the domestic industry's own "Motion Pictures'

"Army Girl" will start a second week at the Criterion tomorrow and will be followed Aug. 26 by "Bulldog Drummond in Africa."

Talent Is Scarce in Europe—Van Schmus

American theatres seeking fresh talent and production ideas for their stage shows had better look elsewhere than in the capitals of Europe, in the opinion of W. G. Van Schmus, managing director of the Music Hall, who returned yesterday on the Rex with his wife and daughter.

Though the month's trip primarily was a vacation, Mr. Van Schmus was on the lookout for talent and production innovations he could bring over for the Music Hall. His verdict is that he has never seen such a scarcity. His explanation is that economic conditions have forced many of the better variety houses to close, with new talent not being developed. At least, he found this the case in Paris. He also visited Rome and other spots in Italy and France.

Priscilla Lane, Warner star who is in "Four Daughters," which will open at the Music Hall today, greeted the managing director at the pier and the two posed for photographers. Mr. Van Schmus will be host at a reception to Miss Lane at the theatre's studio apartment this afternoon.

He was assisted in the negotiations by Nat Lefton of Cincinnati and Sam Gorrel, Cleveland, and for the New York area by Jack Berkowitz of Buffalo and Bernie Mills, Albany. George Lynch acted for the circuit.

he United Artists' board, currently is working out amendments to the origi al plan with Maurice Silverstone, irman of the United Artists execuive committee. It is reported that the plan will provide participation benefits for United Artists producers working on lower budget pictures than Samuel Goldwyn and David O. Selznick by calculating such participations on the basis of annual gross of their contributions rather than on a basis of individual picture grosses, as proposed originally. Such a procedure, it is said, would answer Mr. Chaplin's objections.

fort, individual ambition and individual showmanship can show his mettle.

"The industry will always be a business for the showman. There is no place in it for one without showmanship. If any person has not the desire and ambition to advance in the line of showmanship he might as well get out of the industry. Showmanship extends from the individual, separate organizations to the industry as a whole.

"No organization can exist alone on epics. There must be a steadily sold turnover throughout the year on each picture. You must respect the little ones as well as the big ones. Respect each picture in the category for which it was produced. If exhibitors recognize this and a fair return is made to producers then when we lay out the budget at the end of the year we can find next year worth while gambling on. Producers must have encouragement from exhibitors and distributors. We can't find it unless we feel that you fight for even the smallest picture."

Plan Ad Drive Tie-In

The convention of the circuit closed today at the Ambassador Hotel after hearing details of the new business drive which will be conducted as a tieup with the industry's "Motion Pictures' Greatest Year" advertising and business building drive. totaled $511,956.13, resulting in a loss from operations of $27,982.04, in which is included provision for depreciation and amortization. Other income totaled $80,821.42, giving a profit before interest expense of $52,839.38. Interest expense totaled $1,160.64, leaving the profit figure of $51,678.74.

The company's six-month income included $70,000 in dividends from Du Pont Film Manufacturing Corp., in which Pathe Film has a 35 per cent common stock interest. The Du Pont profit for the six months totaled $639,000, of which $223,000 was Pathe's share. However, $153,000 of the Du Pont earnings were not distributed, resulting in a dividend to Pathe for the period of $70,000.

A Safe Bet

Don Ameche, returning on the Rex yesterday, related that when Darryl F. Zanuck was in London recently, Francis L. Harley, British managing director for 20th Century - Fox offered to wager Mr. Zanuck $100 that "Alexander's Ragtime Band" would take $80,000 in its first week at the Roxy. Mr. Zanuck was skeptical at the large figure and didn't take the bet.

The payoff is that the picture did $87,489 in its first week and will approach Mr. Harley's predicted first week figure in the second.

will be surrounded by name players in high budget productions.

Langdon, who has been working as a writer for Roach, last appeared before the camera in that studio's forthcoming "There Goes My Heart," when he stepped in to play the role of a minister. Laurel's dismissal was attributed by the studio to "failure to abide by the terms of his contract" and "willful disregard of his obligations."

It was stated that the star did not report for conferences on a feature scheduled to start on Aug. 1 and was not available for retakes of "Blockhead."

Pizor, Segall Plan Three New Theatres

Philadelphia, Aug. 17.—During the next three weekends, Lewen Pizor and Charles Segall, prominent independent Philadelphia exhibitors, will open three new theatres in Philadelphia.

This Friday night, they will open the Ace, in the Franford section. Aug. 26 will mark the opening of the Tioga in the North Philadelphia section and on Sept. 2, they will open the Chelten, in Germantown. The Chelten is new. The other two spots were rebuilt. ing America on the 1939-'40 list, and will be made under the supervision of Irving Asher, associate producer at the Alexander Korda plant. It is understood Zoltan Korda will figure in the production.

Mr. McConville said there will be either three double quota films or two doubles and one of triple credit, this to be determined later. Budgets have been set at from $300,000 to $375,000 each. He expects the contract with London Films to be signed this week, following conferences with Harry and Jack Cohn, and further information, such as the production setup and properties, will then be made known, he said. Work will start immediately.

Mr. McConville was gone two months on his first trip abroad. He visited all the English and Irish offices and was in France, Belgium, Holland, Denmark, Norway, Sweden, Italy and Czechoslovakia.

Sees No New Restrictions

Though the tendency abroad is to impose more drastic restrictions on American films to protect domestic industries, Mr. McConville does not anticipate that any new laws or decrees will be passed in the coming year. War in Europe is not imminent, he said, and though he was in Prague at the height of the tense international situation, he found everything calm there with business going on as usual.

Mr. McConville renewed Columbia's distribution deal in Italy with Consorzio Cinematografico, E. I. A., the new pact running three years. No changes in the personnel of the overseas organization were made during the trip.

He found conditions "excellent" in the Scandinavian countries and Holland, but could not say as much for the other territories.

Team Hall, Miss Lamour

Hollywood, Aug. 17. — Samuel Goldwyn plans a sequel to "Hurricane," which again will star Jon Hall and Dorothy Lamour. A deal has been closed whereby the producer will loan Joel McCrea in return for the appearance of Miss Lamour with Hall.

Short Subjects

"Follow the Arrow"

(M-G-M)

For sheer thrills and excitement and for a few moments of vivid suspense this short tops all of Pete Smith's sporting films. Mr. Smith narrates the prowess of Harold Hill, an archer, who it is revealed, can hit anything and everything in the manner called. Flying targets, clay pigeons, bull's-eyes, splitting playing cards and penetration tests through three-inch boards are revealed while Smith comments and a number of attractive misses stand around and pop their eyes. The big moment comes when Mr. Hill shoots a small apple from the head of a man about 100 feet away who is standing against a tree. He makes it, too, right through the core. Before the short begins there is a shot of a notarized document which states that all the shots made by Mr. Hill are the real thing and not stunts. This particular short deserves a lot of attention by the exhibitor who won't regret any effort he makes to interest his patrons in it. Running time, 10 mins. "G."

"Vitaphone Pictorial Revue No. 12"

(Warners)

Ben Grauer is the "voice" in the first unit of this subject, which portrays the hard life of the film star at work. The star is impersonated by Marie Wilson. Clem McCarthy, in the second unit, describes the technique of rowing, including the training methods in use. The final sequence, in color, will thrill the women with a display of fine furs, described by Maida Severn. Running time, 10 mins. "G."

"Paramount Pictorial P 8-1"

(Paramount)

Interesting and lively material plus the pleasant scenic beauty of western canyons is offered here. In succession are shown how big game fish are preserved through the taxidermist's art, Zion and Bryce canyons in Technicolor compositions with vocal accompaniment by David Ross and high speed aquatic sport on a western lake with aquaplanes and water skis. Running time, 10 mins. "G."

"Beauty Shoppe"

(Universal)

Marty May operates a beauty parlor and puts on a show in order to lure the customers. What follows is an expertly selected variety show that should have the audience's whole and appreciative attention. The acts are particularly accomplished and neatly turned. The bill offers Buck & Bubbles, Imogene Coca, Harrison & Fisher, Mae McKim and her Three Boy Friends, Doris DuPont, a clever tap dancer with a new routine, and Hildegarde Halliday. Running time, 20 mins. "G."

"It's in the Stars"

(M-G-M)

A light and youthful musical two-reeler revolving around undergraduate life in college is offered here. The accent is on young romance. Students at the school decide to study instead of fulfilling dates. However, Johnny Downs and his girl friend cannot tear themselves away from each other and have a rendezvous in the astronomical observatory. It all works out in an effortless manner. Pleasant and light diversion. Running time, 19 mins. "G."

Loew's Can't Find 'em

Loew's nationwide search for some of the supposed "millions of non-filmgoers" so far has been unable to unearth many who will admit that they do not patronize their local theatres or that they don't like "the movies."

The search was undertaken by the circuit in cooperation with the newspapers in a dozen cities after newspaper stories appeared saying that there are 50,000,000 persons in the country who seldom or never see a picture show.

Film editors ran a series of stories asking the abstainers to write in. Typical was the reaction of Paul Hochuli of the Houston Press, who gave up after a few days "search" with this comment: "It is this column's conclusion that practically all South Texans go to the movies. So far, few have written to tell why they stay away from the box-office. On the other hand, they have unburdened their souls as to why they go."

Similar results were reported from New Orleans, Washington, Cleveland, Atlanta, Toledo, Louisville, Boston, Long Island and other spots where Loew's sponsored the "search," which was tied in with current attractions at the theatres.

"We Live in Two Worlds"

(Educational)

The part communication and transportation plays in the elimination of national barriers is the theme of this British short. J. B. Priestley, the English novelist, is seen and heard in the commentary. The film reveals by a series of documentary scenes and with maps the lofty internationalism of these modern factors in present day living. Its appeal is dubious since there is a message and philosophy between the lines and it deviates widely from the entertainment field. Running time, 11 mins. "G."

"Trapped Underground"

(Warners)

One of the Floyd Gibbons' "Your True Adventure" series, this attains—and maintains—a strong element of suspense, as a biologist, aiding detectives, tracks a murderer in a mine. Himself decoyed into an abandoned shaft by the killer, he is stunned, but recovers in time to capture his man. An excellent dramatic subject in a good series. Running time, 13 mins. "G."

"Paris on Parade"

(FitzPatrick-M-G-M)

The exposition in Paris which opened last year is revealed here in all its colorful splendor. The camera has caught the costumes of the various nationalities, the exhibits and the spellbinding spectacle of a fountain upon which a symphony of color is played. This last part is a Technicolor achievement. The reel concludes with fireworks. Worth while. Running time, 9 mins. "G."

"Fits and Benefits"

(Universal)

A benefit show serves as the framework upon which is built a variety show of entertaining calibre in this musical two-reeler. The performers are more or less familiar to the general public and they do their respective turns in fine style. The lineup offers York & King, Carolyn Marsh, Mirty & Mack, Eight Men of Manhattan, Sunny Rice, Eddie Bruce, The Merrie Macs and the Cotton Club Tramp Band. Running time, 19½ mins. "G."

"Miracles of Sport"

(Warners)

In color, this E. M Newman subject presents, in turn, Amos Alonzo Stagg, famed football coach, showing his methods and his contribution to the game; a blind bowler who displays truly amazing skill, and Dr. and Mrs. Wehner, whose work it is to save horses with broken legs, hitherto condemned to immediate death. An interesting and entertaining subject. Running time, 10 mins. "G."

"Rhythm Cafe"

(Universal)

This is another of those night club affairs but it hits off well with an entertaining blend of dancing, singing and fair comedy. The performers are fresh and youthful for the most part. There are modern musical numbers and familiar personalities. The talent schedule lists Oshins & Lessy, Virginia Verrill, the Four Eton Boys, Don and Dolores Foursome, Vic Hyde, Samuels Bros. & Edith Fleming and Rosa Linda. Running time, 20½ mins. "G."

"The Courtship of the Newt"

(M-G-M)

Robert Benchley devotes his screen-talk here to the creature mentioned in the title. The laughs do not occur as frequently, or as easily as they did in "A Night at the Movies" or some other Benchley "lectures." Benchley builds up a lengthy piece of business which totters when the conclusion rolls around. Running time, 8 mins. "G."

"A-Lad-in Bagdad"

(Warners)

A Leon Schlesinger color cartoon, this is an entertaining cartoon rendition of the famous story, embellished and made colorful as suits the artist's tastes. It may be depended upon to suit that of the general audience, as well. Running time, 7 mins. "G."

Short Subjects

"Zero Girl"

(Warners)

With a background of a comedy situation in which Eric Waite learns to skate because his girl, Evelyn Chandler, likes ice-skaters, then finds her suddenlv desiring polo players, this subject presents Miss Chandler, Bruce Mapes, Ronny Roberts a[illegible] DuReine Farley, the Four Eton B[illegible] and several others in specialty acts on the ice, with and without skates. Miss Chandler's exhibition is, of course, the highlight. Running time, 20 mins. "G."

"The Little Ranger"

(M-G-M)

The "Gang" goes in for western films in this latest detailing of their exploits. Alfalfa falls asleep in a theatre and dreams he is a western hero who is mistreated by a villain. His girl also leaves him. About to be blown up, he is saved by another girl. Then he wakes up. It's regulation stuff which should have little difficulty pleasing the juveniles. Running time, 11 mins. "G."

"Silly Seals"

(Universal)

There should be little difficulty in pleasing the patrons with this cartoon. It has clever animation and utilizes the chase idea. The latter is always exciting. The plot offers a school for seals where a variation of the "Schitzelbank" song is taught. One young seal would rather practice juggling, however. He is given the dunce cap. Later he comes to the rescue of the other pupils and the teacher when a polar bear raids the igloo academy. Running time, 7½ mins. "G."

"Bravest of the Brave"

(M-G-M)

Was Marshal Ney, Napoleon's aide really executed when he was captured after the 100 Days' War which attempted to restore Bonaparte to the French throne? That is what this Historical Mystery attempts to learn. It introduces evidence that one Peter Stuart Ney lived in North Carolina. He was a school teacher who on his deathbed admitted that he was Marshal Ney. It is puzzling and entertaining. Running time, 11 mins. "G."

"Barnyard Romeo"

(Universal)

Barnyard poultry has a go at romance in this cartoon. The ensuing action is familiar stuff. A note of variation, however, is injected to give it just the right appeal. It will satisfy generally. Running time, 7 mins. "G."

"His Busy Day"

(Warners)

For those in the audience who like the socalled swing music of today and there undoubtedly are manv, this subject, featuring Clyde McCoy and his Sugar Blues Orchestra, should prove entertaining musically. For others it will be just another short subject featuring a modern band. Running time, 10 mins. "G."

Gives Assurance on 16mm. Film Release

TORONTO, Aug. 17.—Because of expressed fears on the part of independent exhibitors that the exhibition of 16 mm. films in halls and schools, which is gaining impetus in the Dominion, would constitute a new form of competition for established theatres, James I. Foy, general manager of Sovereign Films, Ltd., here, has made the following declaration:

"We are distributing only the 16 mm. versions of product handled by Empire-Universal Films, Ltd. We definitely have no intention of showing these films in towns where there is now a theatre showing 35 mm. films. Further, we will confine these showings to towns that are a reasonable distance from the location of an established theatre. We will, at all times, be ready to discuss any situation with anyone who thinks our activities are injurious to their established business."

Legal Tactics Undecided in Trust Action

agreement will be reached by the defense on any one firm or attorney. A majority of the defendants are almost certain to agree on the issue, but it is equally certain that others will not consent to representation by any counsel not of their own choice.

Legal opinion among counsel for the defendants is at variance at this time also on other phases of procedure. The advocates of a settlement of the suit by consent decree still are holding their own, while others continue to insist that under no circumstances will they become parties to a consent decree.

The difference of opinion extends, as well, to the question of whether or not the defendants should enter into stipulations of fact in connection with the Government's complaint. The advocates of stipulations assert that the charges are so all-embracing that much of general industry practice could be stipulated in advance of trial and the legality of the practices left to the court to determine. Others declare that they would refuse even to stipulate that the history of the industry began with the invention of the stereopticon in 1635, as alleged by the Government in its complaint.

Conferences Continue

Defense attorneys are continuing almost daily conferences on these and other questions of procedure and decisions on one or several of them may be expected at any time.

It was learned that several major defendants completed their answers to the Government's complaint last week, acting on the probability that the Attorney General's office might exact conditions from the defense in return for its consent to a 60-day extension of the time allotted for filing answers. As no conditions were imposed, these completed answers will not be filed until October and may be revised in the meantime.

Funnyface Lew

Besieged by newspaper photographers before sailing on the Normandie yesterday, Lew Lehr went through a variety of facial contortions for the cameras, and had the crowd on the pier in stitches. Then reporters surrounded him and wanted to know what he was going to Europe for. "To make faces, I guess," he quipped.

The Lehrs sailed with Arthur DeTitta, newly appointed assistant European director for Movietone News, and his wife. Truman H. Talley, Edmund H. Reek, Harry Lawrenson and others from Movietone saw them off.

Says Industry Is Friend of Papers

The allocation of $600,000 of the "Motion Pictures' Greatest Year" campaign budget of $1,000,000 to newspaper advertising is "evidence that the industry is the best friend that the newspaper business has among the large advertisers," Joseph Bernhard, general manager of Warner theatres, told a meeting of zone managers in Newark yesterday. Mr. Bernhard is a member of the general committee of the drive.

"What other industry contemplating a national campaign of this scope would concentrate all its advertising money in one medium?" Mr. Bernhard asked.

Lauds Newspaper Value

"We believe newspapers will be able to reach the public with our message that 'Motion Pictures Are Your Best Entertainment' more effectively, quickly and efficiently than any other medium. Besides, the unusual cooperative relationship which has grown up between the motion picture industry and the newspapers is unique and this concentrated use of advertising money in the newspapers is a tribute to this relationship.

"I don't mean to say the newspapers have not on many occasions treated us unfairly. They criticize our industry for things which pass unnoticed in other industries or are considered of no public importance. But despite these minor differences the cordial relationship which exists between theatres of the United States and newspapers throughout the country warrants this mark of confidence by us."

Mr. Bernhard pointed out that films are "a powerful ally to other industries, especially those selling consumer goods," in that they establish new styles and encourage buying habits and that the industry, therefore, is "a powerful factor in keeping money in circulation and maintaining normal business levels."

Despite this indirect advertising influence, the Warner circuit does not tolerate direct advertising of commodities on its screens, he continued. "We have refused millions of dollars in contracts for showing commercial reels because we believe the screen should be confined to entertainment," he declared.

The Newark meeting followed a similar session in Philadelphia Tuesday attended by Mr. Bernhard, Gradwell L. Sears, Warners' general sales manager; Harry Goldberg, the circuit's advertising head, and Leonard Schlesinger of the home office.

Busman's Holiday

George Peters, manager of Loew's in Reading, Pa., yesterday started his two-week vacation by volunteering to spend his "spare time" working on the industry's business promotion campaign. Reading exhibitors have obtained the cooperation of the Chamber of Commerce and local merchants for a parade and demonstration in connection with the drive, to be held early in September. Local circuits participating include Wilmer & Vincent, Warners and Loew's.

Viscount Bridgman, Gumpel Finish Hurried Study Here

Something of a record for a good will and contact trip was made by Viscount Bridgman and Max M. Gumpel of Denham Studios, England, who arrived here Friday and left on their return to Europe aboard the Normandie yesterday.

Viscount Bridgman, chairman of the board of Denham, was one of the foremost proponents of the Quota Bill in the House of Lords. Yesterday he said that he was quite satisfied that the present quota arrangement is the only satisfactory, workable one. "Quotas are necessary for protection," said Mr. Bridgman. "Protection is a byword with all nations now, whether applied to motion pictures, automobiles or any other commodity."

Making Technological Study

Mr. Gumpel, general manager of Denham, came here for a quick look at American methods. He has been studying all types of laboratory accessories and modern equipment, for Denham is out to take the cream of the American production in England under quota provisions.

He visited the home offices of the major companies and reported favorably on the progress of picture-making in England by those companies. He mentioned Ben Goetz in charge of M-G-M's English product; Bob Kane, of 20th Century-Fox, and Gerald Jackson of Warner's, as men whose pictures will be favorably received in the world market. Herbert Wilcox has just finished "Sixty Glorious Years" for RKO release, he said. This is a Technicolor production starring Ann Neagle.

Musical pictures are still popular in England, Mr. Gumpel said. He predicted success for the Jack Buchanan-Maurice Chevalier film, "Break the News."

Cites Korda Films

Korda has finished "Prison Without Bars" for U.A. release here. This is a story of a woman's reformatory starring a new French actress, Corinne LuChaire. Korda's different story with the familiar title, "Four Feathers," and Sabu, the Indian boy, is another Technicolor film which Mr. Gumpel said would get attention.

"We processed two of Erich Pommer's films which he did with Charles Laughton, 'St. Martin's Lane' and 'Vessel of Wrath.' This company, the Mayflower Co., whose chairman is John Maxwell, is going to be heard from."

Mr. Gumpel and Lord Bridgman will return here again the first of the year. They were agreed that frequent contacts between American and British producers would not only make for better understanding, but would have a marked effect on improved product in both countries.

Zanuck Urges United Front For Industry

Tells Producers to End All Petty Strife

Hollywood, Aug. 18.—Members of the Producers Association and attorneys in a session which continued past midnight discussed final details of the industry's ad drive and other matters not covered in a formal statement issued following the meeting. While those in attendance were closed-mouthed as to what transpired it is known Darryl Zanuck addressed the gathering at length on observations made during his European visit and urged abandonment of petty strife between branches of the industry as a prerequisite to general prosperity in the months ahead.

The presence of attorneys at the five-hour session gave color to the belief that the imminent N.L.R.B. hearing on the Directors' Guild charges of

PARAMOUNT DROPS COOPERATIVE ADS

Will Concentrate Upon National Magazines Next Season

Paramount has inaugurated its half million dollar 1938-'39 advertising campaign by breaking away from its long time policy of cooperative advertising in newspapers. Instead, Paramounts' advertising director, Robert Gillham, will shoot the works in 11 national magazines and as many fan publications, which it is estimated will reach 98,969,570 readers.

In announcing and discussing the new policy, Mr. Gillham said that exhibitors cut their advertising in 1933.

"The result was reflected in distributors' budgets," he said. "Whereas in 1933, Paramount was spending 11 per cent of its total budget in 'dealers' helps,' cooperative advertising, assistance advertising, free paper and free posting, the figure had risen to 40 per cent last year.

"The motion picture theatre has leaned too heavily on the distributor in the matter of cooperative advertising. We are spending our money this year where exhibitors' money won't reach, but where exhibitors may still profit from the advertising if they are Combined with the opening week's 192,520 attendance, 360,608 persons have seen the film since it started at the Roxy Aug. 5. With a gross of $87,489.84 for the first seven days, the total gross up to last night stands at $164,726.84. The third week will start today.

No film in the history of the Roxy Theatre has approached, for a similar period, the attendance record established by the Irving Berlin picture. A buildup was noted in the fact that yesterday's attendance figures were ahead,

Eastman's Story on Screen Is Shown at Waldorf Party

By CHARLES S. AARONSON

Eastman Kodak Co. and J. E. Brulatour, Eastman film distributor, joined yesterday afternoon in screening for the New York trade the company's new industrial picture, "Highlights and Shadows."

The Empire Room of the Waldorf-Astoria and innumerable cocktails accompanied the film, but it needed no such assistance. The film, which runs for 55 minutes, is brilliantly executed.

Against a particularly provocative musical score by Dr. Howard Hanson, director of the Eastman School of Music at Rochester, founded by the late George Eastman, the picture frankly recounts the skill and amazing degree of efficiency which characterizes the immense Kodak plant, wherein are sion in the $250,000 “Movie Quiz” test it was learned.

British Firms Seek Share in Big Ad Drive

When the British companies' aims ere brought to the attention of cam- aign officials yesterday, several of hem pointed out that it would be ex- emely difficult to add new pictures o the contest list at this time, inasmuch as the “Movie Quiz” booklets sting the contest pictures were being rinted yesterday and first consignments have been sent to exchanges.

Campaign officials declared that umerous attempts were made to communicate with Mr. Lee over the past wo weeks to invite him to enter his ompany's pictures in the campaign, ut without result. Their final effort, hey said, was a telegram advising him hat the forms for the “Movie Quiz” ooklet would close 24 hours later nd that if G. B. was to be included n the contest the company's decision would have to be made within that ime. G. B.'s acceptance of the invi- ation was received a day after the orms had closed, it was stated.

“Only a Wire,” Says Lee

Mr. Lee asserted that the telegram nforming him that his decision must be made within 24 hours was the first ommunication he received from campaign headquarters and that his reply, accepting the invitation, was dispatched at the earliest moment possible.

It was reported that the alternative plans formulated yesterday by the British picture distributors for a promotional campaign for their product nvolved cooperative national advertis- ng with special campaign and sales eatures to benefit participating exhibitors.

The meeting discussed an earlier plan for the establishment of coopera- ive distribution machinery in the United States for British product. The plan has the backing of all American sales representatives and final action must be taken in London where the proposal now is under consideration.

At the meeting, in addition to Mr. Lee, were Budd Rogers, H. William Fitelson and Mack Littman. A second meeting will be called in about two weeks to consider the promotional plan or the British product in the event no means of including that product n the industry campaign are found n the meantime, it was stated.

The British producers represented at the meeting included Gaumont British, Gainsborough Pictures, Herbert Wilcox, British & Dominions, European Film Corp., Criterion Film Prod., Trafalgar Film Prod., Capital Film Corp., Imported Pictures Corp. and Imperator Pictures.

Mr. Lee arrived in New York yesterday from Canada where he met Arthur Jarratt, head of the Gaumont British Theatre Circuit. The latter went to Georgian Bay to visit William Bach, former head of Erpi's London office, who is convalescing from a recent illness at his summer home there. Mr. Lee will meet Mr. Jarratt there this weekend and the two will continue on to the coast, visiting G. B. branch offices en route. They plan to be back in New York Sept. 6.

“Biggest” Quiz Ad

Probably the biggest ad so far used to promote the industry's $250,000 “Movie Quiz” is that flashing atop the Capitol on Broadway. Copy on the contest, tied up with “Rich Man, Poor Girl,” current attraction at the theatre, is flashing letters eight feet high on the traveling sign that runs across the Capitol's “dome.”

No Allied Action

National Allied States Association has not disapproved participation of its members in the “Motion Pictures' Greatest Year” campaign, Max Cohen, president of Allied of New York, said yesterday following the metropolitan area drive meeting at the Astor.

“There appears to be an impression that national Allied policy does not permit its members to cooperate in this campaign. The impression is entirely erroneous,” he said.

Browne of IATSE to Aid Industry Drive

George E. Browne, president of the I.A.T.S.E., yesterday accepted an invitation to serve on the national committee for the “Motion Pictures' Greatest Year” campaign, George J. Schaefer, executive chairman of the campaign, reported.

In accepting the post Mr. Browne said that he was prepared to serve actively and expressed his complete support of the drive. His acceptance was hailed by campaign headquarters as a “new token of the harmonious labor relations in the industry and of the unity of interests behind the nationwide drive.”

Previously, the Screen Actors Guild had adopted a resolution endorsing the campaign and offering the organization's cooperation.

of the Greater New York area. Joseph M. Seider, head of Prudential and Playhouses Operating Circuit, presided.

The partial list of pledges to the campaign fund on the established basis of 10 cents per seat included the following: George P. Skouras, $9,072.50; Frisch & Rinzler, $5,000; A. H. Schwartz, Century Circuit, $5,000; J. M. Seider, Prudential and Playhouses, $2,680, and Si Fabian, $1,103.80. In addition a pledge from the Schine Circuit on the 10-cent-per-seat basis was received, but the amount which the pledge represents was not tabulated.

George J. Schaefer, executive chairman of the campaign, outlined the aims of the drive and urged complete exhibitor cooperation for it.

“It is important to stress,” Mr. Schaefer said, “that this campaign was inspired from the very beginning by a group of exhibitors. Independent exhibitors participated from the very inception of the campaign and it was with their cooperation that the plan of procedure and the details of the $250,000 ‘Movie Quiz’ contest were formulated.”

Cohen Asks Cooperation

Max Cohen, president of Allied of New York, urged independents to support the drive, warning that while no plan could meet every condition in the industry, it would be unwise for any theatre to remain aloof.

Referring to exhibitors who fail to participate in the campaign, Mr. Cohen asked: “How will they explain to the public which wishes to participate in the contest? How will they meet the competition of those theatres which are in the drive?”

Mr. Cohen moved that the meeting go on record as indorsing the campaign, but the chair ruled that the motion was not in order. Moreover, Harry Brandt, president of the I.T.O.A., advocated additional time for members of his organization and other exhibitors sharing similar views to study possible weaknesses in the “Movie Quiz” contest and the effect these would have on houses subject to lengthy clearance schedules. Mr. Brandt said that the subject would be considered at length at the next meeting of the I.T.O.A., Aug. 24, and action on campaign participation would be taken subsequently by those for whom he spoke.

Mr. Brandt expressed sympathy with the aims of the drive, however, and asked that his proposal be not construed as disapproval of the campaign.

Brecher Favors Drive

Leo Brecher, independent operator, spoke in favor of the campaign and urged the independents to give full consideration to its advantages at their meeting next Wednesday.

A plan for organizing the entire New York area into community committees to direct advertising and exploitation in neighborhoods was outlined by Oscar Doob, chairman of the campaign theatre committee.

James Clark, in charge of accessories for the drive, instructed the exhibitors on the procedure for obtaining all campaign materials.

Exhibitors on Coast Promise Drive Aid

uting their share toward the national drive. It was the first regional meeting of showmen on the coast. Albert Glaston, president, and R. H. Poole, general manager of the I.T.O. of Southern California pledged that organization's unequivocal support.

Speakers were Herman Wobber, 20th Century-Fox general sales manager; William F. Rodgers, M-G-M sales head; Spyros and Charles Skouras of Fox West Coast; Frank Whitbeck of M-G-M and Gabe Yorke, chairman of the Hollywood committee for the drive.

Mr. Wobber explained the details of the “quiz” contest with $250,000 in prizes for the public.

Mr. Glaston said the plan of campaign is more than fair to independent exhibitors, since producers, distributors and their affiliated circuits are putting up three-quarters of the expenses although their theatres number only 30 per cent of those in country.

Mr. Rodgers, Spyros Skouras and Mr. Wobber left tonight for San Francisco and other cities to hold similar meetings.

F. & M. to Help Campaign

St. Louis, Aug. 18.—Fanchon & Marco will subscribe 100 per cent to the “Motion Pictures' Greatest Year” campaign. The subscription will total approximately $4,000 for the 40,000 seats, with the management confident that the second run houses will be the chief beneficiaries in the campaign due to the fact that several of the pictures figuring in the “quiz” have already been shown in the first runs.

Reports of record-breaking business in other cities continue to pour in to 20th Century-Fox. Record in Los Angeles made lenses, boxes, all the various portions of motion picture and still cameras, the film itself, for amateurs and professions, and the sensitized paper on which the world in motion is stopped and held.

In Los Angeles, Grauman's Chinese and Loew's State, playing the film simultaneously, reported a new all-time record gross of $45,752 as the picture ended its first week. The total was $2,444 above the record set by "Thin Ice." Playing to a total attendance of 55,617 for the first week at the Stanley, Philadelphia, the picture did $28,464, which is within $700 of the two-week total for "In Old Chicago" at the theatre.

The picture's director, Ken Edwards, and the producer, James Sibley Watson, Jr., made admirable use of the montage technique to achieve a definite impression of the speed, efficiency, cleanliness and scientific accuracy of the Eastman operations. Particularly does the film stress the scientific research which lies behind every Eastman operation, and which keeps pace with every activity, checking and rechecking for greater value and greater accuracy. Mr. Edwards, chatting with the writer in a quiet corner of the Empire Room after the showing, confided that the picture "cost a great deal of money."

For Organizational Use

The film, as it stands, is designed chiefly for camera clubs and like organizations over the world, Mr. Edwards declared, but it is the intention of Eastman to cut it into shorter lengths and to offer the resulting "sections" to various scientific and other organizations as desired. This is particularly wise, since the film covers all phases of Eastman operation, some of which would be of interest to certain groups and some to others, depending upon their field. It is, of course, furnished by Eastman gratis to any group. Lowell Thomas acted as incidental commentator during a portion of the picture.

The audience, which had grown to sizeable proportions by the time the picture started, was closely held by the film, and words of praise were mixed with references to "Manhattans" and the like after it had been concluded.

Guest List Large

Among those attending were: Herman Seivers, Adolph Stuber and Col. Oscar Solbert, Eastman executives from Rochester; Ted Curtis, William Rivers, William German, Dick Brady, Charles Bonn, H. Cooperative Ads Dropped By Paramount eawake and tie in with this new y," said Mr. Gillham.

o explain the new policy to exhibi- s and showmen generally, Mr. Gill- m is sending 15,000 large-size book- s telling the story behind the ad- rtising, and giving Paramount sales- n a new slogan—"If it's a Para- unt Picture it's not only the best ow in town, it's the best advertised ow in town."

The use of magazine space for ad- rtising pictures is not new with ramount. The company's first na- nal advertising appeared 20 years o. What's new is the exclusive use magazines to tell the public about ramount pictures.

And for the first time advertising edia are tailor-made to each picture. agazines are being selected accord- to the individual pictures to be ad- rtised, and according to the type of ader of each magazine.

The first advertisement appears in ugust in the Saturday Evening Post d other magazines. From there on Paramount ads will appear con- uously in the national magazines.

Radio Tieup Planned

Another indication of Paramount's treamlined merchandising" is in a rthcoming tieup with a new network oadcast series which will plug the- re attendance directly.

Fitch's Hair Tonic series, which ill start in September, will take er the Paramount Theatre idea of me bands. Instead of giveaways of lgin watches, as formerly, they asked aramount to cooperate by giving vay 500 two-person passes to the- res showing Paramount pictures. r. Gillham agreed to 500 one-per- n passes if they would plug Holly- ood on the show, urging listeners to see such-and-such a Paramount cture. The one-person pass has ne over big with exhibitors who ure that the recipient will take along other person for a paid admission, creasing grosses regularly.

Precedent Likely

Paramount's abandonment of a co- erative advertising policy is likely be followed by similar action by her major companies. Jack Cohn, ce-president of Columbia, indicated sterday that it may not be long now fore Columbia's long policy of co- erative advertising is abated or andoned.

"Exhibitors must realize they are show business and regardless of ery other consideration look upon lvertising as the life blood of their isiness," Mr. Cohn said.

Mr. Cohn reflected the opinion held distributors that the exhibitors do t realize that with or without co- erative or any other kind of adver- sing, they must maintain good mini- um budgets in order to continue the imulus, so necesary at all times, hich advertising gives to picture bus- ess.

"One reason the distributors are scouraged, is that since the compa- es offered cooperative campaigns, a eat many exhibitors have taken advantage of the cooperative advertising to cut down their own advertising budgets almost to zero. They should consider cooperative advertising as a plus quantity which increases business. No exhibitor should mind spending more money if it means more business, even if the distributor does get more.

"We don't mind giving money for cooperative advertising if the exhibitor will use it to increase his own budget for advertising. But we're fed up with giving the exhibitors money to sell a picture and then seeing them not only not use it for that, but actually cut their own house budget," concluded Mr. Cohn.

Gaumont Television Plans Cover World

The commercial television plans of Gaumont British, which owns the Baird television patents, are worldwide in scope and will be undertaken on that basis as soon as feasible, Arthur A. Lee, American head of G. B., said yesterday.

Mr. Lee said that he had been misquoted in recent dispatches from Denver in which he was represented as having stated there that Gaumont British planned to enter the United States with commercial television "within a year." He said that he had made no forecast as to the time of the company's entry into this market and observed that "when it is commercially practicable, it is natural that the company will enter this market as well as others throughout the world."

ONE of the largest crowds of the season turned out for the closing concert in Lewisohn Stadium Wednesday night, which featured radio's Jessica Dragonette as soloist. Busy Miss Dragonette and her indefatigable sister, Mrs. Nadia Loftus, left for Chicago and Milwaukee immediately following the concert's end, where Jessica is to fulfill several other singing engagements.

Miss Dragonette has enjoyed a plentiful season in concert work, and she still is booked far ahead. Attendances wherever she has appeared have been heavy, and the press notices have been eulogistic. All of which is highly unusual for a first season in the concert field. The explanation in Miss Dragonette's instance is not hard to trace, however. It's radio. In her 10 topflight years before the microphone. Miss Dragonette has won her herself one of the greatest, and most intensely loyal followings ever to become attached to a performer. With this following, Miss Dragonette has what practically amounts to success insurance.

Function of Advertising in Distribution

By Terry Ramsaye

Mutual Director of Publicity Discusses Policies and Methods—Discourages General Advertising of Brands

LET us consider some primary facts. There are two kinds of motion picture advertising.

A—Advertising to sell film to the exhibitor.

B—Advertising to sell seats to the public.

It is principally about the Class A, or distributor to exhibitor advertising, that we are concerned here. I am seeking to make clear to the exhibitor, and any others interested, not what he should do but rather what is being done to and for him in advertising.

Now let us sub-divide our Class A advertising, the advertising in behalf of the producer and distributor. Looking into it further we find:

1.—Advertising to present the merchandise, the picture.

2.—Advertising to make the picture appear a success—a sort of post-mortem jubilee intended to foster immortality.

3.—Advertising addressed apparently at the exhibitor or the public but in fact intended for the banker and investor, to keep up a front and maintain credit and borrowing power.

4.—Advertising to keep a star happy, or to promote a president or a general manager or other official in influence.

5.—Advertising just to be advertising, because everybody has the impression that a picture concern ought to do a lot of advertising.

Contrary to many hasty opinions, all of these classes of advertising enumerated, except the fifth and last, are usually amply justified commercially.

Terry Ramsaye.

The motion picture did not become a business until it began to advertise. It is a better business today because it is a vigorous, perhaps often violent advertiser.

Something like six years ago a big advertising agency sent me to a very high official of a then dominant factor in the motion picture industry to mildly suggest to him that advertising might help his business. He listened about half a cigarette and, then looking me coldly in the eye, remarked:

"Young man, advertising is fandangle and a luxury which we can afford but do not need. If we should advertise and should get more business we would be much distressed. Let us not waste any more of each other's time."

This big man was sincere. He is now exceedingly well unknown and his concern is a commercial ghost.

Competitors arose who did advertise—any anybody today in the picture business can write the rest of this paragraph for himself.

For the purpose of advertising to present the pictures to the exhibitor's attention—No. 1 in our schedule—there are four commonly used media; the trade paper, the direct broadside or circular, the local newspaper and the billboards.

The obvious absurdity of using costly billboards and newspaper space to reach the relatively few exhibitor readers is glossed over most frequently by an attempt to make the space appear to be devoted to the establishment of brand value in the public eye, among ultimate consumers. But the everlasting final fact is there, that the advertiser is using the space with the single aim of inducing the exhibitor to pay rental for film.

Upon the evidence now available no advertiser has yet been able to make motion picture brand value stand up in the attention of the public or exhibitor to a profitable degree. If anybody steps up to point a disputing finger at certain brand names I shall be forced to point back at the stock quotation and dividend records.

This is not a failure of advertising, but rather a fact of manufacture. Motion pictures can be branded but they can not be made to a brand standard, at least they have not yet been so made.

If picture brands had important value big stars and special productions could not dominate the market. The name of the star is the nearest thing to a brand in the picture business, but stars have a way of slipping out from under brand control.

Picture patrons do not call up the box office and ask if you have a Burr Oak brand feature. They want to know "Who have you got on to-night?"

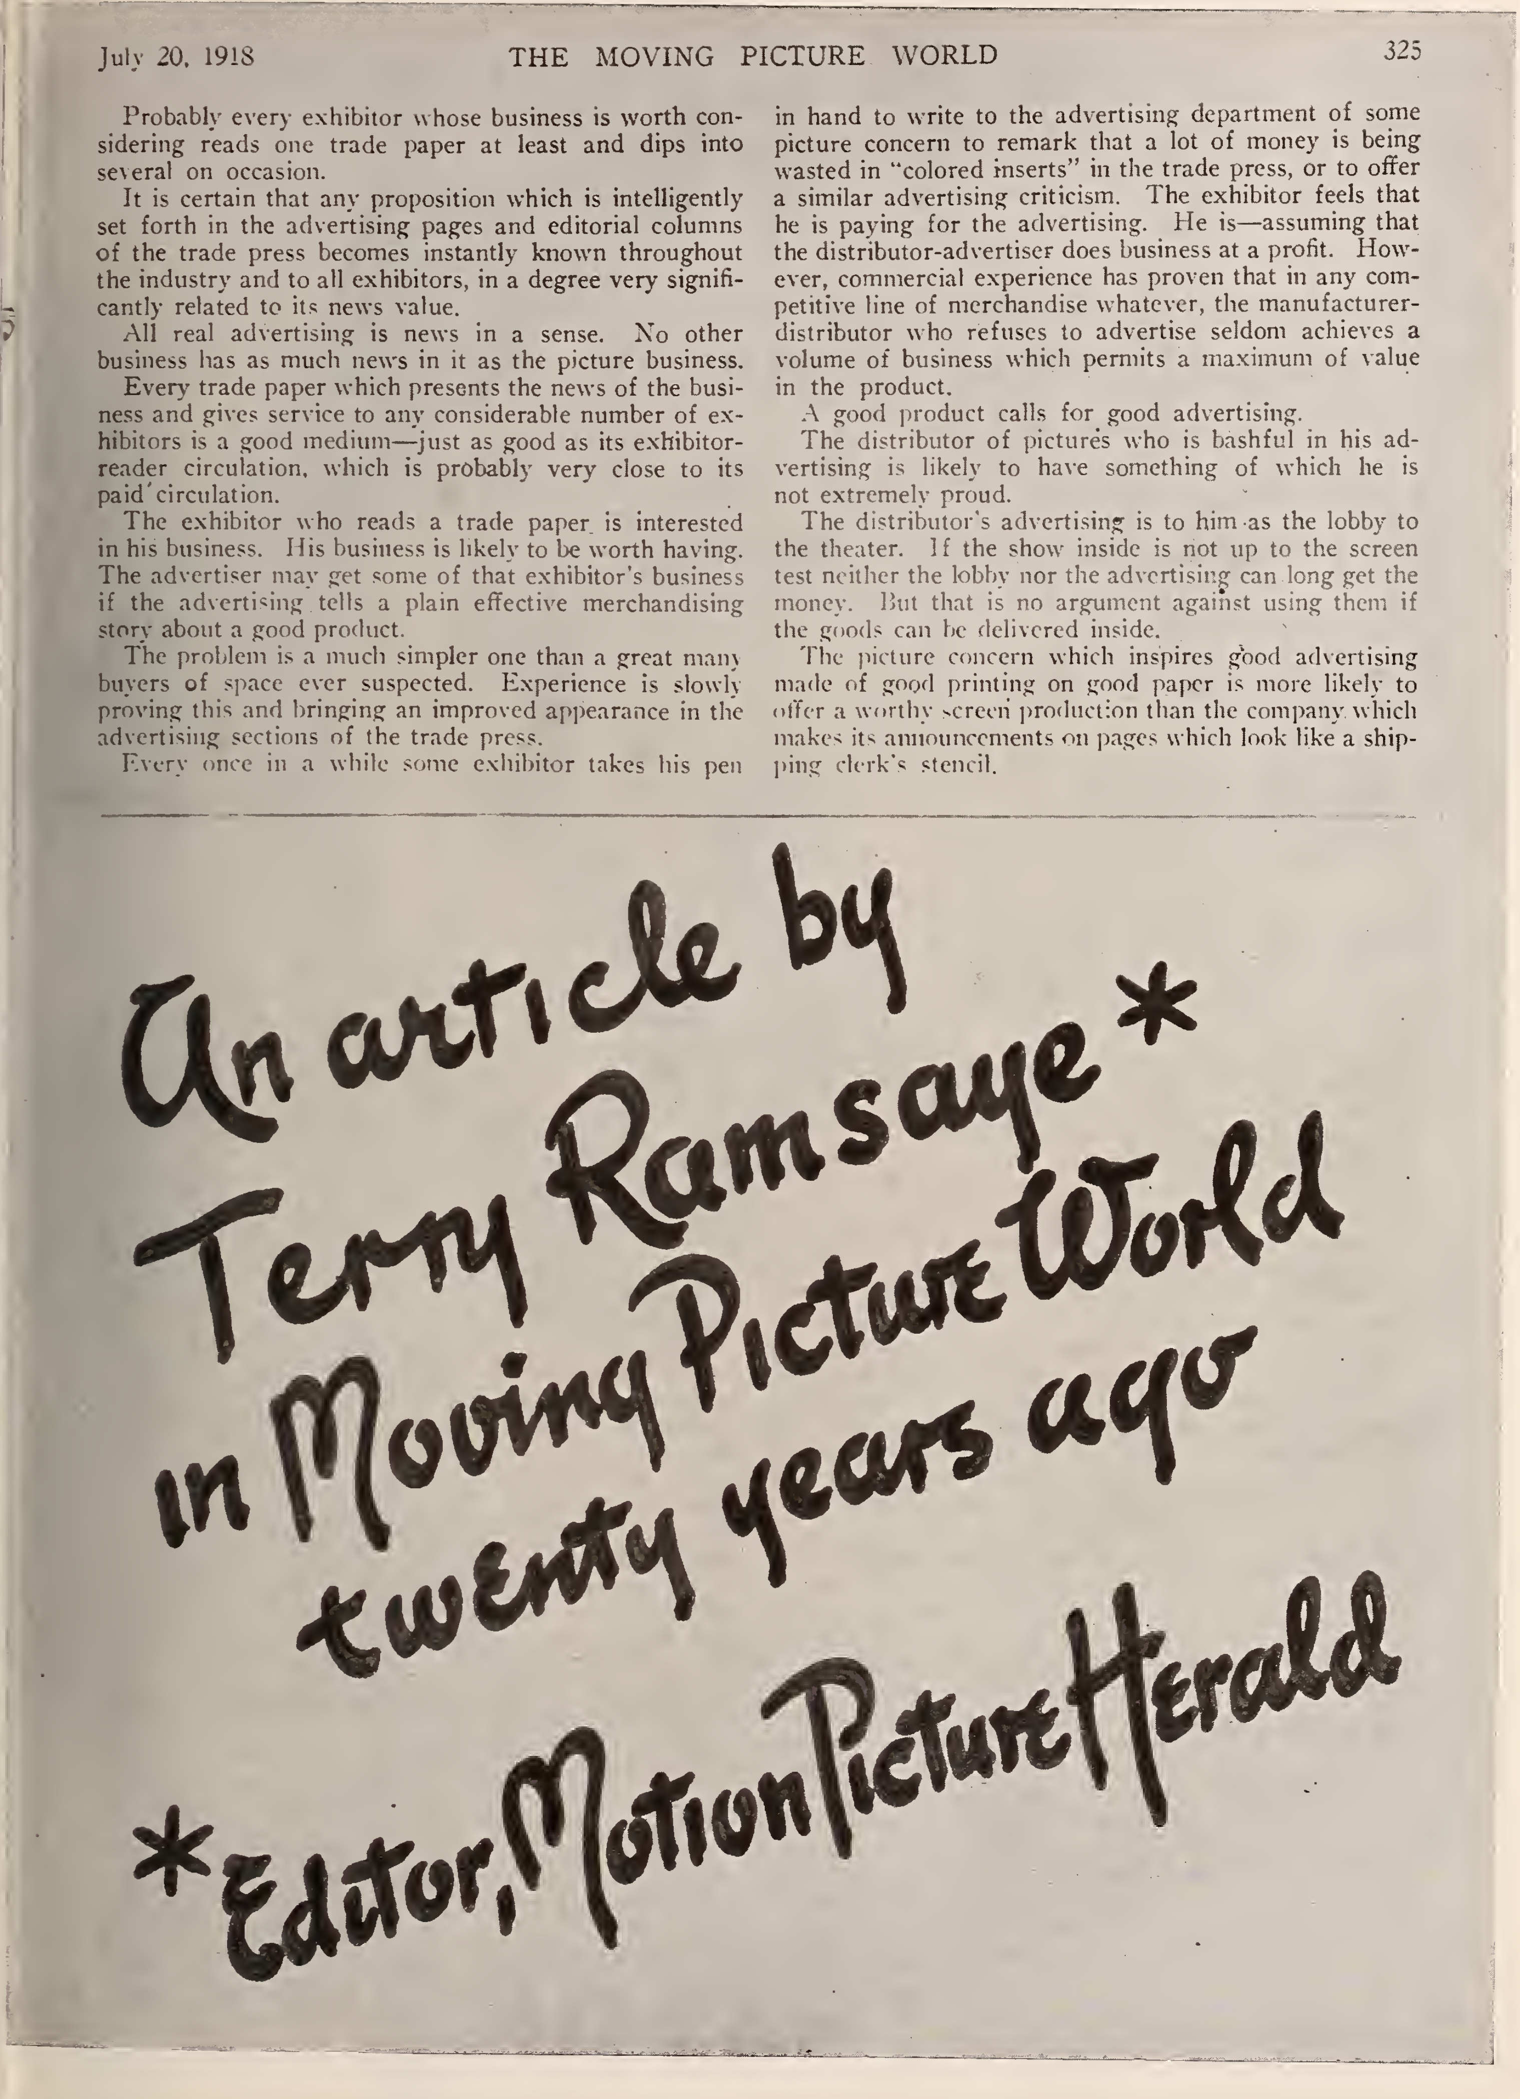
Also it must be admitted that billboards and newspapers can have but small and indirect part in the selling of motion pictures to the exhibitor. I do not mean to decry either the billboards or the newspapers as media—they have a big basic value to the exhibitor, and beyond doubt the newspaper is the best existing medium for exhibitor advertising, the advertising which sells seats to the public.

With thus disposing of two of the media sometimes used—less frequently now than formerly—we have left two other avenues to the exhibitor's attention, the trade paper and literature mailed direct.

Direct literature is not just now as fashionable as it was two years ago. There is a prevailing notion that the motion picture exhibitor has gotten and still gets so much of this matter that he has adopted a practise of ignoring it all in self-defense. Experiment and investigation by the advertising experts of many concerns indicate that this notion is probably well founded. A piece of direct literature sent out in 1915 to 20,000 exhibitors drew the astonishing total of 3,000 replies or inquiries. A similar broadside, probably much better as advertising copy, prepared by the same man, mailed to 14,000 exhibitors in 1917 drew a total of twenty-five replies.

I am not sure the second one was wasted, since the proposition is said to have sold well, and the circular may have had a considerable introductory value, but most assuredly it was not the sensational success that the 1915 circular was. Probably the time is near at hand when the direct broadside can profitably go to work again for a while.

This leaves us with the trade paper to discuss. The trade paper, much debated and ofter berated, remains as the only medium which has been a consistent and continuous performer for the motion picture advertiser.



Probably every exhibitor whose business is worth considering reads one trade paper at least and dips into several on occasion.

It is certain that any proposition which is intelligently set forth in the advertising pages and editorial columns of the trade press becomes instantly known throughout the industry and to all exhibitors, in a degree very significantly related to its news value.

All real advertising is news in a sense. No other business has as much news in it as the picture business.

Every trade paper which presents the news of the business and gives service to any considerable number of exhibitors is a good medium—just as good as its exhibitor-reader circulation, which is probably very close to its paid circulation.

The exhibitor who reads a trade paper is interested in his business. His business is likely to be worth having. The advertiser may get some of that exhibitor's business if the advertising tells a plain effective merchandising story about a good product.

The problem is a much simpler one than a great many buyers of space ever suspected. Experience is slowly proving this and bringing an improved appearance in the advertising sections of the trade press.

Every once in a while some exhibitor takes his pen in hand to write to the advertising department of some picture concern to remark that a lot of money is being wasted in "colored inserts" in the trade press, or to offer a similar advertising criticism. The exhibitor feels that he is paying for the advertising. He is—assuming that the distributor-advertiser does business at a profit. However, commercial experience has proven that in any competitive line of merchandise whatever, the manufacturer-distributor who refuses to advertise seldom achieves a volume of business which permits a maximum of value in the product.

A good product calls for good advertising.

The distributor of pictures who is bashful in his advertising is likely to have something of which he is not extremely proud.

The distributor's advertising is to him as the lobby to the theater. If the show inside is not up to the screen test neither the lobby nor the advertising can long get the money. But that is no argument against using them if the goods can be delivered inside.

The picture concern which inspires good advertising made of good printing on good paper is more likely to offer a worthy screen production than the company which makes its announcements on pages which look like a shipping clerk's stencil.

Must Maintain Air's Freedom, Miller States

But Regulation Needed, NAB Head Says

NASHVILLE, Aug. 21.—The American people are as determined as the American broadcasting industry to resist any Government invasion of "freedom of the air," Neville Miller, recently elected president of the National Asociation of Broadcasters, declared in addressing the graduating class at Peabody Teachers' College here Friday. Mr. Miller's address was broadcast over the NBC-Blue network.

Additional developments in radio yesterday on page 8.

Government regulation of radio is necessary, Mr. Miller acknowledged, to prevent "utter confusion in the air," and to see that the individual stations are operated "in the public interest, convenience and necessity. Should any station fail to so operate," he said, "it deserves to lose the privilege to operate. This is the position of the National Association of Broadcasters; every American station must be

THEATRES' DRIVE BUDGET 2 MILLION

Planning Big Campaign As Supplement for Industry Effort

About $2,000,000 will be spent by theatres in the Motion Pictures Greatest Year campaign in addition to the $1,000,000 which the campaign committee is disbursing, it is estimated by Oscar A. Doob, advertising and publicity director for Loew's, who is chairman of the drive's theatre committee.

Mr. Doob's estimate is based on information pouring in from all sections of the United States and Canada indicating that exhibitors are eager to capitalize on the industry's greatest promotion effort and give it support.

"The drive is reviving the lost art of showmanship among many theatres who haven't put on a campaign in years," he said.

Loew's has budgeted $200,000 as its total expense, and more will be forthcoming if needed. Last fall's campaign cost the circuit $20,000, one-tenth of what it is spending this year. "We believe in these drives," he declared. "They always get us business."

It is estimated that the five major circuits, Warners, Paramount, RKO, National Theatres and Loew's, will

The appeal will go on the Supreme Court calendar and may be reached for hearing by the end of the year or shortly thereafter. A decision could be expected by March, 1939.

Under the decree filed in Fargo, Paramount's bill of complaint was dismissed and, as reported earlier, a 30-day stay was granted to permit the company and its affiliates to bring their appeal to the Supreme Court. nder the proposal, theatres whose imum admission charge is $1 or e would pay a yearly license of . Where seating capacity is less 1,000 and maximum admission 0 cents to $1, the annual license would be $150. From these top s, the annual licenses are scaled n to $75 for theatres with fewer n 400 seats where a maximum ad-sion charge is less than 50 cents. ordinance will come up for final sage in a few days.

Hollywood Previews

"Block-Heads"

(Roach-M-G-M)

HOLLYWOOD, Aug. 21.—Episodic in nature, "Block-Heads," last of the Laurel and Hardy feature length pictures for M-G-M release, contains no sustaining thread of plot. It consists of about seven blackouts, which are built up by the comedians with comic elaborateness. Those patrons who have a fondness for the technique of misfortune employed by the two comics will find a number of laughs along the way.

The picture opens with Laurel being left to guard a trench during the World War while his buddies "go over the top." It picks up a thread of continuity 20 years later when Laurel, still pacing the trench, is unaware of the end of the war. Hardy, his buddy, insists that he become his house guest and a jealous husband, a neighbor, further complicates the plot when he discovers the pair innocently flirting with his wife. The final blackout has the husband, Billy Gilbert, chasing after the duo, firing a gun and shouting. As the final fadeout comes, about a dozen other men, hearing Gilbert's shouts, jump out of windows of other apartments.

Patricia Ellis, Minna Gombell and James Finlayson support. This was the late John G. Blystone's last directorial assignment, and marks the first time Hal Roach, Jr., draws associate producer credit. The "original story and screenplay" was written by five writers—Charles Rogers, Felix Adler, James Parrott, Harry Langdon and Arnold Belgard.

Running time, 55 minutes. "A." VANCE KING

"I Am the Law"

(Columbia)

HOLLYWOOD, Aug. 21.—Edward G. Robinson is in practically every inch of this melodrama and every inch an actor. Here, as in his radio shows, he is on the side of the law without equivocation, but in this he goes the full route and cleans up not one but all the dirty spots in a crime ridden city.

The story is from a Liberty Magazine serial by Fred Allhoff and has much more body than the mine run of mobster films. Jo Swerling's screenplay is compactly constructed and Producer Everett Riskin, together with Director Alexander Hall, have given it imperative presentation.

Mr. Robinson plays a professor of law who serves his city as special prosecutor and is relieved of his assignment just as he is beginning to find out who the racketeers work for. After that he carries on his own investigation with the aid of his former students and succeeds at cost of cherished reputations in effecting imprisonment or lethal removal of his criminal opponents. The plot convolutions are too intricate and well ordered for swift synopsisation. John Beal, Otto Kruger, Barbara O'Neil and Wendy Barrie top a supporting cast that is large and well selected. Highlights in the action are Robinson's fight with a gangster, his use of a concealed sound camera in gathering evidence and his forcing of the principal higher-up of the gangsters to give up his life in a trap set for Robinson.

Running time, 80 minutes. "G." ROSCOE WILLIAMS

"Freshman Year"

HOLLYWOOD, Aug. 21.—Constance Moore, William Lundigan, Dixie Dunbar, Stanley Hughes and Frank Melton are seen and heard here as unprodigious and altogether credible college freshmen getting into and out of typical first year troubles, scholastic and personal, with Ernest Truex, as a faculty member who rediscovers his youth, contributing mightily to the entertainment quality of the finale, one of those campus shows staged to solve a financial problem. The film gets Universal's new college series off to a nice start.

Worked into the proceedings, which have to do with the adventures of a somewhat over-fresh freshman and his pals, are individual performances by the Diamond Brothers, the Murtah Sisters, the Lucky Seven, a pleasantly vocal outfit, and Tommy Wonder. Songs by Harry Barris and Joe McCarty and by Irving Actman and Frank Loessor are appropriately swingey.

Frank McDonald directed for Associate Producer George R. Bilson, displaying a light but sympathetic touch. The screenplay by Charles Grayson from an original story by Thomas Ahearn and F. Maury Grossman is a slick little article utilizing "flunk insurance" and other modern material.

Zanuck Group Talks With Director Guild

and E. J. Mannix, represented the major producers, and Frank Capra, Howard Hawks, and W. S. VanDyke represented the guild negotiating committee.

The Directors' Guild has two actions pending before the NLRB. The first filed asked the Guild to be declared the collective bargaining agency for directors, assistants, and unit managers, and the second complaint charged that 10 major producers violated the Wagner Act by refusing to bargain collectively, also coerced and intimidated employees.

The conference today followed a closed meeting of producers at which it is reported a movement for intra-industry peace in employer-employe relations was started. Whether the N.L.R.B. board action will be postponed indefinitely, pending possibility of an amicable settlement of the controversy which has raged for over a year, remains indefinite. However, in that event, Screen Writers Guild, which has been certified as the writers' bargaining agency in 13 studios, and producers, may also settle their problems without resorting further to the N.L.R.B. or the Federal courts.

The producers' contentions in the primary conference with the directors were that directors are not employes, but individual contractors, that the guild as constituted is not the proper representative for assistant directors and unit managers. The producers had indicated willingness to bargain with directors as a group, and with assistants and unit managers in another group. This, the Directors' Guild board and Junior Guild board declared was an attempt to split the ranks of the organization.

Following the breaking off of negotiations last year, directors' and producers' committees resumed talks this spring but the producers remained adamant in stands taken last year concerning impropriety of the deal with one organization representing three classifications. The producers also have steadily denied that the industry is engaged in interstate commerce and therefore amenable to provisions of Wagner Act. The N.L.R.B. in the Writers Guild case, ruled that writers are employes and that the Wagner Act is applicable to the industry.

Theatres Will Use 2 Million In Own Drive

spend a total of $1,000,000 or more. With the exception of the contributions to the general campaign fund, which will cover the cost of national advertising and the "Movie Quiz" contest, the circuits' expenditures will be for local campaigns.

At least 10,000 of the 16,000 theatres estimated to be operating will actively participate in the drive, Mr. Doob believes. "The large circuits have taken on a large burden and for the first time are unselfishly sharing their experience and the work of their organizations with other exhibitors," he said. "All theatres will benefit, but the degree to which they will benefit will depend on their own efforts."

The Loew circuit's contribution to the campaign fund is more than the 10 cents a seat assessment stipulated by the campaign committee, Mr. Doob said. He estimates Loew's will need 2,000,000 "Movie Quiz" booklets, at a cost of $11,000.

Full Cooperation Set

All circuits are raising funds for local celebrations, parades, combination advertising and so on, he reported, and one has assessed itself two cents a seat for decorations, Mr. Doob declared. He brings out the point that as the initial punch of the campaign wears off in a few weeks, theatres will put on another local drive to sustain public interest to the last day of the four-month promotion.

The Loew circuit will launch its new season campaign simultaneously with the start of the industry drive Sept. 1, with "Marie Antoinette" as the opening attraction. A national campaign of 2,200-line ads has been scheduled on the film in Loew key cities at a cost of $30,000 and $40,000.

Loew-Poli Houses Plan Big Campaign

With proclamations by the Governors of Massachusetts and Connecticut and the mayors of various cities, the Loew-Poli New England circuit is planning its greatest campaign in conjunction with the industry's drive.

Harry F. Shaw, division manager of the circuit, reports parades are being planned in all Loew-Poli towns, with a motor cavalcade covering all of them in a seven-day period. Headed by a large float, the procession will start in Waterbury Aug. 27, stopping on succeeding days in Bridgeport, New Haven, Meriden, Hartford, Springfield and Worcester, where it will wind up Sept. 3.

A special assignment of Connecticut state police has been made to escort the cavalcade along the route, and there will be city police escorts in all towns. The local parades will include from three to six bands, four girls astride horses, ushers in uniform with banners, clowns, automobiles and floats, with a calliope bringing up in the rear.

The large float will remain for a day in front of the local theatres, with a "man on the street" broadcast direct from the display interviewing passersby on questions relative to "Movie Quiz" contest and the drive. The theatres' slogan is "Loew-Poli Theatres March On to a Greater New Show Season." The industry's campaign slogan, "Movies Are Your Best Entertainment," will also be used.

Commerce Chambers Included

In cooperation with the Chambers of Commerce throughout the territory, merchants have pledged to decorate their store fronts and buildings.

Mr. Shaw is working on a hookup from the M-G-M coast studios to get two or three stars to speak via the telephone on the opening night of the "New Show Season," Sept. 1. This will be accomplished by loud speakers on the stage of the theatres, the messages to be heard simultaneously in seven cities.

Among many other stunts, a small angel cake will be mailed to newspaper editors, film critics and city and state officials, with a card inserted reading, "Cut yourself a piece of cake and help us celebrate Motion Pictures' Greatest Year."

The day the float visits the theatres, an 18-page photo album will be given away by the thousands. Each week patrons will get a still of a star to put in the book and at the end of the campaign the album will be filled.

The extension was consented to by Wendell Berge, special assistant to the Attorney General, in behalf of the Government, and Robert W. Perkins as attorney for the defendants. The stipulation contained a clause similar to one incorporated in previous extensions granted to other defendants, providing that if any other defendants listed in the Warner group be served or voluntarily appear by Oct. 12 their time to answer would automatically extend to Nov. 1.

New Orleans, Aug. 21.—Twenty-five years of operation of the Lafayette Theatre was celebrated here last week by Jack Miller and his staff. Mr. Miller operates in a theatre building erected 35 years ago for the Shuberts. It later was a Klaw and Erlanger house.

Key City Drive Work Progressing Rapidly

Key cities in many sections of the country are making swift progress with community promotional plans for the "Motion Pictures' Greatest Year" drive, according to reports submitted to campaign headquarters over the weekend by regional chairmen of the drive.

Baltimore's 80 affiliated and independent houses and a large representation of Washington, D. C., exhibitors have pledged their support to the campaign and are actively engaged in developing community activities for the drive in their cities, according to Carter Barron, regional chairman.

Harrisburg Campaign Heavy

Harrisburg, Pa., exhibitors have lined up local newspapers and radio programs for cooperative work in the drive and are already showing the first of five official campaign trailers. Lobby displays and local advertising on the drive will start Thursday. Sam Gilman, chairman of the city committee, is obtaining aid for the drive from city officials and civic organizations.

In Kansas City, exhibitors have begun showing the campaign trailer and are displaying lobby accessories. A campaign meeting for exhibitors in the Cincinnati territory will be held tomorrow. Maurice White is chairman.

Unanimous support of the drive and financial pledges at 10 cents per seat were voted by 200 exhibitors in the Los Angeles territory at a meeting late last week. Albert Galston, president, and R. H. Poole, general manager of the I. T. O. of Southern California and Arizona, pledged the support of their organization.

Newsreels to Have Clips on Ad Drive

The five newsreels will produce a series of brief sequences exploiting the Motion Pictures' Greatest Year campaign and the $250,000 "Movie Quiz" contest for inclusion in their forthcoming issues.

The promotional sequences, in some instances, will feature ranking industry executives in brief explanatory talks on the meaning and aims of the industry campaign.

No "Quiz" Shifts For British Film

it would be "physically impossible to revise the arrangements which hav been completed already for the conduct of the contest.

Arthur A. Lee, vice-president c G. B., acting for other distributor of British pictures as well as his ow company, proposed that a supplemental list of contest pictures be issue in order to include the British produc in the contest. The proposal eithe has been rejected or will be on th grounds that there is no provision fo the additional printing cost in th campaign budget.

Mr. Lee left New York over th weekend on a tour of compan branches which will take him to th Pacific Coast. He was not availabl for comment prior to his departure an will be away for at least a week. It i believed, however, that in view of th campaign officials' decision, the distributors of British product will endeavor to further their own plan fo a promotional campaign on Britis pictures in this market. The basi of such a plan was developed by then at a meeting last week and an effor to work out details is expected to b made following Mr. Lee's return t New York.

Nazis Ban Short

M-G-M has received word of the banning of its one-reel short, "Swing Banditry," a tabloid musical released in 1936. The German title is "Uberfall nach Noten." While, as is customary, no reason was given, it is believed here the censor frowned on the film because of the Nazis' "cultural" aversion to swing music.

Other proposed changes in the pact are of minor nature, according to newsreel officials. Negotiations on the new pact are scheduled to open with the return to New York of Pat Casey, producers' labor representative, in October.

Legion Head Praises Trade For Clean-Up

upon the industry a grave responsibility to the public. The industry, it is to be hoped, will recognize that there is no escape from this responsibility to safeguard the moral welfare of its patrons by setting right and decent patterns of thought and conduct.

"During recent years the industry has made progress by giving attention to the moral influence of its films. The Legion of Decency is happy to express to the industry its appreciation of the improvement made in the moral character and tone of its work. It is also grateful to the leaders and people of the Protestant and Jewish faiths for their support and insistence that films of right moral character be shown.

Legion Treats Morality Only

"The Legion of Decency operates under the auspices of the Catholic Bishops, whose pastoral solicitude for souls obliges them, especially in a medium so influential as the cinema, to oppose vigorously every trend which threatens to invade the domain of fixed and unvarying principles of morality expressed in the natural and divine law. The Legion of Decency is concerned solely with the moral issues found in the subject matter of motion pictures and in its treatment.

"The Legion views with grave apprehension those efforts now being made to utilize the cinema for the spread of ideas antagonistic, not only to traditional Christian morality but to all religion. It must oppose the efforts of those who would make motion pictures an agency for the dissemination of the false, atheistic and immoral doctrines repeatedly condemned by all accepted moral teachers.

Guards Christian Philosophy

"Films which portray, approvingly, concepts rooted in philosophies attacking the Christian moral order and the supernatural destiny of man serve not to ennoble but, rather, to debase humanity, and, as such, these films are an affront to right thinking men and women.

"The Legion of Decency, with every resource at its command, shall challenge any program using the popular theatre screen to exploit such insidious doctrines. Secular affairs are not in themselves the concern of the Legion of Decency. When, however, contrary to all that is truly American, unchanging principles of morality are assailed, and atheism and irreligion are fostered, the Legion must, in pursuit of its single and unvarying objective of a morally wholesome screen, interpose the full weight of Catholic opinion and authority."

Archbishop McNicholas is chairman of the Catholic Bishops Committee on Motion Pictures which originated and directs the Legion of Decency.

worthy of its franchise or else lose that franchise.

"But if an agency of the Government seeks to dictate what shall and what shall not be broadcast, then that is another matter."

For any Government agency to do that, he declared, would be to abandon Democracy and assume instead the technique of a totalitarian state.

"American radio has never been locked to the goose-step of a dictator," he declared.

Mr. Miller stated there is ample evidence of the consequences, political and social, of government-dominated, government-controlled radio. Without mentioning the names of the European nations involved, he recited how controlled radio has been used to sell hatred, to split people apart on religion; how it has been used to keep people in ignorance; how it has been used to incite rebellion in neighboring nations, and to foment trouble between friendly nations."

Cites Foreign Domination

In one European nation, he declared, 60 per cent of the radio schedule is consumed by broadcasts of "political enlightenment." "Such a thing cannot happen here," he stated. "Here radio has never stooped to sell hatred; to merchandise prejudice of race and religion."

Mr. Miller, stating that he did not want to be placed in the position of placing blanket approval of radio in this country, acknowledged that in some respects radio could be improved in this country. "Certainly there are areas in programming which must be strengthened to improve radio's contribution to American life, and this is particularly true in the field of education," he said. "But paramount to programs is this basic relation of radio to our Democracy. As long as radio is kept free as an avenue for the communication of thought, then it will enrich and enlarge the character of American life. Without such freedom it will stifle American life," he concluded.

LONDON, Aug. 21.—Further invasion of the film field by television is manifested by the British Broadcasting Co. decision to telecast daily two Gaumont British films, "Jack Ahoy" and "Aunt Sally," during the forthcoming Radiolympia Exhibition, which opens next Wednesday, and will continue for 10 days.

Billy Bacher will direct the full program.

Mr. Witten declared that the cast will include four picture personalities in addition to those mentioned. He said they would be "top" screen names but stated he could not yet make known their identity. It is believed, however, that either Douglas Fairbanks, Jr., or Adolphe Menjou will hold down the master of ceremonies role.

Previews of pictures have been definitely ruled out, Mr. Witten declaring that there were now a sufficient number of programs devoting time to picture reenactments. The Texaco program is scheduled to begin over CBS Oct. 5, from 9 to 10 P. M.

Arnold Seeks Financing of Trust Battle

Reported Aim Is to Wage Continuous Warfare

Washington, Aug. 22.—Advocacy by Assistant Attorney General Thurman Arnold last week of increased appropriations for the anti-trust division of the Department of Justice, to permit continuous warfare against monopoly, was intended to pave the way for a department request to Congress next year for more funds, it was learned today.

Throughout the period of gestation of the anti-monopoly drive now being waged by the Administration, consideration has been given to the possibilities of increasing the division's appropriation. After annually making slight increases in the fund, Congress last session added a considerable sum and the department now is said to be anxious to make a good showing with its pending cases, so that it can demonstrate the money is not wasted.

Indications are that the budget for the next fiscal year will carry an additional $250,000 or even more for the anti-trust division, and that a

SKOURASES STUDY END OF GIVEAWAYS

Begin with Experiment In South California; May Be National

An experiment with the abolition of giveaways in Southern California is being watched closely by National Theatres with the possibility that if it proves successful it will be extended to the entire circuit.

Charles P. Skouras, head of Fox West Coast, expressed himself as opposed to giveaways at the recent meeting of the circuit in Kansas City, and at the Los Angeles regional session George Bowser, district manager at San Diego, described the experiment which is in progress in that area. It has worked out to advantage so far, it is said, but definite results will not be known for a few weeks.

While there is a possibility that giveaways may be abandoned by the circuit, double bills are destined to stay, Spyros Skouras having expressed the opinion that they help business in many situations, although in others they are not necessary.

Mr. Skouras returned over the weekend from the coast. Others who returned after attending the Kansas City and Los Angeles meetings include William P. Powers, chief buyer; Harry C. Cox, treasurer, and John Healy, assistant to Mr. Skouras.

Educational's Brand Name to Be Maintained

The Educational Pictures brand name will be perpetuated following the proposed merger of the company's assets with Grand National, E. W. Hammons, Educational president, said yesterday.

All Educational product distributed by the New Grand National company will bear its own brand name, it was said. In addition, the corporate identity of Educational will be retained through a specific reservation for the use of the name which was included in the merger agreement.

The retention of the Educational name has a significance beyond the immediate future in that it will be available for the exclusive use of the company in the event that future developments make it practicable to enter the school film field on a large commercial basis, it was intimated. There are no definite plans of this kind in existence at this time, how-

Isaacs Loses Move To Join Loew Suit

Judge Thomas F. Noonan in N. Y. Supreme Court yesterday denied an application of Philip S. Isaacs, as executor of the estate of Alice Isaacs, for an order permitting him to intervene as a plaintiff in the nine consolidated stockholders' suits against Loew's, Inc., Loew's officers and directors, the Bank of America and the National Trust & Savings Assn., as co-executors and co-trustees under the last will and testament of Irving Thalberg.

At the same time Justice Noonan granted an application of the defendants staying Mr. Isaacs from proceeding further with his individual stockholder's suit pending trial in the consolidated action, which seeks to abrogate salary and profit-sharing agreements. Emil K. Ellis, attorney for the plaintiffs in the consolidated suit, opposed the application.

Cites Former Ruling

The court referred to a previous decision of Justice Peter Schmuck who ruled on July 28 that no additional plaintiffs should be allowed to intervene since the number of plaintiffs was sufficient in the case. This decision was given on the petition to intervene filed by E. N. Grossman.

The defendants have served their answers to the new consolidated complaint. Examination before trial of Nicholas M. Schenck, David Bernstein, J. Robert Rubin and others has been deferred to early in September because of the absence from the city of defendants' counsel.

Ruben Asks That He Be Dropped in Suit

Madison, Wis., Aug. 22.—Maintaining that he is not a resident of Wisconsin and therefore the court has no jurisdiction, Ed Ruben, one of six defendants sued for $1,050,000 by the La Crosse Theatres Co., Inc., has petitioned the U. S. District Court here for dismissal of the action against him.

Other defendants in the action are Paramount, 20th Century-Fox, United Artists, Wellworth Theatres of Wisconsin, Inc., La Crosse, and the Minnesota Amusement Co., of which, it is charged, Wellworth is a subsidiary.

The defendants have until Aug. 29 in which to file answers to the suit filed in Federal court here July 14 by the La Crosse Theatre Co.

Calling All Reels

When H. H. Buxbaum, local 20th Century-Fox branch manager, checked the return shipment of "Three Blind Mice" from the New Paltz at New Paltz, he found the last reel hadn't been sent back. The reels were needed for another booking yesterday. Unable to reach the exhibitor, Joseph di Lorenzo, by phone or telegraph, Mr. Buxbaum enlisted the aid of the State Police at the New Paltz barracks. A sergeant went to Mr. di Lorenzo's house, awoke him, and the exhibitor went to the theatre to get the missing reel. It was still in the projector.

History Preserved

Toronto, Aug. 22.—Because of their historical value, the Canadian government has taken steps to preserve both the news films and the recording of the radio broadcast of President Roosevelt's address at the opening of the International Bridge, when the President declared the United States would not remain idle if the soil of the Dominion were violated by a foreign power. The government motion picture record was taken by Canadian Government cameramen under the direction of F. C. Badgley.

Para. Sound Experts Testing in Theatres

Paramount studio sound technicians are cooperating with affiliated and independent circuits on theatre sound equipment inspection in advance of showings of "Spawn of the North" and "Men With Wings."

Loren D. Ryder of the studio sound staff arrived in New York yesterday to discuss the work being done with Altec Service Corp. and RCA Photophone. Mr. Ryder said that three technicians are visiting the first run houses in which the pictures will play in all key cities. Using test films from both productions, the technicians are making a thorough inspection of the sound equipment of each theatre visited. Their reports and recommendations are supplied to theatre operators and, wherever followed, additional tests of the equipment are made to insure improved results from the changes made, Mr. Ryder said.

Producers Threaten Mexican Withdrawal

MEXICO CITY, Aug. 22.—Forty-eight producers have threatened to quit Mexico because of the demands of the Confederation of Workers of Mexico, the most powerful union in the country, according to the local newspaper, Excelsior. The paper claims the union demands collective contracts, both with the producers and the owners of the studios, providing free production of a film each year with a socialistic theme, and traveling expenses for a group of workers to tour the United States and Europe studying film methods.

Producers claim they cannot comply with the demands for financial reasons. The producers now operating here make from one to five films each a year, at costs ranging from $20,000 to $100,000.

Sign Under Protest, Canadians Are Told

TORONTO, Aug. 22.—The Independent Theatres Association of Ontario has advised exhibitor members to sign deals for next season's product only under protest. They are also asked to submit information relative to the contract form offered by exchanges and their own views on the contract situation.

Behind the move is the fact that the new license agreement does not contain any of the revisions proposed by the theatre organization during a series of conferences with the Motion Picture Distributors' Association, but contains other provisions protested by the organization.

Minnesota Circuit Opens House Friday

VIRGINIA, MINN., Aug. 22.—The Minnesota Amusement Co. will open its new Maco Theatre here on Friday night. Mayors and newspaper men from 16 nearby cities and towns have been invited to participate in the ceremonies.

Warners File Reply In Tarkington Suit

Warner Bros. Pictures, Inc., filed an answer yesterday to the suit of Booth Tarkington, which charged infringement of his literary rights to the character Penrod in "Penrod and His Twin Brother." The answer, besides denying Mr. Tarkington's complaint and raising several defenses, counter-claimed against the plaintiff for $18,750.

Warners claimed that in a contract made March 6, 1931, between the parties, which sold the motion picture rights to certain Penrod stories, Mr. Tarkington had represented that the stories were protected by copyright when, as a matter of fact, the answer continued, they had become part of the public domain.

Warners also contended that from 1921 to 1937 it had produced 12 Penrod pictures with the consent of Mr. Tarkington, and that the public had become "Warners-Penrod" conscious. Mr. Tarkington's course of conduct, the defendant argued, must be deemed his consent to the production of "Penrod and His Twin Brother."

July Ticket Revenue Drops to $1,618,813

WASHINGTON, Aug. 22.—Federal admission tax collections in July reflected the usual seasonal downward trend, dropping to $1,618,813 from $1,624,453 in June, and for the fourth successive month were under those for the corresponding period last year, it was reported tonight by the Bureau of Internal Revenue.

While the decline in collections from June to July was substantial, bureau records disclosed, it was far less in proportion than between those months in 1937, when receipts dropped from $1,874,775 to $1,633,088.

For the first seven months of the current year, admission tax collections were approximately $187,000 under the corresponding period a year ago, amounting to $10,965,575 against $11,153,102, the bureau report showed.

Picketing Pickets

Century Circuit's Avalon at 18th St. and Kings Highway, Brooklyn, found itself beleagured Saturday night. The Catholic Worker was picketing the house and pickets were distributing leaflets asking a boycott of "Blockade," the current attraction. A half-block away there was a soap box meeting of radicals who protested the boycott and distributed dodgers of their own. On top of it all, Local 306 pickets were parading in front of the theatre. The management reported business as "normal."

Banner LINES

NEWSPAPER and radio gossip columnist Walter Winchell has tiffed many times with NBC over the propriety of items appearing in his script, and the past Sunday saw another set-to between the gray ghost of Broadway and the network management.

Walter, it appeared, desired to say some allegedly uncomplimentary things about the caliber of the witnesses Prosecutor Dewey is presenting in the current trial of Tammany leader James J. Hines, and NBC, picturing a contempt of court action if they allowed Mr. Winchell to say what he had set down in the script, blue-pencilled the more dangerous parts of his remarks. Whereupon Mr. Winchell, who seldom if ever brooks interference from anyone, went on the air and told the radio audience most of his editorial on the Hines case had been deleted by NBC.

The network naturally was deluged with phone calls following the broadcast, and to all inquiries NBC gave the following cryptic explanation: "NBC has always reserved the right to edit continuity on commercially sponsored programs. Mr. Winchell's script was revised accordingly in the interests of good programming."

Anyhow, Buddy Sheppard, violinist-conductor on the CBS "Rhythm Rendezvous" program, was dreamily executing a beautiful Debussey number on his violin while on the air the other night, when one of the members of the orchestra leaned forward and with a scissors, snipped Mr. Sheppard's suspenders. He finished the number with trousers crumbled about his ankles.

State Department to Have Radio Division

WASHINGTON, Aug. 22.—Establishment of a new division of international communications in the State Department, to deal with the problems of radio and other communications, has been announced by Secretary Cordell Hull. Establishment of the division was provided for in a deficiency appropriation bill passed by Congress shortly before the end of the last session.

Need for the new division, it was explained, arose with the growing importance internationally of radio and certain other types of communication whose interests must be watched by the department.

A number of members of the department staff who have developed into experts on radio and other communication subjects in other sections of the department will comprise the new division. Much of the department's work on communications consists of the development of information and policies for use at the various international conferences.

The new division will be headed by Thomas Burke, formerly connected with the Department of Commerce, with Jesse E. Saugstad, a State Department employe, as his assistant.

Broadcast Ban Stirs London Press Flurry

By AUBREY FLANAGAN

LONDON, Aug. 22.—There has been considerable discussion in the London daily press of the report that King George VI has banned the broadcast of this year's command performance of the big vaudeville show at the Palladium, as a gesture to entertainment enterprises suffering from the competition of counter attractions.

The report has been denied at Balmoral Castle and by the British Broadcasting Co., but it has been learned authoritatively that the decision not to broadcast the show was taken several weeks ago as a result of pressure from the Cinematograph Exhibitors' Association and other entertainment organizations. The policy of secrecy concerning the decision is understood to have been taken because of the unpopularity of the move with the public. The Theatrical Managers' Asociation claims to have a letter from Lord Cromer, former Lord Chamberlain, stating that no further shows will be broadcast because of the resulting hardship on other forms of entertainment.

"You Can't Take It With You"

[Columbia]

HOLLYWOOD, Aug. 23.—Columbia's screen team, Frank Capra Robert Riskin, crashed through this afternoon with another terrific box-office attraction. Their picturization of the George S. Kaufman-Moss Hart Pulitzer Prize Play compares more directly to their "Mr. Deeds Goes to Town" than to any of their other collaborations but is a more completely rounded and pointed work than even that memorable production. Five hundred screen-wise guests attending the international press review at the Columbia studios today laughed, thrilled, sobbed just a little and applauded a lot in unmistakable personal as well as professional enjoyment of a great entertainment.

The cast assembled by Director Capra from almost as many sources as there are in Hollywood fits the Riskin script and the Kaufman-Hart play like a coat of tan. Lionel Barrymore's portrayal of the grandfather who has modeled his life and those of his family on the truism of the title is one of those priceless performances the camera was invented to catch for posterity. James Stewart's enactment of the wealthy young man won over to WASHINGTON, Aug. 23.—A sharp upturn in New York theatre attendance in June was indicated today by figures released by the Bureau of Internal Revenue on admission tax collections from the Third New York (Broadway) District during July.

Total receipts from the district were $681,445, the largest amount reported for any month since last December. The figure was approximately $257,000 above the June total of $424,171 and $209,000 above the $472,497 reported for July, 1937, it was stated.

The major item of increase was taxes collected on admissions, which

New Theatres Are Smaller, Survey Shows

Theatre building this year indicates a marked trend to smaller houses, it is shown in a summary since the first of the year prepared by the Dodge Reports division of the F. W. Dodge Corp.

During the first seven months, building contracts were awarded for 472 theatre projects in the 37 eastern states, including new construction and major remodeling. The total valuation of these contracts was $13,641.000. The average cost of each was about $28,900. The average floor area was 3,650 sq. ft.

Last year, there were 528 theatre projects, new and remodeling, for which building contracts were awarded from January through July. That was 56 more than in 1938. The total contract valuation, $17,227,000, averaged $32,600 per project. There was an average of 4,930 sq. ft. in each.

July contracts dipped under the June level, with 62 projects totaling $1,555,000. They will be made up of 149,000 sq. ft. of floor area. In June, the total was $2,881,000 for 72 projects with 420,000 sq. ft.

Hope Renewed For Canadian Trade Treaty

Interest Revived After Roosevelt's Visit

TORONTO, Aug. 23.—There have been reactions to President Roosevelt's recent visit here in the form of renewed industry talk about reciprocal trade relations. The two Governments began discussions of this problem some time ago, but nothing happened beyond conferences.

Now it is predicted that something may develop during the autumn and that there will be concessions on entry of films because of the prevailing feeling that Canada has no industry that requires tariff protection.

This applies particularly to features of which none is made in the Dominion for the prime purpose of presentation in Canadian theatres. There is also the prospect of relief in the matter of excise imposts on advertising accessories, the making of which in comparatively small quantities cannot be done in Canada with practical profit. The latter is regarded as a minor consideration, however.

At present the common procedure is to import the negative of a feature from the U.S. for a limited period

20th-Fox Gets Time In Anti-Trust Suit

Twentieth Century-Fox Film Corp., Movietonews, Inc., 20th Century-Fox Corp. of Texas, 20th Century-Fox Distributing Corp., National Theatres Corp., Sidney R. Kent, William C. Michel, Darryl F. Zanuck, Felix A. Jenkins, Sydney Towell, William Goetz, H. Donald Campbell, John R. Dillon, Herrman G. Place, Daniel O. Hastings, Truman H. Tally, Spyros P. Skouras, A. Sumner Gambee, Henry C. Cox, John T. Edmondson, Herman Wobber and Seton Porter were granted an extension to answer the complaint to Nov. 1 in the Government anti-trust suit in a stipulation filed yesterday in the U. S. District Court.

Dwight, Harris, Koegel & Caskey signed the extension agreement in behalf of the defendants, and Wendell Berge, special assistant to the attorney general, in behalf of the Government. The stipulation contained the usual provision that any other defendants in the 20th Century-Fox group served or appearing in the action before Oct. 12 would be entitled to an automatic extension of the time to answer to Nov. 1.

Reply in "Nation" Suit

Treo Film Exchange of N. Y., Inc., The Esquire Amusement Corp. and Max A Cohen filed answers yesterday in the U. S. District Court in the suit brought by Epic Producing Corp. and James Dixon, which charged them and Stone Film Library, Inc., Marion T. Stone, Major Film Exchange, Inc., David M. Sohmer and Skouras Theatres Corp. with the unauthorized exhibition of "Birth of a Nation."

The answers, after denying the allegations of the complaint, contended that Epic Producing Corp. was not the owner of the distribution rights to the picture, but had assigned the rights on June 15, 1931, to Major Film Exchange, which had in turn assigned them to Marion T. Stone.

Wendy Hiller Is "Pygmalion" Star

London, Aug. 23. — Wendy Hiller made a deep impression tonight with the preview of the G. B. Shaw play, "Pygmalion," produced for the screen by Gabriel L. Pascal. Miss Hiller's initial appearance, as the market girl subjected to social metamorphosis by a professor of phonetics, establishes her as an actress of unusual gifts with an irresistible personality.

The film has been imaginatively directed by Leslie Howard and Anthony Asquith with whimsical humor and good comedy, despite a tendency to verbosity. It has been brilliantly cast, and is sophisticated entertainment with adult appeal.

FLANAGAN

this philosophy excels his impressive previous bests. Edward Arnold is incomparable as the inflexible capitalist and Mary Forbes is ideal as his icy wife. Jean Arthur's scenes with Stewart are superb; Mischa Auer packs a maximum of laughter into relatively short appearances. H. B. Warner makes a masterpiece of a single speech. Ann Miller, Spring Byington, Samuel S. Hinds, Halliwell Hobbes, Donald Meek, Dub Taylor, Clarence Wilson, Harry Davenport and Joseph Swickard are among many whose brilliant acting add to the realism and power of the film.

Box-office possibilities of the film are without seeming limitation. The continuing success of the stage play on Broadway has served to put practically the whole theatre-going population on notice that an extraordinary piece of entertainment merchandise is to be had under the title of "You Can't Take It with You." The news that Columbia paid $200,000 for the right to film it and turned the job over to the team that turned out "It Happened One Night," "Broadway Bill" and "Lost Horizon" has permeated every frontier serviced by newspaper and radio. A lazy showman could stick the title and leads in lights and count on the townsfolk to attend in a body. An industrious one should be able to write himself a new top gross figure.

Mr. Riskin has minced no words in his dialogue. His actors speak their minds on subjects of the day and the headlines, some of them subjects not even the plain citizen talks about loudly in numerous company just now. The various isms come in for treatment and folks who figure on making a lot of money out of munitions in case a war pops up are roundly condemned. Yet these are touched upon as matters in passing, necessary to the story, and it would take a frustrated propagandist to make out a case against the picture on doctrinal grounds. Its only contention is stated in the title.

Skeletonized, the story is as old as story-telling. Rich man's son wants to marry stenographer. Parents object. Son, stenographer and stenographer's grandfather prove to rich man that money is not everything but love of fellow man probably is. Boy gets girl. But there's no fairness in skeletonizing a play as full of humor, honest emotionalism and fundamentally human values as this one is. It has everything.

The picture presents a family as gaily abandoned as the one in "Merrily We Live." It offers a financier more credible and, in his way, incredible than the same star dished up as "Diamond Jim Brady." It links together the lives of many strangely assorted individuals, each of them a counterpart, actually or wishfully, of a very large sector of that highly desirable group of ticket buyers the politician has in his mind's eye when he addresses "the people of these United States." It's hard to think of any one of them that won't like the picture plenty.

Running time, 125 minutes. "G."

The LION'S ROAR

Leo doesn't think any the less of his collection of Academy Award statuettes, but it was a pleasant change to get a Blue Ribbon this week.

For "Love Finds Andy Hardy."

Readers of "Box-office" magazine voted it the best film released during July for the whole family.

Ditto for exhibitors!

We've got inside information about the next of this series, "Out West With The Hardys."

A chap who heard the plot over a luncheon table at the studio described it as "excellent." Since he is conservative this corresponds to your "terrific."

Repeat bookings of the previous "Hardy" pictures are reported from many sections of the country.

A smart showman in Michigan is playing them on the same night of the week for three weeks in a row. He established it as "Hardy Family Night."

Getting additional business thereby.

Also our Hardy congratulations.

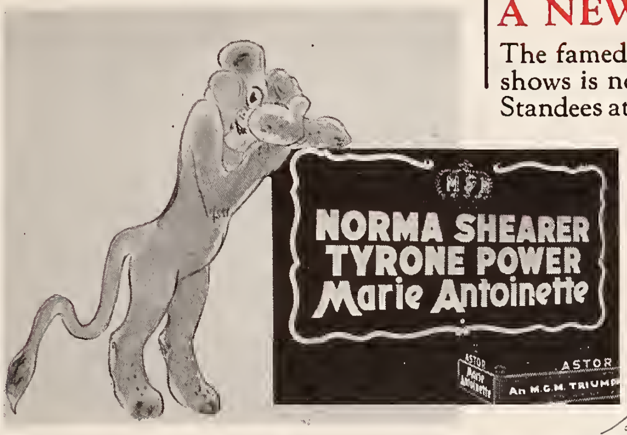
Patrons like Shorts. There have been several surveys lately proving that the public is more "short-conscious" than ever but you'll be a lot more convinced by a personal survey in your own lobby. M-G-M's intelligent, exploitable and entertaining subjects continue to lead their field. For instance currently: Pete Smith's "Follow The Arrow" and "The Story of Dr. Carver." And we guarantee you'll get plenty of comment on the human-interest, informative and inspiring, "The City of Little Men."

* * * * *

EXTRA! As we leap to press! "MARIE ANTOINETTE" FIRST POPULAR PRICE engagements terrific. A proved $2 sensation in Los Angeles and New York, M-G-M set first popular price tests in small towns (Petoskey, Frankfort, Michigan; Lake Geneva, Delevan, Sheboygan, Wisconsin) where it is beating M-G-M's Biggest, such as, "Test Pilot," "San Francisco," "Saratoga" foreshadowing tremendous nationwide hit.

"Today's white-haired boy"



THEY'RE SAYING NICE THINGS ABOUT YOU, LEO!

The announcement of the release of "Marie Antoinette" at popular prices, entailing cancellation of road-shows, has met with widespread industry approval. To help the industry put its best foot forward at the commencement of the united screen drive this Fall M-G-M delivers a production which raises the stock of all companies. A patron of the Astor Theatre writing to the Management reflects what this move means: "For some time there has been a lot of talk that Hollywood was failing us, that they were no longer capable of turning out great films. Can these critics still stand by that statement after 'Marie Antoinette'?" And celebrated showman Charles P. Skouras writes to Loew's President, Nicholas M. Schenck: "Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer in this picture gives a starved entertainment world the greatest of its many achievements. I predict 'Marie Antoinette' will go on to be the box-office hit of the year and the Academy Award Winner."

THE EDITORIAL WHEE!

Nobody had to call Leo's attention to that widely discussed editorial in Jay Emanuel Publications last week.

In case you missed it, we reprint it here in part:

"Praising Metro sales policy is not a new departure for this department. It is therefore time to commend Metro for continuance of that fair selling policy which exhibitors have been so quick to recognize. Let the Metro spirit of fairness be best exemplified by a letter received by exhibitors. (The letter concerns designation of pictures in uncompleted percentage brackets). Metro could have filled the higher brackets but it isn't doing business that way. It feels treating exhibitors fairly pays bigger dividends. And other companies' sales departments wonder why exhibitors shout so loudly in praise of the cohorts of Leo. It was never more apparent—fair play brings greater returns always."

Thanks Mr. Editor.

M-G-M likes to think of its boys in the field working with exhibitors toward a common goal, success for all.

Three little words that sum it up:

THE FRIENDLY COMPANY.

dependents in the area is expected to follow the I.T.O.A. meeting at the Astor today.

Brooklyn downtown exhibitors at a meeting yesterday decided to open their community drive Aug. 30 with a dinner to be attended by exhibitors, borough officials, newspaper representatives, heads of civic organizations and others.

The 16-page publicity section of the press book for the Motion Pictures' Greatest Year campaign went to press yesterday and is scheduled to be ready for shipment to exchanges by the end of the week. The advertising and exploitation sections of the press book are en route to exchanges.

The publicity section contains a large amount of feature material, much of it carrying the by-lines of screen writers, executives, directors and stars. It presents an "inside" view of production, designed to show why Motion Pictures Are Your Best Entertainment. The articles are profusely illustrated. The section also includes photo and cartoon features.

The campaign committee is sending out instructions to theatre owners participating in the drive on advance work to be done on behalf of the campaign until they receive copies of the official press book. The instructions relate what has been done by some exhibitors already to call the attention of their cities and neighborhoods to the drive.

Ask Hawaii Circuit Inclusion in Drive

A request for the inclusion of Hawaiian theatres in the Motion Pictures' Greatest Year campaign was received at drive headquarters yesterday from Fred Williams, representative of Consolidated Circuit, Honolulu.

Efforts will be made to comply with the request and campaign accessories will be supplied through the San Francisco exchange, it was said.

A. F. A. to Set Pay Rates

Members of the American Federation of Actors yesterday voted to empower the council to set minimum wage scales at Broadway presentation theatres and vaudeville houses. The A.F.A. is negotiating with Loew's and Warner Bros. for a closed shop in their Broadway houses. The organization expects to sign with Warners by Friday.

Theatres will be classified according size, prices and number of shows.

as a supplement or by rubber stamp. G. B. had also asked for the addition of its picture titles to the contest list by means of a supplement. Campaign officials said that Republic's action resulted from reconsideration of an invitation to participate in the drive which the company originally had declined. G. B. had not declined to enter but its acceptance was received too late.

American distributors of British pictures yesterday expressed little enthusiasm for a basic plan said to have been discussed by them last week by which they would undertake a promotional drive of their own on behalf of British product. The consensus of opinion of those questioned was that such a project would be too costly to undertake if it were to be attempted on any scale likely to bring results.

St. Louis 100% for Industry's Campaign

ST. LOUIS, Aug. 23.—Following a big meeting of exhibitors here yesterday it was freely predicted that the district would show a 100 per cent subscription to the Motion Pictures' Greatest Year campaign.

TRUE STORIES FROM ALTEC FILES

TED NICHOLAS,
Manager of the Lyric Theatre, Indianapolis, Ind.

Quick Action by Engineer Saves Afternoon Show

INDIANAPOLIS, IND.—"Just a few minutes before our Saturday afternoon stage show, the sound suddenly stopped," declared Ted Nicholas, Manager of the Lyric Theatre here.

"We called our Altec Inspector, P. V. Woolley, at 1:30 P.M. He arrived at 1:45, and discovered a short circuit in the motor-generator armature. He immediately connected some storage batteries obtained locally to provide power in place of the defective motor-generator. Sound was ready right on schedule when the picture hit the sheet at the close of the stage show at 2:05.

"Woolley stayed with us the remainder of the day to be sure that the improvised power supply would hold up without interruption. He installed a new armature from Altec's warehouse the next morning and by opening time Sunday everything was normal."

Altec services the largest number of theatres of any service organization in the field. Having nothing but service to sell, the Altec Inspector has one job only—to make the sound equipment you now have deliver the highest possible quality of sound.

German Television Leading World, States M. P. Wilder

While England, France and the United States have garnered the most publicity on the subject, and for that reason have been considered the nations most actively concerned in television development and operations, actually Germany today is the world's leading television center, although, remarkably enough, there is no commercial television at this time in Germany. This is the conviction of Marshall P. Wilder, television engineer for the National Union Radio Corp., manufacturers of radio television tubes and parts, who has just returned to America from a six-week study of European television. Mr. Wilder made known his findings at a press luncheon in the RCA Building Luncheon Club yesterday.

Transmissions Start Oct. 1

Television transmissions on a regular basis will begin in Germany Oct. 1, and it is after these transmissions begin that the world will learn of the remarkable strides made by the German television scientists during several years of laboratory work and experimental transmissions, according to Mr. Wilder. The programs will come from a 15-kilowatt station on top of the Amerika Haus in Berlin, a new building.

Germany will not only send television by radio, but will also send it by wire line on a carrier of 4½ megacycles. The use of modulated carrier amplifiers has been developed to a very high degree in Germany and is employed throughout their 15-kilowatt transmitters from picture signal input to antenna stage, he said.

There are approximately eight different manufacturers and development laboratories now showing models of television receivers in Germany, both of the direct viewing type, the home projection type, television in natural colors, and large screen television projection systems. Among the more important companies showing receivers are the Fernseh Co., the Telefunken Co., and the German Post Office Development Laboratory.

Direct Pickup a Feature

The Fernseh system, in the opinion of Mr. Wilder, is one of the most remarkable yet developed. It is chiefly remarkable, however, for a direct pickup method. An intermediate film scanner photographs the subject on film, then develops and dries the film in 80 seconds, making it ready for scanning by a disector built into the equipment. The camera employs a sound head which records the sound at the same time the picture is developed—the entire operation in 80 seconds. Mr. Wilder said that this machine would be of vast use in Hollywood, where scenes and dialogue may be played back 80 seconds following their taking.

Another development viewed by Mr. Wilder was a projector showing large screen pictures, 100x75 feet, which afforded an increase in brilliancy 15 times more than on a normal screen. This projector will prove of inestimable value not only in television, but also in ordinary motion picture projection as the amount of light reflected by the screen goes up very greatly over that directed to the viewers from a normal screen.

In Philadelphia WIP will air 12 Temple University football games under Atlantic sponsorship and for the same company will join with KYW in broadcasting Villanova games.

The refiner has also arranged for the broadcasting of the Cornell-Colgate, Georgia Tech-Notre Dame, Penn State-Cornell and Yale-Dartmouth games over KYM as well as all home games of University of Pennsylvania over WCAU. This includes the Cornell game previously mentioned.

N. W. Ayer & Son, agency handling the Atlantic Refining Co. account, placed the business.

Warners to Use Big Ads in 33 Key Spots

Its efficacy proved by a gross of $95,000 on "Four Daughters" at the Music Hall, a large cooperative advertising campaign will shortly be launched by Warners on the film in 33 first run key cities, tying in with local engagements. The entire cost will be borne by Warners.

Warners says this is the largest campaign of its kind it has ever put on. It will consist of the 1,200-line ads inserted by the company in New York dailies a day before the film opened at the Music Hall last week. The ad consists of a statement by Jack L. Warner, vice-president in charge of production.

The New York campaign is credited with starting the Music Hall engagement to a big first day's gross and as generating great interest. The Music Hall management said that each succeeding day's gross has built and that yesterday's take was $14,000. The film is being held.

Arnold Request for Halt On Theatre Expansion Paves the Way

A consent decree settlement of the Government's anti-trust suit will be discussed by major company attorneys with Thurman Arnold, assistant U. S. Attorney General, in Washington early next month, it was learned here yesterday.

The overture came from Mr. Arnold in the form of a letter over his signature suggesting that some arrangement be reached on a "stand still" agreement keeping the present situation in status quo pending suit.

Specifically, the letter referred to theatre acquisitions by five of the defendants, Loew's, RKO, Paramount, Warners and 20th Century-Fox, and the "stand still" agreement would be designed to prevent further expans-

M-G-M May Produce Shorts in the East

M-G-M is considering producing a number of shorts in the east, and a decision may be made next month when Fred Quimby, head of the department, will arrive for home office conferences.

The company also plans to continue with the production of factual short subjects, topical or otherwise, as they have met with good audience response, says Herb Morgan, shorts publicity chief. Returning from the coast yesterday, he reported that the cartoon department is being reorganized and it is probable that Harman-Ising may be put in charge of this activity. Milt Gross is revamping the cartoon division.

Practice Committee Still Marking Time

The distributors' trade practice committee is still marking time awaiting the decision of company lawyers on the effect of the Government's anti-trust suit on the industry's move for self-regulation, it was said yesterday by William F. Rodgers, M-G-M distribution chief, a member of the committee.

Mr. Rodgers said he earnestly hoped that the committee will proceed with its work as he feels that a program is urgently needed. S. R. Kent, committee chairman, recently said that a decision will be announced after Labor Day, when the attorneys will have had an opportunity to study the situation in the light of the Government's action.

The M-G-M sales head returned yesterday from a three-week trip which took him to Chicago, Detroit, Kansas City, Los Angeles, San Francisco and Chicago again. In Kansas City and Los Angeles he addressed the National Theatres conventions and outlined M-G-M's "yardstick" policy of picture rental designations. In Detroit he closed a new season deal with Cooperative Theatres, buying cooperative of about 80 theatres headed by Ray Moon.

"U" Loses Point in Suit

Justice O'Brien further ordered Universal to answer all questions bearing upon its alleged refusal to carry out the terms of the contract.

Ritz Brothers Are Sued

Suit for $150,000 damages was filed against Harry, Al and Jimmy Ritz yesterday in the N. Y. Supreme Court by Arthur Silber. Silber claimed that several days after the contract was made he was wrongfully discharged and that his damages for loss of earnings amounted to $150,000.

VARIETY DAILY

Flashing an attractive title, parading a cast of considerable aggregate pull and pulling no punches in its frank and colorful melodrama, 'Spawn of the North' is a strong b.o. offering. Exciting and tempestuous action is cast against one of the most fascinating backgrounds seen on the screen in years.

Albert Lewin has put lavish production and smart showmanship into an outstanding piece of entertainment which has all the earmarks of prosperous life and does full credit to the Paramount banner.

Henry Hathaway, knowing his way with a sure hand in melodrama of this scope, directs with vigor and sweep, without overlooking intimate and fetching detail. He handles his cast admirably and puts fine dramatic drive into his incident, building suspense to the tragic finale with conviction and sustaining to rare degree the atmosphere of the northern locale.

George Raft does exceedingly well by himself in what is probably his most becoming role. Skillfully he builds up the part of the easy-going fishing schooner man demonstrating ability to play more robust, brawn parts than he has customarily been permitted.

Fonda also delivers an excellent performance

Dorothy Lamour is agreeably tougher than she has been in her usual languorous roles. It offers her an interesting change of pace, and she handles the assignment most commendably

John Barrymore creates a character of odd charm

Akim Tamiroff is the swaggering heavy.

Louise Platt, comparative newcomer from the stage, makes an excellent showing Not least is the trained seal, Slicker, who provides much of the diverting comedy with his almost human understanding and antics.

DAILY

Hollywood, Aug. 16.—"Spawn of the North" is a showman's dream come true. It presents one of the rarest spectacles ever presented on the screen, the breaking of an Alaska glacier, accompanied by the roar of millions of tons of ice as it falls into the sea. It is a virile, gripping drama, heightened by two love stories, one of which is fulfilled, the other not.

It has action, danger and suspense. It has lightning touches of comedy. Its background is virtually virgin territory for exploitation, that of salmon fishing and piracy in Alaska in pioneer days. This Paramount picture has marquee names, George Raft, Henry Fonda, Dorothy Lamour, Akim Tamiroff, John Barrymore, Louise Platt, Lynne Overman.

Several years in preparation, the film emerges as a blend of the menaces of nature and of man to the happiness of a hardy group of Alaskan pioneers, a story based on the history of Seward's Folly.

So breath-taking are some of the scenes that the preview audience at the Westwood Village Theatre was sitting on the edge of its collective seat, and sighed audibly at the conclusion. Raft has his best role to date as an irresponsible Alaskan adventurer. Fonda plays the part of the rat's closest friend who shoots him in the fight between pirates and fishermen. Miss Lamour discards her sarong to become the hardened hotel keeper. Tamiroff is the villainous leader of the Russian pirates. Miss Platt, of whom much may be heard later, is the principal love interest. Barrymore and Overman supply much of the comedy relief and are given a hard race for honors by Slicker, a trained seal.

Henry Hathaway, whose directorial accomplishments include "Souls at Sea" and "Lives of a Bengal Lancer," guided "Spawn of the North." Jules Furthman and Talbot Jennings wrote the screenplay from the widely known novel by Barrett Willoughby. Albert Lewin produced the picture.

Mountain Exhibitors Endorse Campaign

Denver, Aug. 24.—The Motion Pictures Are Your Best Entertainment campaign today received unanimous endorsement at the annual convention of the Theater Owners and Managers of the Rocky Mountain region and body went on record as urging all exhibitors to aid the drive as being finest thing ever to be brought up for the industry.

Other resolutions urged that studios be closed to visitors and more especially to commentators who thrive on scandal, either actual or inferred, and that a copy of this resolution be sent advertisers sponsoring commentators over the air. The body opposed the entering of churches and schools into the exhibition field as a money-making venture but approved the use of films in visual education. The idea was that the exhibitor should work with educators instead of against them.

The group asked that exchange branch managers be given more power in dealing with exhibitors and it was voted to demand either elimination or reduction of the Ascap charge, by law if necessary.

New officers are: President, Chas. R. Gilmour; vice-presidents, A. P. Archer, Mickey Gross, B. P. McCormick; secretary, A. G. Edwards, and treasurer E. P. Briggs.

Canadians Active in Supporting Drive

Toronto, Aug. 24.—Canadian exchanges and theatre owners are actively supporting the Motion Pictures' Greatest Year campaign for the general benefit of the industry, and have no intention of demanding the inclusion of British films in the "Movie Quiz" contest. To date American headquarters have received pledges from Canadian interests totaling $14,000.

The two companies releasing British product in Canada are Regal Films, Ltd., whose chief brand is M-G-M, and Empire-Universal, Ltd., which handles Universal. N. L. Nathanson, president of Famous Players Canadian Corp., has a substantial interest in both distributing companies. Famous Players is solidly behind the campaign as organized and Famous Players officials have urged all independents to do their share in boosting the drive to help business.

Connecticut Rallies To Aid of Campaign

Waterbury, Aug. 24.—General cooperation has been pledged here for the industry advertising campaign and "Movie Quiz" contest by nine theatres with 5,000 seats. In addition to Warners' State and Strand and the Loew-Poli, independents who have agreed to participate include the Carroll, Hamilton, Cameo, Lido, Capitol and Alhambra.

Bridgeport exhibitors, under the chairmanship of A. M. Schumann, and Hartford men, headed by Maurice Shulman, are holding meetings. In Hartford Mayor Thomas T. Spellacy, Chamber of Commerce officials and representatives of the Times and Courant have been invited to attend a dinner.

Elsewhere in the state the campaign is rapidly taking shape.

Cut Commercials to One Minute or Less

The aversion of exhibitors showing advertising films to commercials of one reel or longer is shown in the fact that several large advertisers are cutting their films into short lengths for theatre distribution.

Large firms such as the B. F. Goodrich Co. and the U. S. Rubber Co. have found that they cannot get their one-reelers into theatres, but by cutting them into lengths of one minute or less they are able to get distribution through the regular channels.

Yaeger Takes Over House

Denver, Aug. 24.—C. U. Yaeger of Bank Night is taking over the management of several southside houses from A. P. Archer and Joe Dekker, who have been operating them since their purchase by the three. Archer and Dekker retain their interests. The houses include the Gothic, Santa Fe, Jewel and the Pioneer.

The Alameda, also in the partnership, has been leased to R. W. Wooldridge of Denver. The Alameda and Pioneer are closed, with the former scheduled for September reopening when closed early in the summer. Archer and Dekker will continue to operate their own five houses in north Denver.

sion in the theatre field by these companies until the issue had been decided by trial.

In major company circles Mr. Arnold's request for a conference is regarded as the first step toward sounding them out on a consent decree.

With reference to the suggested "stand still" agreement, should the theatre-holding companies fail to come to terms with the Department of Justice, the Government may then move for a temporary injunction restraining the defendants from adding to their circuits. The suit asks for a permanent writ.

Meanwhile, as a matter of policy pending outcome of the action, the companies are not taking on any additional theatres. This is not an agreed-upon policy among the defendants, it is said, but the result of individual decisions.

The Washington conference has been set for early in September to await the return from Europe of Col. William J. Donovan of special counsel for Irving Trust Co. and RKO, two of the defendants. It was explained that since the matter to be discussed affects five of the majors, attorneys for all should be present.

Also, it is understood that Paul Williams, special assistant to the Attorney General, who is active in the suit, is away from Washington.

Rogers to Make Film On Gus Edwards Life

Hollywood, Aug. 24.—The spectacular box-office success of "Alexander's Ragtime Band" is seen echoed in Charles R. Rogers' disclosure that he has closed a deal with Gus Edwards to make a picture based on his life and incorporating a long list of song hits introduced by the impresario during his career.

No release affiliation has been consummated as yet, although Mr. Rogers says three are in negotiation. It is indicated that the producer will seek Bing Crosby, who is permitted one outside picture under his Paramount contract, for the lead.

"Breaking the Ice"

(RKO)

Hollywood, Aug. 24.—Sol Lesser here achieves the remarkable feat of introducing one juvenile star in the picture of another without obscuring the glitter of either. The new star is five-year-old Irene Dare, whose skating compares to that of Sonja Henie, and whose personality fans will describe as "early Shirley Temple."

This completely capitivating youngster registers a resounding hit in her first picture without in any degree eclipsing the golden voiced Bobby Breen, who was never better. The screenplay by Mary McCall, Jr., Manuel Seff and Bernard Schubert from an original by Fritz Falkenstein and N. Brewster Morse is an unusual narrative concerning the Menonite boy suspected of theft who goes to Philadelphia and earns money needed by his mother by singing in a skating rink.

Director Edward F. Cline has accomplished superbly the difficult task of retaining a full measure of mature story interest while giving both junior luminaries ample scope for display of their specialized talents. The case is distinguished on the adult side by Charles Ruggles, in a brilliant characterization; Robert Barrat as a stern Menonite disciplinarian, and by Dolores Costello, Dorothy Peterson, Charlie Murray and Billy Gilbert in subordinated but effective portrayals. Frank Churchill, Paul Webster and Victor Young are responsible for the five song numbers worked into the flow of the story.

Winnipeg and Vancouver to serve the west. The new company replaces Canadian Theatre & Electrical Supplies, Ltd., of which Charles A. Dentelbeck was general manager. He has been named to the executive staff at the home office of Famous Players as director of projection for all theatres in the circuit, and Ed Harris becomes chief sound engineer. General manager of the new company is Ben Burko, veteran equipment man of Montreal, whose business there has been absorbed in the new enterprise. The Theatre Operating Service, Ltd., Toronto, of which E. V. Armstrong is general manager, ceases as an active unit.

Keynote of the first day's sessions was the exhortation of J. J. FitzGibbons, managing director, to make the theatre an institution in the community. He stated that it is necessary to combat the comment of newspapers and radio specialists who discuss the industry. Commentators, he said, had seized on a statement that Hollywood is retrenching when actually the new pictures are really big. Film entertainment should be classed as amusement, education and inspiration, Mr. FitzGibbons said.

Tax Payments Heavy

Brought out at the first day's session was the fact that the company is paying almost $1,000,000 in taxation this year to Dominion and Provincial Governments.

A feature of the gathering is a display of campaigns which have won Quigley Awards in the past two years, convention delegates showing an eager desire to study the work of managers in different sections of the United States and other countries as well as Canada. One exhibit is a plaque won by Dave Krendel, manager of the Tivoli, Toronto, while others on display included Jack Arthur of the Toronto Uptown and Leonard Bishop of the Hamilton Tivoli.

Paul Nathanson, son of the president of the company, attended the sessions the first day and President N. L. Nathanson is scheduled to appear Friday morning following his return from England.

The convention opened with a roll call of managers from the eastern provinces, followed by brief addresses of welcome and instructions by home office executives, including T. J. Bragg, secretary; Morris Stein, Ontario supervisor; R. S. Roddick, western Ontario supervisor; Ben Geldsaler, chief booker; James Nairn, director of advertising; Ben Cronk, manager in the art display department; R. W. Bolstad, comptroller; J. J. Fitzgibbons, managing director; J. A. Troyer, W. E. Kerr, L. G. Geering and M. Perry.

Robson in Chair

The afternoon session resumed with Clarence Robson, director of theatres in Eastern Canada, as chairman, and further addresses by N. G. Barrow, R. Darby, A. MacCunn, F. J. Justin, Ed Harris, B. Whitham and Charles Dentelbeck. Managers were divided into their assigned groups this evening for discussions. Group "A," headed by Mr. Stein, dealt with bookings; Group "B," under R. S. Roddick, discussed advertising plans and systems while Group "C," discussed policy and prices.

Urge Reforms in Argentine Radio

Expressing a firm belief in the value of radio as an advertising medium in the Argentine, the American Chamber of Commerce at Buenos Aires nevertheless has also asked that notable reforms be made in Argentine radio advertising in making its reply to a questionnaire recently submitted by a commission of the Argentine Government, at present conducting a survey in that country, it is learned through the local office of the McCann-Erickson agency. The chamber's reply was prepared by its publicity committee, of which Henry P. Clark, manager of the Buenos Aires office of McCann-Erickson, is the chairman.

Since the appointment of the Argentine investigation commission, rumors have variously indicated that its intention was to eliminate the majority of the 18 to 20 stations now operating in that nation; to suppress commercial advertising in radio entirely, or to set up several alternate methods of operation. The reply of the American Chamber of Commerce was submitted in response to a circular requesting the Chamber's opinion on two points: the desirability from the viewpoint of commerce and industry of the total suppression of radio advertising; the desirability of continuing the present system, with important limitations.

In its reply the Chamber opposed the total suppression of radio advertising, but concurred with the Government viewpoint that important reforms should be made.

AN OPEN LETTER TO DARRYL F. ZANUCK

Dear Darryl Zanuck:

With the whole world acknowledging your craftsmanship, I wish to add my personal congratulations for a motion picture that will live long after others have been forgotten. "Alexander's Ragtime Band" truly tops the list of achievements that mark your brilliant career.

To take a simple little love story and weave around it a production of such magnitude as "Alexander's Ragtime Band" is certainly the work of genius and that is what you have accomplished. As if by magic, you transformed a popular song into living drama with heart and soul.

Since you have assumed leadership of Twentieth Century-Fox productions you have enriched the screen with beauty, new ideas, progressive trends and refreshing new personalities. Your foresight and master showmanship have been a vital stimulant to the entire motion picture industry.

It is indeed a privilege to be associated with an industry that boasts of men like you, who give so unstintingly of themselves to their work, to make people happier.

Sincerely,

John Balaban

The Government Says

By MARTIN QUIGLEY

MR. THURMAN ARNOLD, assistant attorney general of the United States in charge of the anti-trust suit against the major film companies, wrote an article which is illuminating in its disclosure of his viewpoint for last Sunday's New York Times.

Mr. Arnold's viewpoint in its political and economic implications has not been unknown, but the article coming on the heels of the government action and being under the authorship of the official in charge is of compelling interest.

It should serve effectually to dispel an impression which seems to prevail in many quarters in the industry that, after all, the action is just another federal suit which eventually will be resolved on the basis of moderate concession and compromise.

Mr. Arnold's approach is rather that of an economist than a lawyer. He is seeking a change in the existing economic system rather than merely an adjustment of economic practices with the requirements of the statute books. He is obviously confident that he knows how the economic machine must function, if it is best to serve the purposes of the national economy, and he is obviously determined that his plans shall be carried into effect either through persuasion of the courts as to how existing laws will accommodate these plans, or by the enactment of new laws.

"A series of statements of the grounds for prosecution in particular cases—as conceived, of course, by the assistant attorney general in charge of anti-trust prosecutions—should furnish a link between the courts and Congress so that one may interpret and the other supplement the law," said Mr. Arnold.

Mr. Arnold refers to financial organization as the outstanding weakness in the depression of 1933. This, he said, led to the public demand for the regulation of the marketing of securities, which has been accomplished by the Securities and Exchange Commission. He states that the policies of the great industrial organizations during the recent or current depression led to a demand for investigation of monopoly

Marian Ainslee and Guy Endore, credited with the original idea, were to divide among themselves responsibility for the laughs, passing them around as they fall, there would be plenty for all to feel good about.

Dancing is, of course, the particularly special feature of any Astaire-Rogers picture, and this time it is done to a sequence of Irving Berlin songs that prove again his complete mastery of his long dominated profession. At least three are of inevitable hit quality. To one of them Astaire does his greatest solo dance to date, an incredible exhibition of rhythmic coordination incorporating some of the neatest golfing ever filmed. To another he and Miss Rogers execute a slow motion routine that is sheer optical poesy, and to still another they and a full dress chorus dance a breakneck swing composition known, and quite likely to be known forever, as "The Yam." There is also vocal music in the gentler manner by Robert B. Mitchell and his St. Brendan's Boys.

Astaire makes his doctor credible but not stilted. Miss Rogers gets an opportunity to exercise the impish talent recent castings have suppressed. Bellamy has the sort of assignment he had in "The Awful Truth," but gives it more rope, while Clarence Kolb also lets out in his handling of a role similar to that he played in "Merrily We Live." Luella Gear, Franklin Pangborn and Walter Kingsford are others who run up healthy individual laugh averages.

The place is a city not unlike New York, and the time is now. The dialogue is brisk, crisp and persons with prying ears could read secondary significances into some of it if they worked hard, but nobody who doesn't want to blush would need to. The pace is swift in a polite way, the situations are fresh and the complications unfamiliar. The ending is a conventional one unconventionally arrived at. It is an all-purpose picture packed with exploitation ammunition and brimming over with entertainment for any audience.

O'Loghlin to Start Tour

James P. O'Loghlin, 20th Century-Fox district manager in Canada, will start his second tour of exchanges Sept. 10 in Los Angeles in connection with the current S. R. Kent Drive, of which he is the leader. He will leave Toronto Monday for Los Angeles, where he will meet Herman Wobber, general manager of distribution, who will accompany him on the six-week trip to territories around the country.

The Government Says

practices, which demand—we seem to recall—was voiced principally if not exclusively by Administration spokesmen, Mr. Harold L. Ickes and Mr. Robert H. Jackson.

Mr. Arnold then expresses in effect his belief that, with respect to the supervision of industrial organization, we are now at the stage at which we were in 1933 with respect to the regulation of the financing and marketing of securities. His reference seems to carry the suggestion that industrial organization needs to be subjected to the same detailed and rigorous form of regulation which the SEC applies to the securities business.

"My guess is," says Mr. Arnold, "that present conditions will lead us to the development of more effective supervision . . . than we have ever had before. I hope this prediction is correct because if it is not we are moving inevitably toward a highly centralized industrial state like Germany and Italy rather than a model of a more competitive economy like Sweden."

Mr. Arnold may be reminded that the most conspicuous and the most characteristic attribute of a state like Germany and Italy is its totalitarianism and authoritarianism—a system under which a state committed to the principles of a planned economy prescribes in exact detail the policies and practices which business must observe. An essential of this system is an assumption on the part of the government that it is sufficiently all-knowing to be able to determine just how the economic machine should function.

There is a vast philosophic as well as practical difference between the effort on the part of a state to prescribe procedure as compared with the formulation by the state of regulatory principles of a general character.

There are, of course, those who say that an effort to gain compliance with regulation is not sufficient to correct certain kinds of abuse.

There are also those who say—and even more who act as if they believed—that the processes of democracy are not adequate to meet the crisis of the times.

The affairs of the motion picture industry, if subjected to prudent and reasonable regulation, may be bettered to the end of widening the enjoyment of the prosperity of the business to include all branches and all responsible factors and at the same time contribute importantly to the public interest.

Measures which attempt to go beyond such prudent and reasonable regulation may be viewed with genuine apprehension, because they may amount only to the pursuit of impracticable objectives, rendering the whole effort futile and leaving undone many necessary and desirable matters of trade practice renovation and adjustment.

Mr. Arnold argues that in many industries of centralized control the policies maintained contributed importantly to the recent or current depression. In these cases, he said, prices were arbitrarily fixed when merchandise movement lagged, factories were shut down and great unemployment resulted. While avoiding any attempt to examine the economic interpretation expressed it may be pointed out that no such conditions appear in the record of the motion picture industry. Admission prices have been and are bargain prices. There has been no shut down of the studios and no wholesale unemployment.

The economic machine of the motion picture industry is not out of gear. The condition calls not for the application of extreme, experimental measures, but rather only the maintenance of a status of fair and competitive trade practice consistent with American commercial traditions.

An effective statement of the reasonable and practicable ideal in Mr. Arnold's own words is the following paragraph from the Times article:

"The answer is not a question of breaking up large businesses into smaller ones regardless of their efficiency. We desire only to condemn combinations going beyond efficient mass production which have become instruments arbitrarily . . . exercising coercive power."

First of Industry National Campaign Ads Completed

Charles E. McCarthy and Robert Gillham are members. The committee, assuming one of the most exacting and important assignments of the entire $1,000,000 campaign, worked against tremendous odds in time limitation and mechanical restrictions to complete the most vital part of its work ahead of schedule. The result is a tribute to the industry, an outstanding accomplishment that will be reflected wherever films are shown.

The basis of the entire campaign, which will represent the largest expenditure of the drive, was mapped out by the committee during the few weeks following the announcement of the industry drive in late July. The committee members worked actively with the Donahue & Coe agency in the carrying out of the basic plan and, in addition, supplied ideas for individual ads, contributed to the preparation of copy and assisted with art work and typography.

The first group of ads, while essentially of a conservative foundation, is characterized by informality and broad reader appeal. Many are illustrated and all are prepared in varying forms calculated to win reader attention. The copy is uniformly human in tenor and, while it holds to general appeal and common understandability, it is addressed as well to varying age groups within the mass audience.

Selection of Sizes

The initial ads are of varying size. All include a prominently placed box calling attention to the $250,000 "Movie Quiz" contest and directing theatre patrons to their local theatre for entry blanks. Also prominently displayed at the bottom of every ad is a list of new season pictures of the participating producing companies, with the names of those starred in each picture. This section of every ad is preceded by the line, "Watch for these new season pictures at your favorite theatre."

Prominently displayed at the base of every ad is the campaign slogan for the public, "Motion Pictures Are Your Best Entertainment."

The first of the ads will appear in daily newspapers of Aug. 31, and regularly thereafter in 1,983 daily papers in the United States and almost 100 daily newspapers in Canada. The leading foreign language papers of both this country and Canada are included in the schedule. The ads will appear from Monday to Friday, inclusive, after the start of the campaign, but no space will be used in Saturday, Sunday or holiday issues. Both morning and evening papers will be used. It is estimated that between $600,000 and $800,000 will be spent on the advertising campaign.

Advertisements Captioned

The following are the captions from each of the 11 completed ads, with the size of each ad as it will appear in daily newspapers. Captions indicate the subject of the ad copy.

Neighborhood Houses Prepare Local Drive

Plans for neighborhood drives in conjunction with the industry's promotion campaign were set yesterday at a series of meetings, which will be concluded today. Local committees were organized, with a chairman and secretary for each. In each neighborhood, parades, merchant cooperation, civic celebrations and other exploitation is being arranged.

The Downtown Brooklyn group, headed by Ben Simon of Loew's Metropolitan, chairman, and Solly Schwartz of the RKO Albee, secretary, will start its campaign with a midnight supper at the Towers Hotel next Wednesday. A big celebration is planned, with Borough President Ingersoll heading the list of notables cooperating.

Pledge $2,400 in Omaha

OMAHA, Aug. 25.—A preliminary check shows that 80 exhibitors in the Omaha territory have pledged $2,400 to the Motion Pictures' Greatest Year drive, exclusive of 45 circuit houses. The list includes Nebraska, South Dakota and Iowa exhibitors and indications point to favorable support from many others yet to sign. Exhibitors are being contacted by C. E. Williams and D. V. McLucas.

N. E. Showmen Attend Talk By Franklin

BOSTON, Aug. 25.—Harold B. Franklin, business manager of the Motion Pictures' Greatest Year drive, today told 60 New England exhibitors at the Hotel Statler that if the drive is successful, it may become a permanent industry setup, an idea indicated by George J. Schaefer, head of the drive, some time ago. Mr. Franklin also declared that a similar contest may be a part of next year's "Fiftieth Anniversary of the Motion Picture."

Levenson Chairman

M. L. Levenson, circuit owner and divisional drive chairman, presided, and strongly favored the drive. He is first vice-president of Independent Exhibitors, Inc., Allied affiliate, which still declines to back the drive as a unit. The first contributor today was Herman Rifkin, a member of the Allied organization and owner of the New England franchise for Republic, whose product is not included in the "Movie Quiz" plan. Charles Koerner, RKO division manager, had a suggestion to do away with the sale of answer sheets and their possible harm in keeping contestants from films. He suggested entries be accompanied by 30 ticket stubs.

"I wish we'd thought of that before," Mr. Franklin said. "It's too late to use now. We'll certainly consider it for next time."

Bird, Brunk Take Lead

OKLAHOMA CITY, Aug. 25.—Jim Bird, salesman for Loew's and Sam Brunk, booker for the Paramount exchange, are reported to be in the lead for the $200 cash prize offered by L. C. Griffith, president of the Griffith Amusement Co., to the three salesmen obtaining the most subscriptions from Oklahoma independent exhibitors to the national $1,000,000 ad campaign.

Ray Higdon, National Screen Service, is in charge of the drive for Oklahoma with Morris Loewenstein, president of the Oklahoma Theatre Owners, Inc., serving as treasurer.

Posthumous

A letter from Capt. Frank Hawks, flyer who was killed last Tuesday in a flight, was received the following day by the headquarters of the industry's promotion drive. In the letter Capt. Hawks praised the industry's efforts to present "good clean entertainment" and urged that something be done to eliminate double bills and giveaways. The letter was postmarked at Buffalo at the hour of his death.

FOUR WALLS THAT HOLD A WORLD!

"GOING TO THE MOVIES" has become as much a part of modern life as going to work or going home to dinner. It is a habit that survives wars, strikes, political upheaval and national crises.

The first "movies" were gaped at in much the same way as their contemporaries, the first automobiles. Today nobody stands at the curb to yell, "Get a horse!" at the streamlined version of either. The modern motion picture is as far a cry from the nickelodeon "flicker" as the sleek sixteen-cylinder limousine is from its one-lunged ancestor.

This development was possible because "going to the movies", like automobiling, became a national habit.

Why? Why do we "go to the movies"?

It is because the motion picture has taken unto itself some basic functions in society.

Motion Pictures intensify life!

For the younger generation, especially, an evening at the "movies" offers nearer kinship with other people — a greater insight into life — than a visit with neighbors.

The "movies" have given our eyes new ways of seeing. Because a star's face appears before us on the screen in a hundred-square-foot "close-up", we are more familiar with her features than with those of our sister.

A portrait of a motion picture audience would show peace in the darkened theatre, happiness . . . freedom from care . . . hands held. As the audience reacts to what is taking place on the screen, it shares its feelings — and affirms that man is a social being. It is a group experience that is good for each of us, good for our individualities.

* * * *

Motion pictures are today the chief cultural possession of the average man and woman. Millions who are removed from the other arts find in the film their literature, their expressions of beauty in form and design, their interpretations of the world about them.

While the motion picture theatre is itself a great classroom in which our generation has acquired matchless knowledge of far regions and understanding of distant peoples.

* * * *

There is more than a passing connection between the American way of life and American leadership in the world of motion pictures.

For the "movie" is, by its very nature, a democratic product — the cooperative effort of the talents of many people. Their work is subject to the approval of the box-office, a referendum as accurate as that of the ballot-box itself.

It is in this public expression that motion pictures have found their greatest inspiration — their constant challenge to new endeavor.

Now, to provide the finest array of productions ever released, the Motion Picture Industry has mobilized all its skill, all its imagination, all its resources.

Great stories splendidly produced . . . love-filled romance, stirring drama, gay adventure, hilarious comedy, tuneful musicals — star-studded casts filled with your favorites — new talents for which the world has been searched.

One after another these fine pictures are coming to the screen of your favorite theatre — a world within four walls.

Entertainment, relaxation, freedom from care are yours in overflowing measure, brought to you week after week by the supreme efforts of the Motion Picture Industry to make this fall season one you will never forget.

Industry's Big Campaign Advertisements

Joe Doakes and his girl want the Earth...and they get it!

WITH JOE DOAKES and his girl things aren't so hot. Work hasn't been regular, and wherever you look there's plenty of trouble. They've been pushed around a lot, and they're bewildered because things just don't seem to add up anymore.

"Come on, Marge, let's go to the movies!"

Once inside the motion picture theatre everything is changed for them. There Joe Doakes is boss. He has paid his money and what he says goes.

The whole world is brought to them, while Joe holds his girl's hand and sits back in enjoyment.

Maybe it's a hot swing band they want. The movies have searched the dance spots and brought it to them. Perhaps they want a swell adventure story—Khyber Pass, Bengal Lancers and all that. The movies have it. Or a homely, touching story of everyday folks. There it is, and Joe and the girl friend have a grand time.

Whatever they want, the movies get it for them. Cameramen go into darkest Africa or wander over the bleak Arctic to get authentic settings.

The writers of the brightest comedies take them into the drawing rooms of the wealthy (and, boy, are they drawing rooms!).

The best dance teams in the world float before their eyes and Joe feels all feet, while Marge almost swoons. And, if by any chance, it's love they want... Don't fool yourself—the entertainment of Joe and Marge is the movies' job, and the movies are doing that job extremely well.

Joe and Marge are interested only in what is being shown tonight at the Bijou, but the Motion Picture Industry is intent on entertaining the millions of Joes and Marges and their families in thousands of Bijou theatres from Broadway to Bombay.

To accomplish this the best authors are spinning their stories for Hollywood. The best dramatists are building their plays. The finest actors and actresses of our time give their talents—the greatest composers of today and yesterday, their melodies. London, Paris, New York—the whole world—offer up their best to the movies, so that you, and you, and you may be entertained.

And around these creative artists has been placed a technical staff which is the marvel of an age. Camera work that shows you breath-taking beauty; perfect sound that gives you the whisper of a little child... the croon of a Crosby... the thrilling top notes of a MacDonald, brilliant color that paints the world with the brush of the Master Artist. All of these conspire to make the American motion picture.

Thus it is that "Snow White" comes to life before the eyes of enraptured millions. Thus it is that Chicago falls crashing to the ground a generation after the great fire. Paul Muni as "Emile Zola" teaches the world the depths to which persecution can go—Frank Capra makes a nation laugh at the plight of a nice young couple thumbing a ride. Capt. Bligh again strides the deck of the mutinous Bounty and the Hurricane devastates a South Sea isle.

It is because of the movies that Jackie Cooper and Deanna Durbin have become everybody's ideal of a fine American boy and girl, and it is from the screen that Shirley Temple climbs into the laps and hearts of all mankind.

Pictures have come over their long road by trial and error until today they stand as one of the world's most important institutions—the beloved property of everybody—to criticize for their shortcomings, to accept and to cherish for their many, many virtues.

We who make and exhibit motion pictures ask you especially to see the productions that are coming to your favorite theatre this fall. It is fitting that an array of pictures such as this—the finest that has ever been released in a single season—should reach you on the eve of the Golden Jubilee of motion pictures. They will bring you laughter...tears...adventure... romance...LIFE—give you entertainment, relaxation and freedom from care in overflowing measure.

MOTION PICTURES ARE YOUR BEST ENTERTAINMENT

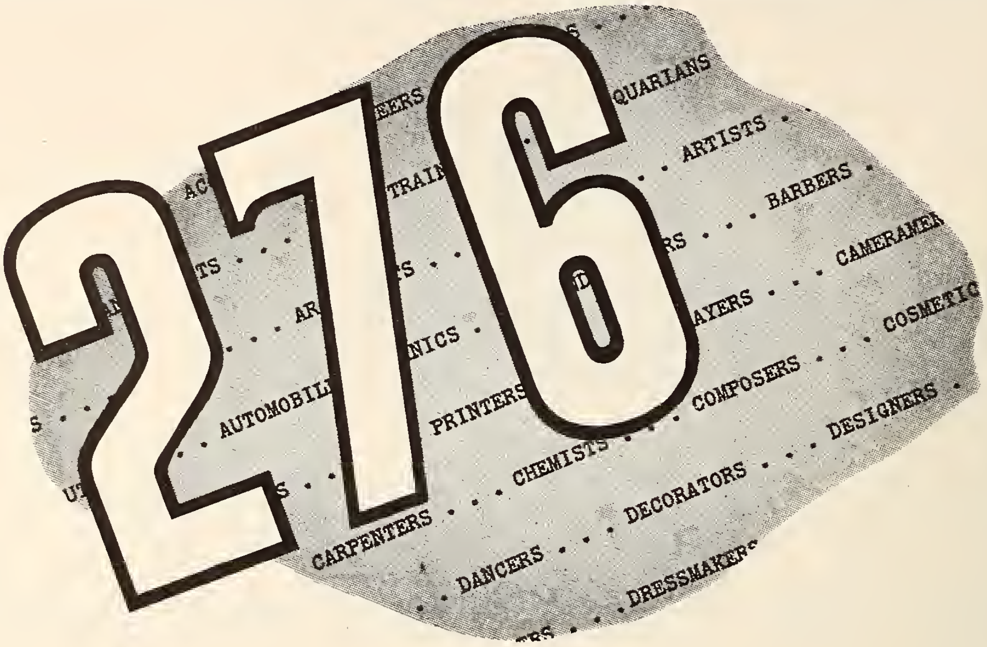
No Superlatives Are Used in the Effort



A MOTION PICTURE is a combination of the rarest talents —

Author, director, actor, designer, cameraman — the representatives of 276 arts, crafts and professions join hands in the production of a motion picture . . .

Thought, skill, effort, courageous investment go into it . . .

If a great novel captures the attention of the world, it is dramatized for the screen . . .

If a hit play is produced on the stage in London, Paris or New York, it is translated into a motion picture . . .

The most successful authors are engaged to give their art to the movies — while outstanding composers contribute their most important music . . .

America's best known writers of popular songs and librettos create screen musical comedies . . .

Players are sought and tested, schooled in voice and pantomime and camera tests are made to secure the best characterizations . . .

Expeditions are sent to the far corners of the globe for authentic atmosphere . . . artists, architects, historians, scientists engaged to make certain of the correctness of literary and pictorial details . . .

In the laboratory endless care to insure perfect presentation . . . Previews before audiences to test public reaction . . . Everything is done to make the motion picture what it is today.

* * * *

For nearly fifty years the motion picture has been developing, improving. And never before in all its history has it offered you such glorious entertainment as now, on the eve of its Golden Jubilee.

Fine pictures are coming to your favorite theatre one after the other — pictures that have called forth all the skill, all the imagination, all the resources of one of the world's great industries. Pictures that will give you relaxation and diversion. Pictures that will take you to distant lands, show you strange scenes and exotic peoples, unlatch for you the mansion doors of millionaires and the cottage doors of plain folks, turn back for you the pages of history, make great events live again.

Pictures that will make you laugh and cry . . . pictures that will pull you to the edge of your seat, tense with excitement . . . pictures that will bring you adventure . . . romance . . . LIFE.

Your theatre man, too, has caught the spirit of this new, exciting amusement season. With his great sense of showmanship he is introducing a contest which will make "going to the movies" still greater fun — a contest which will make your visit to his theatre not only entertaining but perhaps highly profitable as well.

To Stir Interest Among Theatre Patrons

"One tornado and three Hopi Indians ... please!"

A STRANGE REQUEST? Not at all — in the world of the films. Today the call may be for "a tornado and three Hopi Indians" ... tomorrow, perhaps, it will be for a trained ostrich and a replica of a 13th Century castle ... and the day after for an under-sea cavern and a Roman legion.

Whatever the demand, it must be met — regardless of how difficult or how costly. Whatever a picture needs to bring it to life, it gets. Casts numbering thousands are costumed ... equipped ... rehearsed. Nature in all its many moods is captured to perform before the camera's eye. Scholars search the archives of history ... expeditions fare forth to the far corners of the earth ... specialists of every sort and kind are called in — to make a picture ring with sincerity, speak with accuracy.

And that is just a small part of the wonder-world behind the scenes where motion pictures are born.

Into the making of a picture goes the work of brain and hand of the men and women of 276 arts, sciences and professions — collaborators with the great writers and composers, the directors and players whose names you see on the screen.

Before a picture unfolds its story, artists and architects, designers and draftsmen, bricklayers and carpenters have labored — erecting sometimes whole streets or entire villages ... building and furnishing slums and palaces —

Lighting experts, musicians and mechanics, sound effects technicians, set dressers and seamstresses have worked day and night — each contributing his or her part to create the picture you see — each helping to make motion pictures what they are today — your best entertainment.

Around the corner from your home — everybody's home — there is a world quite apart from the one in which we live ... a world into which each man and woman who sits in the darkened theatre enters and becomes a part — leaving the world of reality behind.

Here in this other world are brave adventure and tender romance. Here are side-splitting laughter and tense emotion. Here are music and drama. Here is LIFE.

Day after day the motion picture weaves its magic about the minds of millions of men and women. For them — we hope for you — the movies make this old earth a better, happier place. We who make and exhibit motion pictures like to think that they have brought more pleasure to more people at less cost than almost anything else the mind of man was ever responsible for — and have done the human race more downright good than all the medicines concocted since creation.

* * * *

This fall — with the motion picture standing on the eve of its Golden Jubilee — it is fitting that the Motion Picture Industry should have outdone itself to bring to you as fine an array of productions as you have ever seen in a single season.

There are, as you will see from the list below, pictures of every kind — to suit every taste and match every mood. One after another they are coming to your favorite theatre — offering you entertainment, relaxation, freedom from care in overflowing measure.

AFRA Considers New Ruling on the Coast

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 25.—The Federal Communication Commission's failure to approve the purchase of KSFO by CBS has left that network in an embarrassing position here, in view of the recent nationwide agreement with the American Federation of Radio Artists by both NBC and CBS. As CBS has not been accorded operating control of KSFO, that station has been free to offer auditions to sponsors without paying for talent.

in New York, while Louis B. Mayer, Al Lichtman and Edgar Mannix, for M-G-M, met with David O. Selznick, Henry Ginsberg and L. F. Altsock, for Selznick International here. A Whitney statement issued following the closing of the deal said in part:

"Mr. Selznick has known all along that Clark Gable was the one and only people's choice for Rhett Butler and only through an arrangement with M-G-M to whom he is under exclusive contract, could we have been able to make 'Gone with the Wind' as the public would want to see it made. A Scarlett O'Hara will be found and will be at work before the year is out and all of the other parts will be assigned. I am happy that our negotiations with M-G-M have resulted satisfactorily and that Selznick International may now go forward with all necessary speed."

Mr. Schenck said, "I am proud that M-G-M will distribute the most greatly discussed and widely loved story of recent years. I am confident that David O. Selznick's 'Gone with the Wind' will find him at the highest point of his career and that the picture will exceed expectations."

On returning to England I wish to thank, on behalf of Mr. Albert E. Newton and myself, our many American friends and acquaintances for the courtesies and assistance extended to us during our visit to Hollywood and New York.

Majors' Fall Advertising On Bigger Scale Than Ever

By IRENE KUHN

Advertising campaigns for fall are bigger and better planned than ever; more, they are skillfully tied in with the industry's drive for increased business in all cases. Not only will regular appropriations be expended for advertising that will carry the slogan Motion Pictures Are Your Best Entertainment, but in many cases extra appropriations and special campaigns are indicated during the Sept. 1-Dec. 31 period.

This preview of prosperity is seen as a result of a general survey of the home offices by Motion Picture Daily.

What is just as important, perhaps, as the money flowing out of picture companies into advertising and exploitation, and subsequently into many pockets, and the cumulative enthusiasm of industry leaders and employes communicating itself to the public to pep up heat-jaded box-offices, is the added employment which will result from the drive. The quiz with its substantial prizes, moreover, will start

Selznick-UA In Agreement On Releasing

Selznick International will continue as a production associate of United Artists after completing "Gone with the Wind" for release by M-G-M, it was learned from official sources over the weekend.

That the Selznick organization itself regards the M-G-M deal as only a temporary separation from United Artists which will end with the delivery of the picture to M-G-M was made apparent by remarks of Selznick officials which indicated that the company is completely satisfied with the releasing terms which are available to it from United Artists. Official statements indicate, as well, that the Selznick company regards the M-G-M deal as having been dictated by cost and cast considerations peculiar to the story.

Statements of officials of both companies permit the inference that an understanding already exists regard-

Court Passes New GN Setup After Hearing

Single Creditor Opposes Educational Deal

Los Angeles, Aug. 28. — Federal Judge William P. James, over protest of one creditor, yesterday approved at a three-hour hearing the plan of merger of Educational with Grand National Films to create New Grand National Films, Inc.

The single creditor protest came from Attorney Jules Goldstone, representing himself in his alleged claim of $17,500 against Grand National Films, Inc., and Grand National Studios, Inc., companies forced several months ago to undergo reorganizations under 77B. Goldstone, after cross examining Loyd Wright, co-trustee with Edward L. Alperson, on details of the plan declared to the court that he believed Educational did not have sufficient security to purchase back $200,000 preferred stock to be given creditors for 66⅔ per cent of the claims. He also challenged Wright's contention that the creditors would receive less if the companies liquidated at present. The new corporation, he said, would be embarrassed by a lack of working capital and would be burdened by heavy obligations and administration expenses.

Also testifying in addition to Mr. Wright was William Neary, Assistant

US May Make Own Film on Unemployed

WASHINGTON, Aug. 28.—Production of motion pictures dramatizing the problem of unemployment and the work in that field of the Federal Government is under consideration by the National Emergency Council. Preliminary plans call for distribution by the Government, although no definite commitments have been made as yet.

The plan has been approved in principle by the Works Progress Administration, the Public Works Administration and the Department of Agriculture, which would finance the project jointly subject to final official approval. The N. E. C. has indicated that the officials concerned require more tangible evidence of the idea than has yet been offered before giving their approval.

Plans in Talk Stage

It is understood on good authority that plans for the new picture have as yet gone hardly beyond the conversational stage, because up to this time no funds have been allocated by the three agencies which would be linked with it for the production of such a film. However, it is believed that the funds will be forthcoming in the near future, when plans will go forward.

The possibilities are being studied by Pare Lorentz, who produced the two previous Government films, "The Plow That Broke the Plains" and "The River." The new idea is said to have originated in the N. E. C. There is a possibility that the film will be titled "Ecce Homo," the title of the radio broadcast by Mr. Lorentz two months ago, which had the same theme, indicating the causes and effects of unemployment throughout the country.

The film would be part of the coordinated activity of publicizing Government work through radio and films, under the supervision of the N. E. C.

Expect Para. Dividend

The regular dividends of $1.50 per share on Paramount's first preferred stock and 15 cents per share on the second preferred are expected to be voted by the company's board of directors at a meeting scheduled for today. The meeting was postponed from last Thursday because of a lack of a quorum of board members.

Schenck Back Sept. 12

Joseph M. Schenck, 20th Century-Fox board chairman, is due from Europe on the Normandie Sept. 12 and will leave shortly thereafter for the coast. He will be accompanied by Joseph H. Moskowitz, his eastern assistant, who will remain on the coast for studio conferences.

Dies to Speak Tonight

Representative Martin L. Dies of Texas, chairman of the House Committee investigating un-American activities, will appear as a guest speaker on the National Radio Forum tonight at 10:30 P.M. over the NBC-Blue to discuss the testimony presented thus far before the committee.

Insiders' Outlook

AS the time draws near for the designation of a board of directors for reorganized RKO, the question of control of the new company intrudes itself at any approach to the subject. Industry and financial factors have been busy at guessing the outcome. Clues aplenty are in evidence but so are probabilities which, if any were to materialize, would bring about results of a different order. That, perhaps, is what makes the guessing so intriguing at this stage.

Up to July, when Atlas Corp. permitted its option on RCA's remaining holdings of RKO securities to lapse, it was assumed, naturally enough, that control of the reorganized RKO would be vested in Floyd B. Odlum's company. When the option was not exercised, RCA was left in possession of debentures and common stock of RKO only slightly —very slightly—less than those held by Atlas. To be exact, RCA holds 555,254 shares of RKO common and $4,485,550 face amount of debentures. It has disposed of 656,108 shares of common and $5,301,104 face amount of debentures to Atlas. Under the RKO reorganization plan RCA will receive 44,855½ shares of new $100 par RKO preferred stock and 314,820 shares of new common. Atlas will receive 53,011 shares of new preferred and 374,406 of new common.

It is hardly probable that this slight difference in holdings will entitle Atlas to greater representation on the board of reorganized RKO than RCA will be entitled to, although if that point is forced it does embrace one of the possibilities, referred to earlier, which is capable of upsetting predictions on ultimate control.

The by-laws of the new company will provide for a minimum of nine members of the board. Assume that Atlas and RCA each obtain two representatives on the board. Rockefeller Center with its 500,000 shares of common of the reorganized company stands an almost equal chance of placing two representatives of its own on the board of the new company. Its "stake" (viz: as unsecured creditor) in RKO was appraised officially at $9,150,000, this comparing with RCA's original investment in RKO (1931) amounting to $14,644,614, which, however, it appraised itself in 1934 for the purposes of the Atlas option at $11,000,000. The Atlas investment consists of $5,500,000 which it paid for seven-twelfths of the RCA holdings; approximately $500,000 additionally in claims against RKO which it purchased, and acquisitions of RKO securities from other sources. It will also receive an amount of new RKO stock to be designated by the court for its services in the reorganization and as proponent of the plan.

Atlas, however, is not likely to overlook the kinship between Rockefeller Center and RCA. Assuming that unsecured creditors, other than Rockefeller Center, and debenture holders, other than Atlas and RCA, and stockholders each receive one board representative to complete a membership of nine, a coalition with all three of these would be necessary for Atlas to achieve control, whereas a coalition with only one of the three would be necessary for a Rockefeller Center-RCA combine to gain control. The situation suggests the coalition which prevailed in the reorganization of Paramount, in which Atlas found itself allied with the H. A. Fortington group of creditors, which prevailed over large bondholders, banks and other secured creditors in the formation of the initial board of directors.

A more direct route to Atlas control of RKO, however, is the re-negotiation of an option to purchase RCA's remaining holdings. This is the outstanding probability to confound today's dopesters. It is no secret that RCA would discuss another option or terms of an outright sale of its holdings. It is made plain that those holdings are for sale but are not on the bargain counter. Without a sale, there is little likelihood that RCA will be found sitting on the sidelines when either board or management is designated. The course it will pursue is not expected to be disclosed until David Sarnoff returns from his current European trip, but that it will be a vigorous one no one doubts. And that it may result in a new option being granted Atlas is well within the realm of possibilities.

Hollywood Preview

"Three Loves Has Nancy"

(M-G-M)

HOLLYWOOD, Aug. 28.—Funny is the keystone word for this triple-plated comedy. Fast, glib, gay, modern, mad and merry are others that apply. Janet Gaynor, Franchot Tone and Robert Montgomery are the top names, but an ample marquee can make profitable use also of Claire Dodd, Reginald Owen, Guy Kibbee, Charley Grapewin, Cora Witherspoon and Emma Dunn, all of whom share responsibility for a piece of entertainment that kept a Hollywood preview audience in stitches.

Producer Norman Krasna's not always exercised but potent sense of humor is in full gallop throughout this event. Director Richard Thorpe left no inch of film unfilled with significance and the six who dished up the material, Bella and Samuel Spewack, George Oppenheimer, David Hertz, Lee Loeb and Mort Burns, can split the credit that many ways without worrying about options.

Montgomery is a New York author who visits a small southern town and meets unsophisticated Miss Gaynor. Tone is his New York publisher and apartment house neighbor. Miss Gaynor comes to the city in search of her missing fiance and winds up as guest cook for Tone. Both men fall in love with her and the complications arise from their rivalry. They are not the usual ones.

Miss Gaynor's performance is brilliant and Montgomery and Tone have never appeared to better advantage. Dialogue and situations are such that the preview audience's laughter often drowned out the sound track.

Grand National Treasurer, who disclosed the financial figures.

After noting the Goldstone objections Judge James approved the plan en toto as well as Alperson's five-year employment contract at $1,000 per week.

The merger agreement was approved by Educational Pictures' stockholders at a meeting in the company's New York office on Friday.

Details of the proposal for the merger of Grand National and Educational, presented Saturday to Federal Judge William P. James for approval in the reorganization of G. N. were summarized by Edward L. Alperson and Loyd Wright, co-trustees, as follows in circulars sent to creditors and stockholders of Grand National Films, Inc., and its subsidiary, Grand National Studios, Inc.:

To Buy Grand National Assets

The new corporation will purchase from the trustees all of the assets of G. N. Films and the subsidiary, except cash on the following basis: The new corporation will pay and issue to trustees for the properties so purchased $50,000 in cash, $300,000 par value of its preferred stock, 219,563 shares of its common stock and warrants representing the right to purchase within 12 months from the date of issue 109,782 shares of its common stock at $1 per share. The new corporation will assume all contracts, leases and liabilities of the trustees except the fees of the trustees and attorneys' fee unpaid at the time of transfer, and liabilities which the trustees can pay from cash on hand, and assume all contracts and leases of the debtor and of the subsidiary which currently are being performed by trustees.

Educational will organize a new corporation with authorized capital of at least 45,000 shares of five per cent cumulative preferred stock of par value of $10 per share redeemable at 103 per cent of par and 5,000,000 shares of common stock of par value of $1 per share. Educational will transfer to the new corporation all Educational assets except its corporate name and franchise, its trade mark, non-theatrical rights in pictures now held, and stock in the subsidiary which owns the studio now under lease.

1,100,000 Shares to Educational

The proposal contains a representation by Educational that a fair value of such assets to be so transferred over and above liabilities is now and at time of the proposed transfer will be more than $1,100,000. The new corporation will assume the liabilities of Educational and certain subsidiaries which Educational represents do not and at the time of transfer will not exceed $375,000. In consideration of the transfer of Educational assets to the new corporation, the latter will issue to Educational 1,100,000 shares of its common stock and warrants representing the right to purchase within 12 months from the date of issue 550,000 shares of common stock at $1 per share.

Educational agrees to make arrangements for the immediate purchase of $150,000 par value of the new corporation's preferred stock for cash at a price equal to the par value thereof. Educational will give the new corporation a three-year option to purchase all the stock of the subsidiary which owns the studio which Educational holds (90 per cent of all outstanding stock) for 500,000 shares of common stock of the new corporation less the number of shares equal to the number of dollars indebtedness of the subsidiary at the time of the purchase.

Educational agrees that at any time after approval of the proposal and prior to Aug. 11, 1939, it will purchase from the trustees for cash upon 30 days' prior written notice all or any part of $300,000 par value of preferred stock at a price equal to 66⅔ per cent of par.

New Strand Policy Off to Good Start

The Strand's new band policy got off to a flying start Friday, with a gross of almost $9,000 reported for the day. The younger element was much in evidence, attracted by Ben Bernie in his first Broadway appearance in two years, and "Boy Meets Girl" on the screen. The opening was backed by a heavy advertising campaign.

"Sing You Sinners" is going strong at the Paramount and will be the first film to receive a three-week engagement at the theatre since "Bluebeard's Eighth Wife" about five months ago. The first day's take on the second week was reported as $600 more than the opening day of the first week.

the circuit of Associated British Cinemas, Ltd., headed by John Maxwell as chairman and managing director, and the country's dominant theatre circuit. The merger reported under discussion would bring together a group of more than 550 theatres.

Under the arrangement understood in negotiation, the Ostrers and Mr. Deutsch would direct the combined circuit, and Mr. Bernstein would retire. There has been a booking arrangement in effect for some months now between the G.B. circuit and Odeon. United Artists holds a 50 per cent interest in the Odeon circuit. Mr. Deutsch is said to be linked with the Scophony television company.

Reports about two months ago also coupled the name of Arthur Rank with the others in the merger negotiations. The G. B. and Odeon circuits are two of the largest in the country. Philip Hill & Partners sponsored the Odeon security issue of £1,840,000 marketed recently.

It may not be news to some, but it is to us. When three chimes are rung on NBC, it signifies nothing more exciting than a routine program signoff—but the adding of a fourth chime is pregnant with dynamic meaning. It is the signal that something of terrible consequence has occurred somewhere, and that all NBC crews, no matter where, must immediately call the network headquarters for instruction. The signal has been employed several times—notably when the Hindenburg blew up, when the Morro Castle burned at sea, and when the Macon was nipped down from the sky in a gale.

Dick Stabile, playing in Dallas, had a distinguished trombonist playing for him the other night. The "d. t." was Tommy Dorsey. Dorsey, ill for several weeks, and consequently away from his trombone for that period of time, sat in with Stabile's band to limber up his fingering and "lipping" before rejoining his own band.

·eparations 'or Drive in Final Stages

eparations for the opening of the on Pictures' Greatest Year cam- enter their final few days today regional drives under way in all of this country and Canada, l at bringing as many exhibitors ossible into the drive in advance s start and directing public in- t to the opening of the $250,000 contest and the showing of new on pictures.

le first national advertising in than 2,000 daily newspapers in United States and Canada will ap- on Wednesday, heralding the c opening of the campaign. The will continue at regular intervals ughout the drive. The "Movie :" prize contest will open Thurs- continuing until Dec. 31. Through- this week in numerous cities all the country local celebrations, onstrations and special events will taged by cooperating exhibitors to public attention for the drive.

"Quiz" Cards Offered

rrangements were made at cam- n headquarters over the weekend any exhibitor who has not been hed by a regional meeting to enter drive and "Movie Quiz" contest obtaining pledge cards at local ex- nges throughout the country. Upon ing his pledge at the exchange, exhibitor will be entitled to erential service in the purchase of paign accessories.

eorge J. Schaefer, executive chair- ı of the drive, emphasized that all essories used in the campaign are ıg sold to participating exhibitors cost. No charge is made for sical distribution of the material , in some instances, certain manu- uring costs have been eliminated ough the cooperation of labor and huge volume of the purchases be- made by the campaign committee. example, the price of the "Movie z" booklets, Mr. Schaefer said, is ow the normal actual cost of that t of job, the price having been de possible by the millions of ies ordered.

Schaefer Points to Savings

Ir. Schaefer pointed out that many the accessories, in this manner, are de possible at a cost of one-third t of the usual accessories.

Harold B. Franklin, campaign busi- s manager, will leave for Albany ight to attend the exhibitors' ional meeting to be held there to- rrow, with Si Fabian, regional irman, presiding.

Plans for a stage production built und the Motion Pictures' Greatest ar drive will be discussed by the ge show producers of the Broadway ises at a luncheon meeting at the inbow Room today. The objective l be a production which can be d in any houses with a stage show icy. Mr. Franklin will outline npaign plans at the luncheon, which l be attended by Gus Eyssell, isic Hall; Jack Partington, Roxy; bert M. Weitman, Paramount; Al sen, Loew's State, and Z. A. Ep- ı, Strand.

public buying in a big way, it is predicted, just as enthusiasm for the drive will revive showmanship in hitherto dormant exhibitors.

M-G-M will spend $200,000 to advertise "Marie Antoinette"; Warners have put $15,000 into advertising in New York papers and will spend between $80,000 and $90,000 nationally to tell the public of the appeal of "Four Daughters." Twentieth Century-Fox has set aside $125,000, mostly for newspaper advertising, for "Alexander's Ragtime Band."

United Artists is putting on its biggest campaign in five years for "Drums," the Korda Technicolor picture. About $150,000 will go into exploiting and advertising it. A good part of the $75,000 set aside for "Algiers" has been used, but another $25,000 will go into selling this picture. Lynn Farnol explained that U.A. has to give each of its pictures a $100,000 campaign and since the company will have 16 or 20 in 1938-39, about a third of this total of approximately $2,000,000 will be spent in the last four months of the year.

"Go Limit," Says Blumenstock

Mort Blumenstock says Warners will go the limit where pictures warrant real exploitation. Besides the big campaign for "Four Daughters" this company will buy big space to sell "Valley of the Giants," "Wings of the Navy" and four or five other big pictures between Sept. 1 and Dec. 31.

Twentieth Century-Fox will spend $125,000 in newspaper advertising in New York alone and $425,000 extra throughout the country in the four fall months ahead. Part of this has already gone into "Alexander's Ragtime Band," and "Sing You Sinners" will benefit, too.

M-G-M is figuring on approximately $500,000 in newspaper advertising of various pictures in different cities and about $250,000 in billboard advertising. This appropriation covers about eight pictures.

McCormick Cites Exploitation

S. Barret McCormick of RKO says his company will continue its policy of giving such special exploitation and advertising as seems appropriate to each picture. "Room Service," "Carefree" and "Gunga Din," all big features will have special appropriations. Mr. McCormick pointed out that RKO was among the first to go in for smash exploitation of big features and cited "Cimarron."

Universal will continue on a sharing-campaign basis to advertise its product. There will be two top pictures a month and they'll spend probably $100,000 in sharing campaigns from Sept. 1 to Dec. 31, using newspaper space.

Columbia has not entirely abandoned its participating advertising campaign, although such action was indicated by Vice-President Jack Cohn recently, and will share with the Music Hall in advertising Columbia product there. However, no complete figures on Columbia's advertising appropriation are available yet, as plans are still being worked out.

Theatres will spend largely this season, too, both independently and on sharing campaigns. The amount for theatre advertising in newspapers is difficult to estimate until the drive gets under way. Oscar Doob, of Loew's, chairman of the drive's theatre committee, guesses that an extra $2,000,000 will be expended by theatres. Loew's circuit budget is $200,000, as compared with $20,000 for last year.

Paramount has inaugurated a new policy of allocating its $500,000 advertising budget exclusively to national and fan magazines with one and two million circulation, and is abandoning participating advertising entirely. No newspapers will be used in Paramount's fall campaign, according to Robert Gillham, who says he expects to reach a new audience in the magazine readers. The first Paramount ad will appear Aug. 30.

Delaware Arranges Final Drive Plans

WILMINGTON, Aug. 28.—State and city officials, managers of circuit-operated and independent theatres throughout the state and leading distributors from nearby cities, met at dinner in the Hotel DuPont Friday night to hear reports on final plans for Delaware's participation in the Motion Pictures' Greatest Year drive.

Gov. Richard C. McMullen and Mayor Walter W. Bacon were among the dinner guests and speakers. Carter Barron of Washington, division manager of Loew's, was toastmaster. A. J. Belair, manager of the Rialto, is chairman of the contest committee.

Governor McMullen said that entertainment has been a necessity from time immemorial and the motion picture industry is doing all in its power to fill this need.

Harry Goldberg, Philadelphia, director of advertising for Warner Theatres, also spoke.

Theatre representatives present included A. J. Vannie, Philadelphia zone manager, Warner theatres; Jack Mulhall, Warners district manager, and the following managers: Benjamin Shindler, Ace; Edgar Doob, Loew's; Benjamin Seligman, Strand; A. J. Deflore, Park; John O. Hopkins, National; Lewis S. Black, Aldine; Sidney Hunter, Arcadia; John Harding, Grand; Arthur Cohn, Queen, and Earl G. Finney, Savoy.

See Changes in Cast Of Subject on Drive

HOLLYWOOD, Aug. 28.—Changes in the announced cast of "The World Is Yours," short to be used in the Motion Pictures' Greatest Year campaign, are likely as a result of the appointment of Ed Selzer, Warner trailer department head, as casting director, empowered to appoint a director and select the players.

Frank Whitbeck of M-G-M continues as producer and the subject will be made on the M-G-M lot. The appointment was made at a meeting of the Hollywood committee on the drive. No cast selections have been made as yet, but they probably will be made on a cross-industry basis in fairness to all studios.

Exchange Workers To Aid Quiz Drive

The thousands of employees in theatres and exchanges throughout the country are being mobilized to assist in generating public interest in the "Movie Quiz" contest.

The Motion Pictures' Greatest Year campaign committee has asked the distributors to send word to their exchange managers to have each employe sign up 10 or more friends outside the industry to enter the contest and apply at theatres for the contest booklets. William F. Rodgers, M-G-M distribution head, will issue instructions to this effect this week, it is understood.

The original intention was to have theatre staffs do such soliciting, but members of the committee decided it would be well to include exchange employes in the move. The committee has received numerous letters from circuits and individual theatres in the field saying that their staffs have already been enlisted in spreading word about the contest and will solicit lists of names as soon as the booklets are ready for distribution.

The Loew's circuit nationally has asked employes to sign as many as 25 friends each for participation in the contest and to see that they get booklets when distribution starts Sept. 1. This effort is in addition to the general distribution to patrons.

Name Boston Committee

BOSTON, Aug. 28.—The Boston regional committee of the Motion Pictures' Greatest Year campaign has been named. Serving under M. L. Levenson, chairman, are local circuit owners Martin Mullin, Harold Stoneman, George Ramsdell, Julius Joelson, and Ralph Snider; Stanley Sumner of the University, Cambridge; Ed Fay, Providence; Tom Bailey, 20th Century-Fox; Herman Rifkin, Republic; Russ Cropper, RKO; John Dervin, Loew's; Maurice Wolf, M-G-M; Nate Furst, Warners; William Kelley, Universal; Harold Rogovin, Columvia; William Erbb, Paramount; Samuel Broidy of Monogram.

CLEVELAND, Aug. 28.—Everett Steinbuck, manager of Loew's State, gets credit for Mayor Harold H. Burton's proclamation that September 2-8 be designated as Motion Picture Week in Cleveland. The proclamation has been issued.

FWC Extends Giveaway Ban In California

Found Successful After Three-Week Test

Los Angeles, Aug. 29.—After a three-week local test in George Bowser's Long Beach-San Pedro division Charles Skouras has decided to extend the Fox West Coast experiment of eliminating Bank Night, Bingo, Tenowin, Treasure Chest, Prosperity Club and similar prize giveaways. Starting Sept. 1, the experiment will be carried into the entire Southern Division.

This is part of a general move of Fox West Coast to test the box-office results of the eliminations. If it succeeds it will be extended to other subdivisions of National Theatres up and down the Pacific Coast and to the organization's circuits in the Mountain, Midwest and eastern areas.

Spyros Skouras told the Fox Midwest convention recently that he was opposed to giveaways and intended to try to eliminate them generally.

Thus far, reports show, there has been no drop in business in the Long Beach-San Pedro houses.

If the extension of the experiment in Southern California proves successful, it is expected independent theatres will also drop premium nights.

Jackson Arrives to Acquire U. S. Films

Louis Jackson, London financier, arrived here yesterday on the Normandie to negotiate for American product for British distribution.

Mr. Jackson said he had contacted E. W. Hammons of Educational on a small deal, but denied that he was going to tie up with the New Grand National Films, Inc., through Mr. Hammons.

Report New Deal on Brooklyn Paramount

An agreement to extend the operating deal for the Brooklyn Paramount to Sept. 1, 1940, is understood to have been reached yesterday by Y. Frank Freeman of Paramount and Si Fabian, the operator. The current agreement expires Thursday.

Terms of the two-year deal are similar to those under which Mr. Fabian has operated the house for the past three years. This, however, is the first deal for longer than one year.

"Scarlett Fever"

Joe Hogan, 20th Century-Fox talent scout, returned from scouting the Barter Theatre at Abingdon, Va., over the weekend with a tale of narrowly escaping a case of "Scarlett fever." It seems that Katharine Brown, Selznick International scout, was in town looking for a girl to play Scarlett O'Hara in "Gone With the Wind." She asked him if he wouldn't help in the search. Mr. Hogan declined. He didn't care to catch the "fever," he said.

"U" Seeks Crosby On One-Film Deal

Universal has opened negotiations with Bing Crosby for a one-picture deal for the company's new season schedule, it was stated at the home office yesterday.

Crosby is permitted to make one "outside" picture annually under his contract with Paramount. The deal would be similar to those made by the actor in previous years with Columbia and Major Pictures. The negotiations, also, are in line with Universal's flexible production schedule for the new season, under which it will add starring vehicles to the productions already announced as talent becomes available during the year.

Matthew J. Fox, Universal vice-president, who arrived at the home office from the studio yesterday, will confer on the Crosby negotiations with Nate J. Blumberg, president, and J. Cheever Cowdin, chairman of the board. Mr. Fox will be at the home office for about 10 days or two weeks, according to present plans.

Dinner Ends Meet of Warner Theatre Men

The Warner theatre zone managers and bookers climaxed a one-day meet at the home office yesterday with a dinner held at the Hotel Lincoln last night.

The meet was called by Joseph Bernhard, general manager of Warner theatres, to discuss merchandising plans for the new season. Included also in the session was a discussion of the Motion Pictures' Greatest Year campaign and how best to put over the drive.

Those attending the sessions included:

Zone Managers—James Coston, Chicago; Nat Wolf, Cleveland· I. J. Hoffman, New Haven; Ben Jacocks, Newark; Moe Silver, Albany; Ted Schlanger, Philadelphia; Harry Kalmine, Pittsburgh; John Payette,

AFA to Seek New Standard On Vaudeville

Strand Demand Is Step In National Plan

The American Federation of Actors is prepared to seek the establishment of a new standard of hours and working conditions for stage entertainers other than musicians in film and vaudeville theatres throughout the country, and has taken the first step here with a working plan for the Strand on Broadway.

The fact that the Strand just last weekend commenced a new stage band policy, featuring the Ben Bernie's band as the opening attraction, led the American Federation of Actors to descend on that house as the target for the opening shot of their campaign.

Harry Calkins is the A.F.A. organizer in the Strand situation, and he is scheduled to meet with Frank Phelps of Warners either todav or tomorrow for the formal presentation of the union's demands. Mr. Phelps is acting for Warners, having discussed the matter with Mr. Calkins yesterday. He acted in the recent negotiations involving exchange employes.

The Strand is employing 16 stage players in the show, including Mr. Bernie, who is second vice-president of the A.F.A. The musicians in his

'Boy Meets Girl' Is Found Good Fun by Local Critics

The New York daily critics liked "Boy Meets Girl," to judge by their reviews. They apparently found it extremely funny, and as good as the stage play from which it originated. Excerpts from their reviews follow.

Herald Tribune— . . . Gay and impudent . . . fluent and fast paced script . . . played to the hilt by James Cagney, Pat O'Brien. . . . Engagingly boisterous and mirthful entertainment.

Journal-American— . . . Hilarious filmization of the hit stage play . . . a succession of howls, of funny dialogue. . . . The picture is grand fun.

Mirror—One of Broadway's smash hits, the mad and merry "Boy Meets Girl" actually has improved in its transition to the movies. . . . An exhilarating tonic.

News— . . . Hilarious comedy . . . will come as a blessed surprise to the many who did not see the play. . . . One of the funniest pictures of the new film season.

Post— . . . A machine-gun pace explodes cracks and comic situations so fast that you have to sit forward for the laughs.

Sun— . . . Madly funny stage play of Hollywood into an equally funny and slightly wilder picture. . . . If all pictures were as hilarious as "Boy Meets Girl" no theatre would need revues.

Times— . . . Has retained humor and a few gustily playful touches.

World-Telegram— . . . A fast, spontaneous satire on Hollywood, grand fun from beginning to end. . . . Frequently hilarious and always amusing.

Hollywood Letter

Have I told you about Jack Warner's wisecrack at the party he threw for his British sales managers? Well, he had all his producers, stars and so on corralled at the Victor Hugo and was pouring it on about how many years the Messrs. Dobie and Brown had been with the company when he suddenly realized he didn't know. So he asked them, and when Brown said six and Dobie said 14 he snapped back into verbal stride with "They's been with the company 20 years."

How'd you like to be a gag writer and work for a guy like that?

Samuel Goldwyn, another Hollywood producer renowned for his wit, turned serious the other day in commenting on his reasons for giving Bob Riskin a contract that includes a cut on all Goldwyn profits. Said he, grammatically, "Give me unknown actors and a great screenplay and I'll promise you a great picture. Give me great actors and a poor screenplay and I'll be helpless." Nobody laughed at that one.

"Alexander" casts a long shadow. You've heard that Charles R. Rogers has Gus Edwards' life and works stowed away in the hold with the hatch battened down. Well, Dave Bader's Literary Corporation of America has just picked up the rights to the Weber and Fields saga, including Felix Isman's book on the subject. What a pity Wagner went for opera.

Don't believe all you hear about the studios quarreling over the casting of that Motion Pictures' Greatest Year short. Not a blow was struck. What happened was this. The studio publicity heads had found themselves organized into a committee and in session before they had time to realize what it was all about. The first casting of the film was announced just like that! Then it dawned on the boys that this campaign was going to be quite something, something likely to get the short shown in practically every American theatre, and of course, being publicity men, everybody wanted to get at least one of his company's players into it. So it's fixed that way, now, and the camera's set to roll about the time you read this—unless they get still another surge of enthusiasm and decide to make a short apiece.

Everybody's glad Selznick-International and M-G-M finally got the wrinkles ironed out of that "Gone with the Wind" deal and David O. seems to mean that part about starting production before New Year's. He's already hired Maxwell Arno, Warners' casting director, for some six and and a half years, to see about getting together some actors besides Clark Gable. And how'd you like that job?

"My Lucky Star"

HOLLYWOOD, Aug. 29.—Sonja Henie is more than ever a grown-up Shirley Temple in this unveilment of her steel-bladed virtuosity. The story is about the sort they used to cook up for Miss Temple when she paraded through pictures as a cute and dressed-up prodigy. That is about what Miss Henie does here, wearing a fortune's worth of winter toggery (she's cast as a surreptitious mannikin sent to college by a Fifth Avenue store to popularize the merchandise among the co-eds) and skating, particularly in an "Alice in Wonderland" ballet photographed in tint by a mobilized camera, even more prodigiously than even she, not to mention everybody else, ever skated before. This last would appear to be the thing for showmen to shout about to the customers.

The narrative, credited to Harry Tugend and Jack Yellen as to screenplay, to Karl Tunberg and Don Ettlinger as to story, serves the picture much as what they used to call "the libretto" served Blanche Ring and her contemporaries 'way back then. That is to say, it connects, slightly, various independently entertaining items. The star's ice numbers are, of course, the most important of these, but Joan Davis and Buddy Ebsen steal the picture repeatedly in song, dance and comedy routines, and Billy Gilbert takes it over completely for one of his familiar restaurant episodes. Richard Greene plays the collegiate male lead, Cesar Romero a rich man's son in trouble, Louise Hovick a gold-digger, George Barbier a puffy tycoon and Arthur Treacher his amiable secretary.

Harry Joe Brown is down as associate producer and Roy Del Ruth as director. Words and music are credited to Mack Gordon and Harry Revel. The place is New York and a neighboring college, the time winter. If Life magazine gives the picture as much advertising as the picture gives Life, the box-office equation ought to solve itself.

Producer, Director NLRB Case Starts

tions were shattered today as the hearing of the petition by the Screen Directors Guild to be declared the collective bargaining agency for directors, assistants and unit managers started before National Relations Labor Board Trial Examiner William R. Ringer.

Consolidated with the petition were charges that 10 major studios violated the Wagner Act by failure to bargain collectively and by alleged intimidation and coercion of employes.

Negotiations between Darryl F. Zanuck, Sam Briskin and E. J. Mannix, representing the producers, and Howard Hawks, W. S. Van Dyke and Rouben Mamoulian, for the directors, were abruptly called off Saturday morning when at a conference both sides were unable to agree. The stumbling block was the inclusion of unit managers as part of the directors' guild, the producers remaining adamant in their contention that the guild is not properly qualified to represent that craft. This point has been the major dissension factor all through the negotiations which started a year ago.

M.P.P.D.A. Withdrawn

This morning's session opened with a request for and granting of dismissal from the National Relations Labor Board action the names of the M.P.P.D.A., the Association of Motion Picture Producers, First National Pictures and Pat Casey as respondents.

Howard Hawks was the first witness called by Board Attorney William Walsh after attorneys for the producers led by Alfred Wright, and Barry Brannen, guild attorney, commented on the introduction of testimony in relation to the industry scope which was used in the Screen Writers Guild case. Mr. Hawks told of the production of pictures, detailing duties of directors, assistants and unit managers. The duties of assistant directors and unit managers were virtually the same, he declared. Assistants have the responsibility for directing various phases of pictures under the guidance of directors, he said.

tabulations of pledges received over the weekend revealed a total less than $30,000 shy of the amount sought.

The first of the campaign newspaper ads will appear tomorrow in the World-Telegram and Sun, and will be followed in morning and afternoon newspapers in more than 2,000 cities in the United States and Canada on Thursday. All New York daily newspapers will have run the first ads by Friday night.

In all, five advertisements will be used in the first newspaper barrage on the campaign. They will range in size from five to seven columns up to three-quarters of a page. The captions of the first five ads to run are "Four Walls That Hold a World," "276," "The Average Movie-Goer Speaks His Mind," "The Unseen Hand" and "A Message to You." The first two ads were reproduced in Motion Picture Daily last Friday along with other specimen ads to be used in the campaign. The total advertising budget for the drive, from Aug. 31 to Dec. 31, will exceed $500,000.

Publicity Section Shipped

The publicity section of the campaign press book was shipped to exchanges over the weekend, furnishing a complete press service for participating exhibitors. The section is in 16 pages and was compiled under the direction of S. Barret McCormick. By-line stories and statements by Adolph Zukor, Leo Spitz, Nicholas M. Schenck, Joseph M. Schenck, Harry M. Warner, W. Ray Johnston, Murray Silverstone, Jack Cohn, Darryl F. Zanuck, Jack L. Warner, William Le Baron, Scott R. Dunlap, Harry Cohn and Pandro S. Berman are a feature of the section. Terry Ramsaye, editor of Motion Picture Herald, contributes a full page on the progress of the motion picture. Other members of the trade press, producers, directors, stars, writers and technicians also contribute. The section is replete with illustrations, straight news stories, feature articles and special material.

It represents the work of virtually every publicity department in the industry. Emphasis is on the drive, contest and industry, rather than individual company, picture or star.

said he had had a conference with an independent producer who had "24 amazing titles for 24 amazing pictures." Mr. Jackson indicated that before the end of the week, unless he saw something much better, he would make a deal for this unnamed output.

He refused to discuss his London backers, but said anyone wishing to investigate his credit could get full information from the Westminster Bank. He added that he was being financed by a London banking group, but not by the Ostrers.

"I want to get American output because a British company cannot live without American pictures," he said.

Within four weeks, he said, his company will announce its association with a major English producing company for which it will handle physical distribution in England.

Mr. Jackson was in motion pictures many years ago, but quit to go into finance. During that period he said he had been responsible for the formation of 120 British companies. He decided to get back into the film business through the distributing end about three months ago.

He wants independents with product to show it to him. He is at the Waldorf, but will return to England on the Queen Mary next Wednesday.

Hay Fever Machine

St. Louis, Aug. 29.—The entire staff at WEW is cutting loose with a battery of "Ah Choos" these days. The epidemic started after a new air-conditioning plant had been installed. But it's hay fever the boys have got, not colds.

While there is little vegetation in the immediate vicinity of the station, in midtown St. Louis, medical theorists advance the explanation for the epidemic that the pollen which causes the disease has been caught up and distributed through the studio by the new machinery.

Plan 2 New Stations For Canada Network

Toronto, Aug. 29.—Major W. E. Gladstone Murray, general manager of the Canadian Broadcasting Corp., has authorized the construction of a 50,000-watt transmitter as a further unit of the Canadian network at Aulac, near Sackville, N. A survey of possible locations for a big station for the Prairie provinces is in progress. The midwestern unit will be known as CBK.

Major Murray stated that developments are under way for Empire broadcasting around the world on a regular basis. E. L. Bushnell, general supervisor of programs at the home office, will go to England to attend a conference on the subject. In October Lance Siefking, BBC producer, will come to the Canadian company on a temporary exchange basis with H. R. Pelletier of CBM. The previous BBC producer with the CBC, Laurence Gilliam, is now presenting Canadian features over the facilities in the United Kingdom as a result of his experience in the Dominion. ARE YOU DRIVING A CAR WITH TWO-WHEEL BRAKES?

LOW INTENSITY PROJECTION, like a car with two-wheel brakes, is not adapted to the modern tempo of the motion picture industry. It doesn't give your business the security which you desire. Theater goers want brighter screen illumination than it provides, a more comfortable level of general illumination, and more accurate reproduction of color. They are getting these advantages in the thousands of theaters now equipped with high intensity projection. These are the houses that are doing a capacity business.

SIMPLIFIED HIGH INTENSITY projection puts these same advantages within your reach. It will enable you to hold your present patronage and increase box office receipts. Yet the cost is surprisingly small.

Write for the free, illustrated booklet, "The Eternal Triangle in Picture Projection." It gives a clear demonstration of the Box Office value of improved projection. Then ask your dealer's salesman to show you how little it will cost.

Milwaukee Jubilee Draws 200 Guests

MILWAUKEE, Aug. 30.—Industry representatives from the entire state of Wisconsin, from neighboring states and from distant points to the number of 200 gathered here today for the Wisconsin Motion Picture Industry Reunion and Testimonial at the Schroeder Hotel.

The two-day affair which opened today was at once a cheerful and convivial gathering of film folk and a tribute to 120 industry pioneers of the state, those boasting 25 or more years of service to the business. However, it is more specifically a tribute to Charles W. Trampe, well known Milwaukee film man for many years, himself celebrating 25 years in the industry.

Registration at the hotel opened the proceedings this morning, to be followed by a review of the numerous exhibits which had been arranged as a feature of the event. Later came a tour through breweries, with the

Schenck Intimates Negotiation With G.B. May Be Resumed Later

By AUBREY FLANAGAN

London, Aug. 30.—Joseph M. Schenck, chairman of the board of directors of 20th Century-Fox, declared here today that he was likely to reopen business conversations with Gaumont British later this year. He indicated that he will return to London later in the year and at that time is hopeful of meeting Mark Ostrer, head of G. B., who is now out of London on vacation. Mr. Schenck will sail tomorrow on the Queen Mary for New York, where he is scheduled to arrive next Monday.

The American executive refused to discuss the details of the proposed negotiations with G. B., which may concern product only. However, there was a strong intimation that the conversations would cover wider ground. He declared 20th Century-Fox is still in the market to do business, presumably referring to G. B. Some time ago, a deal whereby 20th Century-Fox and Loew's would take over control of G. B. collapsed.

Kuyendall Says Delays Caused Government's Anti-Trust Suit

A strong plea that distributors proceed immediately to make trade practice concessions in spite of the Government's anti-trust suit is made by Ed Kuykendall in the latest bulletin of the M.P.T.O.A.

"The industry must realize that there are other serious attacks and problems that are not affected by a Department of Justice suit," declares Mr. Kuykendall.

"There are 48 state legislatures that are not enjoined or influenced in passing legislation to tax and regulate our business by this suit. And, in the meantime, there is nothing to prevent Congress from legislating as they please. This suit does not interfere in any way with the filing of any number of private anti-trust suits, triple damage actions, etc."

Mr. Kuykendall's statement seems to have been timed for distribution just before the return of S. R. Kent, chairman of the trade practice committee, from Maine, for a study of attorneys' reports on the Government's charges against the industry. He refers to the fact that counsel have advised against joint action in making

Coast ITO Studies FWC Peace Gesture

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 30.—The Independent Theatre Owners of Southern California today studied a proposal from Charles Skouras, Fox West Coast head, for the creation of a three-three board of arbitration for mediation of trade practice disputes and other grievances arising between the independents and the circuit.

Mr. Skouras yesterday addressed a meeting of unaffiliated theatre owners called by Albert Galston, president of the I.T.O., and declared that he and his aides were willing at any time to listen to proposals for improving the relationships between the circuit and independents. He asked the organization to appoint three members to meet three F.W.C. executives to iron out difficulties.

The move by Mr. Skouras was the result of a recent session of circuit heads with independents on plans for the Motion Pictures' Greatest Year campaign.

Ask Court Approval On RKO Settlement

The Irving Trust Co., as trustee for RKO, yesterday filed a petition in the U. S. District Court with the consent of RKO Orpheum Corp., asking the court to settle claims held by RKO Orpheum against RKO totaling $1,726,983 for $50,000, and to approve an agreement between RKO and RKO Orpheum, whereby the claim would be satisfied in return for the satisfaction of claims held by RKO against RKO Orpheum. The petition stated that the book value of the assets of RKO Orpheum were approximately equal to debts owed by RKO Orpheum to RKO and that the former desired to create a capital surplus by a reduction of its indebtedness.

Irving Trust also stated that under the proposed agreement it would take steps to reduce the total fixed indebtedness of RKO Orpheum now evidenced by a $2,644,655 six per cent non-cumulative income note held by the Chemical Bank & Trust Co. as trustee to $2,000,000. In return, the petition declared, RKO Orpheum Corp. has agreed to increase its preferred shares from 673 to 1,143, and will issue to Irving Trust an additional 470 shares of this class.

The $1,726,983 in claims now held by RKO Orpheum against RKO originally belonged to the Publix Indiana Corp. and were later assigned to RKO Orpheum Corp.

Para. Dividends Voted

The Paramount board of directors has voted the regular quarterly dividend on the company's first and second preferred stock. The quarterly dividends of $1.50 on the first preferred and 15 cents on the second preferred are payable Oct. 1 to stockholders of record on Sept. 16.

Cantor Won't

Hollywood, Aug. 30.—Eddie Cantor and 20th Century-Fox today got together and decided to separate. The comedian's refusal to make "The Average Man" for the company because of his dissatisfaction with the story is given as the reason for tearing up his contract.

Mr. Cantor's deal with the producer was for three pictures, the first of which was "Ali Baba Goes to Town"—which, in many situations, didn't.

Attorneys Clash at Directors' Hearing

HOLLYWOOD, Aug. 30.—A clash between attorneys for the producers and the Screen Directors Guild over disclosure of salaries paid to directors and to assistants and unit managers featured the hearing today before Examiner William R. Ringer of the National Labor Relations Board on the guild's petition to be declared the collective bargaining agency for the three crafts.

When Milton H. Schwartz, representing Loew's, Inc., asked Rouben Mamoulian, second witness for the guild, if he had received $178,750 for directing Paramount's "High, Wide and Handsome," Attorney Barry Brannen for the guild objected, declaring the question irrelevant. Mr. Schwartz countered with the argument that the producers were attempting to show the disparity between directors' salaries and those of their aides. Mr. Ringer ordered Mr. Mamoulian to answer and he said his recollection was that he had received $145,000 for the picture. He added that the picture was in work for 26 weeks.

Cite Salary Comparisons

Mr. Schwartz brought out that while Mr. Mamoulian was receiving this salary his assistants and the unit managers received a top figure of $150 a week. This line of testimony was apparently aimed to bolster the producers' contention that the guild is not properly constituted to represent assistants and unit managers.

William J. Walsh, N.L.R.B. attorney, seeking to make a legal point, as required by N.L.R.B. rules, that stopping of work by directors would affect the flow of interstate commerce, elicited from Mr. Mamoulian the statement that assistant directors and unit managers were incapable of carrying on the work of directors. Mr. Walsh drew from Mr. Mamoulian admissions that when directors have been incapacitated it often has been necessary to assign new directors and in many instances scripts have been rewritten.

Following Mr. Mamoulian to the stand, Herbert Biberman declared that 40 per cent of the directors at the studios formerly were unit managers and assistants. He gave further details concerning the work of directors and unit managers.

Frank Tuttle was on the stand as the hearing closed for the day.

Akron Houses Gain After Prizes Stop

AKRON, Aug. 30.—Business gains are reported by Robert Menches, president of the Akron Independent Theatre Owners Association, as a result of the countywide ban on Keno, Bingo, and other types of prize giveaways.

The ban was instituted after much discussion among association members. The lid was clamped on within the Akron city limits in 20 neighborhood houses after considerable public discussion with Mayor Lee D. Schrcy and Sheriff O'Neil.

Mr. Menches checked on all theatres in Akron and vicinity, he said, and found that receipts were up from 15 to 50 per cent.

Drive Regional Meet Conducted in Albany

ALBANY, Aug. 30.—The Eastern New York regional committee of Motion Pictures' Greatest Year, Inc., got away to a flying start here today, at the Ten Eyck Hotel, with more than 40 representatives of circuits, independent exhibitors and distributors on hand. With S. H. Fabian presiding, the group quickly agreed on its program to spur better box office.

Principal speaker was Harold B. Franklin, head of the Motion Pictures' Greatest Year, Inc. Mr. Franklin outlined the purposes of the campaign and initiated his listeners into various phases of the drive.

In attendance were: Harold and Earl Sliter, Ward Craig, W. T. McNeily, Peter Vourmakis, Mitchell Connery, John Gardner, Sid Dwore, Saul Ullman, Harold Lewis, Louis Buckin, Frank Shea, Harry Black, Leo Rosen, Jack Swartout, Sid Sommer, Abraham Stone, Eddie Selette, Andrew Roy, Alfred LaFlamme, Robert Rosenthal and Sam Milberg.

Fabian executives on hand were Louis R. Golding, Larry Cowan and Alex Sayles, while Warner's were represented by Charles A. Smakwitz and Jules Curley. Branch managers present included Ralph Pielow, Norman Ayres, Clayton Eastman, M. A. Grassgreen, Philip C. Fox, Gene Vogel and Bernie Kranze.

Initial plans for promotional work in Albany included the bannering of North Pearl Street in the business section, three 15-minute radio programs and decoration of street cars.

New Players Named For Campaign Short

HOLLYWOOD, Aug. 30.—Casting for the short, "The World Is Yours," to be used in the Motion Pictures' Greatest Year drive will have Samuel Hinds, Dorothy Peterson, Anne Shirley, Johnny Walsh and Charles Grapewin. They replace the Hardy Family players originally set. Basil Wrangell will direct in place of George B. Seitz, originally announced. Peter Ballbush of M-G-M and Gordon Jennings of Paramount are handling montage and special effects.

Part Time Houses Get Reduced Rate

cents per seat, instead of the 10-cent standard contribution rate established for houses operating on a full week schedule. The action was taken after a number of theatres petitioned the committee for a reduced entry rate, setting forth that their limited operating schedules made the 10-cent per seat contribution impractical for them.

With the addition of the pledges of these theatres it became apparent that the $1,000,000 campaign budget would be fully pledged before the official opening of the campaign tomorrow. The total of pledges received up to yesterday was in excess of $975,000, of which more than $225,000 has been pledged by independent exhibitors. The independents' quota of $250,000 may be exceeded by $25,000 to $40,000 during the next few weeks, it was predicted in official quarters.

Ben H. Atwell, veteran industry publicity executive, will serve as publicity director for the Broadway committee for the drive. Mr. Atwell formerly was publicity director for the late Samuel L. ("Roxy") Rothafel in his various Broadway theatre enterprises.

Wilmer Freeman, promotion director for Warners, is contributing his services to the campaign in effecting national tieups and promotional ideas.

Canadians Pledge $30,000

Canadian exhibitors have pledged more than $30,000 to the campaign to date, according to a report from J. J. Fitzgibbons of the national committee for the Dominion. The committee recently completed its work or organizing regional and local committees for the drive throughout Canada, entailing a 10,000-mile tour of the Dominion by Mr. Fitzgibbons, H. M. Masters, John A. Cooper, L. M. Devaney and N. A. Taylor, members of the committee.

The following regional committees were established:

British Columbia: Hugo Ray, chairman; Miss A. E. Scriven, secretary; Alberta: P. Egan, chairman; V. M. Skorey, secretary; Saskatchewan; P. W. Mahon, chairman; Bill Novak, secretary; Manitoba and Northwestern Ontario: J. H. Huber, chairman; Thomas Pacey, secretary; Ontario: N. A. Taylor, chairman; Harold Kay, secretary; Quebec: Arthur Hirsch, chairman; D. A. Burpee, secretary; New Brunswick and Prince Edward Island: W. H. Golding, chairman; Miss A. Will they have sense gh to resume the job before it is late?"

the early part of the bulletin Mr. kendall discusses the Senate pas- of the Neely bill, the North Da- divorcement law decision, and effects on the industry.

ackers of the Neely bull have reform organizations and professional trouble-makers so active they are completely out of control, Mr. Kuykendall says. He expresses the opinion that independents will forget the Neely bill if they are granted an unconditional option to cancel a reasonable number of films in every pact.

Bit of a Handicap

London, Aug. 30.—Joseph M. Schenck, chairman of the board of 20th Century-Fox, declared here on his arrival from the Continent yesterday that the English accent is the greatest handicap to British product. Otherwise, he declared, England has everything but climate and stars.

He reiterated that his company will make five films at Pinewood, to cost a total of £500,000. They will be all-British, he said, without American players.

"What good are theatre divorce laws?" Mr. Kuykendall asks. He answers his own question by saying that if distributors are forced to get rid of theatres the smaller independents will not thereby get rid of competition, because the houses will be transferred to new hands without the restraints imposed upon distributors who have pictures to sell to independents.

In discussing the anti-trust suit Mr. Kuykendall says it is the result of "years of delay and refusal on the part of distributors (we understand on the advice of counsel) to meet or seriously try to meet the demands of organized exhibitors for reasonable reforms in business practice."

Six "Points" Involved

The Government's charges include six of the 10 points of trade practice reforms that the M.P.T.O.A. has been contending for during the past three years, Mr. Kuykendall asserts. He names them as follows: (1) block booking (selective contracts); (2) forcing shorts with features; (3) designation of playdates; (4) unreasonable clearance (protection); (5) competitive overbuying; (6) separate score charge.

The four M.P.T.O.A. proposals ignored by the Government, Mr. Kuykendall points out, are: unfair non-theatrical competition; a shorter and simpler form of optional standard exhibition contract; unfair cut-rate competition between rival theatres, and the establishment of local conciliation boards.

Kuykendall Due in New York Sept. 10

Ed Kuykendall, M. P. T. O. A. president, is expected in New York Sept. 10, to confer with eastern officers of the organization on trade practice developments and arrangements for the association's projected national convention at Oklahoma City in October.

Mr. Kuykendall, who is now at his home in Columbus, Miss., will attend the annual convention of the Kansas-Missouri Theatre Association, at Kansas City, Sept. 6 and 7, before coming to New York. His term as president of the M. P. T. O. A. will expire with the organization's annual board meeting in October. Indications are that he will be drafted for another term.

P. Murrah. The hearing was delayed because the depositions of several defendants could not be obtained, they being on vacation. They are Austin C. Keough, secretary, and Neil Agnew, general sales manager, of Paramount Pictures, Inc., and H. S. Bareford, assistant secretary, and Gradwell Sears, general sales manager, of Warner Bros. deserving of further study. The two will meet again today to discuss the proposal further. Mr. Jackson, who denied on his arrival from England, Monday, that his proposal contemplated the acquisition of a financial interest in New Grand National, said that he did not expect to be able to discuss his proposal for publication for another 24 hours.

Mr. Jackson is an emissary of the newly formed Anglo-American Films Co. of London. His mission here is to line up American product for distribution in England. It is also said that he is prepared to supply financing for the production here of specific types of pictures desired by his organization in return for American distribution of some of the product which will be handled in England by Anglo-American.

industry feels its contributions to the motion picture business deserve "some economic return, the same way in which the newspapers justly charge for and earn a fair return for the services they render in the visual field."

Apparently recalling Hollywood's fear that radio would take the edge off new pictures, the radio spokesman backed up his ultimatum with the suggestion that the distributors' plan may disturb radio advertisers who spend large amounts for film talent.

"In the light of past cooperation, the statement of your committee is most disappointing and in view of future relations between radio and motion pictures it is most alarming," Mr. Kirby stated.

The prospect that broadcasters will be urged to tighten up on free film exploitation was badly spotlighted with the assertion that the N.A.B. already is reviewing "all practices, relations, and cooperative connections" between motion pictures and radio. The report of Paul Peter, research director, will be the basis for adopting policies to guarantee that the privileges radio has been giving films "will not be abused or ignored," Mr. Kirby declared.

N.A.B. Finds 13% of Radio Commentators Prejudiced

By JACK BANNER

A bombshell that will have political as well as radio repercussions will explode when the National Association of Broadcasters makes known the results of a survey it recently completed of news and commentary broadcasts. The survey, which was conducted in strict secrecy, will show that of the 300 political commentators the N.A.B. listened to, approximately 13 per cent were of a prejudicial nature.

Out-and-out newscasters, i.e., speakers who offered no editorial interpretations of their own, but reported the news only, had a much better average for reportorial honesty. The percentage for prejudice for this group was but 1.4.

Columbia U. in Charge

The survey was conducted for the N.A.B. by a group of Columbia University research workers, which examined the news and commentary scripts turned over to the N.A.B. by stations throughout the country, and by the Crossley Bureau, whose researchers listened in to news and news commentary broadcasts of important stations throughout the country, taking transcripts of the address right off the air.

Among the individual commentators singled out for censure in the report is Boake Carter, who is criticized for his anti-Russian treatment of the Japanese-Russian border fight.

The survey reports the worst city for prejudicial news and commentary broadcasts to be Boston. Not many samples were taken in the south, but in the instances where broadcasts were listened to, or scripts examined, the bias was found to be sharp. As an example, the report cites a broadcaster named Arthur Flowers of a station in Charlotte, N. C., who allegedy boasted on the air that the C. I. O. was on the run, and that was the way to keep it going.

News Deletion Found

From the samples taken from KGB in San Diego, the researchers found the news broadcasters of that station to be deleting news which could be considered unfavorable to the New Deal. WGAR in Cleveland, on the other hand, was found by the researchers to be anti-New Deal. The news stories emanating from WGN in Chicago were found to be contradictory to the same news as it appeared in the wire services. As an example, the report cites a broadcast made over WGN on June 22, wherein the broadcaster allegedly informed the air audience that a rift had developed in the relationship between President Roosevelt and Joseph P. Kennedy, Ambassador to England. WGN is owned by the publishers of the Chicago Tribune.

The same station was declared guilty of allegedly distorting the facts of the survey Fortune undertook to determine the popularity of President Roosevelt, the station newscaster stating the survey was indicative of a waning popularity for the President, whereas Fortune itself made it clear in its publicity on the survey that the President still retained his popularity with the electorate.

"U" Planning Move to Meet All Releases

Schedule to Be Laid Out 6 Months in Advance

Universal is rapidly completing an advance production schedule for the next seven months which will be designed to make it possible for the company to meet every release date, Matthew J. Fox, vice-president, said yesterday before his departure for the studio following a brief home office visit.

Mr. Fox conferred with Nate J. Blumberg, Universal president, and J. Cheever Cowdin, chairman of the board, while here on arrangements which will make possible the maintenance of the long range production schedule. He estimated that it would require another six months to complete all of the necessary preparations before the fixed production and re-

Drive Fund Rises To Million Total

With an estimated 8,500 theatres entered in the "Motion Pictures' Greatest Year" drive up to yesterday, pledges at the rate of 10 cents per seat were on hand at campaign headquarters on the eve of the opening of the drive to complete the $250,000 quota set for independent theatre sources.

The pledges completed the campaign budget of $1,000,000.

Indications are that theatre subscriptions may run the budget as much as $50,000 over the top in the next

INDUSTRY AT NEW PATH—PETTIJOHN

Government Control or Self-Regulation the Choice, He Says

Milwaukee, Aug. 31.—The film industry is at a fork in the road where it must choose the path to self regulation or to Government control, declared C. C. Pettijohn today at the second day's gathering of the Wisconsin Motion Picture Industry Reunion and testimonial.

"We haven't long to make up our minds," he said, "and by 'we' I mean all of us—exhibitors, distributors and producers. We can't just stand still and do nothing. The forces, in and out of the industry, which would put us under thumb are on the march. And we need a united front."

Mr. Pettijohn deplored the legislative attacks made on the industry. His remarks were particularly interesting because most of those present were members of the I.T.P.A. of Wisconsin and Upper Michigan, an Allied unit,

G.N. Will Have $1,500,000, Says Hammons

New Grand National Films will have approximately $1,500,000 cash available for production financing at the outset, Earle W. Hammons, president of the new company, said yesterday.

Discussing the plans of the new company up to this point, Mr. Hammons said that New Grand National's production schedule would be mapped out this weekend, following the arrival in New York of Edward L. Alperson, who is due here from the coast today. While admitting the late announcement of the company's product would present a problem to the sales force, Mr. Hammons said that this

Broadway Stage Turning to Musical Shows in a Big Way

By IRENE KUHN

The New York theatre shows signs of going woo-woo over musicals. Nine are scheduled for production before the first of the year. Most of them, it is reported, have definite film possibilities.

Stage productions shaping up for early fall presentation promise the playgoer a miscellaneous choice with experiment cuddling with novelty, Shakespeare streamlined and orthodox, and the old reliable plots and formulas dolled up with 1939 trimmings. Revivals and reopenings of old and newer successes are on the list, too. Out of the present setup in casting and rehearsal, the films should garner much that will make interesting celluloid.

The current hits will probably continue for some time, and M-G-M's property, "I Married an Angel," is not likely to be transferred to the

Seals for Brooklyn

Brooklyn, where seals have been known to be seen waiting for streetcars in the early hours of the morning to the amazement of the gendarmerie and late homecoming citizens, will shortly be the recipient of a new pair of the aquatic animals. Paramount has donated "Dorothy Lamour" and "George Raft" to the Prospect Park Zoo.

The pair now en route by express were standins for "Slicker," the barking, smooth-skinned featured player in "Spawn of the North." The animals will be presented by a committee of city officials, Gladys Swarthout, Eddie Duchin and Lynne Overman.

Van Dyke Testifies At NLRB Hearing

Hollywood, Aug. 31.—W. S. Van Dyke, who directed some of the industry's outstanding box-office successes, receives approximately $3,250 weekly bonus on successful pictures in addition to his salary of $750 a week, he declared today at the National Labor Relations Board hearing of the Screen Directors Guild petition to be declared the collective bargaining agency for directors, assistants and unit managers.

Called to the stand during the third day's hearing before Trial Examiner William R. Ringer, Mr. Van Dyke disclosed that in March of this year he, after having worked 22 years in the industry, signed a contract calling for $750 weekly for the first year to $1,750 weekly for the fifth year, and that the contract had provisions for bonuses.

Recounts Assistants' Duties

Mr. Van Dyke continued his testimony by telling the duties of assistant directors and unit managers, declaring that they sometimes were in complete charge of some phases of shooting films, such as backgrounds, atmosphere and action shots. He declared he worked for 12 years as an assistant director. He testified at length concerning the duties of assistants and unit managers in an effort to dispute the producer contention that the guild as now constituted is not the proper unit to represent these two classifications as well as directors.

J. P. MacGowan, veteran film director and now executive secretary of the Screen Directors Guild, followed Mr. Van Dyke on the stand and told of the complexity of the assistants' and unit managers' jobs.

The final witness of today's session was Fred Boswell, first assistant director, who testified of his assuming responsibility for guiding certain phases of pictures on which he worked without immediate supervision of a director.

It is estimated that the hearing will last at least a week longer.

Warners Sending Out Sequoia Tree Slabs

Warners Brothers cut down "The Patriarch," which, they say, was the second largest sequoia tree in the world, during the filming of "Valley of the Giants," and slabs of the wood, made into souvenir plaques are being distributed all over the country to exhibitors and branch managers to publicize the picture.

The Technicolor feature with Wayne Morris and Claire Trevor will open at the Strand Sept. 9, and the sequoia slabs carry the message to theatre men "May your box-office be as big as this tree was."

Included also in the promotion is the distribution of new four-color Technicolor pencils, so called because four crayons — red, black, blue and green—are mixed in one and by a simple twist of the wrist one can do some rainbow four-color writing.

An eight-page booklet, containing on its front page, the open letter from Jack Warner, "I Have Seen Four Daughters," is being sent to all persons who write in to Warner Brothers about "Four Daughters." The rest of the booklet contains material pertaining to the picture.

wo Industry hoices Seen By Pettijohn

.V. A. Steffes, Allied leader, was g on the platform at the Hotel beder as one of the scheduled ers. Other speakers were W. Johnston and Edward Golden. es W. Trampe was chairman.

elaborating upon his subject Mr. ohn said the first necessity of regulation was the principle of and help live." All that is re- d is good faith, integrity and non sense, he continued. "If the ture of this industry ever falls," Pettijohn declared, "it will not om assault from without, but by uction from within. Exhibitors, butors and producers must live ood neighbors, for they are living e same house, and a house divided st itself cannot stand.

quitable agreements are never im- ble unless they are made impos- by the attitude of the persons erned. Just as no two countries can o war today without involving ons of innocent persons, so no elements in the motion picture stry can quarrel without public est being involved.

Cites Lack of Cooperation

here has been too little effort to along with the other fellow, and much haste to tell the teacher on too little desire to go to reason, too much to go to law.

have little patience with those say 'yes, something should be but . . . but,' and raise objec- , specious and otherwise, that too often as a smoke screen to the lack of will or the willing- to do.

or can I in frankness conceal disappointment that certain things not moved faster in the direction lf-regulation. I shall not try to the blame. One difficulty is that spent too much time throwing s instead of laying them.

is so easy to say that the other v is at fault. But let's not delude elves. We aren't going to get here unless we all approach the em of trade practices with a de- not to gain selfish advantage but omote the success of the industry whole. We must see the forest ust our own tree.

we reject self-regulation, we'll ome form of outside control that ot help, but will only wreck our ness. Good intentions are not gh. We need good faith. We have an earnest determination work out our own problems ng ourselves."

Steffes in Rebuttal

r. Steffes, whose speech followed of Mr. Pettijohn, declared "Pet- n gave the right speech but to wrong audience. It should have made to Will Hays and the ibutors: We wanted self-regula- but we couldn't get the major panies to cooperate. We were n to the courts for regulation to ct ourselves and anyone who says isn't so is nuts."

r. Steffes told how at Northwest Allied's silver jubilee last January the gauntlet was thrown down to major companies. He said at that time major company representatives present promised cooperation to work out industry ills. "We're still waiting to hear from them," he said, adding, "It's been nine months and nothing has happened."

Criticizes Will Hays

Mr. Steffes also cited statements by major distributors that conferences be delayed on account of the Government action now current. "Now is the time to get-together," he said, "the responsibility for any wrecking of the film business can be placed directly on the heads of the major companies. What the business needs is a czar, one who will be for the entire industry and not a Will Hays who is just for the big companies. We need a 'supreme arbitrator' and I for one pledge my support if the right person is found."

Mr. Steffes said he had no objection to block booking, provided all product was sold on percentage and not just big pictures.

Following Mr. Steffes, Mr. Golden spoke and in dramatic fashion critisized the major companies and their executives, who, he said, were intellectually incapable of self-regulating the film business. Mr. Golden stated that the salvation of the business from its present troubles was for exhibitors to support smaller production companies. "The more wholesalers you have," said Mr. Golden, "the better it will be for business."

Max Roth Is Heard

Max Roth, Republic Pictures sales executive, in a speech blamed Hollywood radio and news commentators for a great portion of the industry's ills, saying they disclosed too much to the public which, as a result, lost interest in films.

Mr. Trampe opened the meeting and outlined the national advertising drive. He introduced guests, including Jake Disch, Frank Trautman and other old timers. He reported this territory would reach $6,000 in the drive. It was stated that Minneapolis has collected $6,000 and already is 40 per cent over its quota.

At the banquet tonight plaques were presented to 121 persons who have been in the industry 25 years or more. William Ainsworth acted as toastmaster and Mr. Trampe was guest of honor. Among those attending were Benny Berger, George Granstrom, William Watemaugh, William Donnely, Ben Ash and Charles Weiner, from Minneapolis, and Irving Mandel and Henri Elman from Chicago.

Nugent Snubbed

Frank Nugent, N. Y. Times film editor, returned this week from a vacation tour of the south and relates this one on himself. Attired in decidedly informal fashion, he says, he stopped at Doylestown, Pa., to spend the night and approached a traffic officer to get the low-down on local hostelries.

"They're all filled up," said the officer curtly.

"But there must be some place nearby where I can change for dinner, at least," Nugent insisted.

The officer gave him a second glance.

"Oh, excuse me," he relented. "I thought you was a vagrant." And proceeded to direct the film critic to Doylestown's best.

"Daughters" Grosses $85,000 Second Week

The Music Hall grossed a strong $85,000 in the second and final week of "Four Daughters," which ended yesterday. The first week take was $90,000. "You Can't Take It with You" will open at the house today. The Capitol took $31,000 in the week ending yesterday, with "I Am the Law." "Three Loves Has Nancy" will open today.

Paramount reports that "Sing You Sinners" finished its first week at the Paramount in Newark with a take of $10,000, 25 per cent better than average. The film was held over. "Spawn of the North," playing the Paramount in Los Angeles, grossed $3,300 opening day, with $26,000 anticipated for the week. The film is reported by the home office to be running ahead of "Buccaneer" and "Souls at Sea' in Omaha, where it did $4,000 in three days; Little Rock, Oklahoma and Detroit.

Tom Mead Recovers From Auto Injuries

Tom Mead, Universal Newsreel editor, was reported yesterday to be resting easily at the Hospital for Ruptured and Crippled where he was taken Tuesday after being struck by an automobile near his residence in Tudor City. Mr. Mead suffered a multiple fracture of the left leg and severe cuts and bruises. It was said that he will be confined to the hospital for at least six weeks.

The newsreel office reported that Mr. Mead will continue to handle the bulk of his work from the hospital. A telephone trunk line was installed yesterday connecting the office with his room and arrangements were made for secretarial assistance for Mr. Mead at the hospital.

Complete Fashion Short

Shooting has been completed on the first of four Fashion Forecasts in Technicolor for 20th Century-Fox, and the film is now being processed in Hollywood for September release.

The reel, which will run for 10 minutes, was filmed at the 10th Ave. Movietonenews studios under the supervision of Producer Truman Talley and was directed by Vyvyan Donner, fashion editor of the newsreel.

A special Technicolor camera was brought from the Coast for the picture, which was a week in the making.

CLEVELAND, Aug. 31. — Edward Churchill, Paramount publicity executive, arrived here today to arrange tieups between "Men with Wings" and the National Air Races which will take place over the weekend.

would be offset to some extent by retarded film buying which has been noted in many sections of the country. He pointed out, also, that advance notice of New Grand National's plans have induced some circuits to hold time open for the company's product, even where the bulk of such circuits' new season deals have been closed. Mr. Hammons cited one instance of a circuit having committed itself already for the new company's output.

Mr. Hammons indicated that he would produce "four or five" features and short subjects at Eastern Service studio, Astoria, and might make several additional features at the west coast studio. The production plans, however, will not be definite until after his weekend conferences with Mr. Alperson and Jack Skirball, general manager of Educational.

To Enlarge N. Y. Offices

Executive and sales headquarters of the new company will be in New York, but new and larger office quarters than those now occupied here will be chosen, he said.

Mr. Hammons said it would take a week or 10 days to complete the new corporate setup and that directors and officers, other than Mr. Alperson and himself, would not be nominated until then. The underwriting of the new company's securities has been arranged with two brokerage houses which Mr. Hammons said he could not identify until final financial arrangements are approved by the Securities and Exchange Commission.

Educational's $50,000 check to cover the cash payment to Grand National provided for in the merger agreement was mailed yesterday to Loyd Wright, Grand National co-trustee.

Hammons Again Has Talk with Jackson

Earle W. Hammons, president of New Grand National and Educational, conferred at his home last night with Louis Jackson, British financier, on a proposal of the latter involving reciprocal distribution between New Grand National and Anglo-American Films of London.

Details of the proposal were not divulged yesterday, but either financing of New Grand National producers or an investment in the company itself by Anglo-American is understood to be involved. Mr. Hammons expressed "interest" in the proposal in advance of last night's meeting, but professed to be unaware of the details himself, despite previous conferences with Mr. Jackson.

Meanwhile, reports from London yesterday linked Anglo-American with distribution there of Gainsborough product.

MGM Takes an Original

HOLLYWOOD, Aug. 31.—"When Men Are Twelve," an original, unpublished story by Budd Wilson Schulberg and William Burnside, has been purchased for production by M-G-M.

Short Subject

March of Time, No. 1

(RKO)

This issue of the March of Time appears to be uncommonly good exploitation material, as regards both of its two episodes. The first, explaining how Czechoslovakia has come to be the powder keg of Europe today, is keyed to the headlines the world over as a result of the European crisis. The second, on Father Divine's new "Heaven" opposite President Roosevelt's estate on the Hudson, gives something of an insight into a strange phenomenon, which is of wide interest.

The Czech sequence pictures the prosperity and natural wealth of the country, fortified by its mountain boundaries, and, as such, almost invaluable to Hitler's plan of conquest. The Sudeten German minority in Czechoslovakia is the springboard for his plan, and the reel highlights logically the sequence of events leading to the present crisis of which the nation made from the World War is the focal point.

The hold which a small and unprepossessing man, Father Divine, maintains on a mass of colored people, is pictured in competent and often highly amusing fashion. The basis of the sequence is the action of the anti-New Dealer who has turned over his estate at Krum Elbow, opposite the President's, to the Negro "Father" and his "Angels," where he has built a new "Promised Land." Free food and circuitous speeches appear to be the essence of the Father's power. An excellent subject.

Running time, 20 mins. "G."

Time Reel Now in India

The March of Time is now being distributed in India according to Louis de Rochemont, producer, making a total of 38 foreign countries where the reel is shown. RKO is distributing, from headquarters in Bombay.

Flax-Republic Renew

Sam and Jake Flax of Washington, D. C., renewed their Republic distribution agreement yesterday, signing a five-year contract, retroactive from July 1.

screen for another year. Meanwhile, Samuel Goldwyn has a personal contract with its star, Zorina. Helen Hayes will reopen in "Victoria Regina" at the Martin Beck, under Gilbert Miller's direction, Oct. 3.

The far flung straw hat circuit has about five survivals strong enough for early Broadway showing. More may come in later.

The musicals include "Knickerbocker Holiday," Maxwell Anderson's show of old New York when it was a Dutch settlement, with music by Kurt Weill, and with Walter Huston in the cast. "Clear All Wires," the Sam and Belle Spewack success of some seasons ago, which was filmed, will reappear as a musical. "You Never Know," an intimate musical play by Siegfried Geyer and Karl Fakas, with music by Cole Porter and Robert Katscher, is due to open Sept. 21 under the Shuberts' banner. This had a touring company through the spring. In the cast were: Clifton Webb, Lupe Velez, Rex O'Malley, Libby Holman and Toby Wing. It's a Rowland Leigh adaptation of the amorous adventures of a baron and his valet which might make a vehicle for Fernand Gravet.

Gordon Offering Due

Another intimate revue, "Sing Out the News," with music and lyrics by Harold Rome of "Pins and Needles" fame, will be an early fall Max Gordon offering. George S. Kaufman and Moss Hart will be co-producers.

George Abbott is producing "The Boys from Syracuse" with music by Rodgers and Hart. Jimmy Savo is in the cast. This is Shakespeare's "Comedy of Errors" with modern dialogue by Mr. Abbott.

Two Dwight Wiman musical shows are said to be real film bets. They are "Great Lady," which will open in late October, and is being cast now, and "Swing to the Left," by J. P. McEvoy and Arthur Schwartz, with lyrics by Dorothy Field. This is a kidding piece about Hollywood built around a story which reveals what happens when scenarists try to write a picture with a "leftist" plot. It is scheduled for November. Mr. McEvoy is in Hollywood now, writing dialogue for the new Shirley Temple picture and in his spare time is collecting new material and gags for the satire.

"Blackbirds" Ready

Lew Leslie's "Blackbirds," 1939 version of the perennially popular all-colored revue, is on the books, too.

Eddie Dowling has three new plays set, "Madame Capet," with Eva Le Gallienne. This is hardly likely to be a film buy because it is a French Revolution piece which has been preceded by M-G-M's spectacle, with Norma Shearer, "Marie Antoinette." Mr. Dowling's other plays which Hollywood scouts are watching are "Here Come the Clowns," by Philip Barry, which has a vaudeville background, always sure fire picture material, and "The White Steed." The latter is by Paul Vincent Carroll, author of the current Dowling success, "Shadow and Substance," a boy and girl love story having an Irish locale.

Jed Harris is planning five shows between November and January, inclusive.

Sam Harris has the Moss Hart-George Kaufman play, "The Fabulous Invalid," a story about the theatre with a cast of 84 persons, and a narrator.

Guthrie McClintic and Max Gordon will do "Split the Wind," which has also been known as "Legend," at the Empire, probably in September. This is an offering built around the character of Jesse James. This producing team is also scheduling a Katharine Cornell show.

Schwab Has Three

Laurence Schwab has three productions in work. "Once Upon a Night," a farce about Hollywood by Milton Lazarus, is in rehearsal and scheduled to open the week of Sept. 12. This will be followed by "Knights of Song," a musical play about Gilbert and Sullivan by Glendon Allvine. The third production will be a drama, "Over on the Jersey Side," by Joel Sayre and Edward McNamara.

Orson Welles' Mercury Theatre Group will do "Danton's Death," a French Revolution play which Max Reinhardt produced in Germany and which had a run in German at the Century theatre here in 1927.

One of the five straw hat survivals which comes within this group's wing is William Gillette's farce, "Too Much Johnson," last produced in 1894. A five-minute film, of the Keystone comedy type, will serve as a prologue to the production.

The other summer theatre tryouts which are on the Broadway list are "Dame Nature," "7-11," "The Best Dressed Woman in the World," "A Woman's a Fool to Be Clever," "Death Is My Lover" and "Friday at 4."

Guild Production Listed

"Dame Nature" was adapted from the French by Patricia Collinge and tried out at Westport and Mt. Kisco. This is a delicate theme which will have to undergo considerable rewriting if it is to be picture material, according to reports. It will be the first Theatre Guild production of the season.

"The Best Dressed Woman in the World," tried out at Stockbridge, is in the Dwight Wiman office now. "7-11" is by James M. Cain and has the "21 Club" for its locale. Richard Aldridge is producing this and Peter Arno owns a piece of it.

"A Woman's a Fool to Be Clever" is John Wildberg's first independent production, although he has been associated with 58 productions heretofore. This showed at Great Neck and Stony Creek during the summer.

"Death Is My Lover" was seen at Locust Valley and will go on under the auspices of Montgomery Ford.

Theron Bamberger directed "Friday at 4" when it was shown at Abingdon, Va. It's showing at Provincetown this week and has Dorothy Stone and her husband, Fred Collins, in the cast. It was written by Ralph Holmes, drama critic of the De

In the past, most motion picture advertising in the national magazines has simply featured current releases. On the pages that follow you will see how Paramount has created and developed its new "TIME-FLO" INTERMESHING Advertising Technique.

Special "Tailor-Made" copy is written to fit each magazine. Each "TIME-FLO" advertisement plays up one big current release in large space. (For example, the September 3rd Saturday Evening Post advertisement gives most of its space to "Spawn of the North.") Then, by means of "COLUMNS," each advertisement tells — in newsy manner—something about the Paramount Pictures which have just been released and those which are to be released in the near future. (In the case of the September 3rd Saturday Evening Post advertisement, the other pictures featured are "Sing You Sinners," "If I Were King," and "Men With Wings.") As each picture approaches its national release date, it moves up into the "No. 1 Spot," while the newer (and slightly older) product moves into the "Columns." Thus—

Month after month, in intermeshing manner, Paramount sells today's show for you, whether yours is a first or a subsequent run theatre—while you are playing the pictures. At the same time, Paramount advertising will get your patrons ready for the pictures which are to come.

This is Completely NEW . . . It is an Entirely DIFFERENT kind of moving picture advertising. And — IT WILL HELP YOU SELL MORE TICKETS WHEN YOU PLAY PARAMOUNT PICTURES!

YOUNGSTER WITH A FUTURE

The serious face you see at the left belongs to Donald O'Connor, selected after a nation-wide hunt by Bing Crosby and Producer-Director Wesley Ruggles for the new Paramount Picture, "Sing You Sinners," the laughable, lovable story of three brothers, Bing, Fred MacMurray, and young Donald, who learn owning a race horse can be quite a problem. Ellen Drew, another Ruggles find, is the feminine lead.

MASTER FRANCOIS VILLON...

Whenever Hollywood decides to bring romance in the grand manner to the screen, you may be sure Ronald Colman will play the lead. So Mr. Colman it is whom you'll find in the famous role of Master Francois Villon, in "If I Were King," which Frank Lloyd, many times a winner of the Academy Award, is now producing and directing for Paramount Pictures.

WINGED GLORY...

script of "Men With Wings," Para-ount's cavalcade of aviation, which William Wellman, director of never-to-be-forgotten "Wings," is producing and directing in Technicolor for Paramount Pictures, reads like a Post serial. Against the whole breath-taking background of aviation history, from the Wright Brothers' first pusher plane to today's huge strato-liners, is told a story as thrilling as your first plane ride.

"ARKANSAS TRAVELER"

"PARAMOUNT'S 'Arkansas Traveler'," writes Bing Crosby's radio buddy, Bob Burns, "is the story of a very lazy man, which is me. In fact, he's so lazy he makes the ordinary lazy man look like a bundle of nerves. Yet he's got a lot of common sense. For where the hard-workin' feller has it easy on account of when work is offered him all he does is take it, the lazy feller has got to figure ways of gettin' around workin'. And that takes a heap of sense. Paramount has handed me Fay Bainter for team-mate in this 'Arkansas Traveler' picture. And you know Fay's just about as fine a gal as there is in pictures. Then they've gone and handed me another person, you'll be glad to hear about. He's a ringer. He ain't a real picture actor like me. In fact, he used to turn out some pretty fancy writin'. But he's got a face on him that's like my Uncle Snazzy's. Once you've seen it and recovered from the shock, you'll never forget it as long as you live. His name is Irvin S. Cobb."

"MEN WITH WINGS"

When they called the roll of stunt flyers assembled on the Paramount lot for the breath-taking plane fights in "Men With Wings," Paramount's Technicolor cavalcade of American aviation, they discovered this was the biggest bunch of air aces to hit Hollywood since Producer-Director William Wellman's first aviation triumph, "Wings."

ANOTHER AWARD WINNER...

Coast critics are predicting Frank Lloyd, many times winner of the prized Motion Picture Academy Award, has a potential winner in Paramount's "If I Were King" starring Ronald Colman.

It was a test action of Leo Vaudreuil, deputy attorney general.

AKRON, Aug. 31.—A new contract for three years has been signed between first run theatres and the operators and stagehands union, effective Sept. 1. The new contract stipulates a $2 reduction in salary during the first year, restoration of the cut the second year and a boost of $2 the third year. New agreement does not affect subsequent run houses and neighborhoods. Loew's, the Palace and Colonial, three of the four major houses affected by the new contract, play occasional stage attractions in addition to films.

Minnesota Governor Issues Proclamation

ST. PAUL, Aug. 31.—Governor Elmer A. Benson issued a proclamation today setting aside Sept. 12 for special observance by Minnesota and its citizens in celebration of Motion Pictures' Greatest Year.

The Governor, in his proclamation, urges all citizens of the state "to participate in fullest measure in this fall celebration and presentation of the splendid pictures which have been prepared in the avowed purpose of demonstrating that motion pictures are your best entertainment."

The proclamation was issued in recognition of "the important position of the motion picture and theatre in the state and its amusement life" and in appreciation for its stimulating effect on local trade. The proclamation also makes note of the official approval of the aims of the industry campaign and the part being played in it by Minnesota exhibitors.

KANSAS CITY, Aug. 31.—Felix Snow, district manager for the I.A.T.S.E., has arranged for a $500 float in the Labor Day parade to plug stage shows.

The Fox Tower line, the Adorables, will ride the float in costume. Banners on the float announce that "The twelve Tower Adorables on this float, through the courtesy of the Fox Tower Thetre where continuous stage shows have been presented for four years, making employment for almost 60 persons." On a "billboard" carried by the float it is urged that "Stage shows help make Kansas City a metropolitan center."

California Starts Well

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 31. — With Jimmy Fidler and George McCall, radio broadcasters, heartily endorsing the Motion Pictures' Greatest Year campaign, all southern California and Arizona theatres are joining in the drive. The first institutional advertisements broke in the dailies today. They followed proclamations in favor of the campaign by Gov. Frank Merriam and Frank L. Shaw, mayor of Los Angeles. A parade is scheduled for Hollywood some time between Labor Day and the opening of the American Legion convention Sept. 19.

Chicago Pushes "Quiz"

CHICAGO, Aug. 31.—Chicago exhibitors are using more than 1,000,000 "Movie Quiz" booklets in the Motion Pictures' Greatest Year drive. Approximately 95 per cent of Chicago's theatres are cooperating.

few weeks and bring the total of participating theatres in this country and Canada to 9,000, the goal expected. Pledges in excess of the quota are desired by campaign directors in order to offset the usual small percentage of delinquents which, for one reason or another, may be unable to fulfill the pledges made.

George J. Schaefer, executive chairman of the drive, estimated that more than 20,000,000 "Movie Quiz" booklets have been sold and distributed prior to the official opening of the campaign and "Movie Quiz" prize contest today, and that 6,000,000 more will be distributed over the holiday weekend. He expressed great enthusiasm over the work accomplished in launching the drive according to schedule and predicted beneficial results for the entire industry.

"Has Restored Spirit"

"It has restored the spirit of showmanship to the industry," Mr. Schaefer declared. "It has aroused a too-long latent enthusiasm, and a spirit of cooperation that fully justifies the labor and energy and untiring devotion of the hundreds of my co-workers whose devotion to their duties I deeply appreciate.

"For my own part, witnessing the tremendous enthusiasm behind the drive, and feeling deeply convinced of its success, I am amply repaid for such time and labor as I have given to the common cause.

"The campaign has just begun. Between now and Dec. 31 we will continue to drive ahead, and to reap all possible fruits from this all-industry effort."

Lee May Call Second Talk on Drive Plans

Arthur A. Lee, vice-president and general manager of G.B., may call a second meeting of American representatives of British producers early next week to discuss a promotional plan for British product to be staged during the fall and early winter. The plan was discussed about 10 days ago as a means of gaining public attention for British films which are not included in the Motion Pictures' Greatest Year campaign and "Movie Quiz" prize contest.

Mr. Lee indicated yesterday, however, that there was no certainty of the plan being advanced and the decision on discussing it further would not be made until next week.

Blade Firm Aids Quiz

TOLEDO, Aug. 31. — The Toledo Blade Co. is running a series of eight two-column ads here publicizing the $250,000 "Movie Quiz" contest which is part of the Motion Pictures' Greatest Year drive. The razor blade company and the local Loew's theatre have also arranged a contest to select 12 Toledo girls as "Movie Queens."

World Books "Courier"

"The Courier of Lyons," French film being handled in this country by Pax Films, will follow "Mayerling" into the World. The picture was shown locally last season.

“Band” Given Third Week in Boston’s Met

Boston, Aug. 31. — “Alexander’s Ragtime Band” continued to lead the town with lengths to spare last week, drawing $24,000 for its second week at the Metropolitan. The first week average is $11,000. The picture was held again, the first triple-week in the theatre’s history.

“The Crowd Roars” and “City Streets” draw $9,000 and $6,000 in their second week at Loew’s Orpheum and State.

Hollywood Previews

“The Road to Reno”

Hollywood, Aug. 31.—“The Road to Reno” heralds the return to the screen of Hope Hampton and, in addition to serving as a vehicle to show the wide range of talents of the blonde actress-singer, offers plenty of other exploitable assets. Of a frothy comedy type, based on situation and dialogue, the story adapted from I. A. R. Wylie’s novel of the same name is a satirical treatment of the widely publicized Reno divorce mill, the desire to go through which, on the part of several of the characters, motivates the plot. Life on a dude ranch near the Nevada city also is shown.

With Miss Hampton in the cast are Randolph Scott, Helen Broderick, Glenda Farrell, Alan Marshall, David Oliver, Samuel S. Hinds, Spencer Charters, Charles Murphy and Ted Osborne. S. Sylvan Simon directed from the screenplay by Roy Chanslor and Adele Comandini, who adapted the story of Charles Kenyon and F. Hugh Herbert based on the Wylie novel. Edmund Grainger was associate producer.

Miss Hampton, an opera singer, goes to Reno to obtain a divorce from Scott, a Nevada rancher. She accidentally meets him and, meeting his objection to the action, decides to bother him at his ranch. Then Marshall, the man she is to marry after her divorce, turns up, and complications arise in which the opera singer finally decides to stay wed.

Hollywood, Aug. 31.—“Always in Trouble” is only mild entertainment. Jane Withers works hard and, on occasions, the supporting cast checks in with some amusing characterizations.

Riches, the result of a lucky oil strike, don’t make much of an impression on Jane’s father, Andrew Tombes, or on her. The other members of the family, Mother Nana Bryant, Sister Jean Rogers and Uncle Eddie Collins, however, immediately go “high society.” Jane, to give her dad time to sober up as well as to give the rest of the family a chance to come down to earth, tricks Robert Kellard, her father’s clerk, into taking the family on a yachting trip. The boat is wrecked and the castaways land on a supposedly deserted island. There’s a mansion there, nevertheless, and as the family takes it over, a gang of smugglers enters. Upon learning the family’s identity they plot to hold it for ransom. As Jane outwits them there’s a wild and woolly melee in which Miss Bryant does a lot of effective and amusing work with a swinging frying pan As the family learns its lesson, Jane is very much the heroine.

After a slow start, Director Joseph Santley quickened the pace noticeably, yet, despite the fun and excitement worked in, it is still mild entertainment.

“Tenth Avenue Kid”

(Republic)

Another talented youngster in a film era of talented youngsters is featured in this action-laden melodrama, and he acquits himself in an eminently satisfactory fashion. Tommy Ryan by name, the boy offers an appealing performance, despite a slight tendency to overact at times, as the crooks’ dupe who learns the meaning of honesty and the pleasures of a home.

It is fast-moving stuff, recounting the pursuit of a holdup gang by a detective, who attempts to extract from the youngster information of the gang. In the attempt the detective temporarily adopts the boy from the reform school to which he has been sentenced, but the youngster becomes in a short time more than merely a stool pigeon for the officer. A woman reporter in love with him forces him through publicity to relinquish the boy, but the youngster escapes, is caught by the gang, and a fast, gun-popping climax brings about the rescue of the child, capture of the gang and the completion of a romance.

Bruce Cabot is his usual capable self as the detective, with Beverly Roberts as the reporter, Horace MacMahon as Cabots’ ex-fighter companion, and Ben Welden as gangster-in-chief. Bernard Vorhaus directed the screenplay by Gordon Kahn from the original story by Mr. Kahn and Adele Buffington.

Hollywood Previews

"Road Demon"

(20th Century-Fox)

Hollywood, Aug. 31.—Packed with thrills and laughs, "Road Demon" is the second of the Sports Adventure series planned by 20th Century-Fox. The background of this is automobile racing, a subject peculiarly fitted for exploitation. The "Gambini family," consisting of Henry Armetta, Inez Palange, Johnny Pironne, Jr, Eleanor Virzie and Betty Grecco, continues its adventures, this time backing a racing car entered in the annual speed classic.

Others in the cast are Henry Arthur, Joan Valerie, Tom Beck, Bill Robinson, Jonathan Hale, Murray Alper, Edward Marr and Lon Cheney, Jr. Otto Brower directed from the original screenplay of Robert Ellis and Helen Logan. Jerry Hoffman was the associate producer.

Arthur, a fast-talking, youthful race driver, talks Armetta into financing a racing car. Tom Beck, whose father had been killed in a race by crooked drivers the year before, is to drive. Complications arise when Armetta refuses to continue pouring money into the machine, but finally he and his wife sell shares of the car to friends and relatives. Arthur drives the car when Beck is "framed," but Beck finishes the race, is vindicated and avenges his father's death.

Humor is successfully interpolated with suspense to eliminate what might have been heavy melodrama.

"Mis Dos Amores"

(My Two Loves)
(Cobian-Paramount)

Hollywood, Aug. 31.—Aimed at the Mexican-Spanish patronage theatres in this country and the South American market, "Mis Dos Amores," first of an all-Spanish series starring Tito Guizar, is a combination of music and drama blended to make the most of the situations in which a youth is condemned to death for a murder of which he is innocent. Hanging heavily on the melodramatic side, despite the frequent interpolations of Guizar's singing, the picture is frankly not of modern style, as far as the recent trend of films made for American consumption is concerned, but nevertheless has much human interest.

Guizar is supported by Blanca de Castejon, Emilia Leovalli, Romualdo Tirado, Juan Torena, Carolina Segrera, Evelyn Del Rio, Paul Ellis, Martin Garralaga, Jose Pena Pepet and Carlos Villarias. Nick Grinde directed. Miguel de Zarraga made the Spanish adaptation of the screenplay by Milton Raison. Jose A. Miranda did the original story. Ramos Cobian headed his own production company.

Seven songs are included, chief among which are "Vuelvme a Besar" (Return to Me a Kiss), and "Rosas y Mujeres" (Roses and Women).

"Come On, Leathernecks"

(Republic)

Lively and active, although unpretentious, "Come On, Leathernecks" is good fare for the general patronage, in the dual bill spots, particularly. James Cruze, who directed, held the yarn to a speedy pace through most of the footage.

The cast is headed by Richard Cromwell and Marsha Hunt, supported by Leon Ames, Edward Brophy, Bruce MacFarlane and Robert Warwick. Sidney Salkow and Dorell and Stuart McGowan prepared the screenplay from an original story by Salkow.

Cromwell is the egotistical star football player at the Naval Academy who would throw over a career in the Marines, the dearest wish of his father, who is a colonel in the corps, for professional football. MacFarlane, his father's aide, tricks him into going to San Diego and reporting for duty, which forces Cromwell to remain on duty for a week. Then MacFarlane again tricks him into departing for Manila. On board, he meets Miss Hunt, and they are mutually attracted. In the Philippines young Cromwell tells his father he wants to resign, but remains until the resignation is accepted. In the interim he joins in an attempt to catch a group of gun runners. His mistake almost costs MacFarlane his life, but a battle in the hills results in victory for the Marines, a hero's role for Cromwell and the completion of the romance when Cromwell decides to stay with the Marines.

Running time, 65 minutes. "G." Charles S. Aaronson

Protest New Orleans Exchange Tax Boost

New Orleans, Aug. 31.—An increase in tax valuation of films handled at exchanges here of more than $45,000 for each of six local exchanges was protested by attorneys for the exchanges at a meeting of the Orleans Parish Board of Tax Equalization.

Valuation for taxation purposes previously has been placed at approximately $2,500 for each of the exchanges and in assessments for 1938 each exchange was assessed $50,000 for each.

James Comiskey, assessor, who raised the valuation, charged film exchanges in the past had made returns on films at "ridiculously low values." He asserted some of these films earned as much as $2,500 a week for an entire year.

Charles Rosen, attorney representing the exchanges, said the assessor was attempting to collect personal property taxes on the rental value. He asserted the films handled were prints, not originals and that the cost was only 1½ cents per foot. He said the assessor was also under a misapprehension in assuming the exchanges owned all films they handled.

The protest was referred to the Louisiana Tax Commission.

Film Men Say Radio's Stand Short-Sighted film industry as much as we need radio."

Campaign officials made it clear that there was little likelihood of any official statement being issued in reply to Mr. Kirby's intimations that film "plugs" would be curtailed on the air in the future as a result of the failure to buy time to publicize the drive. Asserting that they had no wish to be drawn into a controversy with the radio industry, they insisted that their views were personal, not official.

Several pointed to the fact that both major networks have found Hollywood to be so important a talent source for radio that they found it advisable to erect elaborate broadcasting studios there. Others contended that most of the "plugs" on the air for films are given in connection with the broadcasters' use of new films for which the music was originated and without which, they said, radio programs would be far behind in the popular music field.

"Alexander" Show a Model

Many cited the recent "Alexander's Ragtime Band" broadcast as an example of excellent advertising for the motion picture over the air, but held to the view that it was equally beneficial to the network because of the quality of the program.

"Few industries or even commercial sponsors could assemble the equivalent of that talent for a radio program," was the comment made. "No one denies that radio publicity is valuable to films in many instances, but it should not be forgotten that films contribute their share to making many a radio program a popular program."

"It is as reasonable for radio to imply retaliation in this instance as it would be for any other advertising or publicity medium which we have not seen fit to use in the drive," it was said. "No other has. On the contrary, fan magazines, which are not included in the campaign advertising appropriation, are cooperating with the industry in making the business drive a success."

AD CAMPAIGN START BOOSTS NATION'S THEATRE GROSSES

Reports from All U. S. and Canada Show First Display Space Bringing Response; Press Reactions Also Favorable

Early reports received in New York last night from many sections of the country on the opening of the "Motion Pictures' Greatest Year" campaign and its effect on local business indicated that the efficiently organized drive was off to a smooth and effective start throughout the United States and Canada, bringing with it immediate box-office benefits to all participating theatres.

The bulk of the campaign's initial advertising barrage appeared yesterday in daily newspapers across the country. Some few papers, however, will carry their first drive lineage today, completing the first schedule of insertions in more than 2,000 newspapers. A new series of advertisements will appear next week, as the prepared schedules do not call for any Saturday, Sunday or holiday insertions.

Local campaigns in the United States and Canada supplemented the national campaign. Local and regional promotional activities organized by local exhibitors were staged in numerous cities yesterday, making municipal occasions of the opening drive.

Reaction Immediate

Scattered and incomplete reports received in New York at a late hour last night reflected an immediate improvement in box-office grosses resulting from the campaign's opening activities. Local predictions were that with any favorable "break" in weather during the next few days, theatres participating in the drive will do the heaviest business over the long holiday weekend that has been recorded in a long time.

Boston's regional campaign opened with a proclamation by Mayor Maurice Tobin dedicating the next seven days to a celebration "of the

The Opening Gun—

Highlights of the start of the Motion Pictures' Greatest Year drive yesterday gleaned from nationwide reports:

An immediate improvement in theatre attendance at participating theatres throughout this country and Canada.

Predictions that the Labor Day holiday weekend, coupled with the national newspaper advertising barrage and the start of the $250,000 "Movie Quiz" contest, will boost box-office grosses to levels untouched for months.

Unanimous and liberal cooperation in the editorial and news columns of the nation's press.

An effective start for the campaign in all key cities and sub-territories with official and civic aid for all promotional campaigns of local exhibitors.

"Boys Town"

(M-G-M)

Based on a true situation, the Boys Town which Father Flanagan founded and has developed in Nebraska, M-G-M has wrought a powerful piece of screen merchandise, taken from a purely commercial standpoint, and at the same time has made a great human screen document.

The picture has a tremendous popular appeal inherent in its theme alone, and the manner in which that theme has been developed makes that appeal still more powerful. In brief, it is the story of a priest, with a magnificent ideal for the regeneration, the guardianship and the molding of homeless boys in a "boys' town." There are no women in this cast, there is no romance, there are no commonplaces of screen complications. It is a simple story of a man's faith in, and his fight for an ideal, surrounded and aided by the boys whose "father" he is.

One boy alone bids fair to make a lie of his basic principle that "no boy is really bad." The boy threatens to bring ruin upon his whole plan, but he is made to see the right way of things, the honest way among others, and thus he learns humility and eventually earns the admiration and respect of his fellows. Let there be no idea that this is a "taffy" picture. It is hard-hitting, straight story telling.

Two splendid actors aid to their laurels. Spencer Tracy carves another memorable performance into the list he has built, as Father Flanagan. Mickey Rooney, given a test of artistry as a gangster's young, tough brother, forced into Boys Town, who sneers and is obnoxious, but learns better, gives a brilliant performance. Leslie Fenton, in a bit; Henry Hull, as Tracy's financial benefactor in the early days, who acts throughout as his business agent, and several of the boys, Frankie Thomas, Bobs Watson, Gene Reynolds, Sidney Miller, are notable as leaders of Boys Town.

The exhibitor should find here an exploitation picture which civic groups should rush to support, and it is at the same time a film which the whole family should (or must) see. Norman Taurog wins laurels for his direction of the screenplay by John Meehan and Dore Schary from an original by Dore Schary and Eleanore Griffin. It is sometimes heavy with sentiment, it will draw tears more than once, there are not too many light moments, but it comes close to rating the designation of "great" exhibition material.

Running time, 96 minutes. "G." CHARLES S. AARONSON

Court Approves New Loew's K. C. Setup

Kansas City, Sept. 1.—After seven months, reorganization of the Midland Investment Co. (Loew's theatre and building) has been approved by Judge Albert L. Reeves in U. S. District Court. Under the plan bondholders get three-fifths of the value of their original holdings in bonds yielding 3 (instead of the former 6) per cent, two-fifths in preferred stock. Judge Reeves named two directors as the court's representatives on the board: George B. Reinhardt, amicus curiae in the reorganization, and W. K. Archer, investment broker of Kansas City.

Judge Reeves sliced the applications for allowances from $115,000 to $46,500. Only $75,000 was available for reorganization expense. Claims of a bondholders' committee headed by Thornton Cooke were disallowed on grounds it did not contribute materially to the plan, and a claim by Max Skeer, realtor, also was disallowed by the court.

Securities Service Corp., Chicago, was the reorganization manager. It was allowed $10,000

Predict $10,250,000 Year's Net for Loew

Loew's, Inc., may report a net profit for the fiscal year ended Aug. 31 of approximately $10,250,000, equal to between $5.75 and $6 per share on the common stock, according to an estimate made yesterday by the Wall Street Journal.

The estimate compares with Loew's earnings for the preceding year which amounted to $14,426,062, equal to $8.47 per share on the common. The estimate is based on the company's earnings report for the 40 weeks ended June 9, last, which showed a net profit of $8,352,675, or $4.80 a share for the period.

Thus, the financial paper's estimate is that Loew's experienced final quarter earnings of approximately $2,000,000. The publication notes that, "Although business this summer has been dull, Loew's income held up well. The company charges the year's overhead ahead to operations during the first 40 weeks, leaving the dull summer quarter clear of running expense."

The paper also notes that the estimate for the fiscal year "will be after allowing for reserves expected to amount to around $2,000,000 set aside to take care of various excess studio costs." It regards a large share of the company's forthcoming early releases as on a par with its standard of product.

Strike Looms in 10 Mexico City Houses

By JAMES LOCKHART

Mexico City, Sept. 1.—A strike at 10 or more film theatres here, including four first runs, seems inevitable as a result of the exhibitors' refusal to grant demands for salary increases which they say they are unable to pay because of the existing depression. Some of the theatres have increased salaries as much as 50 per cent during the past five years.

Representatives of the labor unions maintain that the theatres are enjoying the best business in years and that the workers are entitled to share in the profits.

The Government is making an effort to avert a strike.

W. B.-Journal in Tieup

Warners' "Boy Meets Girl," for the full duration of its engagement at the Strand, will have the benefit of a tieup arranged with the New York Journal-American whereby the paper will conduct a quest for couples typifying the theme of the picture.

The paper's photographer snaps couples in well known meeting places and presents each member with a World's Fair silver spoon, after which the photo is reproduced in the paper with due credit to "Boy Meets Girl."

Shea Takes Warner List

Roy Haines, eastern and Canadian sales manager for Warners, and Dick Kearney, acting for the M. A. Shea circuit, have closed a deal for the playing of the entire Warner 1938-'39 list in the Shea houses, it was stated yesterday by Gradwell L. Sears, Warners' general sales manager.

"Give Me a Sailor," with Ozzie Nelson and Harriet Hilliard, turned in $18,200, over par by $2,200, at the Earle. "Farewell to Arms" demonstrated strength at the Metropolitan on a take of $5,800.

Total first run business was $62,300. Average is $62,000.

Educators have come to realize that certain historical episodes around which America has built its democratic progress can be made more impressive to the younger mind and more illuminating to the adult mind by the motion picture.

"These educators have encouraged us in our efforts to bring these notable historical moments to life. Their help has inspired us to put more time, effort and money into them. The result is a series of which we, of Warner Bros., are proud, not merely because they are interesting to audiences but because they represent part of our contribution to a better understanding of the ideals and achievements of those patriots who laid the foundation of our United States of America."

St. Paul exhibitors illeled the Minneapolis theatres' vities.

New York, Broadway and neighood key houses evidenced an imiate upturn in attendance during day and early evening.

Loew's Feels Spurt

The drive got away to a fine start Loew's theatres around the city," C. Moskowitz, in charge of the v York circuit, said last night. one calls to the home office from es of our theatres indicate a heavy and for the 'Movie Quiz' book-. If all those who asked for bookbecome contestants, it appears at least 150,000 movie goers ed up at our houses alone today. city should supply at least 1,000,- contestants during the first week, ording to my guess.

One of the things the managers ret," Mr. Moskowitz said, "is that find very few of the booklets disded in the lobbies or sidewalks near theatres. Apparently those who for booklets are eager to enter the test. That's a good sign."

Entrants in the contest are equivato repeat business for participattheatres throughout the four nths of the drive.

statement on the RKO city cir's experience on the first day of drive could not be obtained because of the absence of John J. O'Connor, head of the circuit, who will arrive in Kansas City today in the course of a business trip through the Middle West. He is scheduled to bring back first hand reports of boxoffice results from the drive in RKO houses in the cities being visited.

The Broadway committee is proceeding as rapidly as possible with its plans for decorating the street in honor of the drive and enlisting the aid of city officials and civic organizations in conducting its promotional program. A Greater New York committee will extend the celebration throughout the metropolitan area. Approximately 450 exhibitors attended the opening of the Brooklyn and central Queens drive at a midnight supper at the Towers Hotel, Wednesday and early yesterday. The function was attended by borough officials and representatives of civic organizations and the press. Neighborhood committees for the boroughs were named to organize the drive effectively in every corner of Brooklyn and central Queens.

Frisco Off With a Bang

In San Francisco the drive was off to an active start with ceremonies at City Hall in which Mayor Rossi participated and issued a proclamation in observance of the drive. Hollywood and Los Angeles campaigns proceeded according to schedule. More than 2,000,000 contest booklets were distributed in the territory up to yesterday.

At Columbus, Gov. Martin L. Davey and Mayor Myron B. Gessaman issued proclamations on behalf of the drive to open a day of numerous promotional activities. At Reading, Pa., a civic program and entertainment staged by exhibitors to mark the opening of the campaign drew an estimated 15,000 people.

Unprecedented Editorial Support Given by Papers

Newspaper cooperation with the industry on the Motion Pictures' Greatest Year campaign drew more favorable lineage for pictures and theatres in the past 24 hours than in any comparable period in the history of the industry, campaign officials reported yesterday.

Regional chairmen of the drive poured reports into campaign headquarters all day yesterday informing the drive leaders of newspaper participation in the opening of the campaign, quoting from editorials congratulating the industry on the campaign and bespeaking praise for the aims and accomplishments of producers and theatre operators. Liberal space in news columns was given to straight news stories on the drive and $250,000 "Movie Quiz" prize contest, in addition.

Comment Continent-Wide

The voluntary newspaper expressions and cooperation were exceptional in that they represented every section of this country and Canada, campaign officials said. It was too early to complete an estimate of the space devoted to the drive, but it was estimated that well over 5,000 columns were published up to last night. The bulk of this amount broke in the publications simultaneously with the industry's opening national advertising barrage, further aiding the effectiveness of the space purchased.

All N. Y. Papers Join

New York newspapers all devoted space to the drive. Editorials, news stories and features were printed in yesterday's editions. Typical examples called attention to the part motion pictures play in creating foreign markets for American-made products, lauded the industry's contributions to the nation's entertainment activities and its cultural and educational influence.

"The dominant position that the American motion picture enjoys abroad as well as at home," said the Wall Street Journal, "has been gained by sheer merit as entertainment. It is this superiority which has so effectively played a part in the forward sweep of American commerce."

Campaign officials reported that newspapers of every major city in the nation have given and will continue to give their cooperation to the campaign.

New England Rallies 200 Theatres Strong

Boston, Sept. 1.—Approximately 200 New England theatres had enrolled in the Motion Pictures Greatest Year drive up to today. The circuit of Nathan Yamins, Allied president, was among those signed. Eighty-nine Mullin & Pinanski theatres are in.

Other cooperating circuits include Warners, Maine & New Hampshire, Loew's, Western Massachusetts, Louis Gordon, Cohen Brothers, Loew's-Poli, and Phil Smith.

About 1,150,000 booklets have already been paid for and distributed. There was no parade because of the narrowness of Boston's streets. There was excellent newspaper and political cooperation, however. Local first runs report a heavy demand for the booklets.

Mayor Will Proclaim St. Louis Film Week

St. Louis, Sept. 1.—As the Motion Pictures' Greatest Year campaign got under way here today, it was made known that Mayor Bernard Dickmann plans a proclamation of "Movie Week," and a parade will be held Sept. 10, in which Tyrone Power and Henry Fonda have been asked to participate.

A total of 150 theatres in the territory is distributing the "Movie Quiz" booklets, and an increase in that number is expected.

Sixth Trailer For Campaign Is Completed

A special "Motion Pictures' Greatest Year" trailer, sixth in the series, was completed yesterday under the supervision of Monroe Greenthal of United Artists with the cooperation of Truman Talley, producer of Movietonews. Ed Thorgersen did the explanatory talk with Jack Painter handling the camera. Burk Symon directed.

In addition, information on the campaign and "Movie Quiz" contest will be featured in all newsreel releases this week. The special clips were produced under the direction of Michael Clofine of News of the Day, Tom Mead of Universal, A. J. Richards of Paramount, Fred Ullman, Jr., of RKO Pathe, and Mr. Talley.

Western Union and Postal Telegraph completed plans yesterday for cooperating in the drive by displaying posters calling attention to it in all their offices throughout the country. Western Union will display a blowup of a congratulatory telegram to the campaign directors.

Chicago Houses Feel Effects of Campaign

Chicago, Sept. 1. — Theatres throughout Chicago showed today the beneficial effects of the opening of the Motion Pictures' Greatest Year campaign, as patrons responded to the drive for increased business. The newspapers of the city cooperated actively in backing the drive, and the results at the box-office were noticeable.

All theatres in the city, and especially the first run houses in the Loop, swung behind the campaign whole-heartedly in the effort to make the city's public film conscious.

Frisco "Quiz" Starts

San Francisco, Sept. 1.—Local participation in the national "Movie Quiz" contest started today with all of San Francisco's 71 downtown and neighborhood theatres participating. Although it is too early to predict how many quiz books will be distributed it is estimated that the figure will reach 500,000.

Mayor Angelo Rossi today issued a proclamation proclaiming this city's celebration of "Motion Pictures' Greatest Year" officially open. Theatremen are entering a float in the Labor Day parade. A strong lineup of product at the first runs this week should stimulate business.

To Preview New House

The new Penn Newsreel Theater on 34th St. opposite the Pennsylvania Station will be given what is described as a "Bulldog Edition" premiere next Thursday night for the press and persons connected with the industry.

LONG ago Lucy Monroe established herself as a Metropolitan Opera, concert, and radio vocal favorite, but this week she set herself on a path that should lead her to—unless all current signs prove false—the Broadway musical stage. Appearing this week, and for the week to come, in the lead in "Meet My Sister" at the Chapel, summer theatre in Great Neck, Miss Monroe, by her performance to date, has aroused the enthusiasm of the Broadway show folks to an extent sufficient to place her seriously in the running for a role in an important musical now being cast, the title of which we are not at liberty to divulge.

"Meet My Sister" is Miss Monroe's first attempt on the stage, and she's proved herself adept at light comedy. J. J. Shubert, to cite an instance, saw her perform the other evening and at the curtain expressed wonder at the short life the play had on Broadway a few seasons back. He's the same Mr. Shubert who produced "Meet My Sister" on Broadway.

An enterprising cab driver stations his cab near the entrance to one of the various CBS Playhouses and waits until the studio doors close. Invariably there are a number of latecomers to the broadcasts, and when they are refused admission to the theatres, he tunes in his radio to the program the latecomers intended to see, and sets up a call inviting them to ride around in his cab and listen to the show. He picks up many a fat fare in this manner.

Paul Douglas' baseball broadcasts for Chesterfield cigarettes are short-waved over W8XK, Pittsburgh. From Bahrain Islands, in the Persian Gulf, came a letter to Paul the other day from a listener named J. C. Reasover. He writes: "I have to get up at 1:45 A.M. and have a battle royal with Berlin and London to get the baseball games, but it's worth the battle."

FCC Charges WNAC With Political Bias

WASHINGTON, Sept. 1.—A second John Sheppard radio station was placed on the defensive today by the Federal Communications Commission. After weeks of study, the Government bureau scheduled a hearing on the license application of WNAC, several weeks after similar action was taken in the case of WAAB. Political bias and violation of the anti-lottery clauses of the Communications Act are charged by the commission.

Another hearing order was directed at KGGC, San Francisco, which already is in bad with the commission. Testimony will be taken on the request for permission to assign the station license to a new corporation, Golden Gate Broadcasting Corp.

Other applications set down for hearing were: WJBL, Decatur, Ill., for a power increase and frequency change and a time increase for WJBC, Bloomington, Ill.

Canada Moves To Revamp Its Film Industry

Briton May Reorganize It for Government

By COLIN R. HAWORTH

MONTREAL, Sept. 5.—A drive to put Canadian motion picture making on a more prolific and financially successful basis is gathering speed here with British Government film officials doing their best to prod hesitant Canadian producers along. Hanging in the air at present is a scheme to bring a Britisher over for the purpose of reorganizing the industry and turning out "strictly Canadian" films, probably under Government control.

It is expected that the emphasis will be placed upon shorts, newsreel material and documentary films rather than features.

So far this year three leading government film men from overseas have visited the Dominion each in turn urging Canadians to supply more and better films for distribution in Great Britain. Arthur W. Jarrett, director of theatres for Gaumont British told the press: "Canada is very poorly advertised in England despite the fact that English people and exhibitors are

20th-Fox May Tie With G. B. On Production

Production by Gaumont British in England for 20th Century-Fox is being discussed and the deal may be completed in December, when Joseph M. Schenck, 20th Century-Fox chairman of the board, intends to return to London, he said on arriving yesterday on the Queen Mary.

He denied that his discussions with the Ostrers involve resumption of negotiations for G. B. control by Loew's and 20th Century-Fox.

Mr. Schenck also said he believed the Government anti-trust suit would serve "a good purpose" in that it will clarify the law and "we will know what to do and what not to do," with relation to theatre acquisition.

Twentieth Century-Fox business in England is 50 per cent better than last year and on the upgrade generally in Europe, said Mr. Schenck. He plans to leave for the coast today.

CHICAGO, Sept. 5.—Following a union meeting late last week, operators here stated that they have rejected the exhibitors' demand that the union scale for the coming year's contract be lowered by 10 per cent. Additional meetings between union and exhibitor leaders are planned for the end of this week.

Election Is Slated for Board Meeting Here Tomorrow

Murray Silverstone, chairman of the United Artists executive committee, is slated to be elected president of the company at a meeting of the board of directors here tomorrow. He will fill the vacancy which has existed since the resignation last June of Dr. A. H. Giannini.

The board also has on its agenda the ratification of a new five-year contract with George J. Schaefer as general manager of domestic distribution. It was learned, however, that the new agreement has not yet been consummated and that Mr. Schaefer's name has been mentioned in connection with another office. Whether the two circumstances have any relation to each other or not could not be authoritatively determined over the weekend. Informed quarters, however, are of the opinion that final action on the contract may not materialize at the board meeting.

The United Artists directors, in addition, are scheduled to ratify an administrative plan for the company which is designed to centralize executive authority in the hands of Mr. Silverstone. It is understood that the

More Prizes Added On 20th-Fox Shorts

Movietone and Terry-Toon have offered a total of $2,000 in prize money to cover the domestic organization's revenue returns in the 52-week K-6 seasonal delivery campaign.

W. C. Michel of Movietone and Paul Terry, producer of the Terry-Toons, informed Mr. Wobber of their joint offer of $1,000 each. Division of the prize money will be left to the distribution head.

The 52-week short subjects prize money makes this season the richest in point of awards from that type of films, insofar as this company is concerned. The Movietone-Terry-Toon awards have no relation to Educational's $2,100 in prizes for returns on their unliquidated product or to Movietone's $1,000 prize for News delivery during the drive period.

U. A. Circuit Pays $1.25

United Artists Theatre Circuit, Inc., has declared a regular quarterly dividend for stockholders of record Sept. 1, payable Sept. 15, of $1.25 per share at the rate of five per cent on preferred stock.

Insiders' Outlook

DURING the past week encouraging words for the adoption of a program of trade practice regulation were spoken in three significant quarters. Ed Kuykendall vigorously stated the case for immediate action by the distributors' negotiating committee. Twenty-four hours later Charles C. Pettijohn and W. A. Steffes expressed their belief in the wisdom of, and necessity for, voluntary regulation of trade practices.

This week Sidney R. Kent and his committee—Ned E. Depinet, William F. Rodgers and Abe Montague—are scheduled to hear the opinion of major company counsel on the advisability of proceeding with a program of self-regulation during pendency of the Government's equity suit against the major companies.

The proximity of last week's expressions to this week's meetings may be merely coincidence. On the other hand, it may be a sounding board for what is to happen.

Executive opinion in the industry, while not unanimous, appears to favor prompt action on a program of self-regulation of distributor-exhibitor relationship. Industry legal opinion is more sharply divided, but the dissenters seem to comprise a minority and, if last week's straws-in-the-wind are all that they seem to be at second glance, the minority is destined to be overruled.

The dissenters contend that any feasible plan of self-regulation must, of necessity, entail joint action by distributors, leaving them open to the charge of having violated the Sherman Act.

The advocates of self-regulation reply that this is the attitude which has obstructed self-regulation of trade practices for the past three years, and yet it not only failed to prevent the Government proceeding but, possibly, helped to bring it about. It did not prevent numerous minor suits by private complainants which charged distributors with conspiracy. It will not prevent similar suits in the future as, surely, an industry court of self-regulation could.

The standstill attitude will not prevent the introduction of adverse legislation in Congress and state legislatures, the advocates of voluntary action contend. It is a policy which nourishes trade dissatisfaction — dissatisfaction which gives momentum to agitation for theatre "divorcement," anti-block booking and other regulatory legislation supported by factions unsympathetic and unrelated to the industry.

Again, the opposition to advancement of a trade practice program holds that if the industry is to proceed with the step it should be done only with the approval of the U. S. Attorney General and, presumably, only then if conditioned upon a modification of the Government's equity proceeding.

The executive and legal majority are of one mind in their reply to this. They point out that the Attorney General's office has made it clear that it will not give advance approval to an inter-industry proposal of this kind without formal restrainers, so that such a proposal on the part of the industry would imply a willingness to negotiate a consent decree. Majority opinion, both executive and legal, is strongly averse to a consent decree without abondonment by the Government of its demand for theatre "divorcement." As well to invite Federal legislation for the regulation of trade practices and operate in the future by statute, as to accept a consent decree on the Government's indicated basis, they say.

A voluntary, earnest effort by the industry to solve its sorest problems is hardly likely to furnish grounds for indictment of the participants at a later date, the champions of self-regulation hold. The worst that can happen to the distributors in the way of court proceedings has already happened, they point out. To postpone efforts toward self-regulation now is to aggravate grievances and to perpetuate circumstances which breed private litigation and state and national legislation. To act promptly and favorably is to give immediate relief to a waiting industry and to lessen the probability of new attacks originating from within and without.

G. DeSylva, Ira Gershwin and George Gershwin. "Says My Heart," which was composed by Frank Loesser and Burton Lane, the complaint continued, was released in April, 1938, by the defendants.

Merriam, Shaw Issue Drive Proclamations

LOS ANGELES, Sept. 5.—The State of California and the City of Los Angeles have officially taken cognizance of the Motion Pictures' Greatest Year drive. Gov. Frank F. Merriam and Mayor Frank L. Shaw have issued separate proclamations urging widespread support.

Meanwhile, organized labor played its part by featuring in today's parades huge banners on floats, the banners reading "Motion Pictures Are Your Best Entertainment."

The proclamation issued by Governor Merriam stated:

"Aggressive action has ever been the tradition in the film industry. It is therefore particularly fitting that the industry assume leadership at this time and display its confidence in general business conditions by presenting this series of unusually fine productions.

"For years the motion picture industry has played an important part in American life. In view of these sentiments, now, therefore, I, Frank F. Merriam, Governor of California, do hereby proclaim the period of Sept. 1 to Dec. 31 as Greater Motion Picture Period in California and urge the people of this state to cooperate with the film industry sponsoring various celebrations which will be held throughout the state."

Shaw Lauds Film Quality

The Shaw statement declared: "Whereas, the motion picture industry in all of its phases occupies the principal position in interest and activities of our city; and, whereas, the City of Los Angeles, world-renowned as the capital of the motion picture industry, has a special obligation to support and encourage the advancement of motion picture production as a science, as an art, as an industry and as a medium of public entertainment and education; and, whereas, studios of this metropolitan community are about to release a program of motion pictures that will establish new high standards of quality and appeal; now, therefore, as Mayor of the City of Los Angeles, I do hereby urge upon you all due observance of and participation in this event."

Robert H. Poole, executive secretary, I.T.O. of Southern California and Arizona, has returned from New Mexico and southern Arizona where he went in the interests of the drive. He reported 100 per cent cooperation of independent theatre men.

Warners Issue Three "Daughters" Series

Marking a new departure in film exploitation, Warners have planned three distinct types of campaigns on "Four Daughters," each campaign adaptable to the population limitations of the situation in which it is used.

The pressbook, just out, describes first, the "all type" campaign for discriminating audiences in cities of 1,000,000 and over; secondly, exploitation adaptable to cities of medium size and, finally, a campaign for small towns and for houses where straight "movie" copy is most useful.

Fannie Hurst, author of "Sister Act," from which the film is adapted, will attend the openings in four of the 35 key cities where the picture is scheduled to play.

Reports on Weekend Show Good Response

Unprecedented nationwide public interest has been stirred in the campaign, it is indicated in returns from theatres in the field over the Labor Day weekend. Reports from nearly 200 theatres indicate that the early supply of "Movie Quiz" booklets is practically exhausted, with close to 20,000,000 already given away.

The wide civic cooperation achieved is indicated in the fact that mayors of 150 cities have already or will shortly issue proclamations designating "film week," or otherwise offered personal cooperation with the local drives. The governors of several states also have issued proclamations.

Newspaper coverage likewise has been generous, with free advertisements and other material appearing in a score of newspapers in various parts of the country.

Following the endorsement of the drive by George Browne, president of the I.A.T.S.E., unions over the country have cooperated with floats, parades and the like.

Charles Skouras, in Los Angeles; A. M. Bowles, San Francisco; H. G. Fitzgerald, Milwaukee; Rick Ricketson, Denver; Frank L. Newman, Sr., Seattle; W. R. Lynch, Miami; Myron N. Blank, Des Moines; George Zeppos, Wheeling, W. Va.; Harry L. Nace, Phoenix, Ariz.; William K. Jenkins, Atlanta, and Vincent R. McFaul, Buffalo, all reported to headquarters by wire that the drive had aroused enthusiastic public response, reflected at the box-office.

"Quiz" Booklets Go Fast in Washington

WASHINGTON, Sept. 5.—There is a heavy demand here for "Movie Quiz" booklets. Ten of the pictures in the contest have been played downtown and five more are now on the screen.

A "Go to the Movies" week, with elaborate exploitation, started yesterday. In spite of radio's critical attitude toward the drive Frank La Falce and his publicity committee are trying to get the cooperation of local stations.

"Drums" Widely Shown

As part of a nationwide campaign U. A. is presenting a series of trade showings of "Drums" at which public officials and club representatives have been present in addition to circuit heads and showmen. The film has been screened to date in Washington, Milwaukee, Norfolk, Boston, Chicago and Baltimore. Additional showings are set for Minneapolis, Kansas City, St. Louis, Des Moines, Atlanta, New Orleans, Philadelphia and Detroit.

Grosses Leap On Broadway Over Weekend

third week of "Sing You Sinners" and Phil Spitalny better than the second, and "Letter of Introduction" drew $8,000 to the Rivoli over the holiday. The Capitol, with "Three Loves Has Nancy," reported 24,000 attendance yesterday.

Other reports: Criterion, "10th Ave. Kid," biggest weekend in a long time; Rialto, "Blockheads," very good; Globe, "Safety in Numbers" and "The Gladiator," big improvement. The Brooklyn Paramount, which dualled "Four's a Crowd" and "Bulldog Drummond in Africa," said it nearly doubled last year's holiday figure. Loew's State, playing "Love Finds Andy Hardy" second run with a stage show headed by Ed Sullivan, drew more than 50,000 persons over the weekend, expecting better than $40,000 for the week. The Astor, roadshowing "Marie Antoinette," said the third weekend equalled any since the start of the run.

"Quiz" Strong in Roxy

Broadway first runs reflected scenes which were enacted over the weekend at nearly 9,000 box-offices throughout the United States and Canada which are participating in the drive. The Music Hall had an initial supply of 100,000 contest booklets and reported yesterday that it was preparing estimates for a second order.

The Roxy estimated that it had distributed close to 25,000 booklets from the start of the drive up to last night. Irving Lesser, Roxy manager, expressed genuine enthusiasm over the interest displayed by patrons in the contest. The Loew's Broadway houses, the Capitol, Astor, State and Mayfair, virtually exhausted an initial supply of booklets over the weekend. The same report was made by the RKO Palace.

The Paramount, Rivoli, Strand, Criterion and other Broadway houses participating in the drive reported that the number of booklets distributed over the weekend exceeded their advance estimates of booklet requirements by from 15 to 30 per cent.

The Broadway committee which is devising plans for a public demonstration to add impetus to drive results in the midtown houses are completing plans for a "Hollywood on Broadway" celebration, involving theatre and street decorations and special promotional activities.

Freeman Enthusiastic

Y. Frank Freeman, head of Paramount theatres, revealed that early reports from the company's operating associates in all parts of the country described keen public interest in the contest and immediately beneficial box-office results. He related that all operators mentioned the relatively few booklets which were discarded by patrons, even at houses in which they were distributed to all comers rather than only to those who requested them. Interest in the contest, he pointed out, signifies repeat patronage from the contestants.

of financing by Anglo-American to New Grand National producers. The basis of the deal is the distribution in England of New Grand National product by Anglo-American and distribution here of a selected list of that company's pictures by New Grand National.

The negotiations were in an advanced stage yesterday following conferences at the home of Earle W. Hammons, which were participated in by Louis Jackson of the British company; Edward L. Alperson and Jack Skirball. It was reported that Mr. Jackson's company will reestablish the Elstree studio, which has seen little activity since Gaumont British curtailed its production operations. He is understood to have the backing of Prudential Assurance Co. of London.

The weekend conferences of the New Grand National principals also advanced the company's initial production schedule to the point where a product announcement may be made today. Indications are that with the addition of Anglo-American product the schedule may exceed 50 features.

LONDON, Aug. 27.—Plans to market in Britain a number of dubbed Italian films are being prepared by an officially sponsored organization, B. M. D., Ltd., at the head of which are various Italian functionaries and public figures.

An exchange, on a similar basis, of British films to be shown in Fascist Italy, is likewise foreshadowed, but has not been elaborated in any detail. The first film is "Tonight at Eleven," which is completed. Fifteen others are promised by Z. de L. Bakanowski, managing director of the firm. Commissioner Santangelo, chief of B. M. D.'s Italian activities and director of the Italian Board of Film Censors, gave the venture an official Fascist blessing at a dinner here.

British Houses Earn $55 a Seat Annually

LONDON, Aug. 27.—The earnings capacity of British film houses is £11 ($55) per seat, according to Simon Rowson, as compared with America's £20 ($100) per seat.

"Even if allowance is made for the higher average cost per seat in America, annual earnings there would still be 60 per cent higher. If seats were occupied here as frequently as in America the net box-office receipts would be increased by £25,000,000 annually," he said. He suggests also that among the population in Britain aged 15 years and over 60 per cent never, or rarely, go to the theatre.

Louisiana, Michigan Pleas Killed by FCC

WASHINGTON, Sept. 5.—Lack of any need for additional service was given today by the Federal Communications Commission as the reason for denying the request of KMLB, Monroe, La., for a power increase, also for turning down a proposed new station at Grand Rapids, Mich.

Evidence supporting the KMLB application for a regional assignment was insufficient to justify a finding that better service would result, the commission said, while the management offered no testimony showing that the nature of the programs would be materially changed. Possible interference also stood in the way of the frequency and power changes.

Leonard A. Versluis of Grand Rapids lost his effort to win consent to build a daytime station when the commission said that while local service in the area is not entirely satisfactory the need was not strong enough to warrant adding a station which would injure an established transmitter nearby.

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 5.—The belief that radio columns will not return to local newspapers this fall is current on radio row here, following the appointment of H. C. Bernsten as ad counsellor for the western division of the American Newspaper Publishers' Association. Reports indicate that Mr. Bernsten will try to sell advertisers on the value of newspaper advertising, as compared to the radio brand.

Meanwhile, daily radio logs in the newspapers remain the only method by which listeners can get information concerning the day's programs. No copy or publicity material is carried by the dailies, since the elimination of the radio columns last May.

Discuss Groups to Form Web Policies

Sam Rosenbaum, chairman of Independent Radio Network Affiliates, acting for his organization, met on Friday with Edward Klauber, CBS executive vice-president, and Major Lenox R. Lohr, NBC president, regarding the creation of committees of affiliates at each network to assist in the formation of network policies, which are to be offered in evidence at Washington when Congress resumes its probe of network broadcasting.

The outcome of Friday's discussion is not known, but the talks will be resumed some time this week.

New Shows on the Air

"Good News of 1939"

Star-studded and elaborate, the M-G-M-General Foods Corp. "Good News of 1939" returned to its NBC-Red network groove last Thursday with a program that zipped along happily and entertainingly for the first 30 minutes, but which fell down perceptibly during its final 30 minutes. All in all, however, the program was much more than satisfactory, and listeners should find it one of the most solid hours on the schedules.

As was the case last season, Fannie Brice and Frank Morgan wielded the comedy cudgels. Meredith Willson's orchestra supplied the music, and Robert Young "em ceed," all performing eminently, particularly Morgan Alice Faye sang an overly sentimental song, and Spencer Tracy and Mickey Rooney, stars of "Boys Town," offered power-packed episodes of the film. Louis B. Mayer, vice-president of M-G-M, urged the listeners to cooperate with the Motion Pictures' Greatest Year drive by patronizing their theatres, and he eulogized the work of Father E. J. Flanagan, founder of Boys Town, Neb.

"Good News" is presented Thursdays over the NBC-Red network. In New York it is carried also over WHN. —JACK BANNER

Republic Plans Air Program on Network

HOLLYWOOD, Sept. 5.—Republic will offer, as soon as the format is completed, an air show starring either Roy Rogers, new cowboy star, or Gene Autry for a national network. Beverly Barnett, publicity man, suggested the idea some time ago to Herbert J. Yates and recently was given the approval to work the program up.

Owen Crump, veteran local air producer, will produce the show with Mr. Barnett writing the script. The program, as now planned, will be 30 minutes long—15 minutes variety and 15 minutes of drama. Smiley Burnette will be given the second featured spot on the program. Mr. Autry's deal will have to be handled by his own agent, as the studio has no control over his air deals.

Jergens Renews Two Shows Over NBC Net

The Jergens-Woodbury Sales Corp. has renewed its two current NBC programs for 13 weeks, as of Oct. 2. The programs are the "Hollywood Playhouse," which will return to the NBC-Blue on the above date, succeeding "Win Your Lady," and Walter Winchell's broadcasts. Lennen & Mitchell is the agency.

The Cummer Products Co., for Energine, has signed Paul Wing's "Spelling Bee," which, starting Sept. 11, will take the place of "Spy Stories," currently sponsored by the company. Stack-Goble set the deal.

Reports of Italian Quota Slash Gain Credence Here

A United Press dispatch from Rome, published in New York yesterday, to the effect that the Italian-United States film agreement of 1936 will be denounced by Italy soon, and that the quota of American films will be reduced, was given credence in distribution circles here yesterday.

According to the published dispatch, the quota on American films will be reduced from 250 annually to a total of 150 per year. The report went on to say that the first intimations of the Italian Government intention to alter the current quota situation came when the Government failed to assign quotas on Sept. 1 for the final quarter of the current calendar year. Distributors of all foreign nations, including the United States, are unable to import foreign films until the Government assigns quotas for each quarter.

It was explained here yesterday that rumors have been filtering into distribution offices for the past week or 10 days indicating that some similar action was contemplated by the Italian authorities. However, it was said, no official communication had been received up to late yesterday from Rome recording any changes in the present agreement. Some quarters here yesterday were inclined to the belief that the report might be

Three Million "Quiz" Books Are Used Here

A total of 3,456,000 "Movie Quiz" booklets ordered by theatres in the Greater New York area which are participating in the Motion Pictures' Greatest Year compaign was distributed to patrons during the first six days of the drive, according to campaign headquarters estimates yesterday. New orders for an additional 250,000 booklets were received yesterday.

The largest single theatre order was that of the Music Hall, with 100,000 copies. The Brooklyn Paramount had an initial order of 75,000, and the Roxy, Strand and Paramount, 25,000 each. The Roxy has ordered an additional 25,000. Loew's 60 metropolitan

Trade Talks to Be Resumed Next Week

Major company attorneys probably will not meet with the distributors' negotiating committee before next week to divulge formally their views on the advisability of proceeding with a voluntary trade practice program while the Government equity proceeding is pending, it was indicated yesterday.

Sidney R. Kent, who returned to New York from Maine over the weekend, is expected to call a meeting of the committee within the next few days. It is not believed likely, however, that counsels' views will be presented to the committee at that time.

Mexican Union Flareup Shuts Film Studios

By JAMES LOCKHART

Mexico City, Sept. 6.—Mexican production, which has been having its best year since the inception of the industry in this country in 1930, suffered a crushing blow when 38 studios suspended activity as a result of the new flareup between the Federation of Film Workers and the National Union of Studio Workers. The root of the trouble is the continuing effort of the former group to dominate the labor of the industry.

A one-day strike was called against the Cine Palacio, first run house here, when it attempted to show a Mexican-made film. The federation enforced a boycott against the film, claiming it

Strand Policy Hit Causing Extension

With the success of the band policy at the Strand on Broadway, Warners plan to return stage shows at the Brooklyn Strand, probably late next week, and may extend similar policies to out of town theatres.

The Brooklyn Strand is slated to go on a vaudeville-picture schedule on a full-week basis. The policy may start Sept. 16 with Ted King's orchestra in the pit. Last fall and winter the theatre had weekend stage shows.

Quorum Lack May Set Back U.A. Meeting

Silverstone's Election Scheduled to Come Up

Lack of a quorum may force postponement until tomorrow of the meeting of the United Artists board of directors which was scheduled for today to elect Murray Silverstone to the presidency of the company and to ratify an administrative plan which will have the effect of centering the principal executive authority in the new president.

The new administrative order is described by company officials as a natural outgrowth of the centering of the executive functions of the company in New York, rather than on the coast, as was the case up to the time of the resignation of Dr. A. H. Giannini from the company presidency last June. The dual executive headquarters—east and west coast—made it necessary to apportion definite execu-

Ascap's Washington Appeal to Be Filed

Herman Finkelstein of the law firm of Schwartz & Frohlich, counsel for Ascap, today will file the music licensing society's appeal to the U. S. Supreme Court from the recent Federal statutory court decision dismissing Ascap's attack on the constitutionality of the Washington law barring the society from operating in that state.

The appeal papers will be filed in Washington, D. C., together with a brief contesting the statutory court's ruling that it lacked jurisdiction in the case because Ascap had failed to show that the $3,000 minimum damage was involved in the enactment of the law.

The appeal will be placed on the Supreme Court calendar for hearing next winter.

Vitaphone Studio To Reopen Monday

Although Warners' Vitaphone studio in Brooklyn will not reopen officially until next Monday, Sam Sax, studio head, has gone into action and has whipped his schedule into shape. He has just signed Ted Lewis for a short, has made a new contract with Floyd Gibbons for a continuation of his "Your True Adventure" shorts, and has completed arrangements to include six Technicolor single reelers in the year's program. Mr. Gibbons will resume Monday.

A total of 90 one- and two-reelers will be made at the studio this year. There will be 22 two-reel subjects, and 68 one-reel, including the Technicolors. Arrangements have been concluded with Eastern Service Studios for the use of a Technicolor camera and crew.

Mr. Sax spent five and one-half weeks in California this year and returned with the announcement that Brooklyn would continue to make all except the historical Technicolor shorts. There is a possibility that some of these may be done here.

The permanent organization of 650 will be functioning next Monday. This studio is the only short reel unit keeping up to its schedule, Mr. Sax said. This enables him to hire many top actors who would not usually be available, for they can plan ahead and do a short between long jumps or coast engagements.

Schenck Delays His Departure for Coast

Joseph M. Schenck, 20th Century-Fox chairman of the board, has deferred his departure for the coast until today. He arrived Monday from Europe and had planned to leave today, but stayed over for conferences with S. R. Kent, president. He will be accompanied by Joseph H. Moskowitz, his eastern assistant, who plans to remain on the coast three weeks.

Hart Starts Third Suit Against U. A.

William S. Hart has instituted a third action against United Artists for an accounting of profits on the distribution of his picture, "Tumbleweeds," it was learned yesterday.

Joseph M. Schenck was made a codefendant in the new action and both he and United Artists have been served. The action is being brought in N. Y. Supreme Court. In his first action, brought in the same court, Mr. Hart was awarded an $85,000 verdict which was reversed later on appeal by United Artists. The second action was brought in U. S. District Court here and dismissed. The dismissal was affirmed on appeal to the U. S. Circuit Court of Appeals, and Mr. Hart's final appeal is pending now in the U. S. Supreme Court.

Columbia to Start British Film Soon

Columbia's first British production under the new quota laws is titled "Q Planes" and is scheduled to go into production shortly, J. A. McConville, foreign manager, said yesterday. An original story by J. B. Priestly is slated for the second production.

A minimum of three British productions at an approximate cost of $1,000,000 was announced by Mr. McConville on his return from Europe recently. The pictures will be made at the Denham studios under the supervision of Irving Asher.

Sears Returns with Interstate Contract

Gradwell L. Sears, Warners general sales manager, returned to his office yesterday after a 10-day trip in the midwest during which he negotiated the Interstate circuit deal in Dallas.

Roy Haines, eastern and Canadian sales manager, will leave tonight for Detroit and Cincinnati, to return the end of the week. Ben Kalmenson, western and southern sales head, has returned from a business trip to Des Moines and Chicago.

Says Trust Hearings Will Begin Oct. 15

Washington, Sept. 6. — Hearings on the anti-trust investigation being prepared by the joint Congressional-executive committee will not begin until Oct. 15, it was predicted today by Congressman Edward Eicher. Material in preparation will not be ready until that time, he said.

Chairman Joseph C. O'Mahoney of Wyoming will return next week and meetings of the probers will begin then, it was stated.

Hammons Consistent

Earle W. Hammons, president of Educational, still holds to his long-established belief that double features are the greatest evil in exhibition practice, despite his recent designation as head of New Grand National.

Asked whether his association with the feature producing company had altered the opinion of dualing which he held as president of the short subject producing company, Mr. Hammons replied: "Decidedly not; I believe as I always have that double featuring is the most injurious practice to the entire industry now in use."

Guild Pacts Cover New Grand National

Existing contracts between the Screen Actors Guild, Educational and Grand National cover the contingency of a merger such as that recently completed by the two producing companies and make it unnecessary to negotiate a new guild contract to cover the company's proposed feature production in the east, it was stated at guild headquarters here yesterday.

Mrs. Florence Marston, eastern head of the guild, revealed that the organization's contracts also cover the production activities of subsidiaries of the companies with which they are made. They apply to production by signatories on either coast, she said.

A meeting of the advisory committee of the guild will be called within a week or two to act on closing the eastern branch's membership roles to new applicants.

Mrs. Marston, who returned recently from a six-week motor trip to and from the coast, reported that working agreements have been reached by the guild with commercial producers in Detroit and Chicago, under which such producers agree to maintain guild working conditions. Contracts have not been signed yet, however.

G. N. Product Talks Are Continuing Here

Conferences on the initial production schedule for New Grand National, which were begun over the Labor Day weekend, had not been completed yesterday. Earle W. Hammons, president of the new company; Edward L. Alperson, vice-president and distribution head, and Jack Skirball, Educational general manager, are participating in the conferences. A schedule of approximately 50 features and westerns is indicated.

The negotiations by Louis Jackson, London financier, would make additional financing available to the new company in return for British distribution rights to its product, likewise have not been concluded. Further conferences between Mr. Hammons and Mr. Jackson are scheduled for today.

And now the trade press is agog with M-G-M's "Marionette Moviettes." Now starting a countrywide tour and then around the world! Marionettes enacting scenes from "Marie Antoinette" with synchronized records of the stars themselves delivering the dialogue. Thrilling to hear. Fascinating to watch. It created a traffic bedlam on blase Broadway. Other big forthcoming attractions will be added to the repertoire as it proceeds on its way.

Crosby to Make One Film for Universal

HOLLYWOOD, Sept. 6.—Bing Crosby has signed a deal with Universal for one picture. J. Cheever Cowdin, chairman of the board, who flew in from New York, handled the arrangements for the contract personally.

The deal gives Mr. Crosby a financial interest in the picture to be made similar to the interest the actor had in a film he made for Emanuel Cohen. The film for Universal will start about Oct. 15, but no story or director has been selected as yet. Mr. Cowdin returned to New York after the deal was completed. The actor is permitted to make one outside picture a year, under his contract with Paramount.

New Lobby Stunt Shown

A Christmas season peep show stunt called "Cute Kris Kringle" was demonstrated for the press yesterday by Yermie Stern, night club impresario who heads Yermie Stern Commercial Attractions. The stunt utilizes a small prop house replete with snow, toy reindeer, fir trees and other Yuletide paraphernalia. Santa Claus is seen through a small window in the center of the house when a toy telephone is picked up. The image is about three inches high and has every semblance of being human. There is nothing mechanical about his movements and he'll do almost anything requested. A toy train runs about.

Michael Todd, inventor of the stunt, said that various circuit heads and theatre owners have shown interest in his work. How the "production" works is a secret. It is patented.

King Charney, Inc., will be changed to Agfa Raw Film Corp. and the company will continue its business at its present quarters in Hollywood."

Operators of colored theatres banded together accordingly and have subscribed funds to pay for the advertisments themselves. There are roughly 15 theatres in Washington catering exclusively to the colored trade. Each theatre has subscribed 100 per cent to the campaign.

at the first hearing on the reorganizer's motion to confirm the report of Special Master George W. Alger approving the reorganization plan. This hearing, originally scheduled for tomorrow, was at first believed to be destined for only a brief postponement, but now appears to be definitely off until the end of the month. Indications are that it will not be held before Sept. 26 and that the anticipated agreement on a new board and management by that time will dictate the setting of the new hearing date.

Judge Bondy Will Return

Judge Bondy is vacationing in the south, but advised the reorganizers last week that he would return for a postponed hearing next week if requested to do so. It is understood that Judge Bondy was informed that the reorganizers preferred several weeks additional time and that no objection was encountered.

The extended delay, also, will permit whatever tentative agreements on board and management may be made within the next few weeks to be submitted to David Sarnoff for approval on the return of the RCA head from Europe in about two weeks. Some reorganization quarters believe that no agreement will be finalized before Mr. Sarnoff's return.

Delay to Be Sought For Hearing on RKO

Application will be made tomorrow by Col. Hamilton C. Rickaby, attorney for Atlas Corp., it was revealed yesterday in the U. S. District Court, for the adjournment of the hearing on the confirmation of the RKO reorganization plan to the latter part of the last week in September. The request for an adjournment will be sought from U. S. District Judge Samuel Mandelbaum because Judge William Bondy, who will hold the hearing, will not return from his vacation until late in September.

Special Master George W. Alger's application for an allowance for his services, to be fixed by Judge Bondy, will also be adjourned, it was learn yesterday.

Harris, the publishers of the three local newspapers, the Post-Gazette, Press and Sun-Telegraph, have agreed to furnish a free quarter-page advertisement each to promote the drive.

The publishers have also told their dramatic and city editors to give as much extra space as space will permit.

"Band" Third Week Leader In the Loop

CHICAGO, Sept. 6.—"Alexander's Ragtime Band," in a third week, was still the sweetest tune to Loop box-offices. At the Chicago it grossed $41,000 to beat by the average by $9,000. Prior arrangements caused the theatre to let the picture go, although a fourth and fifth week of profit were in sight.

At the Palace "Carefree" was a strong attraction and gave the house $27,000, which was the best business in months. "Marie Antoinette" at the United Artists was another strong picture and grossed $21,000, $6,000 over average. "Boy Meets Girl" at the Roosevelt was another moneymaker.

Stage About to Get 2nd Oratory Tonic

Ever since films ousted "the living drama" as America's No. 1 entertainment, tycoons of the stage have been worrying about ways and means of "reviving the legitimate." Last year producers, actors, critics and others got together in a convention in New York and decided that the theatre needed streamlining.

Next Tuesday, at the Hotel Astor, a Second National Convention of the Legitimate Theatre will be held to further consider streamlining measures. "The movies" and Hollywood are conspicuously on the agenda.

Hollywood Letter

Dear Editor:

THERE was much about the dinner Louis B. Mayer gave last week for Rev. E. J. Flanagan, founder of Boys Town, Neb., that was not like Hollywood. For one thing, it was served in the new Irving Thalberg building, no mere lath and stucco studio structure but a towering, rambling edifice of steel and stone more reminiscent of your own Rockefeller Center, done in white. For another, the guest of honor was no mere creator of pen-and-ink or celluloid literature but a man who had written, with lives and souls for materials, a flesh and blood drama so vast and deep that all of M-G-M's horses and men managed barely to catch it in their great picture of the same name.

Nor was the host merely another executive putting on a publicity stunt for a production just coming off the line. Midway in his remarks extolling the virtues of Boys Town, the community, he said he hoped his picture would represent it with some small measure of accuracy. Mr. Mayer surveyed the circle of Catholic, Protestant and Jewish clergymen seated about his table and bluntly offered to donate his money, time and influence to the uses of any Man of God who would undertake to establish in this community an institution patterned after Father Flanagan's. That's what Hollywood, slangily, calls laying it on the line.

Blunt "Scotty" Dunlap, whose equine casts often outnumber his biped personnel, is too busy, most of the time, making a picture with each hand, to find fault with things he can't see from the chair on his side of his desk. But the other day one of his visitors asked him what effect the spread of unionism in the industry was having on his overhead and he let go a little. Time was, he said, when you hired 30 cowboys for a film and they rode their horses from the stables to the location and back as a matter of course. Now a duly organized wrangler must fetch, deliver, retrieve and return the nags, at $1.05 per hour, and the wranglers arrive at location before the sun gets around. It isn't the principle of the thing that annoys him, he says, it's the cost.

Howard Benedict of RKO has "seen" Bob Taplinger of Warners, the young man who set a new high in the art of devising captivating invitations to previews, and raised him a stack of blue chips. The Benedict bid to the "Room Service" preview was delivered to prospective guests at their homes in a 10-inch cubical box lettered "Did You Call for Room Service?" and containing precisely what you'd have got from the bellhop if you had, indeed, called for room service at such a hostelry as, say, the Waldorf—including tray. (If you must know, a pinch-bottle of Haig & Haig, imported lime mix and glass.)

Labor Day nobody did.

The Universal deal to produce Bing Crosby's annual outside picture jelled pronto after J. Cheever Cowdin arrived in town. Everybody, almost, wanted a go at a Crosby picture, which is regarded as surefire, but he wasn't expected to sign up until he had closed Del Mar, his downstate jockey club. So there are those around who whisper that Bing broke smartly from the barrier because the ponies had sort of got to him, but that's mathematically impossible. Everybody in Hollywood knows you can't lose money with a racetrack—if you own it.

Buck Jones is going to act in "Vice Squad" for Paramount without a horse . . . David O. Selznick has bought Daphne du Maurier's Book of the Month, "Rebecca," for Carole Lombard and $50,000 . . . Edward Sutherland has closed a four-year contract with Hal Roach and will start work on Zenobia's "Infidelity," the elephant picture Roach hopes nobody will forget . . . Edward Small has assigned Alfred E. Greene to direct "The Duke of West Point," his first for United Artists under the recently consummated affiliation . . . Warners will pour Technicolor on "Dodge City," with Errol Flynn as star.

Bette Davis will play Carlotta to Paul Muni's Maximilian (if that's his role in it) in Warners' "Juarez," about which Hal Wallis and other W.B. executives have been seeing President Cardenas at home in his Mexico. It ought to be quite a picture if it doesn't get expropriated. . . . There's talk of talk between Eddie Cantor and M-G-M about a picture for him to make instead of the one he didn't make for 20th Century-Fox. His next probably will not be, in any case, another lampooning of the New Deal. Some of the voters didn't care for "Ali Baba." . . . C. Gardner Sullivan, who used to write two out of every three good pictures for Thomas H. Ince in Triangle's glory years but hasn't been so active recently, has been commissioned by Paramount to do an original. He and his writing are not to be confused with Ed Sullivan and his.

The house will replace the old Palm.

taken as corroboration of the recent rumors of impending changes.

The agreement of 1936 was concluded late in that year after a visit to Rome of Will Hays, president of the M. P. P. D. A., who discussed the matter with Premier Mussolini, The chief provisions of that arrangement were the setting of an import quota of 250 American films annually, and a limit of 20,000,000 lire free exchange for American companies. The deal became effective on July 1, 1937.

Certain distribution executives, who declined to be quoted, described the report as entirely likely, and not unexpected. It was seen as a possible first step in what might eventually be the complete abrogation of the existing Italian-American film treaty. It was explained that the Italian Government arbitrarily sets a quota on imports for each quarter, with the proviso that the annual total shall not exceed 250.

Rome Sees Pact Abandonment

ROME, Sept. 6.—Pessimism exists in American film circles here as a result of well-authenticated reports that Italy will denounce the Hays-Mussolini accord and reduce the American import quota from 250 to 150 pictures. The Government on Sept. 1 failed to assign quotas for the last quarter of 1938 and it is believed that this quota will not be assigned for two weeks. Until it is set, American distributors cannot import additional films.

"Warn" Paramount

Rome, Sept. 6.—Reports here state that the Italian Government, through its embassy in Washington, warned Paramount to abandon plans to revive "A Farewell to Arms," saying that to issue the film would make the company's position in Italy most difficult.

John B. Kennedy, radio commentator, will replace Jean Paul King as narrator of News of the Day, effective with the issue which is being generally shown today.

Bill Stern, who is also connected with radio, is another addition to the reel's vocal staff. He will handle sport comment. Adelaide Hawley, editor of the Women's Page, will continue in that capacity.

initial attraction, has increased the theatre's take from 25 to 30 per cent over the straight picture average, it is reported. The management expects the increase to go to between 40 and 50 per cent over the normal for films only by the time the policy is well established.

With Byron F. (Dinty) Moore, formerly metropolitan manager of Warner theatres here, taking charge of the Standard group of 11 theatres in Oklahoma City, the possibility of a return of modified stage shows or name bands is seen for the Criterion or Midwest there.

Mr. Moore said he hopes to begin a policy of part-time vaudeville at one of these houses. He is credited with having much to do with the adoption of new policy at the Broadway Strand. The Standard circuit in Oklahoma City is a combination of Warner, Paramount and Joseph Cooper holdings.

May Reopen at Oklahoma

OKLAHOMA CITY, Sept. 6.—The Empress and Folly, Standard circuit houses here, may be reopened in the near future, under plans of Byron F. (Dinty) Moore, who arrived here recently to take over his duties as general manager of the circuit.

W. B. Shuttee, city manager, has been named assistant general manager.

Mexican Union Flareup Shuts Film Studios

was made under unfair labor conditions.

The producers have sought the intervention of President Lazaro Cardenas, declaring that the attitude of the unions is all wrong, and threatens to kill one of the country's most promising industries, throwing thousands out of work, and making the present depression even mor acute.

The new trouble came as a surprise, because the Confederation of Mexican Workers, the country's strongest labor organization, only recently apparently brought peace to the troubled film labor situation. There is some hope of a settlement of the dispute this week as a result of the expected intervention of President Cardenas, but fears are expressed in some quarters that the fight may become national. At present it is confined to this city. The press has criticized the unions sharply, El Universal, local daily, for example, asserting that the Mexican film industry has been killed by Mexicans.

NBC Billings Hit New August High, Total $2,941,099

Billings of NBC for August rose 5.6 per cent over the same period a year ago to $2,941,099, an all-time high for the month. August billings in 1937 amounted to $2,784,977. It was the ninth successive month that NBC gross revenue has exceeded that for the corresponding period of the previous year.

Cumulative billings for the first eight months of 1938 totaled $26,923,483, up 5.8 per cent over the $25,440,534 total for the same period of 1937.

To Celebrate Stone Anniversary on Air

Fred Stone's 50th anniversary as an actor will be celebrated on the air Sept. 12 over the NBC-Red network in a special program, with the entire Stone family, Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt, and stage notables paying him tribute. The program will be heard from 7:30 to 8 P. M.

Mrs. Roosevelt will come to New York to salute Mr. Stone over the air. Mr. Stone will be heard from the dressing room of the Golden Theatre, where he is rehearsing for the play "Lightnin'," which will open Sept. 15 with the veteran in the lead. Among the others who will participate are Rex Beach and George M. Cohan.

Suggests Study of Air Needs of Client

San Francisco, Sept. 6.—Radio sales should be based on detailed study of client's needs, followed by construction of a program suiting those requirements, William S. Ryan, NBC sales manager here, declared in an address before the local sales Managers' Association.

Mr. Ryan urged specific aid for specific accounts be given a salesman by the sales promotion department, also advocating that full credit for sales go to the men who make them, rather than the sales manager. The latter, he said, should be willing to stand on the record of his department.

To Broadcast from China

Paul Dorsey, newspaperman, is en route to the Sino-Japanese war zone for a series of broadcasts to the United States over NBC. The Japanese government has promised full cooperation, agreeing to provide a military escort and to allow uncensored broadcasts since Dorsey will report what he sees without voicing editorial opinion. His various broadcasts will be sent to America via RCA facilities.

Dorothy Alt Sails Today

Dorothy Alt, Canada's top ranking radio rhythm singer, is in New York and will sail on the Queen Mary today for London to appear on commercial programs for the J. Walter Thompson agency in England. Miss Alt was signed by Stanley Maxted, now chief producer for J. Walter Thompson in Europe and formerly regional program chief for the CBC at Toronto.

By Request

Sept. 6.—Announcer Allen Anthony of KWK will be careful about "kidding" the public hereafter.

During a sustainer on KWK he requested his listeners to send in some bottle caps, carton tops or anything they had handy—just kidding. The result was the immediate delivery to the station by mail, express and truck of the wildest assortment of junk imaginable and it cost the station a tidy sum to haul it away.

WLW Will Supervise Shows More Closely

Cincinnati, Sept. 6. — Stricter supervision of programs than has been maintained heretofore will be the policy at WLW from now on, according to an edict from James D. Shouse, vice-president of the Crosley Radio Corp.

Henceforth, no transcribed programs will be carried after 7 P.M.. This rule, now in effect, wil be enforced as current contracts run out. Medical accounts in the proprietary classification will be rigidly censored by station officials. Many of these already have been cancelled. No future accounts will be accepted where merchandise of any description is offered directly to the consumer. Distribution of sample will be permitted only if the offers are bona fide and represent value received, as determined by competent appraisers. Commercials of a religious nature will be banned, and no time under any circumstances will be sold for programs containing propaganda of any nature. The station, however, will give time gratis for any cause considered to be of sufficient public interest, but these must not in any way incorporate a commercial angle.

Bowers Joins Mutual Net

Edward Bowers, formerly western manager for the Paul H. Raymer Co., special representatives, has joined the sales force of the Mutual network in New York City.

Garod Demonstrates Television Receiver

Television kits, with which amateurs can construct their own television receivers for the home, were demonstrated here last night by the Garod Radio Corp. The kits will be placed on sale today for $100 and a companion sound receiver will be placed on sale at the same time for $26.75.

The demonstration, a pickup of a regular NBC experimental television program, revealed a well-defined image on a screen 2¾ by 3¾ inches. The picture, sharp at closeup, loses clarity at a distance of five or more feet from the screen. The latter condition is a fault common to most small screens.

Operating under licenses of RCA and the Hazeltine patents, the Garod kit uses 15 tubes in addition to a five-inch cathode ray tube. The set, according to the manufacturer, can be assembled by the average technically-minded experimentor. However, a service bureau has been established to give advice and instruction free of charge to purchasers.

The kit will be placed on sale at the stores of the Wholesale Radio Service Co. in Manhattan, Fordham and Jamaica.

Biggar to Join WLW

Cincinnati, Sept. 6.—George C. Biggar, program director of WLS, Chicago, will join WLW-WSAI as supervisor of the artists bureau. Biggar also will have charge of the theatre units which WLW plans to send on the road this season in conjunction with broadcasts.

Miss Carrington Signed

Elaine Stern Carrington, author of the radio serial, "Pepper Young's Family," has been engaged to write six half-hour skits for the "Dr. Christian" program, which stars Jean Hersholt.

KOIL to Air Premiere

Omaha, Sept. 6.—KOIL will be the outlet for the Mutual chain of 107 stations in coverage of the world premiere of "Boys Town" here tomorrow.

New Shows on the Air

"Life Can Be Beautiful"

Procter & Gamble has some pretty promising and pretty awful radio script programs floating about the networks, and a newcomer, "Life Can Be Beautiful," takes its place among the former.

"Life Can Be Beautiful" tells the story of a 19-year-old girl who, deserted by her mother and pursued by a worthless roue, runs away and finds refuge in a book shop conducted by a Papa David. All of which sounds awfully corny, but authors Carl Bixby and Don Becker have given the script some believable dialogue, which the principals, Alice Reinhart, Earle Larrimore and Waldemar Kappel, read with telling effect.

"Life Can Be Beautiful" is presented daily at 4:30 P.M. over 23 stations of the NBC-Basic-Red network.

Governor Hoffman

Harold G. Hoffman, ex-Governor (of New Jersey) and ex-newspaperman, essays something new Sundays on WOR, and ere long one suspects that Mr. Hoffman may be able to append "ex-radio news commentator" to the list of his professional achievements.

In donning the robes of a radio news commentator, Mr. Hoffman forgot to doff the habiliment of the professional politician. Mr. Hoffman read his inaugural news script just as if he were addressing a political gathering. Among the subjects he discussed: the strained feeling existing between our government and Mexico because of the oil seizures; the death of Cardinal Hayes, the Nuremburg Congress, the President's "invasion" of Maryland, and other topics in the news. The talks are presented Sundays at 9 P.M., under the sponsorship of the House of Renault, winemakers.

Bioff Alleged To Be in Pay Of Producers

Jeff Kibre Charges that $100,000 Was Passed

Hollywood, Sept. 7.—Alleging that by "gifts, donations, concessions and payments" to William Bioff, major studios and the Association of Motion Picture Producers have obtained dominance and control of four large Hollywood I.A.T.S.E. locals, Jeff Kibre, styling himself chairman of the Motion Picture Technicians Committee, today filed before the Los Angeles Regional Labor Relations Board charges of violation of the Wagner Act against the association and eight member studios.

The lengthy complaint contained the charge that the association, "for and on behalf of the association itself and on behalf of producers caused to be paid to William Bioff $100,000 on June 23, 1937, for the purpose of bringing

Unions in Mexico Seek Control of Producer Group

By JAMES LOCKHART

Mexico City, Sept. 7.—The production situation in Mexico has become further tangled by the efforts of the two labor unions responsible for the suspension of all production here to attempt to attain complete control of the producers' association.

The two labor organizations, the Federation of Film Workers and the National Union of Studio Workers, have been waging a bitter feud for some time, each seeking to dominate all studio labor. Recently the Con-

Philadelphia, Sept. 7.—Decision was reserved today on a plea which seeks to restrain the showing of newsreel cameramen's views of the "Klondike," punishment cells in Holmesburg prison where, allegedly, four convicts were baked to death in a disciplinary measure against prison hunger strikers. Arguments, which were held behind closed doors, lasted more than two hours.

In reserving decision, Judge Flood, of common pleas court, declared, "This is a very important question. It deserves due consideration and I promise a prompt decision."

Assistant District Attorney Boyle, objecting to the showing of the films, resorted to a 300-year-old English

Total in 24 Key Spots $1,425,276 Reaches to Late Spring Level

Key city grosses for the week ending Sept. 1-2, the final week of the 1937-'38 season, took a jump that put them back close to the level of the best months of the year—January, February and March. The total was $1,425,276 for 136 first run houses reporting to Motion Picture Daily from 23 key spots.

Only once since last March has this figure been surpassed. That was for the week ending April 22-23, when the Easter impetus made itself felt. Labor Day week grosses, for which the records are not complete as yet, are expected to go far ahead of any week during the season just closed.

The increased business made itself felt sharply in mid-August, the week ending Aug. 18-19, to be exact.

"Ragtime Band" Tops

"Alexander's Ragtime Band" has been the banner-carrier of the recent successes. Other big grossers have been "Love Finds Andy Hardy," "The Rage of Paris," "Algiers," "Four's a Crowd," "Racket Busters," and some others. With "Marie Antoinette," "Spawn of the North," "You Can't Take It with You," "Carefree," "Letter of Introduction," "Sing You Sinners" and "Four Daughters" now in circulation, another big gross increase seems certain.

Conditions began to improve before the Motion Pictures' Greatest Year campaign and the "Movie Quiz" contest opened. These combined with the strong pictures now out now have circuit heads convinced that the ad campaign slogan will be something more than that shortly.

Twentieth Century-Fox Film Corp. yesterday filed its answer in the U. S. The defendant denied plagiarism and claimed the picture was based on an original story by Reginald Berkeley. The answer also claimed that the plaintiff's play is a part of the public domain, because it is allegedly not copyrighted in the United States. Twentieth Century-Fox also questioned the regularity of a decree which Llaguno obtained in Mexico in which it was ruled there was plagiarism.

Independents' Drive Pledges Still Pour In

Pledges to the Motion Pictures' Greatest Year campaign fund from independent exhibitors are still being received at campaign headquarters in a steady flow, drive officials reported yesterday.

Heavy weekend business and unusually good theatre attendance Tuesday and yesterday at theatres entered in the "Movie Quiz" contest is credited with having convinced undecided exhibitors of the business worth of the campaign and contest. Exhibitors still have time to enter, it was pointed out, as their patrons can qualify for the contest prizes by answering a minimum of 30 contest questions of the 94 listed in the "Movie Quiz" booklets.

As a result of the continued flow of entries it appeared likely that the independents' quota would be oversubscribed by approximately $40,000 and that the goal of 9,000 contest theatres would be reached with ease.

C. of C. Cooperating

The New York West Side Association of Commerce has offered its cooperation to the Broadway drive committee, which will make possible the stringing of a banner across Broadway at 45th St. and the staging of promotional activities for the drive which are ordinarily banned in the Times Square area.

Similar cooperation for the drive was reported in all sections of the country. The Boston Sunday Advertiser is using large signs on its delivery trucks calling attention to the prize contest. Daily stories on the drive are being carried by the Boston American and Boston Daily Record. The Providence, R. I., Gas Co. is contributing several large ads to local newspapers boosting the campaign. The Providence Journal is cooperating editorially.

Department stores and surface cars in Easton, Pa., are aiding in publicizing the drive. In Atlanta, civic authorities cooperated with the regional committee to make possible a huge parade, street decorations, a mayoral proclamation and liberal local publicity.

Loew's Report Improvement

Loew's circuit managers in all parts of the country reported a decided business pickup with the opening of the contest and campaign, Oscar Doob, advertising and publicity director for the circuit, said.

The West Side Association is sponsoring a committee of leading business men and city officials to promote activities designed to emphasize the part played by motion pictures in combating the recession. Mayor La Guardia has been asked to serve as honorary chairman. Members of the committe include the following:

I. T. O., and E. S. Calvi to represent the I. T. O. at the meetings with three F. W. C. executives. Jules C. Goldstone, attorney for Mr. Hansen, announced that a pact affecting clearance of films for the Vogue and Tower, theatres near Compton, was reached with the circuit. No details of the settlement were given.

The difficulties were ironed out by Harold Buckley and Arch Bowles, the latter coming from San Francisco for the conferences. Mr. Goldstone previously had threatened anti-trust action against F. W. C. The decision to arrive at a peaceful settlement without litigation was part of Charles Skouras' recent invitation to independents to confer with him about any real or fancied grievances. His bid was made at an exhibitor meeting in behalf of the Motion Pictures' Greatest Year drive.

Brothers Compete

"Room Service"

(RKO)

Hollywood, Sept. 7.—Broad comedy is the spirit of this farce. Characterizations, dialogue and situations combine to give the film version of the John Murray-Allan Boretz play amusement quality in keeping with the stage success.

The usual tendency of the Marx Brothers to interpolate, improvise and deviate from the script is held to a minimum. The plot follows the theme of the original with only a few topical exceptions. It is practically devoid of romantic love interest. The theme is keynoted continually to low comedy that concentrates on one main purpose, the nonsensical antics of Groucho, a fly-by-night play producer, and his aides, Chico and Harpo, who live in a hotel while they attempt to stage a play which they don't own and for which they have no financial backer. They make life a bedlam for Cliff Dunstan, hotel manager, disillusion Frank Albertson, a yokel author, and run into conflict with Donald MacBride, the hotel supervisor. Meanwhile they try to arrange finances by hook or crook. All this gives rise to some of the most raucous amusement the screen has seen in many moons.

The foolishness stressed in early reels turns to travesty when, to forestall the wrath of MacBride, who has been hoodwinked into becoming the show's backer, the trio pose Albertson as the corpse of a man driven to self-destruction by villainous demands for blood money. But this, as well as Harpo's suicide, which the audience understands is but an item of the trio's trickery, serves to give them time to put on the play. It was received with glee by a first night audience and promises to be a financial bonanza.

The characters played by the Marx Brothers are completely different from previous appearances. They retain their individual personsalities but also play straight roles. Members of the original stage company—MacBride, Dunstan and Phillip Wood—appear in the parts they created, while Phillip Loeb surrendered his original character to Chico, to be featured as a whimsical bill collector. This group, with Albertson, carry the brunt of the show. Lucille Ball and Ann Miller, the feminine representation, have comparatively little to do.

Morrie Ryskind, in adapting the play, smartly chose to hew to the line and letter of the play. William A. Seiter directed the production similarly.

Average audiences in the mood for farce comedy—and there are plenty of available exploitation ideas with which to whip them up to that state—should find "Room Service" comic amusement.

Running time, 75 minutes. "A." G. McC.

"The Higgins Family"

Elements that make pleasant entertainment for the family trade are plentiful in "The Higgins Family." The story is a simple, humorous affair about Mr. Everyman and his family. Light complications are introduced for comic effect. The denouement is another variation of the reliable chase device. The cast features the expert talents of James, Lucille and Russell Gleason, Lynn Roberts, Harry Davenport, William Bakewell and Wallis Clark. Gus Meins directed.

Gleason is an advertising man who is given charge of a big account while his boss is on a trip. The client arrives to arrange the deal. Gleason invites him home to dinner. They arrive to find the house in disorder and no dinner. Mrs. Gleason, it seems, has been rehearsing her amateur dramatic company. There is confusion and Paul Harvey, the client, calls the deal off. Gleason, next day, however, smooths things out. They are ready to sign when Mrs. Gleason is heard on the radio in a sidewalk interview during which she gives her opinion of the American housewife. Harvey thinks she has great advertising possibilities. A rival product also has the idea and signs her. Mrs. Gleason becomes a celebrity, ruins her husband's business and nearly wrecks their home. Domestic affairs become strained. The divorce court enters the picture. The case is a farce which culminates when Miss Roberts, their daughter, who has Hollywood ambitions, runs off. The family give chase in a sound truck and discover that their child has married Bakewell, her sweetheart. At length the very hectic situation is set to rights.

Running time, 65 minutes. "G." Joseph Priore

"Carefree," "Spawn" Hits On the Coast

Los Angeles, Sept. 7.—"Carefree" and "Spawn of the North" were outstanding hits here last week. The former, showing at the Hillstreet and Pantages, took $10,000 and $12,500, respectively. Both were big. "Spawn," with Rube Wolf and his orchestra at the Paramount, went to $25,500, over normal by $7,500.

"My Lucky Star" and "Safety in Numbers" were strong at both the Chinese and Loew's State. The take at the former was $14,810 and at the latter $16,107.

Total first run business was $116,-883. Average is $100,950.

cent. The amount will be used to purchase the site from the Katz & Lourie interests, and 75 per cent of the purchase price will be reinvested in the property. This is said to be the first time that 20th Century-Fox has invested in a theatre without obtaining control.

The Johannesburg theatre will be the flagship of a circuit of 40 or 50 theatres in South Africa under independent auspices. Twentieth Century-Fox is sponsoring the move in opposition to the Schlesinger interests from whom distribution of 20th Century-Fox films was withdrawn.

Twentieth Century-Fox has guaranteed all theatres in the circuit 15-year franchises, and U. A.'s participation in the Johannesburg house indicates that this company will also provide product.

No Profit at All

Kansas City, Sept. 7.—Crime didn't pay again.

Mrs. Lena C. Rigney, who, with her husband, Jim Rigney, operates the Westport here, left the theatre the other evening and was crossing the street to her car. A bandit accosted Mrs. Rigney and the young lad with her who was carrying a cardboard box.

The bandit ordered Mrs. Rigney to hand over the "receipts." Mrs. Rigney screamed and ran back to the theatre. The bandit seized the box and ran.

Inside the box were 500 Missouri sales tax tokens.

AFTER auditioning practically every newspaper columnist in town, McCann-Erickson have signed Danton Walker, Daily News Broadway gossiper and rhumba dancer extraordinary, to purvey the patter on the "Gotham Gazette," WABC program for the Gruen Watch Co., which will start Sept. 19.

Trommer's Beer, which has been sponsoring locally on WABC the CBS cooperative beer program, dropped the program as of the past week. Ted Husing, who refused to take a cut in pay as a result of the loss of the local sponsor, also was dropped. Connie Boswell takes leave from the show to join the Pepsodent-Bob Hope setup. Exempting Henny Youngman, what's left for the brewers—Dick Himber's band—isn't much.

Mention above of Henny Youngman is a reminder to pass along one of the nicest stories we've ever heard. Back in Henny's frayed cuff days when he was struggling to get a foothold in radio, he hired Milton Rubin, a press agent, to handle his publicity. Followed coffee and cake dates, but Milton, despite Henny's insistence, refused to accept any fees for his publicity services. Finally Youngman got his break on the Kate Smith show, and from that date on he has been paying Milton 10 per cent of whatever he earns.

Charles Paul, the CBS organist, formerly a band leader in Loew presentation houses, trotted down to the CBS program department recently, described his qualifications as a band leader, and asked that he be given a musical program of his own. The request was granted and his program was titled "Designs in Harmony." Whereupon the new bandleader wired and telephoned all his acquaintances to listen to his new show. Following the inaugural airing Mr. Paul discovered the bad news. Only the CBS stations in the south carry the program.

Marchetti Has Plan to Film Two in Italy

Two deals providing financing by Italian companies of pictures made in that country by American principals were negotiated by Roger Marchetti, Los Angeles and Hollywood attorney, during a two-month stay in Rome. Mr. Marchetti arrived in New York on the Rex yesterday.

Under the first of the two deals negotiated, Scalera Brothers, Italian producer-distributors, agree to advance to Mr. Marchetti's principals 10,000,000 lira ($500,000) for the production of one picture. The second deal provides for financing of a smaller budget

Arnold Hints At Moves for An Injunction

Failure to Confer Will Precipitate Action

By BERTRAM F. LINZ

WASHINGTON, Sept. 8.—Failure of the major distributors to respond to the invitation extended by Thurman Arnold, assistant attorney general in charge of anti-trust enforcement, to meet with him for consideration of a suspension of theatre acquisitions during the pendency of the New York suit may lead to an appeal to the courts for an injunction against further additions to theatre holdings, it was indicated here today.

Department officials refused to discuss the situation, but it was intimated that conferences to discuss the suit were expected to be held before the end of this month. If definite plans for such meetings are worked out, it is possible the Government's action may be delayed in order to give the film companies an opportunity to make a voluntary stand-off offer.

Washington observers see chances good that the suit will never go through trial. Department heads are

Silverstone's Powers Are Enlarged by Board

United Artists' new administrative policy, giving effect to the recent transfer of the company's executive functions to Murray Silverstone and the New York offices, was ratified yesterday by the board of directors at a meeting which stretched from early afternoon into the night.

The immediate effect of the ratification of the plan was the elimination of the post of sales manager, held by A. W. Smith, Jr., and the limitation of the authority formerly vested in Harry D. Buckley, vice-president. The latter, up to the time of Mr. Silverstone's election to the chairmanship of the executive committee, was the company's ranking executive in the east. Much of his former autonomous authority, which existed while the headquarters of the company president were established on the west coast, was transferred yesterday to Mr. Silverstone. The latter replaces Mr. Buckley as the United Artists representative on the M.P.P.D.A. board of

RKO Hearing to Be Held September 29

Federal Judge Francis G. Caffey yesterday fixed Sept. 29 at 10:30 o'clock in Room 905 of the Federal Court Bldg. as the adjourned date for the hearing on the confirmation of the plan of reorganization of RKO.

The adjournment was granted on the request of Col. Hamilton C. Rickaby, attorney for the Atlas Corp., proponent of the plan, who stated that the adjournment was necessary since Judge William Bondy, who will preside at the hearing on that date, was presently on his vacation.

IN this issue Motion Picture Daily considers the current market in the United States for the product of foreign producers, pointing out the source of most of the films from other countries, listing all the foreign pictures scheduled to be available for the 1938-'39 season here, and discussing the theatre outlets for that product. The section begins on Page 21.

Sue 6 Circuits for Use of Bank Night

Suits against six up-state New York theatre companies for money allegedly due for the promotion of Bank Night were revealed yesterday in the N. Y. Supreme Court when the defendants joined in applications for a change of venue of the actions to upstate counties.

Edward Goldstein, as assignee of Affiliated Enterprises, Inc., the plaintiff, charged the defendants, Carroll Theatre Amusement Co., Kallet Theatres, Inc., Livingston Theatre, Inc., Oneida Theatre Co., Deposit Theatres, Inc., and Pakatan Theatres, Inc., with breaching contracts whereby Affiliated was to receive $10 for every Bank Night promoted in the defendants' theatres, and asked judgment ranging from $120 to $650 against the defendants.

The defendants in their applications contended that Affiliated represented falsely that it was the copyright owner of Bank Night and the patent owner of the plan. The defendants assert that the Commissioner of Patents had denied an application of Affiliated for a patent and that it had no exclusive ownership of the use of Bank Night.

Says Director Guild Membership Doubled

Los Angeles, Sept. 8.—Membership in the Screen Directors' Guild, in all three classifications, directors, assistants and unit managers, has doubled from May 11 to Aug. 15, J. P. MacGowan, executive secretary of the organization, testified today at the hearing before National Labor Relations Board Trial Examiner William Ringer on the guild petition to be declared the collective bargaining agency for these groups.

Mr. MacGowan, principal witness at the session, gave figures purporting to show that the guild has a preponderant majority of such workers on all major lots. W. F. Fitzgerald, unit manager, also testified, telling of his duties and relating that he on several occasions was in charge of directing of the shooting of portions of a picture without the guidance of a director. The hearing will recess tomorrow to permit Mr. Ringer to visit the set of "The St. Louis Blues," at Paramount, to witness the work of director, assistants and unit manager.

J. P. MacGowan, executive secretary of the guild, resumed the stand this afternoon and under questioning by William Walsh, National Labor Relations Board attorney, disclosed various salaries received by directors. Salaries as disclosed by him were: John Ford, $6,250 weekly; Alan Dwan, $1,350; George Marshall, $1,500; William Seiter, $3,250; David Butler, $3,000; Irving Cummings, $2,500; Roy Del Ruth, $4,873; Sidney Lanfield, $2,250; Walter Lang, $2,000; Ernst Lubitsch, $5,000; Wesley Ruggles, $4,025; Al Santell, $4,000; Frank Lloyd, $3,500; John M. Stahl, $4,000; James Whale, $3,000; Henry Koster, $1,750; Cecil B. DeMille, $75,000 per picture.

To Ask Columbia Print

Application will be made today to the N. Y. Supreme Court by Ferdinand Voteur for an order directing Columbia to turn over to him a copy of "The Man Who Lived Twice." Voteur, who is plaintiff in a suit seeking an injunction against exhibition of the picture, and an accounting of the profits on the ground of alleged plagiarism, seeks a copy of the picture to aid him in his attempt to prove similarity.

Large Audience at Penn News Opening

An overflow invited audience attended the opening of the 456-seat Penn Newsreel Theatre on 34th St. opposite Penn Station last night. The guests, among them numerous theatre and film men, were impressed with the spaciousness of the house, not usually identified with newsreel operation, and its comfort.

An unusual feature is entrances on 34th and 35th Sts., and the street-to-street construction job was a difficult one. The project, including the site, cost $143,000. Principals of Penn Newsreel Theatres, Inc., are Stanley Heller, William Klein and Joseph Steiner, who holds the office of managing director.

In addition to the five newsreels and March of Time, the opening bill has "The Memories Linger On," a nostalgic combination of newsreel and old-time film clips harking back 20 years. It is the first of a series being produced by Bert Ennis, who, incidentally, is handling promotion for the theatre.

Prices are 15 cents to 1 P. M., 25 cents thereafter.

Wage-Hour Ruling on Theatres Ready Soon

Washington, Sept. 8.—Wage and Hour Administrator Elmer F. Andrews is preparing a definition of interstate commerce by which to measure the application of the new Labor Standards Act to various industries, which may definitely solve the problem of affiliated theatres, which, it has been suggested, may be brought under the law as establishments whose activities affect interstate trade.

The general opinion, however, is that the administrator will hold theatres of all sorts to be local service organizations, exempt from the provisions of the act.

"Home Town" Retitled

The William K. Howard-Bernard Steele production, scheduled for filming at Eastern Service Studios, has had a title change from "Home Town" to "It Might Have Been You." Hal Mohr, Hollywood cameraman who was engaged for the production, has arrived in New York.

1,000,000 feet of film and DuPont 600,000 feet.

Campaign headquarters also reported the receipt of a $2,000 contribution from National Screen Service, through Herman Robbins, president, as a token of the company's close identification with the purposes of the drive. The company furnished the campaign trailers now in use at actual manufacturing cost.

The sixth of the trailers was completed and started on its way to exchanges yesterday. Prepared by Monroe Greenthal and Truman Talley, it is a clear and concise statement on the "Movie Quiz" contest, with Ed Thorgerson narrating. Advance orders for the trailer are reported exceeding those for any of the preceding ones.

Approximately $2,000 was donated by a group of 200 Bronx business men who attended a community rally at the Prospect Theatre yesterday, which was held to advance plans for promoting the drive in the Bronx. The contributions followed a talk by Hal Hode on the theme that "trade follows the movies."

Local "Movie Quiz" contests have been inaugurated by community and individual theatres in many parts of the country, supplementing the national contest. Typical of these is the one originated by the Sidney Lust circuit in Washington, D. C., and Maryland, in which a second quiz booklet is distributed for the local contest, in which separate prizes are offered and decisions made by local judges.

Asks Canada Movie Week

Toronto, Sept. 8.—Dewey D. Bloom, chairman of the Canadian publicity and radio committee for the industry's better business campaign, is promoting a proposal for a special Canadian Movie Week as an added feature of the drive, the Canadian event to be staged in October.

In unfolding his plan, Mr. Bloom, who is M-G-M's Canadian promotion manager, declared that the "week" would have exclusively Canadian features apart from the "Movie Quiz" contest and newspaper advertising already on schedule.

Nathanson at Winnipeg

Toronto, Sept. 8.—The presence of President N. L. Nathanson at the western managers' convention of Famous Players Canadian Corp., at Winnipeg this week, is without precedent. His interest was so aroused in the cooperative business drive that he decided to make the trip in order to infuse a maximum degree of enthusiasm for the campaign.

An address by Mr. Nathanson at the meeting, previously regarded as a closed session, was reported by the Canadian Press Association and was carried by many newspapers.

directors, such representation customarily being assigned to the highest ranking executive in each home office.

The projected election of Mr. Silverstone to the United Artists presidency did not materialize at yesterday's meeting, however. Indications are that the election will take place at a meeting to be held here in a week or 10 days, which will be set immediately following the arrival in New York from England of Alexander Korda and Douglas Fairbanks. Both are expected here next week.

No Action on Schaefer

Although it was reliably reported that the board was prepared to ratify a new five-year contract for George J. Schaefer as general manager of domestic distribution at yesterday's meeting, such action did not materialize, either. Mr. Schaefer was noncommital when questioned about the new contract but did indicate that final action might be expected within a short while. It is known that the company has met all of the conditions requested by Mr. Schaefer on the new pact. Mr. Silverstone made it clear following the meeting that Mr. Schaefer's authority in distribution was not impinged.

Mr. Smith's duties will be absorbed in part by Mr. Schaefer and in part by district sales managers of the company.

Dennis F. O'Brien, representative of Mary Pickford, came into town from vacation to provide a quorum for the twice-postponed meeting. He left several hours before the session was concluded, however. Miss Pickford left for Hollywood by plane in advance of the meeting to confer with Samuel Goldwyn and Charles Chaplin, presumably on the major matters which hold over to the next meeting of the board. She was also represented by Willard S. McKay, New York attorney.

Emanuel Silverstone Present

Others at the meeting included James Mulvey, Mr. Goldwyn's representative; Charles Schwartz, Mr. Chaplin's representative; Edward C. Raftery, representative of Mr. Fairbanks; Emanuel Silverstone, Mr. Korda's representative; Murray Silverstone and Harry Muller, comptroller.

Mr. Silverstone disclosed that the profit-sharing plan for United Artists producers will be put into effect at the end of the year and will cover the product delivered up to that time. The participation in 50 per cent of the company's net will be on the basis of merit of each production delivered by the company's producers, he said.

He reported that the board had given consideration to the problem of foreign markets and the restrictions and limitations confronting all distributors in these fields. He described the problem as one to which considerable thought is being given by all companies and indicated that means of coping with it will be forthcoming in the near future.

"Our best procedure until that time," he observed, "is to concentrate on serving the markets which haven't been lost already."

Mr. Silverstone disclosed that no negotiations have been or are being conducted by United Artists for the release of any pictures made by B. P. Schulberg, as reported from Hollywood. He also denied the report that Mr. Fairbanks would not produce the one picture which he announced earlier this season.

U.A. Branch Refuses Access to L. A. Books

Law declared U. A. exchange officials had promised him data if he made specific requests but would not permit him to make a general probe into the records. This attitude, Mr. Law said he was told, was due to the New York anti-trust suit of the Government. He said, however, no issue will be made of the exchange's refusal but that he would make an outside investigation covering U. A.

United Artists is the first company not to allow free inspection of books here. Mr. Law and Mr. Collins are finishing up viewing the 20th Century-Fox records and will have a report ready for Attorney General Homer Cummings in two or three weeks.

"Band" Five-Week Take Is $338,250

of the five-week run, the attendance total was 762,263 with a gross of $338,250.

Starting Aug. 5, the film's record at the Roxy, according to the treasurer's figures, follows:

Grosses
First Week	$87,489.84
Second Week	77,237.77
Third Week	63,645.32
Fourth Week	55,461.90
Fifth Week	54,416.00

Attendance
First Week	192,520
Second Week	168,088
Third Week	145,588
Fourth Week	130,057
Fifth Week	126,010

Irving Lesser, manager of the Roxy, points out that the gross figures are net and that the Government 10 per cent tax for the five weeks, totaling $28,320, on 55-cent and 75-cent admissions, swells the total paid by patrons to a still more impressive figure.

The picture smashed the highest single day attendance record previously held by "Wake Up and Live," which tallied 33,145. The Berlin musical hit 34,149 on its first Saturday. It was the first film to go five weeks at the Roxy, topping the four-week runs of "Street Angel," "The Cock-Eyed World," "Common Clay," "Baby Take a Bow," "Happy Landing" and "In Old Chicago.'

At the end of the first week, the 151,315 opening week attendance record held by "Thin Ice" had fallen to "Alexander's Ragtime Band's" 192,520. And it held its pace thereafter. It will go into RKO neighborhood theatres in the metropolitan area in a week.

K.C. Orpheum Reopens

Kansas City, Sept. 8. — The Orpheum is again open, after having been redecorated and reequipped, as RKO's first run downtown house here. The Mainstreet was given up by the theatre company some weeks ago.

Robert J. Haley, former manager of the RKO-Liberty in New Orleans, is managing the Orpheum.

E. E. Webber threw open the new Colonial at 3840-46 Woodland Ave., Aug. 26, on the site of the former Colonial which burned early last spring. The new $100,000 house seats 950 persons on one floor.

Remodel at Santa Clara

San Francisco, Sept. 8.—About $25,000 is being spent to remodel the old Casa Grande in Santa Clara, recently acquired by Rotus Harvey, Harvey Amusement Co., and Gerald Hardy. Rechristened the Santa Clara, the 1,000-seat house will be ready early in September.

Haley, Menjou Are Cast

Hollywood, Sept. 8.—Jack Haley Adolphe Menjou and Irene Whelan have been given the top roles in the next 20th Century-Fox musical, "Thanks for Everything," which William Seiter will direct. Harry Joe Brown will produce from the Harry Tugend screenplay. Nat Gordon and Harry Revel are writing the songs.

Hollywood Previews

"While New York Sleeps"

(20th Century-Fox)

Hollywood, Sept. 8. — This high-gear, synchro-mes metropolitan melodrama throws the Roving Reporters series into a tempo hard but profitable to maintain. Few newspaper-police stories of any origin or period have had more soundly conceived plot or sprightlier dialogue. Probably none has held suspense so long with so little evident effort. It entertains mightily.

The playing personnel is Michael Whalen, satisfactory as a reporter; Chick Chandler, a hit as his photographer; Harold Huber, immensely effective as a gay gangster; Jean Rogers and Joan Woodbury, acceptable as the girls in the case; Robert Kellard, Marc Lawrence, Sidney Blackmer, William Demarest, Cliff Clark and Edward Gargan. Frances Hyland and Albert Ray cooked up a sweet screenplay from a story by Frank Fenton and Lynn Root. Sol Wurtzel gave it commanding production and H. Bruce Humberstone's direction is probably his best to date.

The story, too complex for adequate condensation, is about a reporter who doubts that a reported suicide is really a suicide and sets out to prove it murder. A fake murder which turns out to be real, a series of bond robberies, a lot of practical jokes with plot significance and a serio-comic romantic complication are among the ingredients.

Running time, 60 minutes. "G" Roscoe Williams

"The Missing Guest"

(Universal)

Hollywood, Sept. 8.—Formula appurtenances of mystery stories such as "ghosts," an old, long unused house, secret rooms, hidden stairs, thunder and lightning, and wierd noises stalk through the story of "The Missing Guest." The cast is topped by Paul Kelly, Constance Moore and William Lundigan. The picture maintains suspense, treated with comedy, throughout.

John Rawlins directed from a screenplay by Charles Martin and Paul Perez. The story is from Erich Philippi's "Secret of the Blue Room." Barney A. Sarecky was the associate producer. Others in the cast are Edwin Stanley, Selmer Jackson, William Wayne, George Cooper, Patrick J. Kelly, Florence Wix, Pat Flick and Harlan Briggs, all of whom contribute acceptable performances in support of the principles.

Kelly, a newspaperman, is sent to the old house, being reopened by its owners after 20 years, to solve the mystery of "The Blue Room," in which its former owner had died. After gaining admittance to the party in progress, Kelly solves the mystery, only with the death of Lundigan, however.

Running time, 65 minutes. "G." Vance King

"Hold That Co-Ed"

Washington, Sept. 8.—A mixture of farce and satire, "Hold That Co-Ed" is a hilarious contribution to the annual football picture lists. The satire is based on the late Huey Long's adventures with subsidized football in Louisiana, with John Barrymore giving a rowdy, lunatic portrayal as the governor who sponsors the state university's football team when he realizes the publicity benefits to be gained. Barrymore works hard, is given some genuinely funny lines, and helps George Murphy, Marjorie Weaver, Joan Davis and Jack Haley in lifting the film out of the touchdown-in-the-last-minute category.

Karl Tunberg, Don Ettlinger and Jack Yellen have done a fine job with the screenplay and Gordon and Revel, Pollack and Brown and Clare, Styne and Castle have compounded some sprightly tunes. George Marshall has directed with an eye to pleasing every type of patron and the seasonal story should lend itself readily to exploitation. The political and sports angles, especially timely, are merciless in their truthfulness, but are never biting or sarcastic in their implications. The lampooning is good natured, jolly and wholesome.

The idea behind the story is novel and the treatment is fresh. Barrymore decides to run for the U. S. Senate. Opposed to him for the nomination is George Barbier, who has the backing of the state's large college alumni. Jack Haley and Marjorie Weaver are Barrymore's assistants and they advise him to lure the alumni vote by taking an interest in collegiate football. He takes over a jerkwater college, gives Coach Murphy a $1,000,000 stadium, combs the byways for pro footballers, hires a 200-piece band, and uses the resulting fanfare as a springboard with which to defeat his opponent. Joan Davis is used as a co-ed whose educated toe adds the points after touchdown.

Running time, 85 minutes. "G." Robert S. O'Neill

a small minority which resorts to villification and instigation of trouble, demoralizing proper procedure for betterment of conditions for the membership. Consequently, it is necessary to take this action."

Last year members of Photographers Local 659, Laboratory Technicians Local 583, Sound Technicians Local 695 and Studio Technicians Local 37 voted to continue under international supervision in a poll called by Mr. Browne following agitation by intramural "progressive" groups.

To Call Meetings

Mr. Smith's statement said, "Meetings for nomination of officers for studio workers affiliated with the I.A.T.S.E. were ordered Tuesday from New York by International President George E. Browne. I will call meetings immediately. This follows the fact that a committee appointed by International President Browne and the general executive board of the Alliance has been in session for the past 10 days. The general executive board does not feel that the international alliance in general should be subject to these unwarranted attacks, and from now on it will be the duty of each of our west coast studio locals to clean its own house with respect to subversive elements in the ranks retarding progress.

"The action filed yesterday before the N.L.R.B. by one individual previously shown to represent a small minority of less than 84 out of 12,000 members is only another attempt to discredit I.A.T.S.E. officials. It seems apparent that the action filed was a last attempt to discolor the previous action of the committee appointed by the international president and general executive board to benefit the I.A.T.S.E. membership in studios.

Autonomy Lost in 1935

"Autonomy was taken away from the four locals in 1935 following reorganization of the group after the disastrous studio strike during which the I.A.T.S.E. lost much of its work. The American Society of Cinematographers, non-labor affiliate, obtained a 10-year contract with producers covering first cameramen's work and the International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers obtained much of the electrical work formerly going to the I.A.T.S.E. With the signing of the basic agreement with producers prior to the suspension of autonomy of the studio locals, the I.A.T.S.E. gained closed shop conditions and regained jurisdictional lines with the exception of cinematographers who in the major studios still must belong to the A.S.C. However, all assistant cameramen and first cameramen on independent productions must be I.A.T.S.E. members.

"Also affected by the new order is Makeup Artists Local 706, which joined the I.A.T.S.E. last year following the Federated Motion Picture Crafts strike. Although autonomous at that time, members and officers had petitioned the I.A. to take the local under international supervision."

Short Subject Reviews

"Stage Fright"

(RKO)

This Leon Errol comedy has many moments of interesting humorous developments. Errol comes home drunk and raises heated objections to his wife's pursuit of amateur dramatics. She doesn't quite like his inebriation either. At length and for revenge she gets him on the stage of the playhouse, where, after he is properly scared, he passes out in a "prop" trunk. He comes to later, interrupts the play and proves himself something of an actor. It holds to a good comic theme throughout. Running time, 18 mins. "G."

"The Frog Pond"

(Columbia)

This cartoon in Technicolor has animation touches that will tickle the sensibilities of the entire audience. The frogs involved are interrupted in their merrymaking by a tough, brutal member of their species who forces them to cater to his whims. The put up with him for a while and then proceed to deal out the jolts. The big moments come in at this point and when they have passed the brute is safely lodged in jail. Running time, 6½ mins. "G."

"Brave Little Tailor"

(Disney-RKO)

Here we have Mickey Mouse in another delightful and whimsically treated version of a fairy tale. The action is unwound with ingenious animation. Locations and effects are startling in their departure from accepted forms. This is another of those films that firmly cements the cartoon character in the hearts of every filmgoer. It will be accepted everywhere. Running time, 9 mins. "G."

"Violent Is the Word for Curly"

(Columbia)

Here is more Three Stooges comedy that runs through the complete line of slapstick humor for telling effect. The laughs will come easy as the boys rise from super-service gas station attendants to dabble in college faculty life. This one is on a par with their best to date. Running time, 18 mins. "G."

"Under a Gypsy Moon"

(Nu-Atlas-RKO)

Here is 10 minutes of Gypsy music, dancing and other related activities done in average style. There is little purpose to the film other than to serve as a vehicle for the talents of the various acts involved. Music is interesting. Running time, 10 mins. "G."

"Gypsy Melody"

(Musart Film Prod.)

The exhibitor with a clientele that appreciates Russian music and folk songs should do well in presenting this short. There is little to it outside of music, dancing and singing, with the emphasis on the latter. Julio Martinez Oyanguren, Uruguayan guitar virtuoso, does a number with unusual artistry. There is a slight plot to the film involving a singer and her romantic affairs. The musical background seems to be the real thing. The entire action takes place in a night club. Running time, 18 mins. "G."

"Gym Jams"

(Columbia)

Krazy Kat operates a gymnasium. His methods are in great demand by various animal folk who are fitted with ingenious appliances. An escaped hippo "gangster" crashes the establishment and orders Krazy to change his figure to outwit the police. Krazy takes him over the jumps and concludes his treatment in a steam cabinet which reduces his client to pint size. Satisfactory. Running time, 6½ mins. "G."

"The Cavalcade of Stuff"

(Astor Productions)

The first of a new series featuring Colonel Stoopnagle, this subject is what might be expected, considering the leading figure. It is really amusing and gave an audience at the Rivoli Theatre on Broadway a case of the "giggles." It is one of those nonsensical "newsreels" and with Stoopnagle's entertaining "explanatory" comment, the short is enjoyable. Running time, 10 mins. "G."

"Community Sing No. 11"

(Columbia)

Where the audience prefers to entertain itself this short should find a spot. Gene Morgan in his persuasive style coaxes the audience with such numbers as "Silver Threads Among the Gold," "In My Merry Oldsmobile" and others of similar vintage. It's done well. Running time, 10 mins. "G."

"Demons of the Deep"

(Columbia)

This News World of Sports issue offers sequences depicting the hooking and capture of big game fish. The photography is good. Among the various fish taken are giant sharks, swordfish and a few big ones that take the bait from the surf. It should go over. Running time, 9 mins. "G."

Harris May Take Aldine

Pittsburgh, Sept. 8.—It is reliably reported here that the Harris Amusement Co. has taken over the old Aldine for a combination of vaudeville and pictures. Although closed for several years, Loew's has been paying rent on the Aldine continually under the terms of a long-term lease, now expired.

Fulton Managers Shifted

Kansas City, Sept. 8. — Clarence Kidwell, formerly assistant manager of W. D. Fulton's Howard at Arkansas City, Kan., has been made manager of the State, Fulton house in Kansas City, Kan. Ben Hill, State manager for several years, now is handling the Tivoli, one of Fulton's Kansas City, Mo., suburbans.

understood to be receptive to offer for a consent decree, provided the secure the major points at which th aim, and are willing, it is said, t forego some of the less importan points to save the money and time involved in a trial. This attitude is given additional point by suggestions tha the Government's petition asked fo more than the department believes ca reasonably be secured from the court and there is always the possibility tha the courts may not see eye to eye wit the department on its charges.

Counsel for major defendants expec to meet with U. S. Assistant Attorney Generals Thurman Arnold an Paul Williams in Washington befor the end of the month, it was learne here yesterday on good authority.

The principal reason given for th delay in responding to Mr. Arnold' invitation to discuss the necessity fo the Government proceeding with a application for a temporary injunctio is the absence of Col. William J Donovan, chief counsel for RKO. Colonel Donovan is expected back from a European vacation Sept. 19, and indications are that counsel for defendants, after acquainting him with th objectives of the proposed Washington meeting, will move promptl thereafter to agree on a meeting dat with the Department of Justice officials.

Will Study Consent Decree

Although Mr. Arnold has advise the five theatre-owning defendant who have been invited to the conference that he wishes to discuss a agreement on maintaining the statu quo in current theatre operations i order to obviate the necessity of th Government's moving for an injunction, it is taken for granted in lega circles here that the subject of a consent decree will be explored also a the forthcoming meeting. The Government has repeatedly evidenced it willingness to discuss the subject wit the defendants but the latter give no evidence on which to base a belief that much progress could be made toward a consent decree without a basic modification of the objectives of the Government action, particularly with regard to separation of exhibition from production-distribution.

Foreign Product Faces Bright Year

ncreased Interest in Imports to Result in Total of 75 to 100 Films This Season Compared to Only 27 Last Year

Encouraged by the increased num- r of houses available for foreign guage pictures, and stimulated by e success which attended the dis- ibution of "Mayerling," the foreign nguage film business is set for its ost ambitious season.

The increased interest in foreign lm trading will be responsible for the nportation of somewhere between 75 nd 100 pictures for the current sea- on against a reported 27 released last ear.

Every incoming ship from Europe bringing somebody with a film or film deal, and a wider market makes em more confident of success.

Important among the foreign film aders who have just returned from aris with new deals are the Brandt rothers and E. I. Lopert of Pax ilms. John E. Otterson, former resident of Paramount, recently re- urned announcing that he had bought e American rights to 25 pictures for he Interallied Pictures Corporation.

Have 34 French Films

In addition to these picture men ere are many others dealing for one, wo or more films. Julian Levy, work- g with John Tapernoux in the re- rganization of French Motion Pic- ure Corporation, reports they brought 34 films last season and this, of hich 17 have not been released as et but are being booked now.

Although he has had wide experi- nce as both exhibitor and distribu- or, Martin Lewis of the Fifth Ave- ue Playhouse is not going into the arket until the fall. He arranged or his entire summer by organizing e first annual International Film estival from July 1 to Aug. 31.

World Has Large Group

Listed among interesting releases om World Pictures Corporation, in- luding "Grand Illusion," highly raised by Sam Goldwyn, are nine rench films, four English and five ustrian pictures. They will also chedule six shorts featuring world amous concert artists. This is the ompany which handled "Monastery" the United States, basing the pic- re on material filmed in France. Monastery" had a long run and a nancial success. "Grand Illusion" will pen at the Filmarte Sept. 12.

J. H. Hoffberg, Inc., American dis- ributors of the Irish money-maker, "Kathleen," is handling more different language films than any other company. The schedule includes four American exploitation pictures, two French productions, four Irish, two Yiddish films, six Polish films, five Czechoslovakian, four Swedish, two Italian and two Dutch films. All will have English titles.

Mayer & Burstyn, distributors of "The New Gulliver," originally Russian, have dubbed it in English and will release it this season as "Gulliver's Travels."

Danubia Lines Up Seven

Bruno Zwicker has acquired the American distribution rights for the next five years to a reissue of "Two Hearts in Waltz Time," which opened at the World Theatre in New York.

Danubia Pictures, Inc., handling Hungarian language features and short subjects, has lined up seven new features for the 1938-'39 schedule. These are "The Borrowed Castle," "Marika," "Magda Is Expelled," "Heart for Heart," "Family Bonus" and "Girls of Today."

Acquire Chinese Picture

George Barnett and Henry Aries, operating as Modern Film Company, have a Japanese film which they have been holding for release until there is less anti-Japanese feeling in America. They believe the film is fine enough to attract large audiences here when, as and if the war emotionalism subsides. This company also recently acquired American distribution rights to "Sable Cicada," an historical Chinese romance, China's first bid for recognition at the American box-office, and it also plans to distribute "Man's Paradise," and a Valentino revival, "Son of the Shiek."

The product available for purchase for American release is greater than it has been for some time, because Europe, with the exception of the dictator countries, is a wide open field for anyone who can get the money together to make one picture.

The French market, highly competitive, has boosted its cash advance demand for American rights from the top of $5,000 to $7,500 to something closer to $15,000 to $20,000.

Finish Jewish Feature

"The Singing Blacksmith," all-Jewish musical starring Moishe Oysher, has been completed under the direction of Edgar G. Ulmer and will be released in September by New Star Films.

Cinema Arts Plans Four

Moe Goldman of Foreign Cinema Arts has disclosed that his company will produce four features, to be released in the 1938-'39 season. Two will be filmed in Europe and two will be made at the Biograph studios.

U. S. Market Active For Mexican Films

The American market for Mexican pictures has become extremely active in the last year, for Mexican pictures have improved considerably and are finding a profitable distribution in the areas where there is a Mexican population. There are approximately 70 theatres in California, Nevada, New Mexico, Texas and Colorado showing Mexican-made pictures. "El Rancho Grande" has been the biggest money maker.

Because of the concentration of Mexicans in this geographical area, the distribution of Mexican pictures is probably the most important of the foreign language markets to native language clientele.

To Release Irish Film

Guaranteed Pictures is distributing "Irish and Proud of It," first of a series of six Irish pictures. M. D. Sikawitt, president of the company, also has disclosed that the company will handle American distribution of several Polish, French and Ukrainian productions.

Foreign Films Find 200 Outlets Here Now

THE American market for foreign language pictures has grown to a place where the 1938-'39 season will open with at least 200 established theatre outlets and somewhere between 75 and 100 reported productions available for exhibition.

There has been a permanent but variable market for foreign language pictures since 1930, but exhibition outlets have multiplied approximately four times in the last three years and the number of imported negatives will be nearly trebled within a year.

The market for foreign language productions has developed from the occasional importation of "artistic" production for exhibition in "art" theatres to a business of intense competition and considerable proportions.

French Films Gaining

The first pictures that were imported in foreign languages came principally from Russia, Italy and Germany. They received the acclaim of critics for their socalled artistic qualities and the patronage of a highly selective audience which saw in them a new and different technique.

Concurrently these pictures found their way into exhibition in theatres in neighborhoods and localities highly populated with people who spoke the language of the picture.

The business enjoyed a small profit and some prestige.

France, which had not been a particularly potent factor in picture making for American distribution, benefited from the influx of German refugee experts, suddenly skyrocketed into favor and has achieved a dominant place, for the time being at least.

"Mayerling" Big Success

Impetus to French pictures has been given by "Mayerling." The film, acclaimed first for its artistic qualities, bolstered by the performances of Danielle Darrieux and Charles Boyer, hit the high point of foreign language distribution. In addition to its bookings in theatres specializing in foreign pictures and its bookings in houses catering to French audiences, it earned contracts in a number of metropolitan circuit theatres. It has played approximately 700 engagements representing top business in its field.

Prior to the ascendency of the French pictures, German films were the most successful of the imports. "The reason is simple," said Max Goldberg, head of Gallic Films. "You could put German pictures in many more spots because there are more people who understand German in this country than any other language. In New York alone there are 600,000 people familiar enough with the German language to enjoy a German picture. The Jewish portion of that group has withdrawn its support from German pictures and consequently the German picture is on the decline."

Audience Is Increasing

There is no doubt, however, that the American audience for all foreign language pictures is increasing. With 30 theatres in New York regularly showing imports, 250 at one time or another this past year had an occasional foreign language film. The movement gains every time a "Mayerling" is shown, for pictures of that type get out of the "art" classification and into circuit theatres, so that many persons who have never seen a foreign film are introduced to a good one and become prospective patrons for others.

So variable is this special end of the picture business, however, that there is no accurate gauge of the number of persons in the importing and distributing of foreign films, nor of the number of negatives which will be brought in from year to year. The Hays office put the production code seal on 41 last year, whereas many more came in.

The Brandt circuit is currently using foreign pictures as second features occasionally, Warners are permitting some of the theatre managers on their circuit to make their own selection of foreign films.

West Coast Good Market

Outside of New York, the west coast is the best foreign language picture market in the United States. Proof of this is found in the report of a second circuit to open there soon for foreign language releases exclusively. This will give the coast nine art theatres as outlets.

E. I. Lopert, president of Pax Films, appraises the current situation as a series of individual gambles. He says the foreign field is misleading as to profits, when it is remembered that such pictures as "Crime et Chatiment" ("Crime and Punishment") which was released to almost hysterical applause by critics, grossed only about $10,000.

It is Mr. Lopert's contention that a foreign picture must play 100 theatres before it can be considered a real success, a statement entirely at variance with the expressed opinion of another expert who insists that 50 or 60 theatres around the country—some say 40—are all that can be devoted to foreign language picture showings to maintain a "healthy situation."

The percentage of foreign language pictures answering the American box office requirements is small.

Distribution Nationally Is Plan of Moss

A nationwide distributing organiza- n to develop the market for French ures here will be set up immedi- ely by B. S. Moss, head of Empress ctures, Inc., which he organized this eek in association with Paul Graetz Paris.

For the 1938-'39 season the com- ny has a schedule of eight films hich were selected by Mr. Graetz's ganization as among the most suit- le of the French output for Ameri- n release. Production plans for 39-'40 are now in work, and Mr. oss and his American associates will vise the Paris organization on the pe of product to be made.

For the first time, French pictures ill be produced with an eye not only the international market generally t American theatres specifically, id Mr. Moss, and he has advised aking one or two big musicals, since e medium is universally understood udgets, he said, will go as high as 200,000 or $300,000, with the Ameri- an company helping to finance, and ories and casts being subject to ap- roval here.

To Name Regional Men

Several regional distribution repre- entatives will be appointed, with rints available in those areas. The ompany will operate its own Broad- ay show window, negotiations for a heatre being under way. Mr. Moss aid that in addition to the theatres ow playing foreign films, his organi- ation will endeavor to create a wider narket and that it is planned to road- how some of the films.

Mr. Moss said his 25 years' experi- nce in the industry has proved to im that it is difficult to establish any ew idea in the business, but once it is roved successful it becomes much in lemand. The same, he said, will prob- ably apply in his present endeavor. A heatre owner for many years, Mr. Moss pioneered as the operator of the first "art" theatre in New York, the Cameo. The Criterion on Broadway is the ace house of his present circuit.

G.N. May Renew Its British Film Deal

New Grand National will discuss a new distribution deal with Associated British Film Distributors before concluding any deal for the British rights, Edward L. Alperson, vice-president, said yesterday.

Grand National's two-year distribution deal with A.B.F.D. will expire at the end of this month. Mr. Alperson's statement is regarded as significant in view of the overtures made during the past week for British distribution rights to New Grand National product by Louis Jackson, head of Anglo American Films of London. No action was taken on Mr. Jackson's proposal by New Grand National prior to the London financier's departure from New York Wednesday.

Mr. Alperson will leave for the coast by plane today to complete arrangements for the company's new product lineup there. He said that the product announcement should be ready by next week.

Indications are that the company will retain the name Grand National, but may dispense with the prefix "New," Mr. Alperson said when questioned about a possible change in the company's name. He plans to return to New York in about a week.

CEA Will Consider Television Problem

By AUBREY FLANAGAN

LONDON, Sept. 8.—The question of television and its relation to exhibition is slated to be brought to the front at next Wednesday's meeting of the general council of the Cinematograph Exhibitors' Association at Glasgow by Major A. J. Gale.

He will seek a solid trade policy in television, and may suggest a resolution calling for a joint discussion of the matter among the C.E.A., Kinematograph Renters' Society (distributors) and the British Broadcasting Co. on the use of films in broadcasts. He may advise C.E.A. members to refrain from committing themselves on television equipment contracts.

Other matters to be discussed will be apathy of members in contributing information for the small exhibitor campaign, which may be abandoned. The circuits may be challenged for their indifference to the C.E.A. policy on programs, rentals and the like. Further C.E.A.-K.R.S. conferences are expected to be sought on the overbuilding problem.

The C.E.A. has notified the London County Council that it plans to contest legally the seat price ruling of the council, which aroused vigorous exhibitor opposition recently. Meanwhile, the new Gaumont Holloway and other houses are voluntarily observing the new regulations.

the United Kingdom, in which the British Dominions are highly interested.

The Canadian agreement still has several months to run, not expiring until Jan. 1 next, and, it was said, there are few major points to be taken up in connection with its revision for extension. No information was available as to whether motion pictures would figure prominently in the New Deal.

Italy Ejects British Unit Producing Head

ROME, Sept. 8.—Italian authorities yesterday revoked the production permit of Mario Zampi, production director of the Two Cities Film Co., recently formed in London, and "invited" him to leave the country, although he is an Italian citizen, because "the president of the company is a Jew."

Mr. Zampi had come to Rome to produce "Source of Irritation," which was to feature two British players, Romney Brent and Elsa Lanchester, wife of Charles Laughton. The producer had not come to Rome until after having obtained permission from the Fascist authorities to make the film. He left Rome for London this morning. Two Cities was formed recently to produce and distribute, taking its name from the capitals of the two countries, Rome and London.

To Do Film in England

LONDON, Sept. 8.—The Two Cities Film Co., Italian-British company recently formed, will begin the production of "Source of Irritation" at the Sound City Studio Sept. 25. Mario Zampi will be producer-director.

Strand 2nd Week of Shows Betters First

The second week of the stage show policy at the Strand on Broadway proved better than the first, with a take of $45,000 for "Boy Meets Girl" and Ben Bernie and his band, $1,000 more than the initial week. The second stanza had the benefit of the Labor Day weekend.

Acts are being lined up for the start of the new vaudeville policy at the Brooklyn Strand next Friday. The Andrews Sisters have been engaged as headliners of the five-act show, which will run approximately 55 minutes. Ted King's orchestra, a Brooklyn favorite, will be in the pit. "Boy Meets Girl" will be the film attraction.

The Brooklyn house will discard its present policy of double features for the new combination shows, which will be changed weekly. Prices may be raised slightly. The theatre will be closed next Thursday to prepare for the change.

Hoffberg Gets Picture

J. H. Hoffberg has acquired national distribution rights to "Forbidden Territory," directed by Phil Rosen and featuring Gregory Ratoff, Binnie Barnes, Tamara Desni and Anthony Bushell. Mr. Hoffberg plans to leave late this month on his annual nation-wide sales promotion trip.

Marchetti Has Plan to Film Two in Italy

picture by Cine-Citta, Mr. Marchetti said.

Under the plan, his principals, whom he said he was not at liberty to identify at this time, would furnish a producer, director, star, writer, cameraman and soundman—all to be Americans—for the pictures involved in the deals. The Italian sponsors would be granted distribution rights to the pictures in world territories with the exception of North, South and Central America, England and Australia. The American principals would retain the latter distribution rights. An English and Italian version of each picture would be made.

Sees American Participation

Mr. Marchetti believes the plan will make it financially feasible for Americans to participate in Italian production despite the restrictions on withdrawal of money from that country. He said that the deals negotiated would not be final until they had been approved by his Hollywood principals.

"It is up to them to accept or reject them," he said.

Although declining to identify his principals other than to describe them as a "group of well known producers," Mr. Marchetti stated on his departure for Jtaly in July that Edward Small and B. P. Schulberg were willing to make pictures in Italy under his plan. He is attorney for Bing Crosby, among other Hollywood personalities.

Claims Over-emphasis

Questioned concerning the possible effect on his plan of the currently reported anti-Semetic feeling in Italy, Mr. Marchetti said that, although he believed the reports to be over-emphasized in view of the absence of any official action by the Italian Government, he had asked for—and expects to receive within the next few days—formal assurances from official sources that non-Aryans who may elect to work on the proposed productions would in no wise be embarrassed or inconvenienced while in Italy. He said that no obstacles to obtaining such assurances had been encountered and he expected to have them in official order within the next few days.

He plans to leave for Hollywood early next week.

Ohio Censors More Active

COLUMBUS, Sept. 8.—The Ohio censors reviewed 546 reels during the five-week period in August, from which 55 eliminations were ordered. Seven reels were rejected for the week ending Sept. 2. This compares with 349 reels reviewed and 24 eliminations ordered in July, 1938, and 575 reels with 27 eliminations in August, 1937.

Best Film Head Returns

Sam Singer, president of Best Film Co., has returned from a 10-week trip to Maine and has reopened offices at 630 Ninth Ave., where he will distribute "The Call" and "Cloistered," the former set to open in Boston, Oct. 1.

Banner LINES

DESPITE the raves Cliff Fadiman's "Information Please" has evoked, NBC has been unable to sell the program commercially. And with most of the season's deals already set, it now appears that "Information Please" will continue to be unloved by a client.

Usually a sustaining program of this type is cancelled if after a reasonable time it remains unsold, but in this instance NBC is said to be determined to keep it on the air if for no other reason than it is a good "dress" program for the Blue network. And a good dress program it is indeed, for the Blue or any other network.

The original price for the Fadiman show was $2,500 a week, and that's been cut down to about $1,800, and still it remains unsold. Meanwhile, Mr. Fadiman has been working for little money, and while there is small doubt that he derives lots of fun working in the show, we think he hardly would be willing to continue at a sustaining fee. Wherefore, Mr. Fadiman in recent weeks has been appearing regularly on the RCA-NBC "Magic Key" program, a show that pays one of the nicest fees in radio. However, lest this latter observation be construed in a wrong light, we submit that NBC, by seeing to it that he is given an opportunity to obtain some commercial fees, exhibits good business sense, for not only will it encourage Mr. Fadiman to continue with "Information Please," a show which is a delight, but it may, by setting the example, encourage some outside sponsor to risk a bet on Mr. Fadiman.

Colgate-Palmolive-Peet, according to a CBS release, will call its forthcoming Jim McWilliams show the "Colgate Ask-It-Basket," indicating that the George Washington Coffee Co. has emerged best in a controversy about title rights that has been going on between those clients. For some seasons the coffee company has sponsored Mr. McWilliams in a popular program titled "Uncle Jim's Question Bee." When the soap company weaned away Mr. McWilliams from George Washington, it expected to label his program by that title, but the coffee house insisted the title belonged to them, and apparently they've won their point. It can be inferred, therefore, that George Washington may come back to the air with a program titled "Uncle Jim's Question Bee," while the real "Uncle Jim" carries on anonymously in his new setup.

William Hartley, editor of Screen Book, in a talk opposing screen double features on WMCA the other evening, described as Utopian the life of a film reviewer. He said, "I'm not obliged to sit through double features. As an editor, I attend four or five previews a week. These previews present only one film, no shorts and no newsreels. I certainly hope that the studios don't try to get even with their critics by running double previews."

LAWYERS AGAINST TRADE MOVES NOW

Counsel No Action Until After Conference with Thurman Arnold

Industry action on a voluntary trade practice program should be held in abeyance until counsel for the five major defendants in the Government equity action have held their conference with representatives of the Department of Justice in Washington later this month, in the opinion of major company attorneys.

This was ascertained by Motion Picture Daily from a canvass of the viewpoints of a majority of the legal representatives of the eight major defendants in the Federal action. As a result, it is anticipated that representations closely paralleling this majority viewpoint will be made to Sidney R. Kent, chairman, and the distributors' negotiating committee which he heads some time this week.

Whether or not the legal viewpoint will be rejected by the committee or company heads in favor of instantaneous action on a trade practice program could not be ascertained officially, but a preponderance of evidence

20th-Fox Sales Up 13% Over Last Year

The 20th Century-Fox sales record on 1938-'39 contracts is 13 per cent ahead of the same time last year, according to a sales department tabulation late last week. More contracts are being sold to small town exhibitors this year, it was said.

N. Y. "Divorce" Bill To Await Court Test

Sponsorship of a theatre "divorcement" bill in New York State will, as elsewhere in the country, depend on the outcome of Paramount's forthcoming appeal in the Supreme Court seeking to invalidate the North Dakota statute, according to Harry G. Kosch, counsel for New York Allied.

The organization is considering the introduction of such a measure in the legislature next winter, however. A definite decision may be made at the annual convention in Atlantic City next month.

Among other phases of Allied's proposed legislative program, Mr. Kosch says the unit will sponsor a bill restricting the activities of Ascap and will oppose measures for two men in a booth and extending the scope of the existing theatre matron regulations.

DES MOINES, Sept. 11.—An agreement has been reached after a conference among Eddie Golden, vice-president of Monogram, F. E. Judd of Monogram Film Distributors, Inc., here, and L. O. Ringler of Omaha, whereby Monogram Film Distributors, Inc., has bought the interest of Mr. Ringler in that corporation and has sold to him the Omaha Monogram exchange.

Mr. Ringler will form a new corporation to handle the Nebraska franchise and the two offices will operate as separate units. The deal was ratified at a meeting of the Monogram stockholders and F. E. Judd was elected head of the Des Moines firm.

Producers, Unions Set Mexico Truce

By JAMES R. LOCKHART

MEXICO CITY, Sept. 11.—Producers and the two warring unions arrived at a truce stage here today when the latter agreed to the exhibition of completed pictures. They continue to insist, however, that no pictures now in work be offered for exhibition in Mexico, threatening a boycott in the event exhibition of the new product is attempted.

Local newspapers asserted they had been informed that Hollywood is undertaking a movement to kill the production phase of the Mexican industry. General opinion here, however, is that the story is unfounded.

Theatre Council to Reconvene Tomorrow

Lampooning of Hollywood and motion pictures in general, which was demonstrated to be the favorite indoor sport of delegates to the American Theatre Council at its convention here last year, is scheduled to be renewed tomorrow when the council's second annual convention opens at noon at the Astor.

Other aims of the meeting are described as the "revival of the road" for the legitimate theatre, which was an aim of last year's convention, too; discussion of the recent agreement to curb ticket speculation on Broadway by fixing maximum price advances which can be placed on night and matinee tickets; discussion of plans for making the council a permanent organization and discussion of plans for a 1939 international "theatre festival."

The convention will open with a luncheon tomorrow, to be followed by an afternoon business session. It will conclude on Wednesday with a morning, luncheon and afternoon business session and a midnight supper.

Col.-B. & K. Deal Set

The B. & K. circuit, Chicago, has renewed its term franchise with Columbia for "a number of years," A. Montague, Columbia general sales manager, said Saturday. The deal covers all of the company's product, including westerns, serials and shorts, for 39 of the circuit's houses.

Loew's Books "Tracy"

Loew's metropolitan circuit has booked "Dick Tracy Returns," Republic's serial.

The Old Warrior

Lew Lehr is due back from a European holiday in about a week and the boys at Movietone News are expecting to hear some tall stories about his reviving old memories about the Big Fracas, in which he was a top sergeant. It seems Lew on his present trip has been visiting the battlefields of France, where he rolled in the mud 20 years ago. When Movietone heard about it, Dan Doherty wired the Paris office to get some publicity stills for the fan magazines.

Decision Reserved In Bank Night Suit

Decision has been reserved by N. Y. Supreme Court Justice Samuel H. Hofstadter on the application of Carroll Theatre Amusement Co., Kallet Theatres, Inc., Livingston Theatre Co., Oneida Theatre Co., Deposit Theatres, Inc., and Pakatan Theatres, Inc., to remove the trial of the suits filed against them by Edward Goldstein, as assignee of Affiliated Enterprises, Inc., from New York City to upstate New York. Goldstein is suing to recover judgment ranging from $120 to $650 for promotion of Bank Night.

Close Accessory Deal

Trailer-Made, Inc., has closed a 10-year franchise deal with J. R. Powers of Exhibitor Poster Service Exchange, Minneapolis, for handling its product in that territory.

New York Preview

"Valley of the Giants"

(Warners)

Here is a rousing melodrama amid the tall timber, done in striking Technicolor, and with more than a fair share of the spectacular, the suspense-laden and the thrilling to delight the heart of the most exacting action fan among the screen audience, no matter what the age or preferences.

Call it an old theme if you will, this story of a young man's fight to protect the land of his parents against the thieving attacks of the timberland grabbers of the early years of the century. But when it has color to paint its scene, and when that scene is a backdrop of giant redwood trees, forming the "valley of the giants," and when it is a hard-hitting yarn with plenty of scrapping, plunging trees, roaring fires, crashing trestles and the like, it is entertainment in a "motion" picture, with accent on the motion. It gets down to the fundamentals of screen fare, and should be a ready opportunity for the showman to sell to all his customers.

The exhibitor may well remember that it is taken from the novel by Peter B. Kyne, who has more than a little following. William Keighley directed the screenplay by Seton I. Miller and Michael Fessier with one idea obviously in mind, action and then more action. Wayne Morris and Claire Trevor share the leads, while Frank McHugh supplies a laugh on occasion; Alan Hale, as a giant lumberman, practically steals the picture and Charles Bickford is the villain of the piece.

Bickford goes west to grab the redwood land from young Wayne, having cleaned out eastern and midwestern forests. Miss Trevor, partner in a gambling establishment, goes along to assist in whatever deal is made. Wayne, protecting not only his own property, but the lumberman living on neighboring land, fights back. Highlighted by a runaway train loaded with timber, which crashes through a trestle, the dynamiting of a dam across a stream and the spectacular burning of the town's land office, Bickford is defeated, and Wayne wins both property and girl.

Running time, 79 minutes. "G."

English Unions Seek Film Act Compliance

By AUBREY FLANAGAN

LONDON, Sept. 11.—The Trades Union Congress on Friday unanimously resolved to take any action which may be necessary to obtain the compliance of employers with the labor terms of the Films Act, and to expedite negotiations for collective agreements for all workers.

The Congress deplored the alleged recent evasions by certain producers. Likewise passed was a resolution of the Electrical Trades Union demanding the institution by the Government of a 48-hour week for the film industry. One of the E. T. U. executives accused the Cinematograph Exhibitors' Association of being adverse to all forms of trade unionism.

Lawyers for Holding Back Trade Moves

indicates that it will not. The primary reason for this conclusion is that the Washington conference may take place next week and few ranking company officials appear to regard a delay of such brief duration as being of much significance.

Attorneys base their viewpoint on the probability that final action on a trade practice program in advance of the Washington conference might jeopardize or embarrass the position of the defendants at that time. It was also suggested that the projected conference might furnish the opportunity for a definite determination of the Government's attitude toward voluntary self-regulation moves by the industry and on specific steps which might be taken.

Company counsel have regarded action on a trade practice program as inseparable from joint action and strongly favor a predetermination of the Government's attitude toward the move. If the attitude is favorable or reasonable, action would probably be taken at once. If, however, it gave any indication of holding the distributors to account or of jeopardizing their defense position, action would undoubtedly be delayed.

Date Possible This Week

Indications are that a date for the Washington meeting may be determined this week and that the meeting itself will be held some time next week. The suggestion for the conference was made by Assistant U. S. Attorney General Thurman Arnold late last month for the stated purpose of discussing a maintenance of the status quo on theatre operations of Loew's, Warners, Paramount, RKO and 20th Century-Fox, in order to obviate the necessity for injunction proceedings during pendency of the suit. It is known, however, that the Government expects the conference to cover a much wider field and, among other things, to explore the possibility of arriving at a consent decree.

Orders Berlin Testimony

N. Y. Supreme Court Justice Samuel H. Hofstadter has ordered the officers of Irving Berlin, Inc., Saul H. Bornstein and Harry Link to appear for examination before trial in the suit brought against them and Herb Magidson and Allie Wrubel by Fred Rose, Ed G. Nelson and Hyman H. Zaret. The examination is sought by the plaintiffs to substantiate the charge in their suit that the defendants, Irving Berlin, Bornstein and Link, breached a contract allegedly made in August, 1936, in which they had agreed to exploit the plaintiffs' song, "Gone with the Wind," in broadcasting, song sheets and the film of the same name, and that they had substituted a song of the same title written by Magidson and Wrubel.

20th-Fox Signs Oakie

HOLLYWOOD, Sept. 11.—Jack Oakie has been signed by 20th Century-Fox for one of the stellar roles in "Thanks for Everything."

What's a Simoon?

The "Movie Quiz" contest is destined to add some new words to vocabularies of theatre patrons. Under "Suez" the "quiz" booklet asks what a "simoon" is.

The dictionary spells it two ways, "simoom" and "simoon," and describes it as a hot, dry desert wind that blows in Syria and Arabia—apparently a distant cousin to the "sirocco" of the western Mediterranean, or the "Santa Ana" of California.

Drive Results Will Decide Future Plan

While informal discussions are under way among industry advertising executives with regard to staging another industry promotion campaign next year, and probably making it a permanent annual effort, the consensus of the Motion Pictures' Greatest Year committee is that results of the present drive will determine the future course.

Typical of opinion is that of Nicholas M. Schenck, president of M-G-M. "It is too early to arrive at a definite decision on a campaign next year," he said. "When the results of the current drive are tabulated and if it is shown that the effort has been successful, that will be time enough to consider plans for next year."

However, some of the industry executives identified with the drive are talking about a "Golden Jubilee" celebration next year, and one of the advertisements currently running in the newspapers hints at it.

In a message on the drive to the 20th Century-Fox sales force, Joseph M. Schenck, chairman of the board, said: "The entire industry is to be congratulated on the spirit with which its every unit has come together. This is the healthiest sign within the industry that I have ever known."

500 Canadian Spots Pledged for Drive

TORONTO, Sept. 11.—Approximately 500 theatres in Canada pledged their support to the Motion Pictures' Greatest Year drive so far. This figure represents 347,000 seats or 60 per cent of the country's total.

Col. J. A. Cooper pointed out that this was a larger percentage than in the United States. The committee recommended that Louis B. Mayer be invited to this city to address a campaign banquet next month.

Washington Papers Help

WASHINGTON, Sept. 11.—Strong support has been given the local Motion Pictures Are Your Best Entertainment campaign by the five newspapers. Two—the Sunday Herald-Times and Daily News—had editorials.

Editorials followed extensive buildups given the campaign by the drama pages of all five papers, the $250,000 "Movie Quiz" Contest gaining lead positions in every drama editor's column. Extensive news space also has been devoted to the drive.

Frank La Falce of Warners, Ray Bell of Loew's and Hardie Meakin, RKO Keith's, comprise the publicity committee in Washington.

Campaign Offices Are Moved to RKO Bldg. from Loew's

Broadway theatres will have special displays. The West Side Chamber of Commerce and Broadway merchants will aid in the celebration. Plans for a parade were discarded because of traffic problems.

New York newspapers continued to devote liberal space to editorials and news features of the campaign. A two-column editorial in the N. Y. Journal-American and other papers of the Hearst chain this weekend pointed to the benefits of the campaign to recovery programs in all industries, as well as this one.

"Unquestionably," the editorial observed, "the motion picture industry is capable of taking the lead in the inevitable march of American industries back to normal and prosperous conditions. . . . Certainly the motion picture industry has much to sell and much more to give. "Mr. Chips" Is Next

The next picture to go into work, r. Goetz said, will be "Goodbye Mr. hips," starring Robert Donat. "Too Hot to Handle"

(M-G-M)

HOLLYWOOD, Sept. 12.—"Too Hot To Handle" is full of excitement. There's something interesting doing all the time. In condensed fashion it embraces all the thrills of a bizarre serial. It has a travelogue background—war-blasted Shanghai, New York City, rural up-state, in a plane above a burning ship at sea, and the Brazilian jungles.

Clark Gable and Myrna Loy are the stars. Their work pars, sometimes excels, that of any of the six preceding pictures in which they have been teamed. Walter Pidgeon is Gable's professional and romantic rival. They constitute a skillful trio, performing always in crowd-pleasing style. Walter Connolly's agonies, pestered by Gable, suffering divorce and alimony troubles, provoke wild laughter. Leo Carrillo, Henry Kolker, Marjorie Main, Willie Fung, the other support players, hold the pace set by the featured contingent. The Len Hammond story, the screenplay by Laurence Stallings and John Lee Mahin, gave the players something substantial to work on. Director Jack Conway took advantage of that quality. In "Too Hot To Handle," Producer Lawrence Weingarten has delivered exhibitors an attraction they can exploit to the skies.

It tells the story of newsreels and newsreel camera men. Its Gable and Carrillo in Shanghai, getting and missing shots, driving the boss back in New York, played by Connolly, frantic; scooping and being scooped by Pidgeon, taking shots when double-crossed by him. Framed by Pidgeon, he crashes his car into Miss Loy's plane, rescues her from the flaming wreckage, falls in love with her. He quits his assignment and escorts her back to New York. Romance grows and he learns the story of her jungle-lost, but believed living, brother. The sequences devoted to photographing the burning munitions-laden ship are sensationalism plus that won merited applause. Pidgeon makes him share them, though as a price of his silence that concerned the duplicity Gable practiced on Loy. Both are fired by their respective bosses. They hock the equipment to provide Loy with funds to go in search of her brother.

The picture moves into the jungles. Gable outmagics the voodoo medicine man and finds the missing man. While hokum is stressed to the breaking point, he and Carrillo photograph Pidgeon and Miss Loy rescuing the long lost man. Gable's shots of the event are the sensation of the nation when the rescue party arrives in New York. Connolly is triumphant. But Gable is out shooting a blood and thunder gangster roundup when Miss Loy finds him again.

Running time, 105 minutes. "G." G. McC.

Canada Film Imports From U. S. Show Gain

film imports from the United States and France, while those from Great Britain were reduced. The footage during the past fiscal year from the United States was 3,347,186, compared with 3,050,249 for the year 1936-37; imports from France rose to 1,482,822 feet for the last fiscal 12 months from 1,160,000 feet. Films from the United Kingdom totalled 560,367 feet, against 967,000 feet for the prior year, a decrease of 406,633 feet.

The value of motion picture imports from the respective countries for 1937-'38 was reported as follows: United States, $266,968; France, $119,104, and United Kingdom $44,761.

The heavy increase in films from France was due to the growing demand for French-language pictures in the French-Canadian sections of the Dominion, principally Quebec, Northern Ontario and Manitoba.

Warners Sign Hopkins

HOLLYWOOD, Sept. 12.—Warners have signed Miriam Hopkins for two films. The first picture scheduled for the actress is a version of James Hilton's novel, "We Are Not Alone." Production is set to begin some time next month.

Hays Explains Drive As Radio Hour Guest

Will H. Hays, as a guest last night on the Lux "Radio Theatre," took the radio audience behind the scenes to explain the Motion Pictures' Greatest Year drive.

The campaign was undertaken, he said, to "earn more friends" for the film business. He "broke down" the motion picture dollar, explaining how 65 cents of every consumer dollar remains in the community in which it is spent, 10 cents goes to the distributor and only 25 cents goes to Hollywood.

Theatre Gains Big, Reports On Drive Show

attendance increases, according to campaign officials. All circuits have been requested to send in reports on weekly business, with comparisons, if possible, with the period immediately prior to the start of the campaign and with the same period a year ago. Comprehensive reports from circuits other than the two named have not been received yet, it was said.

The reports on hand indicate that current business is running 20 to 45 per cent ahead of the weeks immediately preceding the opening of the campaign and is approximating the business done a year ago in many sectors. Few reports thus far, however, show any substantial gain over the figures for the same period last year.

Campaign headquarters plans to issue periodic reports on business as information is received from national circuits and the field. It is expected that it will require several weeks more before a comprehensive picture of box-office results from the campaign's "Movie Quiz" prize contest and national advertising can be obtained.

"Quiz" Contest Going Big, Saunders Finds

Great patronage interest in the "Movie Quiz" contest in the midwest was found by E. M. Saunders, M-G-M division manager, during a field trip from which he returned yesterday. Gone five weeks, Mr. Saunders observed the start of the drive during his tour, and says that while in some cities the demand for the booklets started slow, it later gained considerable momentum.

Quiz Books in Demand

Mr. Saunders said that exhibitors are finding the plan of "making the patrons ask for the booklets" and not passing them out indiscriminately is working out to good advantage, as requests show definite interest. This was the intention of the drive committee in recommending this method of distribution to theatre managers.

All of M-G-M's big circuit deals are now closed and the field men are concentrating on the secondary accounts, Mr. Saunders said. A number of deals were signed during his swing of the western territory, which included visits to Los Angeles, San Francisco, Portland, Seattle, Salt Lake City, Omaha, Chicago, Kansas City and Detroit.

Theatre business has been definitely on the upswing in the last three or four weeks, Mr. Saunders reports.

Hit Drive Ignoring Air

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 12.—The Pennsylvania Association of Broadcasters, meeting here over the week-end, adopted a resolution "deploring the discourtesy displayed to radio" by the motion picture industry in concentrating its expenditures for its Motion Pictures' Greatest Year campaign in other media than radio.

Report Korda Again Seeking Outside Films

new his efforts to obtain authorization for outside productions.

Mr. Korda's stay in New York is for an indefinite period, but probably will extend for a month. Prior to his departure, a meeting of the company's five partner-owners will be called for the purpose of electing Murray Silverstone to the company presidency. Final action on the new five-year contract for George J. Schaefer is also anticipated in the near future.

Mr. Korda, who last fall journeyed from London to Gibraltar to board an Italian liner in order to thwart interviewers on his arrival in New York, yesterday emerged from the steerage quarters of the Normandie and ignored his luggage at customs in his effort to leave the pier unnoticed. He went immediately to the Sherry-Netherland where he engaged in a conference with United Artists officials for several hours.

He was accompanied by Stephen Pallos, general manager of London Films, who will be in New York a month conferring on sales plans for Mr. Korda's new season product. The two were met by Mr. Silverstone and Arthur W. Kelly, United Artists foreign manager.

India Passes "Germany"

Word has been received here that the British censorship board in Bombay, India, has passed "Inside Nazi Germany—1938," the March of Time subject. The film was passed over the protest of the local German consul and is the first to play in India under recently complete distribution arrangements.

"Daughters" Going Big

Warners yesterday reported that in view of the business done by "Four Daughters" in a number of key cities, the film may become one of the company's high-grossing films of the new season. National release is set for Sept. 24.

Rialto Take Is $7,500

The Rialto garnered $7,500 with "The Missing Guest" in the week ending last night. "Safety in Numbers" went five days at the Globe to take $3,900.

Yiddish Film Will Open

"The Vow," all-Yiddish talking film will open at the Squire tomorrow. It was produced in Poland.

$11.97 a Minute

Roxy statisticians, after much burning of midnight oil, have figured out that on the basis of the $338,250 gross on "Alexander's Ragtime Band" in its five-week run, the theatre took in $11.97 a minute for every minute the box-office was open. And it required six cashiers to take it in.

Hollywood Letter

Dear Editor:

IF it's true, what they say about a committee of New York circuit heads coming out here to talk the studios out of previewing their product, you may want to hear what happened here last week when the gentlemen who buy the film advertising space in the Los Angeles newspapers got the gentlemen who sell it to agree on a no-preview-notice policy.

In Los Angeles a film gets two reviews in the newspaper. Critics give the advance screenings a fast once-over, and later, when the pictures go into regular run, longer and more detailed reviews appear. Thornton Sargent, Fox West Coast Theatres advertising director; Rodney Pantages and others who must know believe the practice clogs the wheels of box-office progress generally.

Well, these gentlemen finally convinced the business managers of the five principal L. A. newspapers. But Louella O. Parsons went right ahead with her morning-after reviewing of last night's previews.

It's that reportorial enthusiasm that will thwart the gentlemen from your town if they come out to put a stop to previews, and even if they succeed. There isn't one among them who doesn't know, deep down, that you can't keep the public from finding out, no matter what you print or don't print about it, whether a picture's good or bad.

Two of the happier developments in a short week that got off to a bad start news wise, are the return of Winfield Sheehan to production, an event awaiting only a touch of validating ink, and Mack Sennett's resumption of humorous activity behind the camera line. Hollywood lists both incidents in the common sense column, where there's room for more in kind.

One of the better ideas born of Thornton Sargent and his fellow workers in behalf of a full box-office during the week—or of any showmen during any week—accounts for the most complete blanketing of a city and on army ever seen here or elsewhere. Downtown Los Angeles, in common with all its far flung suburbs and civic neighbors, is festooned with banners welcoming the American Legion conventioneers—who come from everywhere and go home talking. The festooning consists chiefly of Legion banners appended to the trolley support-wires up and down every street, practically tenting the town. And smack in the middle of eoch and every cross-street stretch of wire hangs a banner, blue on white, declaring "Motion Pictures Are Your Best Entertainment." That little enterprise quite steals the show.

Latest echo of the Myron Selznick pronouncement of the virtues of profit-sharing production is from the Universal sector, where Edgar (McCarthy) Bergen and W. C. Fields are reported splitting the risk, if any, on "You Can't Cheat an Honest Man." . . . Darryl Zanuck has decided to shoot Shirley Temple's next picture, "The Little Princess," in full color, a decision that lifts the budget across the $1,000,000 stripe.

S. Charles Einfeld, who talked a lot about "Four Daughters" before it came out and knew what he was talking about, is talking that way again. This time it's about "The Sisters," in which appear such Warner steadies as the sisters Lane, John Garfield, Jeffrey Lynn, Claude Rains and May Robson, and he has moved the release date forward from September to Oct. 15 to give his abruptly augmented advertising campaign a chance to work. . . . Walter Wanger's "Algiers" broke the all-time record of the Alameda in Mexico City last week. . . . Earl Felton has completed his original screenplay, "The Night Hawk," for Republic.

M-G-M commonly turns out 304 prints of a picture. It shipped 308 prints of "Boys Town" and hit a new high with 358 copies of "Too Hot to Handle." . . . It was Jock Lawrence, long Sam Goldwyn's idea man in charge of crashing Page One, who cooked up the idea of "The Woman Without a Country," Sigrid Gurie's picture about a gal as bad off for passports as she is.

FCC Receives New Standards On Television

Washington, Sept. 12.—Television ansmission standards as evolved by le Radio Manufacturers' Association, oday were placed before the Federal Communications Commission. If the andards are approved it will remove elevision from its present experiental stage and accelerate its comercial development.

Among the standards for which approval is sought are the following:

A television channel of not less hat six megacycles in width.

A standard to separate the sound nd picture carriers by approximately 4.5 Mo. to go into effect just as soon s single-band operation at the transmitter is practicable.

List Various Standards

A standard in a television channel o place the sound carrier in a television channel 0.25 Mc. lower than he upper frequency of the channel.

A standard for a decrease in initial ight intensity to cause an increase in he radiated power.

A standard to use a frame frequency of 30 per second and a field frequency of 60 per second, interlaced.

A standard 441 lines per frame.

A standard picture aspect of 4.3.

If the peak amplitude of the radio frequency television signal is taken as 100 per cent, the standard will be to use not less than 20 per cent nor more than 25 per cent of the total amplitude for synchronizing pulses.

A standard that black shall be represented by a definite carrier level independent of light and shade in the picture.

If peak amplitude of the radio frequency television signal is taken as 100 per cent, it will be the standard for the signal amplitude to drop to 25 per cent or less of peak amplitude for maximum white.

A standard in order to correspond as nearly as possible to equivalent rating of sound transmitters, that the power of television picture transmitters be nominally rated at the output terminals in peak power divided by four.

Represents Much Work

A standard to have the radiated power for the picture approximately the same as for sound.

The standards represent a tremendous amount of work covering a period of many months. To handle additional work by the R. M. A., three new engineering committees are in process of formation, to handle details on television interference, television transmitters and television receivers. The respective chairmen for those committees are J. E. Brown of the Zenith Radio Corp., E. W. Engstron of RCA, and I. J. Kaar of General Electric.

Form Agent Partnerships

Forrest U. Daughdrill and Joseph Bloom have formed a partnership of radio station representatives under the name of Forjoe & Co., with offices in New York. The firm has been authorized to represent eight middle and southwest stations.

New Shows on the Air

"Hollywood Review"

"Hollywood Hotel," Campbell Soup standby for the past five years, returned to CBS Friday evening, and despite reports that it would be a considerably revamped "Hollywood Hotel" from what it has been in former seasons, it remains basically the same show as before—a musical variety program, with drama added. However, the "Hotel" has practically an entire new cast, Frances Langford being the only holdover.

The newcomers are Herbert Marshall as "em cee" and principal male actor; Jean Sablon, as male singer, and Victor Young's orchestra. The leadoff guest was Claudette Colbert, who appeared with Herbert Marshall in a radio version of the picture, "Dark Angel."

"Hollywood Hotel," now as always, provides 60 minutes of pleasant entertainment. The drama was top notch, with Miss Colbert and Mr. Marshall turning in their usual capable performances. The variety portion of the show was excellent with Mr. Marshall surprisingly adept in the strange role of "em cee." "Hollywood Hotel" is a Friday 9 to 10 P. M. feature on CBS.

"Sunday Evening Hour"

The Ford "Sunday Evening Hour" steered its way back to the airways the past weekend, with Eugene Ormandy commanding the Detroit Symphony Orchestra, and John Charles Thomas as the inaugural guest soloist. This program for the past five seasons or so has provided such quality listening that it has come to be considered one of the most outstanding serious music programs on the air, and it well deserves that consideration.

The orchestral selections included Wagner's prelude to "Die Meistersinger," and numbers by DeBussey and Tchaikowski, while Mr. Thomas sang arias from "Tannhauser" and "Carmen." The "Sunday Evening Hour" is heard at 10 P. M. on CBS.

The session adjourned after an hour until Sept. 19, when it was discovered that the independent producers did not have representatives present through a misunderstanding. The opening session was featured by Kenneth Thomson, guild secretary, taking the stand to establish the need for arbitration. Canada 16mm Field Booms In Rural Areas and Schools

Canada is experiencing a boom in 16mm. film development, both in the non-theatrical and educational fields, and the large rural areas which have no established theatres are being amply supplied by circuits of 16mm. operators, according to Helen Mason of General Films, Ltd., of Toronto.

General Films alone supplies more than 80 circuits of itinerant exhibitors out of its Toronto and Regina offices, providing projection equipment and programs of features and shorts. A recent development is the entry of the N. L. Nathanson organization in the 16mm. field in opposition to General.

The itinerant exhibition business is well organized, Miss Mason said, and the operators obtain franchises on halls or auditoriums by the year for exclusive film showings. In sections where there are no power lines, the operators carry their own light plants. Also, some of them are talented and put on a vaudeville show to boot.

The films used are from one to five years old. General Films has a library of 180 programs consisting of features and shorts from which the "roadshow exhibitors" can select.

The company, which is the Canadian distributor for Victor Animatograph, is just starting to develop the Dominion for local newsreels, leasing cameras to exhibitors who usually tie up with local merchants to defray the cost of the films. Local newsreels have proved popular in some sections of this country.

Miss Mason, who has returned to Toronto was here on a film buying trip. She formerly for five years was in charge of the film division for Victor Animatograph. Canada is stimulating the use of films in the schools, she reported, the Dominion admitting projection equipment duty free for school use. Nova Scotia pays half the cost of sound equipment installations in the schools, and provincial school authorities are considering establishing libraries of educational sound films.

Court Refuses Stay For "Diagrams" Ban

ALBANY, Sept. 13.—Supreme Court Justice Gilbert V. Schenck has denied an application for a temporary injunction, brought by Jewel Productions, Inc., Social Hygiene Films of America, Inc., and Samuel Cummins, against Irwin Esmond, motion picture director for the State Department of Education, who terminated a permit for "Animated Diagrams of the Human Body," a two-reel Government-made film. "Animated Diagrams" had been shown lately as part of a show variously entitled "Childbirth" and "Birth of a Child."

"Animated Diagrams" was showing in Buffalo last June, when Esmond revoked a permit granted in 1921. Jewel Productions obtained a show cause order from Supreme Court Justice Ernest Hammer of New York County. A change of venue was agreed upon to Albany County, and Justice Schenck at that time reserved decision.

"Pygmalion" MGM's First Under New Law

LONDON, Sept. 6.—M-G-M's purchase of the distribution rights for Pascal's "Pygmalion" is the first to be made under the reciprocity clauses of the 1938 Films Act. The film, purchased for the United States, will count for M-G-M's quota in Great Britain.

Paramount's acquisition for the United States of "Vessel of Wrath" is in a like category. The reciprocity clause requires that British films bought for foreign distribution may not be counted for the distributor quota twice. That is they may count as such for the foreign distributor, but not for the English distributor. They are, of course, available for the exhibitor quota.

"This partnership has been eminently successful. The support of the public for better pictures . . . has brought from Hollywood to the people of the world their best entertainment."

Cooperation with the drive is becoming general. Mayor Stanley Lewis of Ottawa has just issued a proclamation urging people to attend theatres. Frank O'Byrne, Toronto branch manager of Associated Screen News, has contributed a trailer which will run in 445 theatres.

CBC is cooperating by including "Take Your Girlee to the Movies" on the national network in the "Musical Mirror" program.

New York Previews

"Pals of the Saddle"

(Republic)

Republic delivers superior western entertainment in this latest Three Mesquiteer opus. Bob Livingstone is absent from the cast. His saddle is capably filled by John Wayne. The action content, development of the story and performances are up to the standard of this series. The stress is upon thrills with a laugh here and there to relieve the tension. George Sherman's direction keeps things constantly on the move.

The boys stumble upon an international arms smuggling ring. Wayne is impressed into the secret service by Doreen McKay when her aide is killed. He makes the contacts with headquarters as they are about to deliver a poison gas chemical to a Mexican port. All sorts of exciting complications enter the picture. They are dealt with properly, however, by brains, fists and six-shooters. Wayne is taken prisoner near the conclusion. Ray Corrigan and Max Terhune set him free and they proceed to play havoc with a wagon train that is conveying the contraband. They hold the outfit at bay until a cavalry unit arrives. At the conclusion the trio ride off quite free of any romantic entanglement.

Running time, 55 minutes. "G." JOSEPH PRIORE

"Avocate D'Amour" ("Counsel for Romance")

(Regal Distributing)

The appealing and attractive figure of Danielle Darrieux, who has acquired no little reputation among American film goers, is the chief asset of this French film for theatres in the United States, and it is no mean asset.

The picture, produced by Raoul Ploquin from a screenplay by Jean Boyer, and plentifully supplied with English subtitle translations of dialogue, is light comedy with a touch of music, as Miss Darrieux raises her voice in occasional rendition of romantic melody, in a voice in keeping with her appearance, light and attractive. She is aided, both in song and story, by Henry Garat, personable enough and handling himself and his role adequately. The actress proves once again her ability to handle a light comedy role, supplying a deft touch to a well-rounded performance. The exhibitor need hardly be told that Miss Darrieux's appearance is the selling factor of greatest prominence, plus a catchy title.

Miss Darrieux graduates with honors from law school, but her father wants her to marry and settle down. Finally they strike a bargain. She shall have 18 months, and if she fails of any sort of success, she shall marry a man of her father's choice. She is assigned a case, falls in love with the "thief," and finally learns it is all a hoax staged by her father, the man of his—and her—choice being her "client."

Running time, 88 minutes. "G." CHARLES S. AARONSON

"Die Sextanerin" ("The College Girl")

(Henka Film Exchange)

This film was produced in Prague, Czechoslovakia, by the Metropolitan Film Co. It has German dialogue which is translated by English subtitles. The entertainment content, of a dramatic nature, should appeal to audiences that understand the language. For American audiences it will probably seem slow-moving and the unfoldment of the plot may be found rather familiar.

The action concerns a young student. She has little home life. Her mother is an opera singer and her father a preoccupied businessman. The girl falls in love with a handsome professor who comes to teach at the school. She permits the infatuation to become an obsession and consequently experiences the pangs of jealousy, the taunts of her classmates and eventually a mental breakdown. An innocent meeting with the young teacher starts a scandal in the school and they both are dismissed. The ensuing disgrace causes the girl to take poison. However, she is discovered in time. The conclusion shows the two understanding each other.

The production has much foreign atmosphere and stresses the adolescent outbursts of the students. The performances are convincing. The principals are practically unknown here.

Running time, 85 minutes. "A." JOSEPH PRIORE

CIO Is Behind I. A. Attacks, Smith Charges

have been eyeing the motion picture industry for some time. On the heels of the latest publicity attack from the same anonymous minority source that [illegible] the past year has been attempting to blacken the I. A. T. S. E. leadership, a small group of active agents is circulating through the ranks of studio workers, feeling out prospects for a C. I. O. invasion.

"The alliance is prepared to meet this situation and to properly expose C. I. O. stooges and their Communist associates.

"It further develops that minority factions attacking the I.A.T.S.E. from within have spread their tentacles into every other craft and union organization in the entertainment fields. Working with known Communists this group plans similar maneuvers in other studio organizations. Their principal objective is to disrupt present organizations and destroy existing contractual relations between crafts and employers to make way for a C.I.O. drive. To us the situation is clear. We have been attacked, investigated, assailed and libeled for over a year. Invariably the attacks have come from the same C.I.O. Communist sources. Now we are bringing about our own investigation.

"It will be thoroughly convincing and final. Under the practical procedure that has marked our organization for over 50 years we will establish once and for all that the rank and file of I.A.T.S.E. members who have built this organization are thoroughly loyal to their own union and the A.F.L."

New York Previews

"The Mexicali Kid"

(Monogram)

Jack Randall is featured in the romantic lead of this western, while Wesley Barry, in the title role, is an engaging sharp shooter, who aids Randall. The yarn is cut rather closely to the pattern of westerns, with perhaps a bit too much footage at times devoted to the inevitable pursuits, but in general it is active and lively stuff, the kind which has a ready audience in so many spots.

Eleanor Stewart is the girl whose ranch is the object of the nefarious scheme of her general manager, according to the original story and screenplay by Robert Emmett. Wallace Fox who directed, wisely kept the action to the forefront as much as possible.

Randall meets Miss Stewart by accident after teaming with Barry, and falls in love with her. Again by accident, he gets wind of the plot of the general manager, plays in with him, and with a handful of chases and considerable gun play thrown in for good measure, succeeds at the last in eradicating the gang, as the Kid is killed in the fight. The disposal of Barry appears somewhat unnecessary, since, although a robber, he is made to reform, and is a likeable character.

Running time, 56 minutes. "G." Charles S. Aaronson

"Strange Boarders"

(G. B.)

Here is a deftly told spy drama based on an E. Phillips Oppenheim story that will give satisfaction. The story is gay at times, builds its suspense carefully and before it reaches its tragic-comic climax it offers spicy comedy and a few harrowing moments. All these elements are skillfully prepared and enacted by a first rate cast that includes Tom Walls, Renee Saint-Cyr, George Curzon and a number of other excellent character actors.

Walls and Miss Saint-Cyr are about to sail on their honeymoon when the British Intelligence steps in and orders Walls to investigate the theft of plans from the Air Ministry. Walls is annoyed and Miss Saint-Cyr quite puzzled over the turn of events. However, Walls breaks himself away and sets himself to locating the spy ring. Working from sketchy clues he uncovers the outfit. Miss Saint-Cry catches up with him and tries to be of some use. There are clever situations rich in humor and characterization as the Government's net, supervised by Wall closes about the spy ring. But there is a surprise finish which leaves everything set to rights, though a bit breathless.

For the most part the action is set in and about London and at a middle class boarding house. Herbert Mason directed.

Running time, 73 minutes. "G." Joseph Priore

"Under the Big Top"

(Monogram)

The showman should take into consideration the appeal of the circus when he takes on the exhibition of this picture. The story involves the colorful aspects of that branch of show business. What develops dramatically is tepid and familiar, but there is no dearth of action and romance.

The narrative details the upbringing of Anne Nagel, an orphan, by her aunt, Marjorie Main. Miss Main is the owner of a traveling circus. Miss Nagel becomes a trapeze artist. She works with Jack LaRue and Grant Richards. Love ripens between Richards and Miss Nagel. Her aunt objects to this interference with Miss Nagel's career, but Miss Nagel runs off with Richards. Later, Miss Main becomes seriously ill and Miss Nagel, together with LaRue and Richards, return to the circus to revive attendance with their featured act. This perks up Miss Main considerably. LaRue falls and is seriously injured when the trio are doing their act. The accident causes Miss Main to realize that love and romance, things she has kept from Miss Nagel, have a place in human affairs and she is reconciled to some extent.

The principals do their best with the opportunities presented by their roles. Also featured are Herbert Rawlinson, Betty Compson, Snowflake, Rolfe Sedan, Charlene Wyatt and Harry Harvey. Karl Brown directed. Many stock shots are used.

Running time, 63 minutes. "G." Joseph Priore

Fourteen Big Stations Ask Super-Power

WASHINGTON, Sept. 13.—Fourteen broadcasting stations today took issue with the Senate on the question of super-power and urged the Federal Communications Commission to abandon the present limitation of 50 kilowatts on maximum power.

In a brief filed with the commission the stations, loosely organized into the so-called clear channel group for the purposes of the hearings held some 10 weeks ago, contended that in passing the resolution condemning the use of power in excess of 50 kilowatts the Senate acted under a "misapprehension" of the facts and that approval of super-power by the commission would prove the greatest stimulus broadcasting has ever had.

The clear channel group filed its brief under permission given by the commission at the time of the hearings, when super-power was strongly urged by a number of broadcasters and as strongly protested by others who feared that operation of a number of "WLW's" would ruin them financially.

The group is composed of stations KFI, WSM, WLW, WGN, WSB, WJR, WBAP, WFAA, WHAS, WWL, WLS, WHO, WHAM and WOAI.

Republic Is Seeking An Air Show Sponsor

A commercial sponsor is being sought by Republic for its forthcoming network radio program, which is being shaped up on the coast.

The series will consist of a 30-minute program weekly, according to present plans, with the studio's big names appearing. The company will put on the series whether or not it obtains a sponsor, a Republic official says.

Bestor Settles with CRA

Legal difficulties between Don Bestor, orchestra leader, and Consolidated Radio Artists, have been settled. Bestor, who has sought to obtain an injunction restraining Consolidated from enforcing terms of their management contract with him, will remain under exclusive CRA management through settlement of the litigation.

Tuned to Europe

The war crisis in Czechoslovakia kept the radio lanes humming all yesterday, with programs on all local stations and the networks subjected to continual interruptions to broadcast latest news developments. CBS and NBC, in addition, hastily scheduled broadcasts from the European capitals, including Prague, Berlin, Paris, London and Rome. Orders were issued at all stations to remain on the air beyond scheduled closing times, if the news from Europe warranted such action.

New Shows on the Air

"Lux Radio Theatre"

The "Lux Radio Theatre," a program bedecked with awards for meritorious performance, returned to its accustomed 9 to 10 P.M. period on CBS Monday, bearing lusty, brawling "Spawn of the North" as its inaugural offering. The air cast included most of the principals who appear in the Paramount picture of that title, principally George Raft, Fred MacMurray, Dorothy Lamour, John Barrymore and Akim Tamiroff.

Bringing into the confined space of a radio broadcasting studio an action-packed story like "Spawn of the North," which deals with the perils of the Alaskan salmon industry, is an obviously difficult task, and while there were moments when the story became noisy rather than entertaining, the production on the whole proved more than satisfactory, and should give the pictorial "Spawn of the North" a good lift at the box-office. The Lux program has accomplished this result before with pictures whose general release is more or less concurrent with the adaptations presented on the "Radio Theatre." Outstanding examples are "Stella Dallas," "Mad About Music" and "A Star Is Born."

BANNER

New Mexico Station Will Join CBS Web

A new member station of the CBS network is KGGM, Albuquerque, N. M., which will join Sept. 25. KGGM has been unaffiliated, and operates full time with a power of 1,000 watts on 1,230 kilocycles. The station will be available to CBS advertisers at the minimum rate of $130 per evening hour. It will be a member of the CBS Mountain Group.

The new station brings the network's total to 115 stations.

In addition he will visit Moscow, Stockholm, London, Paris, Berlin, Geneva and Rome to observe program methods and discuss further expansion of program exchanges between NBC and those countries. He will be accompanied on the trip by Max Gordon, Continental European representative of NBC, and Mrs. Berkeley.

Negotiations on behalf of the American companies will be conducted in Rome through the American Embassy. In addition, foreign representatives of all American companies engaged in distribution in Italy are meeting in Paris for the purpose of determining future policy and are expected to make representations to Italian officials within the next few days which may permit the continuance of negotiations looking to a modification of the decree.

Home office foreign departments said yesterday that no official notification of the publication of the decree creating a monopoly for the distribu-

Skouras, chairman of the Los Angeles regional campaign committee and head of Fox West Coast, stated yesterday in a communication to campaign headquarters here.

"Public response," Mr. Skouras said, "has been very gratifying and I am confident that the effort to reawaken interest in motion pictures will have permanent results."

The local experimental contests will feature six of the company's pictures which, G. B. states, "were excluded from the current national industry drive." Following observation of the contests in four cities in as many parts of the country, G. The company's statement said that

He said he has noted favorable sentiment for the idea in Congress, and urged his hearers to press the matter at the capital.

Continue Attack on Guild's Enrollment

Hollywood, Sept. 14.—Producer attorneys today continued their fight to show that the Screen Directors' Guild does not have a majority of directors, assistants and unit managers as is claimed by guild officials, in the N. L. R. B. hearing on the guild petition to be declared the collective bargaining agency for crafts before Trial Examiner William Ringer.

Leading the fight to show that many members are delinquent in dues and some have resigned from the organization, Alfred Wright, 20th Century-Fox counsel, in cross-examining J. P. McGowan, guild secretary, brought out that W. S. Van Dyke and George Fitzmaurice, among others, had quit the group. Mr. Van Dyke, Mr. McGowan said, was talked into withdrawing his resignation and Mr. Fitzmaurice's resignation was never accepted.

After reading the guild minutes overnight Mr. Ringer ruled that producer attorneys could not have access to them but could cross-examine Mr. McGowan on specific events alleged to have occurred. This brought to light the Van Dyke and Fitzmaurice situations.

Pizor and Comerford Close Theatre Deal

Within the past two weeks, he and Charles Segall, also prominent in local exhibition circles, have opened two new houses here and on Sept. 21 will open the new Chelten in Germantown. Mr. Pizor is president of the United M. P. T. O.

J. S. Will Ask Italians for Compromises

n in Italy of foreign films has been ceived in New York. It was ad- tted, however, that reports had been ceived from abroad during the past 7 days indicating that the new Ital- film policy would be along the es incorporated in the decree.

On Sept. 1 Italy reduced by half authorized amount of cash which nerican film distributors are per- tted to withdraw from Italy. For- erly, the American concerns were rmitted to take out a total of 20,- 0,000 lira, apportioned among the mpanies in accordance with the mber of pictures which each of them stributed in Italy. The authorized al has been reduced to 10,000,000 a, but, despite this, foreign depart- ents continue to regard Italy as one the important markets abroad.

Reports Heard for 10 Days

Persistent reports during the past eek or 10 days have indicated that alian officialdom was considering a duction in the number of American ctures which would be admitted to e country. The former quota, which pired Sept. 1, authorized total im- rts of 250 American pictures. The ports hold that the number will be duced to 150. However, no word final action on the matter has been ceived yet and, it is believed, a de- sion may not be made until the en- re question of distribution arrange- ents has been negotiated.

If the decree turning over distribu- on to the semi-official agency is en- rced, Paramount, Loew's, 20th Cen- ry-Fox and Warners would be bliged to liquidate their Italian anches. Other companies distribute Italy through Italian agents, but ould, of course, be obliged to liqui- te their contracts with these repre- ntatives. The four companies named perate from two to 10 branches each Italy.

of the theatre collection at the New York Public Library.

Marc Connelly presided at the luncheon meeting and discussed a plan for assisting playwrights. John Golden, producer, urged a strong managers' organization and a control board for the theatre. Burns Mantle, drama critic, also spoke. The afternoon session saw the awarding of one of five of the John Golden Fellowships to Stanley Young, playwright. The others have not yet been voted. Frank Gillmore, president of the Associated Actors and Artistes of America, urged an international drama convention, and Orson Welles, Nance O'Neil and Jane Wyatt also spoke, followed by an open forum. A banquet and entertainment at the Astor last night concluded the meeting.

Independent Praises Low-Budget Pictures

"The outstanding box-office success of several low budgeted pictures of recent release serves to show that entertainment is not so much a matter of the number of dollars put into a film as it is the application of those dollars," says an editorial in The Independent, publication of the I. T. O. A.

"The producers in charge of such pictures as 'Love Finds Andy Hardy,' 'Crime School,' 'Saint in New York' and 'Gangs of New York' have delivered to the public enjoyable films; to the exhibitors box-office films; to the industry adequate proof that money-making pictures do not necessitate the spending of millions."

The editorial is addressed to Hollywood, and declares: "Good entertainment is the password today; a wise use of dollars and discrimination in selection of performers and stories are more important than a lavish hand and fat bankroll."

Critics Here Praise "Edge of the World"

The first release of Pax Films for the new season, "Edge of the World," which was produced in England by Joe Rock Productions, and written and directed by Michael Powell, has received virtually unanimous praise from New York's daily newspaper critics.

In the MOTION PICTURE DAILY review from London, published July 16, 1937, the film was described as "unusual," with magnificent pictorial effects, and was called notable for the "atmosphere of absolute, and often stark, realism." The film is currently playing at the 55th Street Playhouse, for an indefinite run.

ments, as has been reported in many quarters over the past week.

"All important company affairs which would ordinarily come to the attention of the stockholders have been settled," Miss Pickford said. "There is nothing more to do except proceed with the making of good pictures. I know of nothing of any importance which is likely to come before the meeting."

Miss Pickford said that she planned to return to Hollywood "in a short while" and that her new cosmetics business might keep her on the west coast for three or four weeks.

M-G-M Men to Give Testimony Sept. 23

Nicholas M. Schenck, president of Loew's and J. Robert Rubin, vice-president and general counsel, will be notified today to appear at the office of Emil K. Ellis, attorney, in the RKO Bldg. Sept. 23 for examination before trial of the Loew's minority stockholder suits.

Six other directors of the corporation are also to be questioned by Mr. Ellis, who recently obtained depositions from M-G-M executives and directors on the coast. The consolidated suits seek to abrogate salary and bonus agreements ratified by the stockholders.

William R. Ferguson, M-G-M exploitation manager, returned yesterday from Chicago where he conducted a meeting of 14 field exploitation men in the midwest and south on "The Great Waltz," scheduled for release Oct. 28.

Mr. Ferguson said elaborate plans are being made for a "Great Waltz Competition" which will be staged nationally as a move to revive the waltz in connection with the picture.

The industry's promotion campaign also was discussed at the meeting. A similar session was held here late last week, and Mr. Ferguson may hold an exploitation meeting on the coast later.

The RKO Proctor 58th St. Theatre will celebrate its 10th anniversary Sept. 22 with a special program. It is the 10th anniversary for the present house built by the late F. F. Proctor, but there has been a theatre on the site for 42 years.

Small Group To Confer on Trust Action

vocated, it was said, on the assumption that more ground could be covered in a limited time by fewer spokesmen.

The request for the Washington meeting was addressed to the five theatre operating defendants ostensibly for the purpose of discussing the maintenance of the status quo of theatre holdings pending determination of the Government's equity suit. Failure to agree on a stand-still proposal, Mr. Arnold indicated in his letter to the defendants, would necessitate a Government move for a temporary injunction to restrain the defendants from extending their theatre interests during the pendency of the suit.

It is certain, however, that the forthcoming conference will explore, also, the Government's attitude toward the establishment of a voluntary trade practice program and the views of both sides on the possibility of arriving at a consent decree.

Loew's Hires Davis Law Firm

Loew's-M-G-M has retained the law firm of Davis, Polk, Wardwell, Gardiner & Reed as counsel for its corporate and individual defendants in the suit. John W. Davis, former Democratic nominee for President, heads the firm.

The designation of counsel by the Loew's-M-G-M group leaves Warners as the sole major defendant in the action which has not yet retained outside counsel. Mr. Perkins, head of the company's legal staff, has been acting for the company in the proceeding thus far. It has been reported that the firm of Cravath, deGersdorff, Swaine & Wood will be retained by Warners in the near future, with Frederick W. Wood indicated as chief counsel for the company and its associated defendants.

No agreement has been reached yet by the major defendants on the designation of chief counsel. Several law firms are mentioned as being in the running, but several major defendants are represented as being opposed to the designation of a single law firm as chief counsel.

While in London Mr. Berlin will attend the opening of the picture.

Hollywood Preview

"If I Were King"

(Paramount)

Hollywood, Sept. 14.—In "If I Were King" Producer-Director Frank Lloyd has turned out a worthy box-office successor to "Wells Fargo." It presents Ronald Colman in what probably will be rated his greatest role, that of the swashbuckling adventurer-poet, Francois Villon, in the time of Louis XI.

The picture has been produced on a spectacular scale. Its appeal is as modern as today's startling events; its theme is feed people and they will defend what is theirs.

Villon saves the throne of France, but is banished from Paris because he dares to love a princess. The background has the splendor of the period. The drama is built up by the duplicity of court traitors.

There is sweeping spectacle as the Burgundians surround the walls of Paris. In the isolated capital the smug court laughs behind stone walls with storehouses full as the populace starves. Rebellion threatens. The spectacular Villon is made chief constable of France and is given a week to drive off the besiegers. He defeats the conspirators, rallies the people of the city to their King and conquers the enemy. A wanton girl gives her life in the struggle. Banishment is his reward.

Colman's work establishes him as a candidate for any of the year's acting honors. Fine performances also are contributed by Basil Rathbone, Frances Dee, Ellen Drew, C. V. France and Henry Wilcoxon. The story is from the stage play by Justin Huntly McCarthy and the screenplay is by Preston Sturges.

Running time, 95 minutes. "G." G. McC.

Variety Club

Pittsburgh

Pittsburgh, Sept. 14.—The annual banquet on Oct. 30 is practically a sellout already. Howard Adlesberger has gone to Florida with his mother for a vacation. Jimmy Balmer is back from Hershey, Pa., where he attended a hockey league meeting. George Tyson drafted Wally Forrestor, managing editor of the Press, as a judge in the Atlantic City beauty pageant. Ken Hoel won't get his annual two-week rest until next month.

The Friday Night Family series has been resumed for the fall and winter season. A Variety Club affair without Rosey Rowswell at the speakers' table would be unthinkable. A hidden chapter in Tony Stern's life is the fact that in college he batoned a dance band.

C. J. Latta is thinking about going after a pilot's license seriously. The Charlie Kurtzmans have taken an apartment at the Royal Yorke.

Kansas City

Kansas City, Sept. 14.—Variety Club is sponsoring Film Row's bowling league this year. The league, headed by Jim Lewis, RKO, will open the season at Pla-Mor, Sept. 26. The Cinema Club, which is under the wing of Variety, has the following new members: W. W. Sherrill, Albert Morris, Larry Biechele, Charles Barnes, Harold Hume, George Blackwell, Martin Stone, Ed Hartman.

Variety will sponsor a golf tournament Oct. 3 at Old Mission.

Cincinnati

Cincinnati, Sept. 14.—Wm. J. Devaney, office manager of the local M-G-M branch, is the latest recruit into the ranks of resident membership.

Nelson Trowbridge, skipper of the Cox, is in New York arranging for the list of legitimate attractions to play his house this season.

Joe Goetz, who sits on the managerial lid of the RKO Paramount, is arranging details of a city-wide celebration which will mark the theatre's seventh anniversary Sept. 23.

Work is to start at once on enlarging present quarters of Tent No. 3, made possible by acquisition of two adjoining rooms. The change is scheduled for completion by Nov. 1, according to Joe Oulahan, chief barker.

Omaha

Omaha, Sept. 14.—An industry fun festival and golf tournament will be sponsored by the Omaha Variety Club on Sept. 19 at the Ralston Club.

The program, as announced by Chief Barker Walter M. Green, includes golf during the day and a dinner-dance at night. The affair will be open to all persons connected with the industry and their friends.

and newspaper editorials related to the drive were credited with their share of the success of the drive to date. Of equal importance, Mr. Skouras said, is the "quality of the pictures being released.

"Pictures like 'Alexander's Ragtime Band,' 'Marie Antoinette,' 'Four Daughters,' 'Letter of Introduction,' 'Spawn of the North,' 'Carefree,' 'Algiers' and 'You Can't Take It with You,' supported by the newspaper advertisements and the contest, are proving again that motion pictures are the best entertainment," Mr. Skouras said.

A tribute to the industry's recent accomplishments was paid yesterday by Martha A. Burt, national chairman of the committee on motion pictures of the General Federation of Women's Clubs, in connection with the national campaign.

Mrs. Burt Praises Campaign

"The Federation is not indifferent to this great industry," Mrs. Burt said. "It understands the problems of the producer and exhibitor and it keeps an interested eye on the industry's investments as well as the perusal of all its product. The motion picture is the most important influence in the lives of the American people and it is worthy of our interest and support. We have cooperated with the industry to the end that there may be an abundance of excellent pictures worthy of our praise, and we believe that our efforts helped to bring about worthwhile results."

A theme song for the campaign which will plug "film-going" will be forthcoming shortly from Ralph Freed and Burton Lane of the Paramount studio music department, who were given their assignment yesterday. A musical director to do a score for the all-industry short subject, "The World Is Yours," will be designated by the M-G-M studio within the next few days.

Newspaper cooperation with the drive continues unabated across the country. Reports from Wilmington relate that both morning and evening papers carried an eight-page film section this week; Cleveland film critics are identifying every contest picture reviewed as such; the Columbus Citizen lauded the drive editorially and the Dispatch is planning picture layouts on the local campaign. A 32-page special edition, with eight pages devoted to the campaign, was printed recently by the Westchester, Pa., Daily News in cooperation with local exhibitors and merchants.

"Grand Illusion"

(World Pictures)

Actually an indictment of war, this film, produced by Jean Renoir in France, offers a psychological study of the effect of war on various representative individuals, and achieves its purpose admirably. There is no doubt that Mr. Renoir is chiefly responsible for the excellent quality of the film. He produced and directed, and, with Charles Spaak, prepared the script.

Picturing, with a high degree of quiet dramatic intensity the reaction of a group of French army officers in German prison camps during the World War, the film has a strong cast, headed by Jean Gabin, Pierre Fresnay and Eric von Stroheim, while Dita Parlo, the only woman in the cast, has an important supporting role.

Von Stroheim dines Fresnay and Gabin, French fliers, after he shoots down their plane, and later the two are transferred to a prison of which Von Stroheim, now wearing neck braces for a crippled spine, is the harsh commandant. He treats Fresnay with every courtesy, pays scant notice to his companions, who, he considers, are not officers to the manner born, and beneath him in station. The manner in which the confinement tells upon the officers, with the exception of Fresnay, is effectively dramatized. Eventually, Fresnay sacrifices his life that his two companions may escape, which they do with the help of the German girl, Miss Parlo.

G. B. Decides Upon Own Prize Contest

"One of the elements that will be stressed in the contest is that the patrons of any particular theatre will compete only with the other patrons of that theatre and not with the country's entire movie-going public."

The four cities in which the initial experimental contests will be conducted have not been selected yet. The pictures to be included are "Strange Boarders," "Crime Over London," "Man with 100 Faces," "The Lady Vanishes," "The Frog" and "Climbing High.'

G. B.'s acceptance of an invitation to participate in the national industry campaign was received too late for the inclusion of the company's pictures in the "Movie Quiz" prize contest, according to campaign officials. Subsequently, Arthur S. Lee, vice-president of G. B., called a meeting of American representatives of British producers at which a promotional campaign for all forthcoming British product in this market was discussed, but no action resulted.

More than 100,000 "Movie Quiz" booklets have been distributed in this vicinity to date, says Si Fabian, regional director.

Conn. Independents Aiding "Movie Quiz"

New Haven, Sept. 14. — Approximately 30 independent houses are distributing "Movie Quiz" booklets in Connecticut, in addition to all Loew-Poli, Warner and M. & P. theatres, chairman Dr. J. B. Fishman reports. Theatres have agreed to distribute booklets on request only, and hope to stimulate interest considerably this week by large newspaper ads, in which exhibitors will cooperate. A full page has been placed in next Sunday's Bridgeport Herald. Leading department stores will carry the following slug on ads during the week of Sept. 15 to 21; "Go to the Movies Week in New Haven."

The effective date for the plan has not yet been set.

British Show Annoyance at Film Festival

London, Sept. 7.—If the British industry takes part in future years in the Venice Film Festival it almost certainly will be under different circumstances. A feeling of acute dissatisfaction with the manner in which the Bienniale is organized and the free judgment of foreign product has resulted from this year's show. Together with the American representative, the British delegate, Neville Kearney, secretary of the Film Group of the Federation of British Industries, handed in his resignation from the jury. Now it is likely that trade efforts may be made to get the Government to sponsor future entries on the part of British producers.

Mr. Kearney's resignation came as a sequel to the awarding of the festival's chief prizes to the Nazi documentary on the Olympic games, considered outside the scope of the award, and to a Fascist production made by Vittorio Mussolini which nobody expected would gain a prize on merit.

Following this protest the shorts producers are likely to back a movement in the direction of Government sponsorship of future entrees—not only of shorts, but of all films.

Albert Cavalcanti, producer of the G. P. O. film unit, has expressed his dissatisfaction with the methods under which British shorts were shown at the festival.

John Grierson, documentary pioneer and a member of the Films Council, intends to press for the matter to be taken up by the appropriate Government department and for entries to the Venice Festival to be made with the joint collaboration of national bodies concerned with foreign propaganda.

"Man on Street" Interviews via Television Are Tried Out by NBC

The first television interview with the "man on the street" was telecast by the NBC mobile television unit yesterday afternoon from Rockefeller Plaza, when Warren Wade, the network's television program director, asked six men and a like number of women passersby to express their views on television possibilities.

The men foresaw in it a great medium to cover news happenings and sports events, while it was the collective opinion of the women that its greatest value would be in covering musical and dramatic offerings.

The experiment marked the first time the television mobile units have been tested with the public participating. Another "man on the street" telecast is planned for tomorrow night.

Republic Broadcast Not Set Yet—Siegel

Republic's planned coast-to-coast radio program will be launched late this year or early in 1939, with much thought still to be given to the venture, said M. J. Siegel, the company's production executive, before leaving for the coast last night by train.

Mr. Siegel said the plans are in a formulative stage, with sponsor, network, type of program and talent to be used still to be decided. He will continue discussions on the coast.

Phil Reagan's $18,000 breach of contract claim against Republic for not using him in a picture for eight months has not been settled yet, although efforts are being made in that direction, and it is indefinite whether he will return to the Republic lot, Mr. Siegel asserted.

While here he conferred on the casting of "Wagons Westward," planned as Republic's largest budget picture, and other films. Mr. Siegel plans to return here in December.

"Attendance has shown a steady improvement since the opening of the drive," Mr. Freeman said. "Interest in the 'Movie Quiz' contest is high in all sections of the country. That is probably the best barometer on the effectiveness of the campaign now."

Campaign headquarters completed a preliminary tabulation yesterday of newspaper expressions related to the drive which revealed that more than 500 daily publications in 350 cities have published editorials in praise of the campaign and its aims.

U. S. Stand on Rome's Decree To Be Decided

Clarification Is Asked; Will Act Next Week

Major company policy on future operations in Italy will be determined here early next week, it was indicated yesterday following a meeting of the heads of foreign departments with Frederick L. Herron, foreign manager of the M.P.P.D.A.

The meeting was called to consider the Italian decree establishing a government monopoly for distribution of foreign films in that country and which, if enforced in its present form, would require the liquidation of American branch offices in Italy. The decree was published officially in Rome on Tuesday, as reported exclusively in MOTION PICTURE DAILY the following morning. First advices to home offices from European representatives were received early yesterday.

The decree was discussed at length by the foreign managers at yesterday's session but policy decisions were deferred due to what was described as the "inexplicit language" of several articles of the decree. Admit Gravity of Terms

Foreign managers were quick to mit the gravity of the terms of the w Italian decree, some regarding it a virtual expulsion of the American mpanies from the Italian market. NIC will have its headquarters in me and will control film importa- n and distribution in the Italian lonies and possessions, as well as at me. As published, it became effec- e Wednesday. However, one of the ticles regarded as being inexplicit, dicates that a period of grace may granted. They e given the choice of submitting ch contracts in terms of performance be designated by ENIC or of sur- ndering the contracts to the govern- ent body. papers generally being that this unified effort of the industry could bring only good was worthy, therefore, of unreserved praise," campaign headquarters reported. "All papers stressed the excellent effect the success of the drive would have on business in general," it was said.

The newspaper summary also showed that the campaign slogan, "Motion Pictures Are Your Best Entertainment," furnished the theme for many of the editorials. Other editorial themes were the patriotic value of the industry to the nation; Hollywood's pioneering work in a new and typically American art form; Hollywood's leadership in world film production; the value of films as entertainment for the masses and the influence of films on American life and world markets.

Campaign headquarters was advised by W. S. Caldwell, chairman of the Toledo Theatre Managers' Association, that more than 50,000 "Quiz" booklets have been distributed in that city, indicating that one-sixth of the population has entered the contest.

"Following the insertion of the latest national advertisement the requests for booklets have increased noticeably," Mr. Caldwell reported.

The managers of 31 Ross Federal Service branch offices and their field representatives were instructed yesterday to offer their services to the chairmen of local campaign committees and to contribute their efforts in every way possible to the success of the drive.

WITH radio rumbling threats of retaliation against the motion picture because its medium was not used by the screen people in the current Motion Pictures' Greatest Year drive, it is refreshing to note the attitude maintained by the J. Walter Thompson agency in behalf of its production, the Lux "Radio Theatre."

The "Theatre," through its agency, having notified the drive committee of its desire to cooperate with the campaign, supplemented this friendly expression with an invitation to Will Hays to appear on the Lux hour to sound the keynote of the drive over the radio. This invitation was accepted immediately by Mr. Hays.

Moreover, in its desire to help the motion picture business, the agency selected "Spawn of the North" as its new season's opening attraction, primarily because it is a current release. Other screen properties, more adaptable to radio than "Spawn of the North," were available to the agency, but these were passed by because they were past film releases. J. Walter Thompson believes that current motion pictures are given a tremendous lift at the box-office when they are enacted on the Lux hour, and that belief is not idly compounded, but is based on past experience. On at least three previous occasions the "Radio Theatre" offered adaptations of pictures which were current at the time of their presentation on the air, and on each occasion the picture did tremendously well at the box-office. The pictures were "Mad About Music," "Stella Dallas" and "A Star Is Born."

Too many radio columnists write pieces telling people in radio how to run their affairs, and accordingly long ago this department determined never to write a piece headed "If I Were—" something or other in radio. But in this case we are making an exception. So: If I were a sponsor looking for a show on a local station somewhere, I'd look up J. Kelly Smith, general manager of CBS Radio Sales, and listen to him tell of a program on WKRC, Columbia's station in Cincinnati, which, first sponsored by a Cincinnati dairy, resulted in developing three out of every four leads into a sale; then was sponsored by Sears, Roebuck, and in one day sold out the entire hosiery stock promoted through this show.

Sixteen publicity offices placed bids with the Buchanan agency to handle the new Texaco program. Tom Fizdale won out because he came forth with the most colossal of all colossal ideas—having the inaugural Texaco broadcast take place in the Hollywood Bowl. And, proving that radio sometimes can match the Hollywood way of doing things, now that Fizdale has been signed to do the show, the Hollywood Bowl idea has been discarded.

Broadcast Problem Splits C.E.A. Parley

LONDON, Sept. 15.—The independent theatre owners' representatives have expressed general dissatisfaction with the attitude of the circuits on the problems of showing films in bars and on radio broadcasts at a meeting of the general council of the Cinematograph Exhibitors' Association.

Following discussion of the broadcast recently from the Gaumont Holloway, it was agreed to appeal directly to Isidor Ostrer, asking that all future broadcasts be dropped. A study of the bar problem provoked pleas for the abolition of the screenings, but it ultimately was decided that the matter should be referred to a joint committee of the C. E. A. and Kinematograph Renters' Society (distributors).

A television committee will be formed to report monthly on the progress of that medium. The double bill problem, also a cause of independent-circuit difficulties, was put over to next month's meeting.

"THE Best BREEN PICTURE TO DATE"

— SAY THE CRITICS . . .

This is the best Bobby Breen picture to date, chiefly because of the charm and grace of Irene Dare, 5 year-old figure ice skater and a new comer to to the screen.

Boxoffice.

Sol Lesser comes through with Bobby Breen's best picture to date, one notable for downright cleverness in story, direction and acting.

Hollywood Spectator.

This picture should do better at the box office than any previous Breen vehicle, as it will not only increase Bobby's host of fans, but will create a following for the child star, Irene Dare.

Showmen's Trade Review.

Top performances by Bobby Breen, five-year-old Irene Dare, a skating sensation, and Charles Ruggles, plus fine direction by Edward F. Cline, add up to excellent entertainment. Sol Lesser rates credit as producer.

Film Daily.

'Breaking the Ice' best of young singer's pictures. There is also a little knockout in the film, a "Baby Sonja Henie," named Irene Dare. She is only 5, but just watch her figure skating!

The San Francisco News,
Claude A. La Belle,

The best of the Breens.

Daily Variety.

Showmen are quite justified in exploiting this as the best of the Bobby Breen pictures. The factor quite likely to stir up the most far reaching word of mouth advertising is the skating performance of five-year-old Irene Dare. This youngster is entitled to a place in electric lights from here in. She compares to no one but Sonja Henie.

Meet in Paris

No decision was taken, but it was indicated that the decree will have serious consequences for American companies in Italy, probably causing their suspension. With French producers also hit by the edict, the news created a sensation in local film circles.

Quiz Errors Cut Contest Films by Five

The pictures involved are "Gateway," "The Texans," "The Crowd

Grand National to Set Schedule Soon

New Grand National expects to have its initial production schedule completed and available for announcement in Hollywood this week, Earle W. Hammons, president, said before departing for the west coast over the weekend.

Mr. Hammons will be in Hollywood on the final production arrangements for a week and, following his return to New York, final organizational work on the new company, including the election of a board of directors and complete roster of officers, will be begun.

Arrangements for British distribution of the company's product also may be completed next week. Grand National's current contract with Associated British Film Distributors expires this month and a new deal will

THEATRE BUILDING BOOMS NATIONALLY

Averaging Fewer Seats; Most Construction In Small Towns

A considerable amount of new theatre construction and extensive remodeling is currently under way throughout the country. The large majority of new theatres will have seating capacities ranging from 600 to 1,000, as distinct from the average seating capacity of about 1,200 which prevailed during the boom construction of several years ago.

In relation to the entire construction picture, there is comparatively little activity in the large metropolitan centers. Circuit heads here explain this by an acute overseating condition in many of the large cities which in recent years has militated against the building of new theatres.

It is noted by architects, also, that the trend continues strong toward rejuvenation of old houses, with substantial amounts being spent to bring

No Action Is In Sight On Concessions

That further moves toward a program of industry self-regulation have been postponed indefinitely was indicated by S. R. Kent, president of 20th Century-Fox and chairman of the distributors' trade practice committee, before leaving for the coast Saturday night for his semi-annual visit to the studio. He will be gone three weeks.

Mr. Kent said distributors have not reached an understanding on a trade practice program, and he would not predict future developments. He also

Says Quotas Hurt Quality of Films

An Argentinian Government representative appointed to study the effect of film quota legislation on native production in European quota countries recently reported back that such measures acted to lower, rather than improve, the quality of native films.

Since the filing of the report there has been no agitation for quota legislation in the Argentine, according to John Nathan, Paramount managing director for that country, Paraguay and Uruguay. Mr. Nathan arrived in

Mr. Rowland takes office immediately and "The Duke of West Point," first Small film for U. A., starts at once with "King of the Turf" next in line.

Mr. Small's expansion program calls for an increased number of productions this year. The company moved today into the former Major Pictures studio building which it will occupy completely.

20th-Fox Increases Ad Budgets by 33%

Twentieth Century-Fox is increasing its international advertising and publicity budget 33 per cent over last year to publicize 1938-'39 attractions, according to Charles E. McCarthy, department chief.

The increase, he said, is due to a greater number of percentage attractions that will carry key city "assist" newspaper campaigns and elaborate prerelease exploitation on the big specials such as given "Alexander's Ragtime Band."

Mr. McCarthy has added two new divisions to his department, radio promotion and roadshow "AAA" production exploitation. The Roxy campaign on "Alexander's Ragtime Band" was the first real test of the new setup and will serve as a model.

British Films Exceed Quota Requirements

London, Sept. 18.—British product registered during the first five months of the new Films Act, through August, totaled 39 features against an aggregate registered of 207, indicating that British product is more than supplying its requirement under the exhibitors' quota. In the five months 168 foreign features were registered.

Under the Films Act, the exhibitors' quota is 12½ per cent, while the total in the five months amounted to 18.08 per cent. In the shorts category, the British product in the five months amounted to 40 per cent of the total, whereas 12½ per cent is required.

In the distributor quota, where 15 per cent is required, the total of British product in the five months, considering the double and triple quota provisions, amounts to 16.4 per cent. Ten of the British features for the distributor quota are in the high cost category.

The British product in the period is estimated to have cost £450,000 in labor cost, or £900,000 in total negative cost, under the new act, giving an average of about £32,000 negative cost per film, a considerable gain over the comparable figures during the old act.

Melchiorre to Deny Sunday Law Charges

Harrisburg, Sept. 18.—Assemblyman Charles Melchiorre, Philadelphia Democrat, is here waiting to testify before this Assembly committee probing charges of conspiracy against Governor Earle and thirteen other officials. He insists upon replying to the charge of Attorney General Charles J. Martiotti that he had admitted $100,000 had been paid for passage of the Sunday show bill in 1935.

Mr. Melchiorre has made a sweeping denial of all the charges to the press.

New York Friday for a month's visit at the home office. The Argentine produces 40 to 50 features a year.

He reported that American film distributors who were accused two years ago of operating in violation of the Argentinian anti-trust laws have just begun to enter their defense. The procedure under Argentinian jurisdiction calls for the complete entering of the case for the prosecution before the defense is called upon to answer in court, he said.

Mr. Nathan said that business in his territory is "good," although there has been but little improvement this year over last. He cited triple featuring in subsequent run houses as the most disturbing trade problem current. Admission scales, however, continue to be maintained at a high level, he said.

be discussed with that company before any other arrangements are made, it was stated.

Indications are that the New Grand National company will be a member of the M. P. P. D. A. As a subsidiary of Educational, one of the charter members of the organization, its addition to the membership may be automatic. If not, an application for membership will be made.

The company's owners are still searching for a new name. Its present appellation has not been registered with the secretary of state.

Jack Kirsch Heads Chicago Fund Drive

Chicago, Sept. 18.—Jack Kirsch, president of Allied Theatres of Illinois, Inc., has been named chairman of the Amusements Division of the eighth annual campaign of the Community Fund of Chicago. In last year's drive the Amusements Division, under the chairmanship of John Balaban, contributed more than $25,000, going well over its quota.

Workers will open the campaign Oct. 17. The total sought this year is the same as last—$3,550,000. The money will be used to finance approximately 180 Protestant, Catholic and Jewish social welfare and charitable agencies.

Open Hollywood Branch

Hollywood, Sept. 18.—A local branch of Associated Film Audiences of New York has been opened here with Herbert Biberman as temporary chairman. The branch grew out of the recently formed Conference for Freedom of the Screen organized by John Abbott. Election of officers is scheduled for Tuesday.

Morris, Davis in Unit

Wayne Morris and Johnnie Davis, Warner players, supported by Billy Baer's orchestra, have been formed into a vaudeville unit by Rockwell-O'Keefe, and have been booked into Philadelphia, Washington and other cities. Morris and Davis currently are appearing at the Strand.

A Warning

Cleveland, Sept. 18.—M. B. Horwitz, local industry drive chairman, declared that it has been brought to his attention that in some localities newspapers have accepted ads claiming to sell correct solutions to "Movie Quiz" questions. Mr. Horwitz, who has brought to the attention of local newspapers that such ads are fake, suggests that exhibitors in other territories contact their newspapers in order to forestall acceptance of such ads.

Foreign Problems Hays Board Topic

it was stated that the recent Italian decree creating a Government controlled distribution monopoly in that country figured in the discussion.

The board elected Murray Silverstone, United Artists chief executive, to membership on that body succeeding Harry D. Buckley, the company's former M.P.P.D.A. representative. A resolution mourning the recent death of Whitford Drake, former president of Erpi, was adopted. Will H. Hays, president, reported on studio developments with particular reference to production efforts in relation to the industry's $1,000,000 business campaign. National advertising in connection with the campaign and results of the drive to date were discussed also.

At the meeting were Mr. Hays, Barney Balaban, N. J. Blumberg, Mr. Buckley, Jack Cohn, E. W. Hammons, E. B. Hatrick, F. L. Herron, S. R. Kent, N. M. Schenck and Leo Spitz.

Behrend Injunction Not to Be Appealed

Counsel for Behrend Motion Picture Supply House over the weekend decided not to appeal the temporary injunction obtained by Warners in Federal Court here restraining the poster renter from selling stills that have been rearranged from the original.

The Behrend company will take its chances on the trial for a permanent injunction, which may be heard in two months if calendar preference can be obtained. Otherwise, it may not come up for a year or more. Percy Freeman, attorney for Behrend, said an appeal on the temporary writ would be useless because no law exists covering the case.

Federal Judge Francis G. Caffey issued the temporary injunction over protest of Behrend's counsel that no infringement existed since the stills in question were changed for sale by the poster exchange. Mr. Freeman said this case will establish whether this particular practice, of long standing in the industry, is legal.

Allied Action Delayed

Chicago, Sept. 18.—The suit which Allied of Illinois has been promising to file against B. & K. and major distributors for the past month now is scheduled to be taken to court on Monday. No explanation was made of the organization's failure to file the action Friday, the last scheduled date.

Quiz Errors Cut Contest Films by Five

Roars," "Girls on Probation" and "Give Me a Sailor." Some of the errors were typographical and others resulted from the time limitations imposed in the preparation of the booklets which necessitated printing of t contest questions before production were completed. Some of the questions were related to material which did not appear in the completed picture.

Explanations of the errors and the steps being taken to rectify them will be sent out to all theatres participating in the "Movie Quiz" contest and screen and lobby material is being prepared to explain the mishap and its remedy to contestants. The committee's remedy gives contestants a "free ride" on five contest pictures which, in effect, means that contestants need supply correct answers to only 25 pictures instead of 30 to qualify for prizes.

First Series in 2,000 Papers

With the first series of 11 national ads having been placed in more than 2,000 daily publications in the United States and Canada during the first two weeks of the campaign, the advertising committee will meet today to discuss the next phase of national advertising. Reaction to the initial ads is being obtained from reports being gathered from all sections of the country to guide the committee in future activities.

Members of the committee are Howard Dietz, Robert Gillham and Charles E. McCarthy. Donahue & Coe is the agency.

Among promotional plans for future stages of the campaign is a National Music Week, to be dedicated to Motion Pictures' Greatest Year. Other plans to maintain the momentum of the drive are in work. Several national circuits are following the lead of B. & K., Chicago, which has instructed all of its managers to continue planning campaign activities as insurance against a lapse of public interest in their communities.

M-G-M Denial Is Entered

M-G-M Pictures Corp., M-G-M Distributing Corp., Loew's, Inc., and Culver Export Corp. have filed denials in the U. S. District Court to the $1,000,000 damage suit of Delores Lacy Collins, suing individually and as administratrix of James H. Collins, for the alleged plagiarism of the book "Test Pilot."

Start Work on G. E. Television Station

SCHENECTADY, Sept. 18.—Recommendation by an F. C. C. examiner that the General Electric Co. be allowed to establish experimental stations in the Helderberg Mountains, 15 miles southwest of Albany, as well as in Schenectady and Bridgeport, Conn., has led to preliminary work on construction of a television broadcast station near Thacher Park.

An outlet station and 100-foot antenna are to be erected in the Helderberg Mountains, with an elevation of more than 1,650 feet over the surrounding territory, slightly greater than that of the station atop the Empire State Building in New York.

The principal studio is to be at the General Electric Schenectady plant with broadcasts scheduled to be effected through a low power directional radio beam to the mountain station where television waves will be broadcast.

Para. Demonstrates Exploitation Value

Paramount has inaugurated a series of "demonstration campaigns" on certain of its films designed to prove the practical value of press books and to show exhibitors that merchandising suggestions indicated for pictures will bring additional box-office returns, according to Robert M. Gillham, director of advertising and publicity.

"Sons of the Legion" was the first subject, selected because of its timeliness, and Phoenix, Ariz., was the place. Jack Daily, special exploitation man, worked with Harry Nace, operator of the Orpheum there. A parade, local endorsements, the appearance of Mayor LaGuardia of New York, who was passing through Phoenix, and other stunts were used. Mr. Nace reported business 25 per cent improved. Accompanying the questionnaire was a letter signed by Paul Peters, Director of Research for the Association, explaining that the N.A.B. needs basic information regarding programs on which it can base an effort to reach a "sounder and more equitable relationship with the motion picture industry."

Station owners are asked to show on the questionnaire whether they carry any paid advertising sponsored by the film industry, and if so how much; whether any commercial programs sponsored by other industries use film material; whether sustaining programs are carried in which films, film music, picture personalities or other Hollywood phases are carried; whether they have any tieup with local exhibitors, and what is the commercial value of time given to the exploitation of the film industry.

To Draft Kuykendall

Ed Kuykendall probably will be drafted for another term as president of M. P. T. O. A.

While Mr. Kuykendall said yesterday he was not a candidate for reelection, it is believed that he would not refuse a "draft" nomination. No other candidate for the post is in view at this time and Mr. Kuykendall's term will expire with the meeting of the M. P. T. O. A. board of directors and executive committee at Oklahoma City, Oct. 30.

MPTO Wants No Delays on Trade Action

The M.P.T.O.A. regards a program of self-regulation of trade practices as an issue which must be won for exhibitors despite the pendency of the Government anti-trust suit and adverse legal opinion within the industry, Ed Kuykendall, president of the national exhibitor organization, said yesterday on his arrival in New York.

Mr. Kuykendall declared that the future M.P.T.O.A. policy to be pursued by the organization in its efforts to obtain a trade practice program would be decided at the organization's national convention in Oklahoma City, Oct. 30 to Nov. 1. The subject of trade practices will be a major one on the convention program, he said.

The M.P.T.O.A. president did not

Attorneys to Meet Prior to US Talks

Industry attorneys are scheduled to confer today or tomorrow to clarify their attitude on the major subjects to be touched upon at the forthcoming Washington meeting with Assistant U. S. Attorneys General Paul Williams and Thurman Arnold.

The meeting has been delayed due to the absence of Col. William J. Donovan, of counsel for RKO, who arrived in New York yesterday from Europe on the Queen Mary. Because of weather conditions the liner was unable to dock until last evening, which made it impossible to set a definite date yesterday for the attorneys' conference. Following the session here, an agreement on a date for the Washington meeting will be sought with the HOLLYWOOD, Sept. 19.—The reorganization of the Academy of Motion Picture Arts and Sciences has been stymied because of the "mistrust of the presence of the producers," by members of the Screen Actors', Screen Directors' and Screen Writers' guilds, it was revealed here today. Disclosed were copies of letters in which the producer members were asked to resign, Darryl F. Zanuck refused to quit and W. S. Van Dyke, second chairman of the reorganization committee, quit the Academy.

Fight Blocks Reorganizing For Academy

Also thrown into the fight were

Elect Ralph Morgan Actors' Guild Head

HOLLYWOOD, Sept. 19.—By a majority of four to one, Ralph Morgan was elected president of the Screen Actors' Guild, defeating Melvyn Douglas, it was disclosed today. Mr. Morgan's election meant the overthrow of a move by a liberal faction inside the guild to overthrow the nominations made by a guild nominating committee appointed by Robert Montgomery, retiring president, and the executive board.

A total of 537 of the senior guild members ballotted. The conservatives' victory was carried on down the line with the nominating committee's selections for other offices being placed in office.

Meeting on Italian Decree Is Delayed

The additional information to clarify phases of the recent Italian distribution monopoly decree which home office foreign departments requested of continental European managers last week had not been received in New York up to late yesterday, necessitating a delay in the holding of a second meeting of foreign managers to determine their future Italian policy.

The decree specifies that foreign distributors in Italy must submit all existing distribution contracts to ENIC, the new Government controlled distributing agency, by Friday.

Pictures Are Defending Democracy, He Tells American Legion

HOLLYWOOD, Sept. 19.—There are no "isms" in the film industry "other than Americanism," declared Harry M. Warner in a speech before the visiting American Legion members at the Warner-First National studios today in a speech charged with emotion.

"You may have heard that Communism is rampant in Hollywood and in the motion picture industry. I tell you this industry has no sympathy with Communism, Fascism, Nazism or any other 'ism' other than Americanism. We, collectively, and as individual studios are doing much—all we can do in fact—to teach the principles of true democracy to the outside world. I defy our accusers to prove that this industry is run by 'isms'."

Mr. Warner's assertions were the peroration of a speech heard by several thousand legion members who

HOLLYWOOD, Sept. 19.—Dr. Towne Nylander, N.L.R.B. head, today set Sept. 28 as the date of an informal hearing on charges filed Sept. 7 by Jeff Kibre alleging I.A.T.S.E. executives had been paid $100,000 by representatives of producers to bring four I.A.T.S.E. locals under domination of producers.

Dr. Nylander said he had requested Mr. Kibre, the I.A.T.S.E. and producers to attend the informal investi-

Independents File Chicago Trust Action

non-member being Sam C. Meyers and two corporations headed by him. Seventy-six corporations and 13 individuals representing 101 theatres, are plaintiffs.

They include theatres operated by Essaness Circuit, Sam Myers Theatres, Van Nomikos Circuit and, in fact, practically every theatre and theatre owner except Balaban & Katz, Warners Theatres and a few independents who have some connection with Balaban & Katz.

The suit was filed under the anti-trust laws for the purpose of breaking down a system of film releasing as practised here by Balaban & Katz, who, the plaintiffs state, with but few exceptions have control of practically all pictures shown here for first 10 weeks after they open here. The plaintiffs charge that B. & K. delay releasing of films here until they have played in many surrounding cities and ask that this be stopped.

Also Ask Injunction

An injunction against B. & K. for showing double features is also asked by the plaintiffs because they allege that B. & K. monopolize the first four runs of films by shifting them around in such a manner independent theatre men cannot show the same programs as B. & K. The bill, which runs 114 pages, also states that B. & K. are in contempt of court because they have disregarded the consent decree handed down here in Federal Court in 1932. Independents are asking that the Attorney General of the United States step in and remedy this situation.

Plaintiffs also are asking that B. & K. be stopped from starting Loop programs on Fridays or during mid-week with independents forced to start the same pictures on Sundays only, thus making releases later than the regular schedule in some cases. Attorneys Rosenberg, Stein & Rosenberg, for the plaintiffs, state that the motion for a temporary injunction will be made within a week or 10 days on this case.

Plan Damage Suit

A suit for damages also is planned by the independents and will be filed in the near future, according to Joseph Rosenberg and Aaron Stein. The conspiracy charge states that the defendants have engaged and are now engaging in a conspiracy to suppress, restrain, monopolize and smother and destroy competition in the interstate trade and commerce in feature motion pictures. They also allege that the exhibition value of films is destroyed, that runs and clearance plans, "short forcing," admission price control, disregard of consent decrees, destruction of subsequent-run exhibition value of pictures, delayed releases and new intermediate runs are part of the conspiracy.

The bill filed tonight is very complete, with release charts, specific data regarding theatres in this territory and even includes material on pictures currently showing in the Loop.

This suit is one of the most pretentious ever filed in Chicago and will create a stir locally because of information published in the complaint. This suit comes after many months of conferences among independents, B. & K. and major companies which resulted in no agreements or concessions being given. The late Aaron Saperstein, as president of Allied Theatres of Illinois, was the prime factor originally in preparing this case against B. & K. and the majors, in his battle to get for independents what he thought they deserved.

rowded the studio as the company's uests. Through all his talk ran a for the protection of democacy; a battle against intolerance, gainst bigoted leaders from foreign ands with propaganda machines beind them.

By some of his hearers the speech was regarded as the industry's first nswer to charges made recently by roups and individuals.

"I thank God each night that such n organization as the American Legion exists in our country alert to the ver present danger to our institutions nd methods both from within and without the borders of this nation," Mr. Warner said in the early part of his speech.

Democracy's Watch Dog

"The American Legion has become the watch dog of democracy—the guardian of equal rights for all—a warning to destructive interests the world over that Americans will stand, alone, if necessary, in support of true democratic government and against the hates and prejudices of a world gone mad.

"In recent years, since various foreign governments have fallen into the bloody hands of dictators, autocrats and tyrants, other organizations have grown up within our borders. These groups are inspired, financed and managed by foreign interests which are supplying a never ending stream of poisonous propaganda aimed, directly and indirectly, at the destruction of our national life.

Dedicated to Liberty

"We stand, as always, dedicated to the cardinal principles of liberty and justice for all and we have been trying in our humble way to contribute to the welfare and peace of our country through the pictures we make here."

It was at this point that Mr. Warner launched into his statement on where the industry stands.

"I defy our accusers," he continued, "to prove that this industry is run by 'isms.' Certain bigots representing the malcontents who want to ruin what they cannot rule whisper that Hollywood is run by 'isms'. They lie! They lie when they say it! Let them show us the slightest proof of their cheap accusations.

Hollywood Keeps Faith

"Here in Hollywood we keep faith with American ideals because, like you, we believe in them, because they have brought peace and happiness to us when nearly all the rest of the world is miserable and afraid. We bring to the talking screen patriotic and historical subjects dealing with the high spots of American history and showing the firm foundations upon which our government was built. We tell the outside world every day the true principles of our great democracy. The world knows that ours is the best advertised nation on earth and I believe that motion pictures have played the most important part in making it so. We will continue to tell the world how worth while it is to be an American, working and living under American government, enjoving the freedom of thought, freedom of worship and life guaranteed by the American flag.

"The world looks upon America as the strong frontier of democracy because the motion picture has given it a true conception of our institutions and our life here. People the world over believe that America is the great land of liberty and the textbook from which they have absorbed the lesson has been the motion picture.

"Within the industry I am known as a man who calls a spade a spade. I tell you, Catholic, Protestant, Jew, or whatever faith you mav observe, that we must all be Americans first, last and always. Don't just say you are an American. Act like an American. Be proud of America!

"If this is flag waving I, for one, am proud of it. We need more flag waving."

The Washington meeting was requested by the department officials late in August to discuss the maintenance of the status quo of affiliated theatre operations pending determination of the Government's equity action, in order to eliminate the necessity for an injunction action to restrain the defendants from adding to their present theatre holdings.

The meeting is also scheduled to bring about an exchange of views between industry attorneys and Department of Justice officials on the proposed industry program of self-regulation of trade practices and the possibility of a consent decree to end the Government action.

and the initial advertising appropriation was used up in carrying out the schedule.

Copies of the industry drive's electrically transcribed 15-minute radio program featuring recorded song hits from film musicals of the past few years, with a brief introductory talk by Will Hays and information on the "Movie Quiz" prize contest, will be shipped to campaign exchanges today and tomorrow. The transcriptions, suitable for use on local radio stations, will be available to exhibitors through the exchanges at nominal cost.

The Old Gold program on CBS is giving three minutes each Thursday night to news of Motion Pictures' Greatest Year, presented by film personalities on the Hollywood "Screenscoops" program.

Simplify Identification

National Screen Service has simplified the identification of "Movie Quiz" pictures in prevue trailers by preparing brief identifying footage which can be attached to regular prevues. Formerly, all prevue trailers of contest pictures carried the identifying label but this proved unsatisfactory due to the fact that the same trailers went to theatres which are not participating in the campaign and contest.

Newspaper cooperation with the drive continues in all sections of the country, campaign headquarters reported. Advertising space for the campaign slogan and the drive itself is being contributed without charge by the San Pedro, Calif., News Pilot and the Los Angeles Evening Herald, in addition to news and editorial space.

threats of Frank Capra, Academy president, and Howard Estabrook, to quit. The two, with Mr. Van Dyke, comprise the reorganization committee. Mr. Van Dyke, in a letter of resignation, declared his reason was the antagonism of the guilds to the Academy, and "I feel that my first allegiance is due my economic colleagues," he wrote.

Capra Threatens to Resign

It was revealed today that on Sept. 14 Mr. Capra reported to the board of governors that the guild leaders were opposed to reorganization because of the producers, and asked that producer members resign in a body within 10 days. Mr. Capra's letter said in part, "If the producers do not resign, Estabrook, Van Dkye and I will, and, I hope, every other member of the board and the reorganization committee will immediately resign in a body." He said he saw no other way to preserve and advance the Academy. Later, if sentiment favors it, the producers may be invited to rejoin as associate members, he declared.

Mr. Zanuck, replying, expressed astonishment at the request, and refused to quit the Academy, which he helped found. He said further that he would attempt to persuade other producers they are entitled to more consideration than "what amounts to an ultimatum to get out." He told Mr. Capra the Academy "is bigger than all of us and should continue to be. It must not be destroyed."

Van Dyke Answers

Mr. Van Dyke on Sept. 17 replied to Mr. Zanuck, declaring his belief that the resignation of the producers would allay fears and suspicions. "You and your colleagues can save the Academy," he told Mr. Zanuck.

Mr. Capra, Mr. Van Dyke and Mr. Estabrook have been working for several months preparing the Academy reorganization plans. Mr. Capra this year was elected head of the Screen Directors' Guild, now engaged in the N.L.R.B. action against the producers in the collective bargaining controversy. Donald Gledhill, executive secretary of the Academy, said that conferences of Academy leaders are continuing.

Paramount Gets New Marquee Neon Lights

Lustron Light Co. has completed installation of its first marquee lighting system for the Paramount Theatre. The installation is of a new type interchangeable neon light which is said to effect a 65 per cent saving in electric cost. The current is fed through a low voltage, high frequency radio tube into a panel. The letters on the sign fluoresce when they come into contact with the panel.

Cost of installation runs much higher than the usual mazda signs, but considerable savings on upkeep are said to result. The letters are made of the customary neon tubing, mounted separately on catalin and placed on an opaque base. It is available in 200 color combinations. Present plans are to sell to "A" houses only. Leo Beck is vice-president and general manager.

The Brooklyn Strand, inaugurating stage shows on a full-week basis, had its best business last weekend in about five years, the management said yesterday. The new policy started Friday with "Boy Meets Girl" and a stage bill including Ted King and his orchestra, the Andrews Sisters, the Harvest Moon Lindy Hoppers and others.

The next bill, opening Friday, will have "The Gladiator" with Frances Faye and the Slate Bros. headlining the stage show. Ted King and his band will remain at the theatre indefinitely.

Airline tieups have been made. Mike Hoffay, publicity director of the foreign department, will edit Foreign Legion, a publication for the drive.

Hudson County Unit Will Censor Pictures

The Hudson County Holy Name Federation in New Jersey has taken steps to prevent the showing of "immoral pictures and those of foreign origin creeping into the county and state."

It was pointed out at Jersey City that the state has no censorship board and until one is established the Holy Name group plans to act as a voluntary censorship group for films and plays.

Representatives of Holy Name societies in the county will visit theatres in their parishes once or twice a month and request the management to furnish a list of scheduled films. If any of the pictures are found objectionable by Legion of Decency standards, cancellation will be requested.

Peace Moves By FWC Halt Para. Action

Los Angeles, Sept. 19.—One of the first results of the naming of a permanent arbitration group to settle disputes arising between independents and Fox West Coast is the withdrawal of a pending suit against Paramount by 45 Southern California independents. The I.T.O. urged settlement of the suit, according to Albert Galston, president.

The suit was filed in October, 1937. U. S. District Judge Yankwich ruled the exhibitors' complaints could be cured only by Federal legislaton, but they have had an appeal pending.

Independents Asked To Attend Ohio Meet

Columbus, Sept. 19.—The annual meeting of the Independent Theatre Owners of Ohio is to be called the Sixth Annual Convention and Central Regional Conference of Independent Exhibitors. Invitations have been sent to non-member independents throughout the territory to attend the sessions at the Deshler-Wallick Hotel Nov. 14-16.

"With the filing of the Government's anti-trust suit and the important accomplishments on the Neely Bill and the North Dakota divorcement law, independent exhibitors are on the threshold of a new era," reads the latest I.T.O. bulletin.

"By Nov. 14 and the convening of our convention, events will have crystallized so that we will be in a position to know where we're going and how we're going to get there. Allied has traveled the straight, hard road for many years, without being lured or detoured on to inconsequention bypaths. Now the goal is in sight, and, if we want to achieve it and reap the maximum benefits, it is necessary for united action, for the interchange of ideas, information, and policies by independent exhibitors everywhere."

Hollywood Letter

IT'S a good thing Sinclair Lewis didn't write "It Can't Happen Here" about Hollywood, because anything can, except that. It's the capital of Cineanna, yet it had to postpone its Motion Pictures' Greatest Year parade so the procession wouldn't collide with Corrigan's or the American Legion's. It's a place where the press suppresses bad news about a leading citizen one day and puts streamers over his denial the next. On Thursday last Mickey Rooney of "Boys Town" was mayor-for-a-day, Mayor Frank L. Shaw taking the job back on Friday to be voted out of it in favor of Recall Candidate Fletcher Bowron by the carefree balloteers before curfew. But don't get Sid Skolsky wrong—he loves Hollywood.

It would be a Hollywood citizen, resident near the Knickerbocker, who would think up a two-edged lawn sign like "Keep Your Dogs Off the Grass."

Two men who might have been doing all they did during the past two decades in preparation for just this event gave Hollywood something to feel good about at close of a week clouded with war talk and dwindling stock quotations. Richard Rowland joined Edward Small Productions as executive assistant to the president. Only the William Morris Agency, which latterly had enjoyed the benefits of the Rowland story sense, stands to take a loss on that transaction.

Both Small and Rowland are what the production center knows as "story men." It was Small who saw in "The Count of Monte Cristo" the smashing picture he got out of it. It was Rowland who saw in "The Four Horsemen of the Apocalypse" the second biggest box-office grossser of all time. It was Small who saw in Rowland precisely the man he wanted with him as he set out on a program that includes production of more pictures, contracting of more talent and occupancy of his own studio, and it was Rowland who saw in the Small plannings the association he wanted. Both men's beginnings coincide with the industry's beginnings, and if the industry doesn't see in their joinnig of forces the week's brightest promise of substantial product you'd better get a new boy to write your Hollywood letter.

Sam Abarbanal, Republic publicity man en route by "tourist agency" motor from New York to Hollywood, was blackjacked, highjacked and left for dead alongside the highway near Wichita—so when he got here they made him a technical adviser on "Fly By Night," a Republic picture about just that sort of thing.

As if Hollywood weren't far enough away from London last weekend, Alexander Korda and a group of friends chartered a yacht for a deep sea fishing trip. With Sam Goldwyn among the fishermen aboard and the boat still undocked Monday evening, prospects were bright for a newsworthy development on the U.A. sector about Wednesday.

Jack Warner says the studio has so many big pictures ready to start that he can't see his way clear to leaving just now to attend the opening of the new Warner Cinema in London next month, which the Hollywood community considers excellent and well-timed judgment.

Gabe Yorke, local chairman of the Motion Pictures' Greatest Year drive, who rescued a pair of tin can tourists from Connecticut by getting 150 stars to paint signatures on their jollopy, saw them off Saturday on a personal appearance tour that will get them home by Christmas if the fans don't dismember the car enroute, and declared himself a week's vacation.

Irene Castle McLaughlin, who eame out to advise RKO, technically, on production of "The Castles," the Astaire-Rogers piece, is scheduled tentatively to play her own mother in it and is grabbing more newspaper space than any star's got. Don't be surprised if she winds up by writing, directing and producing the picture—or out. The lady who started the bobbed-hair thing a quarter-century back has not yet been topped by a member of her sex in what you might call personality expression.

appear to be optimistic over the possibilities of early action by distribution companies on a voluntary trade practice program, describing the matter as "dormant" insofar as major company action at this time is concerned. While stating that it was his understanding that distribution companies would do nothing before attempting to obtain an opinion from the Department of Justice at the forthcoming Washington conference as to the Government's attitude toward this form of voluntary self-regulation, Mr. Kuykendall held there is little hope that the Department of Justice will approve a trade practice program in advance.

Justice Department Cooperating

"It has been the policy of the Department of Justice for some time past, when intra-industry plans have been submitted to it for approval, to do no more than indicate that it would not obstruct such plans nor prosecute their proponents unless they proved in practice to be in violation of the anti-trust laws," Mr. Kuykendall said.

He pointed out that this policy should be well known to industry attorneys and added that he could not "see the Department of Justice acting against the industry for giving exhibitors voluntarily a part of what the department seeks for exhibitors in the equity suit." Six of the 10 points sought in the M.P.T.O.A. trade practice program are included in the Government's prayer for relief, he pointed out.

Predicts Record Convention

The M.P.T.O.A. president views the distributors' delay in adopting a trade practice program as "certain to breed a lot of local suits by exhibitors against distributors" and as encouraging legislation affecting the industry.

While declining to predict the probable course of action on trade practices to be taken by the M.P.T.O.A. convention, Mr. Kuykendall said that the organization, conceivably, would approve a legislative program "as a last resort" for obtaining trade practice regulation.

"We believe that if nothing is done by the industry, legislation will be inevitable. Therefore, we certainly would wish to be in a position where our own views on legislation would receive a hearing, as well as the views of others."

Monopoly Measure Modified in Italy

By JOSEPH RAVOTTO

ROME, Sept. 20.—The first sign of softening of the monopolistic measures against the distributors of foreign films in Italy appeared today in the form of a new decree in the Official Gazette.

The new decree states that the Ministry of Foreign Trade and Exchange in the future may decide whether contracts will be conceded to individual distributors or outright to ENIC, the semi-official agency formed to handle all distribution under the first decree. The new measure is interpreted in some quarters to mean that some American distributors may continue to do business in Italy.

Boice Quitting as CBS Head of Sales

Hugh K. Boice yesterday resigned as CBS vice-president in charge of sales, effective Oct. 20. Beyond stating that his plans for the future will be announced shortly, Mr. Boice refused to amplify upon his resignation.

Mr. Boice joined CBS in May, 1930, as sales manager. He became vice-president in January, 1931. One of the most prominent advertising executives in the country, Mr. Boice was with Critchfield & Co. of Chicago for 11 years, resigning as president of that company in 1922 to join the George L. Dyer Co.

Majors to Ask for Talks with Arnold

Major company attorneys are scheduled to communicate today with Department of Justice officials to arrange a conference with the latter on various phases of the Government anti-trust suit.

Counsel for the five theatre operating companies conferred here yesterday, following the return of Col. William J. Donovan, RKO counsel, from Europe, on the response to be made to the invitation from Assistant U. S. Attorney General Thurman Arnold. Results of the conference could not be learned yesterday, but it is generally believed that Gabriel L. Hess, general attorney for the M.P.P.D.A., to whom Mr. Arnold's invitation was addressed, will communicate with the department today to agree upon an early date for the meeting.

First 20th-Century Fashion Number in Color Previewed

By J. M. JERAULD

Over at 20th Century-Fox yesterday the boys in the publicity department and in Truman Talley's Movietonews department lengthened their "a's" and staged a "fashun" show, and "wotta a show," as they usually say on Tenth Avenue when visitors are not around.

It was the first Technicolor short of the new series to be produced by Mr. Talley's organization. Four each year are to be made in this division. It was called "Fashion Forecast" and was directed by Vyvyan Donner.

Representatives of the trade press—those fellows who use short "a's" and understand the Tenth Avenue patois—were there, but most of those in the audience were the lorgnette journalists from Harper's Bazaar, Vogue, Vanity Fair, House Beautiful and publications like that. Even representatives of Cartier—Cahteeay, in case you haven't heard—attended. One of the models wore a three-string pearl necklace, two strings of which were in white and the other in black, which it took three generations of "Cahteeays" to collect.

This gives some kind of an idea of what kind of a fashion picture was shown. Twelve models are in the cast. All of them are famous on bill-

Loew's Study Reactions to Single Bills

Testing Them in Double Bill Situations

Loew circuit executives are keeping close watch on the records of single bill tryouts of big pictures in several confirmed double bill situations out of town with a view to extending single billing to additional cities. While the circuit heads strongly favor a return to single features, they admit that duals are too solidly entrenched generally to hope for a change.

Beginning tomorrow and Friday, for a week, Loew's will play "Too Hot to Handle" by itself at the State, Providence; State, Louisville; Palace, Indianapolis, and Loew's, Rochester.

Duals are the regular policy at these theatres, but during the last two years Loew's has been spotting four or five big pictures a year into these theatres on a single bill with shorts. The practice has worked out to advantage, and the number of single bills may be increased in the future, depending on the type of product available.

Writer Agreement Prospect Now Dim

HOLLYWOOD, Sept. 20.—Prospects of an early agreement between the Screen Writers' Guild and producers, considered bright a week ago following the first meeting at which the guild submitted a code, were dim this morning after a brief session last night at the Beverly Wilshire, terminated when the guild negotiators walked out of the session without setting a date for the next conference.

F.B.I. Group Expected to Be Disbanded

By AUBREY FLANAGAN

LONDON, Sept. 20.—The Film Group of the Federation of British Industries, composed of British producers, is faced with collapse. A special meeting of the organization has been called for Sept. 26, at which time consideration will be given to a proposal that the organization cease functioning if further finances are not forthcoming in the near future.

The withdrawal of certain important producers, including John Maxwell, the apathy of others and the refusal of still others to pay heavy subscriptions, plus the secession of the short subject producers, has rendered the F. B. I. virtually valueless.

Insists on Need for Body

The new influx of American production in concentration on triple quota films, reducing the British quota requirements still further, gradually has pushed the British producers into the background. Neville Kearney, secretary of the F. B. I., has not abandoned hope, believing he still can make the producers toe the line, and insists a representative producer body is imperative, especially in the face of an American invasion.

The shorts producers, annoyed at the alleged indifference to their interests on the part of the organization, will meet tomorrow or Thursday to go formally under the auspices of the Sub-Standard Cinematograph Association, as a separate group for British shorts producers entirely divorced from the F. B. I.

The LION'S ROAR

What America needs this week is flood control.

Such crying over "Boys Town."

Exhibitors tell us the folks stay for a second and third cry.

But there's no weeping when the receipts are counted.

Leo is very proud of "Boys Town" because it's a great box-office success that also has won additional friends, new praise for the industry.

Doing sensational business everywhere, topping such hits as "Test Pilot," held over in practically every situation for extra weeks, extra days.

And doing as well in its 2nd week as a normal first week!

Please keep your release schedule very elastic, Mr. Exhibitor, because Leo's on an extended-run rampage: "Marie Antoinette," "Boys Town," "Too Hot To Handle"—one after another.

In fact Mr. Exhibitor here's our tip:

HOLD EVERYTHING!

HOLDING "MARIE"!

Folks who returned to Broadway after Labor Day found the town's biggest hit at the Astor. "Marie Antoinette" is packing 'em in at $2 (fancy) prices, 5th week! On other Broadways it's a happy hold-over at pop prices: 4th week Chicago; 3rd week Detroit, Pittsburgh, Cleveland, Salt Lake; 2nd week Portland, Boston (day—date State & Orpheum) St. Louis, Toledo, Columbus, 'Frisco, Atlanta, Denver, Baltimore, Cincinnati, Washington, Louisville, etc., etc.

* * * * *

'BOYS TOWN' STARTS!

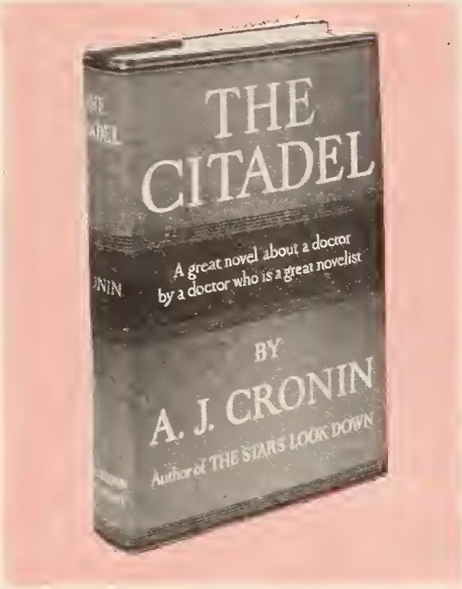
Spencer Tracy, Mickey Rooney keep 'em coming 3rd week Capitol, N.Y.; 2nd week Atlanta, Reading, Harrisburg, Wilmington, Houston, New Orleans, Omaha, Salt Lake and more hold-overs every minute!

* * * * *

EYES ON NEWSREEL!

Leo's very proud of the new streamlined issues of his "NEWS OF THE DAY." John B. Kennedy, famed radio voice speeds the news across in "The Front Page"; Bill Stern, N.B.C. sports authority covers "The Sports Page"; and Adelaide Hawley enlivens "The Woman's Page." Snappy newsreel! Largest world-wide coverage. Better than ever!

"Sweetheart of the day!"



THE CITADEL
A great novel about a doctor by a doctor who is a great novelist
BY
Author of THE STARS LOOK DOWN

WE HAVE JUST SEEN A GREAT PICTURE!

They ought to wire the seats for sound in M-G-M's projection room! If those chairs could talk, what an earful you'd get about the screening of "The Citadel." A great motion picture has come to your midst, gents, and from now until release in November you're going to hear a great deal about it, in the press, on the air, by word-of-mouth. Ten million people have read this best seller of a young doctor's dramatic fight for his ideals, of his surrender to the luxuries of a society doctor's life, of the girl who brought him back to the battle of humanity. Memorable scenes: heroism in the depths of a mine; the birth and almost death of a miner's baby; a society doctor and the women he knows. Powerful, tender, exciting . . . it's got the mixture that accelerates the box-office! But you'll soon know for yourself. Watch for NATIONWIDE TRADE SCREENINGS OF "THE CITADEL." (A bow to the stars Robert Donat, Rosalind Russell; and to the director, King Vidor.)

* * * * *

TOUCHDOWN, LEO!

A smart idea in shorts. Reviewing 8 gridiron classics of last year so that alumni in every territory will flock to see their college team. It's Pete Smith's "Football Thrills." Another Pete Smith subject "Grid Rules" and Robert Benchley's "How To Watch Football" launch the Fall Season. Book 'em while they're hot! (Aside to Leo, Jr.: "Gee whiz, kid, you sure make swell shorts!)

* * * * *

THANKS, KIND SIR!

"A Letter to Leo"

Dear Leo: That man's here again for the 15th time. It's the same story, coming for your product, the only product which spells continued success for me. I am grateful for the years it has been my pleasure to show M-G-M pictures, for they have been years of success, not only financially but also years of cordial and square business relations. Sincerely yours, August Ilg, Ohio Theatre, Lorain, Ohio.

KING AND QUEEN OF THE SCREEN!

Leo of M-G-M takes this MOTION PICTURES' GREATEST YEAR campaign very seriously. Here's another for the Big Drive!

"Too Hot To Handle" flamed into fame this week with Clark Gable and Myrna Loy delighting record-breaking openings everywhere. It's topping "Test Pilot." And that's nice topping!

The trade press told you in advance. Those lads know their stuff. (Read the trade papers! Advt.) For instance: Film Daily said: "A smash at the box-office." M. P. Daily said: "Better than any of the stars' six preceding pictures." M. P. Herald: "A natural. Lines in front of the box-office." Daily Variety: "Sure-fire big-money show." Hollywood Reporter: "One of the financial stand-outs of M.P.A.Y.G.E. campaign." Showmen's Trade Review: "Cinch box-office." The Exhibitor: "SRO attraction." Box-Office: "As torrid as its title at the turnstiles."

The only complaint we anticipate is "too many to handle!"

IT ALL HELPS THE BOX-OFFICE!

Screenland's Honor Page for "Marie Antoinette." Few films have received so many tributes. They keep coming!

* * * * *

Here's a line that has become familiar in the trade press.

In fact we're quoting it this time from the PHILADELPHIA EXHIBITOR's review of "Boys Town," as follows:

"M-G-M made the picture, but it is a show of which the whole industry may be proud."

America said that editorially (and at the box-office) about "Marie Antoinette."

They'll say it again about "The Citadel."

M-G-M is the one company that consistently makes pictures "of which the whole industry" may be proud.

How fitting that as Motion Pictures' Greatest Year Campaign sweeps the country with an appraising press giving editorial support, it is M-G-M which delivers pictures of stature to merit such support.

May we be so bold as to say again:

ALWAYS THE LEADER!

Leo

Union Resumes Talks On Fleischer Studio

Local 60, United American Artists, yesterday resumed negotiations with representatives of the Fleischer studio which were broken off by the union two weeks ago after the latter's refusal to compromise on its semi-closed shop demand for the new Fleischer studio in Florida.

The studio offered to submit the union's demand to a vote of the employes after the new plant had been in operation for a limited time but the union refused this proposal and insisted upon its closed shop demand being incorporated in a new contract. The resumption of negotiations by the union yesterday indicates a possibility of a compromise on the obstacle to a new agreement.

Most of the Fleischer workers are in Florida already, where the new studio is scheduled to be in operation within the next few weeks.

Expect 150 Golfers At Phila. Tourney

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 20.—Approximately 150 eastern exhibitors are entered to date in the annual golf tournament sponsored by the Philadelphia Variety Club and The Exhibitor, which will be held at the Cedar Brook Country Club here Friday.

The trophy has been presented by Herman Wobber.

An elaborate entertainment program has been arranged for the dinner which will follow the tournament.

Y. Supreme Court yesterday. Justice William T. Collins granted Mr. Goldstein's motion over the objection of the defendants. He had brought suit for alleged services in connection with the promotion of Bank Night.

Hold Demonstration Of New Color Film

A considerably simplified color process was demonstrated yesterday in the projection room of Wilding Pictures Corp. The finished product, dealing with the automobile industry, showed excellent rendition of the various primal shades of color. One of the chief advantages of the process is its ready adaptability to the lay cameraman with no color training and ease in making prints.

The technique involved in Cosmocolor, as the process is called, utilizes an interchangeable lens for an ordinary black and white camera. The Cosmocolor lens photographs with the same speed as black and white. A single standard panchromatic negative is exposed and developed the same as for black and white. Color prints are made on standard dupletized stock by means of a specially designed Bell & Howell printer. The prints are then developed and finished in a laboratory equipped for color work.

Legislation Topic Of N. J. Allied Meet

The principal speakers will be Abram F. Myers, Allied general counsel, and Nathan Yamins, national president.

Allied Theatre Owners of New York will hold its first convention jointly with the New Jersey group, and is expected to swell the attendance to more than 200.

At a meeting of the New Jersey unit at the Lincoln Hotel yesterday, a canvass of members present showed that few, if any, are participating in the industry's promotion campaign, in accordance with a resolution the organization adopted some time ago.

"Spawn" at $44,000 Para. Second Week

The second week of "Spawn of the North" with Eddy Duchin and his band headlining the stage show, gave the Paramount $44,000, following $55,000 for the first week. The show is held for a third stanza and will be followed next Wednesday by "If I Were King."

The third week of "Letter of Introduction" at the Rivoli garnered a reported $10,000. This was the Rivoli's best draw since it reopened a few weeks ago.

G. B.'s "Strange Boarders" will open at Loew's Metropolitan, Brooklyn, tomorrow.

"Marie Antoinette" has had extended playing time in 17 key spots in popular price situations, M-G-M reports.

"Jeff" Winners Chosen

Final winners in the "Lord Jeff" ship model contest, sponsored by M-G-M in connection with the film, were chosen yesterday on the Queen Mary, in port here. Capt. D. D. Harrison of the Merchant Marine School, Charles Mulfeld of the Museum of Science and Industry and J. W. Appleton, Vanderbilt yacht designer, acted as judges.

Early End of Mexico Strike Now Expected

By JAMES LOCKHART

MEXICO CITY, Sept. 20.—The long suspension of domestic production resulting from the fight between [illegible] important unions for exclusive control of all film workers, is apparently causing restlessness among the labor leaders, because of the lack of work.

They are now predicting a settlement of the controversy perhaps in a week, or at least by the end of the month. The prospect pleases producers, since that will enable them to complete production of pictures which were halted by the suspension, but they are dubious about what will happen when these are finished and new production gets under way.

Hicks Leaving for Survey in England

John W. Hicks, Paramount vice-president and foreign manager, who will sail on the Washington today, is scheduled to continue the study of a proposal for expansion of the company's theatre interests in England during his stay in London.

The proposal involves Paramount's acquisition of an interest in a large British theatre circuit and was first broached to Stanton Griffis, chairman of the Paramount executive committee, while in London earlier this month.

While declining to divulge details of the proposal, Mr. Hicks said that he would investigate the proposal "with an open mind." He is scheduled to make a report of his findings to the Paramount board at its October meeting, at which time, it is believed, definite action on the proposal will be taken by the company. Mr. Hicks will be abroad visiting the company's British and continental offices for about six weeks.

Louisiana Theatres Fight Tax in Court

Baton Rouge, La., Sept. 20.—Twelve concerns operating approximately 100 theatres in Louisiana have filed suit in the District Court here contesting payment of a one per cent usage tax on films under the Louisiana general sales tax.

The companies, representing all larger theatres of New Orleans as well as others in half a dozen larger cities of the state, assert they are granted merely an intangible right to use of the films and should not be subject to the tax.

The exhibitors also assert the tax already has been paid on the films in California and New York, points of production. They contend that if they are liable at all for payment for the tax it should be imposed only on a valuation of $105 for each print and that the weekly rental of each film should not exceed $5.

The exhibitors ask refunds of sums paid under protest under the tax law on films exhibited since the measure became effective July 1.

Cut Service Charges

hours and 40 minutes, is being booked singly by the Loew circuit, and "You Can't Take It With You" played without support in Louisville and Rochester. "Boys Town" is scheduled as a single at Loew's Metropolitan, Brooklyn, next week.

A policy of single features inaugurated as an experiment by Loew's Ziegfeld last March for the Tuesday and Wednesday program has been continued and will go on indefinitely, according to Gilbert Marbe, manager. While the single bill grosses have not increased over twin bills, this is probably due to the type of product used for the singles, according to Loew's, as the big pictures are reserved for weekends. However, many patrons seem to be pleased and have informed the management to that effect. This is the only Loew house in the city not dualling on a full-time basis.

Film Stock Selling Light, SEC Reports

Washington, Sept. 20.—Only two minor transactions in film corporation stocks in July were disclosed tonight in the semi-monthly report of the Securities and Exchange Commission.

The largest of the two transactions was the disposition by Pathe International Corp. of 800 shares of Monogram Pictures common stock, of which it still held 65,867 shares, together with options for 6,017 shares, at the close of the month. The company's report did not disclose whether the ownership was direct or indirect.

The other transaction was the disposition of 20 shares of Pathe Film common stock by T. P. Loach, New York, a director in the company. At the close of the month, Mr. Loach held 11 shares.

Included in the commissions' summary were April, 1936, reports of Universal Pictures officers, showing that in that month R. H. Cochrane, by exchange or conversion, wiped out his holdings of 22,746 shares of common stock, and Carl Laemmle, Sr., wiped out his holdings of 15,707 shares of second preferred and disposed of 168,867 shares of common, leaving him with 7,016 shares.

Du Art Lab Strike Ended by Contract

Approximately 35 striking employes of Du Art Film Laboratories will be reinstated in their jobs without discrimination, under terms of a contract drawn with Motion Picture Laboratory Technicians, Local 702. Wage increases and changes in working conditions are provided.

The contract is due to be signed in a day or two and the strikers are scheduled to return to work by Monday, after being out six weeks. The laboratory has large orders on hand which require immediate attention, it is understood.

Several employes who did not respond to the union's strike call will remain on their jobs, although the union wanted them dismissed. They will be subject to fines and other penalties by the union, it was said. One or two technicalities are holding up finalization of the contract, according to John Rugge, union president. The pact will be submitted to the I.A.T.S.E. for ratification.

"Algiers" to B. & K. On a Separate Deal

Chicago, Sept. 20.—"Algiers," which will open at the United Artists theatre on Saturday, has been purchased by B. & K. from United Artists on a separate contract, because B. & K. has not made any deal with United Artists as yet for the 1938-'39 product.

Regarding the U. A. product, the possibility is pointed out that some theatre unit might make a deal with U. A. and the company that holds the lease of the Oriental Theatre and with this setup open the theatre, closed for six months. That such a deal is pending has not been confirmed or denied.

Mr. Gaynor's wife, Bland Johaneson of the Mirror, is a little skeptical.

Brackett, Sheridan Divney, Donald Ogden Stewart, Tristram Tupper, Anthony Veiller and Leonard S. Janofsky, counsel, would comment on the reason for the abrupt termination of the discussion, but it is understood the producer refusal to grant a guild shop demand and to terminate the Screen Playwright contract immediately were the major causes.

These were among the many conditions set forth in guild proposals submitted last week, which the producers rejected in a written reply offered the guild representatives last night. The producer document explored the guild's written proposals item by item and set forth the reasons for rejecting some, suggesting further discussion of others and agreeing with a few. The producers said "We are perfectly willing to enter into discussions and negotiations leading to the consummation, we hope, of a satisfactory and practical agreement relating to the hours, wages and working conditions of writers." Darryl Zanuck, E. J. Mannix, B. B. Kahane and counsel composed the producer committee.

UA, RKO Close Deal On 1938-'39 Product

United Artists has concluded a deal with the RKO circuit under which the entire U. A. 1938-'39 schedule will play in all RKO theatres throughout the country. The arrangement was concluded by Harry Gold, eastern division manager for United Artists, and Fred Meyers, head film booker for RKO.

According to the deal, RKO will show all the U. A. product in the order of its release. It is retroactive to include "Algiers," which was released in August and is now showing in RKO houses.

Casey Here from Coast

Pat Casey, producers' labor contact, arrived in New York from Hollywood yesterday and plans to remain here until mid-October. Mr. Casey will conduct negotiations on a new two-year contract with the newsreel cameraman's union and may confer in Washington with Elmer F. Andrews on the applicability of the new Federal wages and hours law to the industry before returning to the coast.

than those of the first series, but will emphasize "go to the theatre" messages and the "Movie Quiz" prize c[illegible]test, rather than the institutional top[illegible] on which the first ads were centered.

The advertising committee, of which Howard Dietz is chairman, will meet again as soon as Donahue & Coe have completed the preparation of sample ads for the new series, at which time final decisions will be made by the committee on the specific ads to be used.

National circuit heads here reported to campaign headquarters yesterday that theatre business since last Friday has shown important gains over the preceding days of the campaign. Circuit business for the past weekend was particularly heavy, it was reported, and the campaign was given credit for much of the improvement.

Plan "Fashion Salon" Stunt

Plans for the staging of the "Motion Picture Industry's First Annual Fashion Salon," which is regarded as one of the most important exploitation stunts to be conducted in connection with the campaign, are under way in order to have the idea in operation on a national basis by the end of next month.

Under the plan, all studios will pool their clothes designing talent to create new fashions in all types of clothing. A manufacturer will be licensed in every branch of the fashion trades to provide merchandise designed by the studio talent for one store in each of approximately 2,000 cities in the United States and Canada. Theatres will tie in with the stores selected and the whole endeavor will be tied in with the Motion Pictures' Greatest Year campaign. Individual stars and pictures may be tied in with the stunt. A campaign book for the presentation of the idea to consumers will be prepared for participating stores and the stunt will be backed by a complete picture and story publicity campaign.

If the idea is successful, it was said, the fashion salon may be staged by the industry annually.

Order Bernhard Article Reprints

Campaign headquarters have ordered several thousand reprints of an article by Joseph Bernhard, Warner theatre head, describing the basis of the widespread cooperation being accorded the industry campaign by merchants, civic officials, manufacturers and others. The article appeared in a recent issue of Printers' Ink and attributed the cooperation to general recognition of the fact that "trade follows the movies."

The article will be widely circularized by the industry campaign organization.

"Campus Confessions"

(Paramount)

HOLLYWOOD, Sept. 20.—This is a trig little sports comedy built for the basketball belt, a by no means smallish region where the name of Hank Luisetti is as Red Grange's once was in the pigskin empire. Lean, likeable Luisetti stands head, shoulders and biceps above the other members of the cast, physically, and no doubt that's the way for showmen to bill him. The picture rolls along quietly and with humorous complications of collegiate complexion until Hank comes into a crucial game near the picture's end and gives a stunning demonstration of his special virtuosity. That, to sports fans, is quite something.

The picture is William Thomas' bow to the screen as associate producer and promises much. The story, a pattern scholastic model by Lloyd Corrigan and Erwin Gelsey, is about students who go for athletics and a faculty which doesn't. John Arledge supplies most of the comedy, as a glib upper classman, and Fritz Feld adds some nice touches as the campus tailor, while Betty Grable, Eleanore Whitney, William Henry, Thurston Hall, Roy Gardner, Lane Chandler and Richard Dennings handle the slightly more serious assignments.

The place is any small college and the time any time. There are no musical numbers.

Running time, 65 minutes. "G." ROSCOE WILLIAMS

"Shadows Over Shanghai"

(Fine Arts-Grand National)

HOLLYWOOD, Sept. 20.—Rife with action based on the Sino-Japanese war and the incident of Chapei in 1932, "Shadows Over Shanghai" is an excellent subject for exploitation campaigns. The original story by R. B. Sale adapted by Joseph Hoffman shows the two countries at swords points, takes part of its action from current headlines by inference that Russia is interested in the outcome and carries through to the point that neither nation is victorious, that Russia is not involved, and that the characters do not take part in sympathizing with either combatant.

Heading the cast are James Dunn, Ralph Morgan, Linda Gray and Robert Barrat. Charles Lamont directed and also acted as associate producer.

"Frontier Scouts"

(Fine Arts-Grand National)

HOLLYWOOD, Sept. 20.—Laid against the background of pioneer days, this picture presents George Houston as "Wild Bill Hickok," who prevents a cattle shortage by exposing the gang of rustlers who had been holding up the bands.

There are fights with Indians, battles with outlaws and other stirring action. Supporting Houston are Al St. John, Beth Marion, Dave O'Brien, Guy Chase and others.

Sam Newfield directed the original screenplay of Frances Guihan. Maurice Conn was associate producer.

Running time, 62 minutes. "G." VANCE KING

New York Preview

"Starlight Over Texas"

(Monogram)

A western starring Tex Ritter, another of our current legion of "singing cowboys," this appears to have gotten away from the basic premise of the western picture. It would seem obvious that the greater bulk of the audience for the western is composed of real action fans, and many of them youngsters.

It must be said that this film altogether too often comes closer to resembling a musical comedy in a western and Mexican setting than it does a western. Ritter appears to ride about most of the time accompanied by an invisible but highly audible symphony orchestra, which is at times diconcerting. Musical numbers are occasionaly interspersed with action, instead of vice versa. The story is routine western material, and Ritter is supported by Carmel LaRoux, Snub Pollard, Horace Murphy and Karl Hackett, in particular. Al Herman directed the Edward Finney production.

Running time, 56 minutes. "G." CHARLES S. AARONSON

RADIO, by the very terms of the license by which it operates, must perform in the public "interest, convenience and necessity," meaning that no matter how excellent a service it renders, that's what is expected of it. Nevertheless, we feel the unstinted praise is due the three networks, CBS, NBC and Mutual, for the efficient manner in which they have been providing the American public with first hand, unbiased accounts of the European situation.

The networks have afforded practically 24-hour coverage during the crisis. Latest developments from Prague, Berlin, Paris, Rome and London, as offered by the networks' own correspondents and the correspondents for the great news agencies, have been short-waved here, often as many as three and four broadcasts a night to each network. Also, periodic news bulletins from Europe have been aired as soon as filed, regardless of program interruptions. We have no way of telling how much money it has cost the webs to afford such coverage, but it must amount to a considerable sum.

We like this item so much, we're lifting it from Leonard Liebling's space in Musical Courier. Willem van Hoogstraten, conducting a late summer concert out of town, was asked by the management to address the audience during intermission. Going to the amplifier, he told them how lucky they were to be out in the open, under the stars, listening to the master works and seeing living performers, instead of being cooped up in hot rooms having music funnelled to them out of an unromantic little box called the radio. Mr. van Hoogstraten went on using up all his eloquence on the subject of the inanimate "little box," only to be informed after he had stopped that the regular radio pickup had been working during the entire talk, sending his remarks over the air into thousands of homes.

Praise to a radio news man from a newspaper editor is praise indeed. Paul White of CBS is in receipt of a letter from a Providence editor who listened over CBS to the Hitler talk and H. V. Kaltenborn's interpolations, and wrote Paul that it was "the best spot news broadcast I've ever listened to."

Nickel in Telephone Seen Future Television Method

CHICAGO, Sept. 20.—Some day, millions may see their favorite film stars in their own homes, simply by dropping a nickel into the telephone. That will be when television is perfected. Not tomorrow, nor the next day, but perhaps sooner than many expect.

For the accuracy of this forecast, take the word of Commander Eugene F. McDonald, Jr., president of the Zenith Radio Corp., which holds the only television broadcasting license in Chicago.

Engineers at the Zenith plant are gradually ironing out kinks standing in the way of commercially practicable television, but much more pioneering remains to be accomplished. As Commander McDonald sees it, the picture industry will produce the pictures which will be carried over telephone wires and transmitted to the home through equipment manufactured by the radio industry.

"In my opinion," says Commander McDonald, "television is just around the corner—for the stock promoter. You'd better forget about trying to get rich overnight through some wildcat scheme.

"Technical problems seem easier to solve than the commercial or economic problems. The big question is, how are we going to pay for this entertainment. The public will not be satisfied with anything less than the films now provide. Many of the people who bought television apparatus in England, where regular programs are under way, are dissatisfied.

"If television is to come and give the public the equivalent of films, methods will be found to put it over standard telephone wires. The telephone company will be the distributing and collecting agent."

As evidence that the telephone companies realize the part they will play in this future development, the Illinois Bell Telephone Co. has incorporated the words "including television" in its franchise for operating in Chicago.

McGrady Is Elected To NBC Directorate

Edward F. McGrady, vice-president of RCA, has been elected to the board of directors of NBC to fill the vacancy caused by the recent death of James R. Sheffield.

Vote Independent Union

CBS engineers and technicians yesterday chose the Associated Broadcast Technicians, an independent union, as their collective bargaining agency. The elections were ordered recently by the National Labor Relations Board to determine whether the network engineers wanted the Associated Broadcast Technicians, or the American Communications Association, a C. I. O. union, to represent them. Of 208 employes entitled to vote, the Associated group received 125 favorable ballots.

NAB Pictures Query Checks On Film Hours

Quiz Followed Failure To Use Air in Drive

The National Association of Broadcasters' film questionnaire, recently dispatched to radio stations throughout the country, which seeks basic information on the extent of motion picture programs being offered over the air, bears five main questions, each with numerous subdivisions. The investigation has been undertaken by the N.A.B. because radio was ignored as an advertising medium for the motion picture industry's current campaign, "Motion Pictures' Greatest Year."

The questionnaire starts with the query: Does your station currently carry any paid advertising programs or announcements sponsored by the

More Pledges in From Independents

Independent exhibitor pledges to the Motion Pictures' Greatest Year campaign are still being received daily and in good volume, campaign headquarters reported yesterday.

The total pledges from independent exhibitor sources to date are estimated to be in excess of $300,000, although the figure is subject to audit and it is possible that some duplications in the lists may exist.

Officials of the campaign expect the pledges from theatres joining the drive will continue through October

HURRICANE SMASHES, FLOODS FILM HOUSES

Cuts 100-Mile Swath Across Long Island And New England—One Collapses and Power Cut-offs Are General

In the wake of the tropical hurricane which cut a 100-mile wide swath up the Atlantic Coast until it struck Long Island and southern New England late Wednesday afternoon, circuit heads were aghast yesterday trying to assess the extent of the damage.

It was the first time in modern history that rain, wind and flood had burst upon this area with such devastating effect.

Long Island was hardest hit. At Greenport the wall of a Prudential house blew out and the building practically collapsed two hours after the manager had sent his audience home. On the Rockaway peninsula, in the Flatbush section, at Long Beach, Freeport and other spots along the south shore; at Queens, Hempstead, Mineola and other places in the center of the island, and out in the Hamptons where the full force of the storm hit floods were general.

Actual damage to the theatres in this section was confined to water in the basements, but business was at a standstill yesterday. Power was being restored in many spots and streets were being cleared of fallen trees, but New York offices of the Prudential, Century, Loew's, Skouras, Randforce, Community Playhouses and others were still awaiting detailed word from executives who were trying to cover the territory by automobile.

Horlacher's Film Delivery Service resumed yesterday after several days of shutdown due to a trucking strike, but details were unavailable last night on how many houses had been served.

In Manhattan, from 59th St. north all houses were affected from 8:47 to 9:38 when power was shut off. Bronx and Washington Heights lights were off from 6 to 12:30 o'clock. Westchester power was off from six

MGM Not to Force Shorts, Rodgers Says

M-G-M's policy is not to "insist on short subject representation in theatres whose policy it is not to use this type of entertainment," William F. Rodgers has informed Allied Theatre Owners of New York in a letter to Max A. Cohen, president. The forcing of shorts with feature sales is one of the allegations in the Government's anti-trust suit.

Mr. Cohen read Mr. Rodgers' letter at a meeting of independent exhibitors sponsored by the Allied unit at the Astor yesterday. Hailing the M-G-M commitment as "the first milestone in the elimination of unfair trade practices and industry abuse," Mr. Cohen

Grand National Case Dropped by the FTC

The Federal Trade Commission will drop its complaint against Grand National Films, Inc., because of the recent reorganization of the company, Merle P. Lyon, the commission's attorney, said at a hearing yesterday.

The complaint, which was issued March 31, charges that Grand National used "misleading" advertising in connection with the sale of the film "In His Steps." It was alleged that the advertising matter gave the impression that the picture was based on the best seller of the same name written by Dr. Charles M. Sheldon in 1896, and that the two stories were unrelated.

A formal stipulation will be entered at a later date, according to Mr. Lyon.

UA Publicity May Move to Hollywood

Hollywood, Sept. 22.—Lynn Farnol, United Artists publicity and advertising director, arrived here today by plane to discuss with U. A. producers and publicity heads the feasibility of establishing a central clearing house here for the distribution of U.A. photographs and news.

He will meet tomorrow with the publicity heads of five companies, with Russell Birdwell of Selznick International as chairman. The project is seen as eliminating duplicate mailing lists and might eventually make Hollywood the sole source of U. A. publicity, with the New York office abandoned. Mr. Farnol was accompanied by Sabu and Morris Helprin, publicity director for Alexander Korda.

Hays Board Decides To Meet Next Week

The M. P. P. D. A. board of directors, after a brief session yesterday, adjourned to next week, the date of the meeting to be set later. Discussion of the Italian film distribution monopoly decree and the industry's cooperative advertising and business campaign again occupied the meeting, it was said.

No action on the Italian problem was taken due to the fact that the required clarification of the language of the decree and the hope of new modifications of its provisions are still be-

Today They Bury 'Capsule' For 5,000 Years—Perhaps

By J. M. JERAULD

At the exact moment of the autumnal equinox today—some time between 12:45 and 1:05 P. M., E.D.S.T. —Terry Ramsaye's message to the ages will be lowered 50 feet into the World's Fair mud in a seven-foot cupaloy torpedo.

Five thousand years hence an archaeologist digging about with a 6939 A. D. model pickaxe may bump into it, and if it doesn't explode he'll be surprised by what he finds inside.

Allyn Butterfield, editor of Pathe News, has included a reel showing President Roosevelt speaking at Gettysburg, Howard Hughes' return, track meets, football games, baseball, battleship maneuvers, the Soviet celebration, the Chinese war and a fashion subject.

Mr. Ramsaye has compiled an expository dissertation mingling optics, mechanics, chemistry and sex, not forgetting—we hope—that Motion Picture Herald used to go to press every Wednesday, autumnal equinox or no autumnal equinox—back in 1938, and George Schutz, editor of Better Theatres, has enclosed a diagram showing how to build a motion picture projector. This will be necessary because most of the records in the tube, called "The Time Capsule," are on micro film.

MOTION PICTURE DAILY will cover the burial of the tube via WOR, but can't guarantee coverage on the exhumation.

Tutankhamen's subjects had to dig into a rocky hill and build a pyramid so their king could make the front pages 3,000 years later, but the Westinghouse Electric & Manufacturing Co. has applied modern science to get more material into less space. "The Time Capsule" is made of a copper alloy as hard as steel. It contains statements on scientific engineering, industrial, social, religious and scientific achievements, small articles that are worn or used at present, motion picture film on how we look, act and talk, and other material. It is lined with Pyrex glass and is filled with an inert gas instead of air to preserve the contents.

The exact spot of the burial of the capsule has been surveyed by the U. S. Coast and Geodetic Survey. It happens to be under the Westinghouse exhibit at the World's Fair. Books containing a description of it will be sent to the principal libraries of the world, so that, in case some of them are preserved, future scientists can find the spot without getting mired on the edges of Flushing Bay.

It is figured that the tube will sink another 50 feet in the course of the ages, so there will be no danger that it will be dug up if some future mayor should decide to extend the Eighth Avenue subway branch northward to Whitestone, or some place.

Storm Damage Total Uncertain Last Night

Storm Spends Its Fury On Boston Area

BOSTON, Sept. 22.—New England theatre damage by hurricane is inestimable. Communications have been cut off in many towns and circuits have received no reports. Rising waters are increasing theatre losses which are already in hundreds of thousands of dollars. The Scollay Square, Old Howard, and Strand theatres were closed by police last night when the staging on a nearby courthouse threatened to collapse. Signs and marquees were ripped off by the dozens. Power was cut off in 40 cities and towns in suburban Boston alone last night. Many will not be opened for several days. All theatres were reported closed in Lowell where flood waters are rising. Drive-in theatres in Lynn and Metheun were heavily damaged. I. Finn, brother of Dann Finn of Warners, was seriously injured in a Metheun mishap.

Newport House Unroofed

The roof was blown off of the Colonial in Newport. Roof of the Orpheum in Somerville caved in and the theatre was put on the closed list for the next few months. In the film district, plate glass windows at Coulter Premiums and the National Theatre Supply were smashed. Transportation was hampered.

The only contact with New York is by airplane. Trucks are getting into Rhode Island but are unable to get beyond the outskirts of Providence. Western Massachusetts was the most seriously hurt of all New England. Worcester is as far west as trucks are going today. Vermont is practically cut off. Cape Cod is entirely cut off. Maine is all right and so is New Hampshire as far as Laconia. Ten houses on the Western Massachusetts Circuit are reported closed. The Levenson circuit houses suffered casualties including a torn off roof in Leominister and roof damage in Quincy.

Flood Crests Not Reached

There was clear bright weather in Boston today. Over 200 are already reported dead in New England. Flood heights will not be reached in many instances until tomorrow morning.

WAAB and WNAC returned to the air with emergency outfits last night and are still continuing with emergency bulletins. The WMEX tower was blown down. WZA and WBZA were still off this afternoon. Theatre owners are still trying to check into extent of damage. Many are marooned in Boston and elsewhere and have not heard from their houses since yesterday.

Little Worcester Damage

WORCESTER, Sept. 22.—Local theatres report flooded basements and much minor damage, such as broken skylights and smashed signs. Springfield suffered similar havoc. Loew's Poli was flooded.

Hurricane Smashes, Floods Long Island, N.E. Theatres

to eight minutes. Twenty-three Loew houses were affected. There was still no power at noon yesterday.

Lights were out on the north shore of Long Island after 4 P. M. Shortly after this Huntington, Laurel Park, Bellrose, Franklin Square and Baldwin went dark.

Managers and their staffs proved resourceful in many instances. Some acted as masters of ceremony while patrons went on the stage and put on their own show. Candles were used for illumination. Audiences staged community sings. Where audiences became panicky passes were issued or refunds were given.

New Jersey escaped the full force of the storm, but houses at Asbury Park and other shore towns closed after the receipt of the storm warning on the theory that there would be no business anyway. Transportation in Newark, Jersey City and Hoboken was at a standstill for hours, but power stayed on. Power was cut off at New Platz, N. Y., however.

The amazing effects of the storm hit southern Connecticut, Rhode Island and Massachusetts. In New London transportation ceased when the harbor waters began piling shipping across the New Haven Railroad tracks. All downtown theatres closed. In Providence the entire downtown area was under six feet of water and all houses were damaged. The same conditions prevailed in all the communities on both sides of Narragansett Bay. Late yesterday it was impossible to get telephone connections with any theatre east of Stamford.

New England theatre damage ranged from smashed signs, marquees and skylights to virtual destruction, as in Providence, where the roof of an Ed Fay theatre was reported to have collapsed.

Loew's reported that with the exception of Providence, all of its New England theatres were operating last night, so far as could be determined. In Providence, the RKO Albee was forced to close at 4 P. M. when floods and the storm disrupted power service. A number of theatre patrons were trapped in parked automobiles when a six-foot tidal wave swept the center of the city.

Apple Trees

In the midst of the difficulty of establishing communication with New England points where Loew theatres were damaged, Johnny Murphy, assistant to Joe Vogel at Loew's, received an urgent telephone call from his mother in Jamaica to inform him that her two precious apple trees were uprooted.

Newsreel Staffs Put On 24-Hour Coverage

Newsreel staffs worked a 24-hour shift ending at noon yesterday. Some material was obtained in time to be included in the regular newsreel releases which went out to theatres yesterday, but the bulk of the footage on the storm was received too late for regular releases. Unusual material is being sent out as a special while the remainder will be held for the reels to be made up on Monday.

Newsreel coverage was extensive from Philadelphia to Boston. In the New York area special boats were chartered to take camera crews to Fire Island, where damage was extensive. Private planes carrying cameramen were unable to take off until midnight Wednesday for storm areas in and around Providence. Highway and rail conditions stopped travel by automobile and train in many areas, seriously handicapping the coverage of local cameramen. All five reels, however, reported that considerable footage had been obtained from mid-afternoon of Wednesday to noon yesterday.

Midtown Not Affected

New York midtown theatres were not affected by power difficulties. The Paramount's business was "slightly off" and the Capitol reported a good night's business.

Uptown N. Y. Houses Dark as Power Fails

All theatres served by alternating current in Harlem, Washington Heights and the Bronx were darkened shortly before 9 P. M. when power lines failed. Service was resumed at varying times which ranged from 15 minutes to an hour and a half. Theatres which use direct current were not affected.

With houses lighted by flashlights, small battery lamps and candles, most metropolitan audiences waited patiently until programs could be resumed. At the Fordham, Manager Sol Schwartz, who was conducting an Amateur Show when the lights went out, opened two exit doors and had taxicabs focus their headlights on the stage.

Community singing and impromptu acts from the audience helped fill the gaps at other houses. Where patrons refused to wait, passes were issued. RKO was compelled to close several houses in Manhattan and the Bronx when patrons became restive, but reopened them shortly after 10 o'clock.

All Skouras Circuit houses in West Bronx and Upper Broadway were compelled to close when power failed. Four houses in Long Island and one in Rockland, N. Y., also closed. Only minor damage by the wind was incurred. All New Jersey theatres remained open.

Flood Waters Soak Theatres In Providence

PROVIDENCE, Sept. 22.—A tidal wave that swept the center of the city flooded all theatres, with untold damage. Everything has been at a virtual standstill since the hurricane struck Wednesday afternoon.

Ed Fay's Majestic was demolished when the roof collapsed under the gale's impact. Loew's State was flooded to the 15th row of the orchestra, but the house was not hurt structurally.

Joseph R. Vogel, Loew executive, and construction department officials are due from New York as soon as transportation is restored to supervise immediate repairs to the State.

The RKO home office last night received information that its Albee Theatre, closed since 4 P. M. Wednesday, reopened yesterday at 1 P. M.

Loew's at a late hour last night was unable to establish communication with its Providence theatre.

Greenport Theatre Collapses in Gale

Greenport at the eastern end of Long Island was caught in the center of the blow. Early in the afternoon Herman Finker, manager of the Greenport, a Prudential house, began to worry about the safety of his patrons and decided to stop the show and request them to go home. Trees were already beginning to fall around town. Shortly after 5 o'clock the entire rear wall of the theatre blew out and the theatre practically collapsed. There was no loss of life and no injuries. The loss is estimated at $200,000, and the house will be rebuilt.

Eighteen other Prudential houses were affected by loss of power and flooded streets in various parts of Long Island. Joseph M. Seider, Prudential president, left for an automobile tour of the circuit yesterday morning, but found complicated detours necessary in a number of spots because of fallen trees. Power was restored in most communities early yesterday.

Fire Follows Gale; New London Is Hit

NEW LONDON, Sept. 22.—Fire and gale caused at least $4,000,000 damage here, with theatres in the path of destruction. The fire, starting late Wednesday along the waterfront, demolished about 40 buildings, some on Bank St., the city's principal thoroughfare. The fire loss is estimated at $1,000,000.

The howling gale left scarcely a structure in the city undamaged to some extent. Ocean Beach virtually was swept away as the gale roared in from Long Island Sound.

All downtown theatres were closed tonight.

THE KEYSTONE OF YOUR FUTURE

MGM Not to Force Shorts, Rodgers Says

said he would write the sales heads of all other major companies to determine "whether they will continue this practice."

Mr. Rogers' letter declared that the company prefers to sell to theatres that offer an outlet for the entire program and that it is "a natural desire" on the part of the sales staff to persuade theatres not using shorts to alter their policy in order to buy them, but "in such cases we do not make it conditional that short subjects be leased in order to secure our feature attractions."

Expect Short Representation

The letter further stated that "in those cases where short subjects are used, we, of course, expect the account with whom we are dealing also to give us representation on our shorts."

Mr. Cohen said, in answer to an exhibitor's query, that this policy will "absolutely not" affect the cost of features and was inclined to believe that where exhibitors have already been persuaded to buy shorts they cannot absorb, they can ask M-G-M for adjustments.

Whether this is the case could not be determined at M-G-M yesterday because of Mr. Rodgers' absence with Tom Connors, division manager, in Toronto. They are due back this morning.

The clarification of M-G-M's policy arose from a luncheon discussion Mr. Cohen and Harry G. Kosch, Allied counsel, had with Mr. Rodgers early this week, after the M-G-M sales department had insisted that he buy the entire shorts schedule in negotiating a deal for his Cinema and Belle Circuits, Mr. Cohen said. Also, this practice was complained of by many exhibitors at a recent Allied meeting in Syracuse, he added.

Brandt Pledges Cooperation

Harry Brandt, president of the I.T.O.A., pledged the cooperation of his organization in cooperating with the Allied unit on matters affecting all exhibitors. The promise was brought by David Weinstock and was also given in a letter from Mr. Brandt which was read by Mr. Cohen.

The first instance of cooperation will be resistance to the anti-chance game crusade of the Society for the Prevention of Crime, which last week caused the arrest of the house staff of the Jewel Theatre in Harlem on lottery charges. The case will be heard Oct. 4 in Magistrate's Court.

Oklahoma Theatre Outlook Brightens

OKLAHOMA CITY, Sept. 22.—Exhibitor optimism is growing in this section as a result of the general business pickup and improvement in crop conditions. Seven new theatres have been opened, or plan to open, this month; only one is closed, and five are undergoing remodeling or are installing new equipment.

Roy Creason, operator of the Palace at Eufala, Okla., will open a second house there soon. M. R. Parks is about ready to open the Disney at Disney, Okla. S. P. Sellers has opened a 300-seat house at Westville, Okla. R. S. Fryer opened a new 300-seat house in Grove, Okla., Sept. 2; Buffum & Doty, partners at Broken Bow, Okla., are to open the Best there, seating 300, about Oct. 1; P. H. James, operator of the Jewel, negro house here, will open a new negro theatre in Ardmore later this month.

The Griffith Amusement Co. has closed the Empire at Altus, Okla., and the Majestic in Gainesville, Tex., for remodeling, redecorating and renaming. The Empire will open the latter part of September and the Majestic in October.

A. C. Wooten opened the Ritz in Skiatook, Okla., Sept. 9. S. P. Doss and Marvin Lowe have purchased the Chief at Eufala, Okla., from Buddy Walker. The Chief seats 300 persons. Charles Lyles, operator of the Gem, Oklahoma City, closed that theatre Sept. 1 and is seeking a new location here.

"Sons of the Legion"

(Paramount)

HOLLYWOOD, Sept. 22.—Although it includes quite a bit of patriotic sermonizing which the American Legion will undoubtedly look upon as favorable propaganda and which is thereby an exploitation asset, "Sons of the Legion," is substantial semi-melodramatic entertainment. For localities where the Legion is strong and aggressive, it has despite lack of outstanding names, strong box-office possibilities.

Romance, drama, comedy, pathos, action and excitement are blended in a story pitched to a keynote of human interest. Tim Holt goes about the country organizing junior legion posts. Billy Cook and Billy Lee, influenced by their uncle, William Frawley, an enthusiastic Legionnaire, recruit all their pal's and even the town's tough boy, Donald O'Connor to found a post. Meanwhile the seeds of romance are sown for Holt and the boy's sister Evelyn Keyes. O'Connor tries to use the post for his own juvenile racketeer ideas, only to change his tune when elected chaplain. A crisis comes when Lynne Overman, the boy's father, forbids them ever to mention the legion or have anything to do with it again. Finally, under pressure from the youngsters, Holt, Frawley, Miss Keyes and Elizabeth Patterson, Overman is forced to tell his family that he was dishonorably discharged from the army. But Cook finds that O'Connor's father, William Pawley, an escaped convict, was responsible for Overman's disgrace, after which he with the other members of the juvenile post, senior legionnaires and the police, capture Pawley in an exciting climax.

Well written by Lillie Hayward, Lewis Foster and Robert McGowan, the film has been capably directed by James Hogan. Convincing performances are the rule, Overman contributes an outstanding characterization.

Running time, 60 minutes. "G." G. McC.

"The Mysterious Rider"

(Paramount-Harry Sherman)

HOLLYWOOD, Sept. 22.—Based on a sound story premise, Harry Sherman's picturization of Zane Grey's "The Mysterious Rider" is an entertaining combination of melodrama, mystery and suspense. Photographed almost entirely outdoors, the natural scenic features form excellent backgrounds.

While somewhat complicated in the beginning, the story moves smoothly once identities and circumstances are established. The expert manner in which Douglas Dumbrille, Sidney Toler, Russell Hayden, Stanley Andrews, Weldon Heyburn, Charlotte Fields and Monte Blue interpret their several characterizations gives the picture punch.

Following their stage holdup, Dumbrille, as a bandit, and his comedy pal, Toler, return to the country from which a murder charge had driven him years before. The pair get jobs on Andrews' ranch. This worthy is in league with Blue in cattle rustling, with Charlotte Fields, rightful owner of the ranch, a principal victim. While romantic rivalry between Hayden and Andrews' jail-bird son bring them into active conflict, audiences realize that Dumbrille is the girl's father. Dumbrille sets out to avenge himself on Andrews and Blue. He sets the stage for the bandits' debacle and the return of the ranch to Miss Winters. That feat, in which he is aided by Toler and Hayden, is accomplished with much realistic thrill action. Dumbrille moves on, his identity still unrevealed to Miss Winter, who is content in her romance with Hayden. Maurice Geraghty did the screenplay, Russell Harlan photographed and Lesley Solander directed.

Running time, 70 minutes. "G." G. McC.

Denies Charges at Harrisburg Hearing

HARRISBURG, Sept. 22.—State Representative Charles Melchiore, whom former Attorney General Charles Margiotti said was the source of information on the purported sale of film legislation in 1935 for $100,000, denied he told Mr. Margiotti anything when he was witness before a legislative investigating committee.

Representative Melchiore said, when asked about Mr. Margiotti's testimony, that he had told of J. David Stern, Philadelphia publisher, receiving $100,000 from film interests. The charge was denied.

Zanuck and Wallis Testify at Hearing

HOLLYWOOD, Sept. 22.—Darryl F. Zanuck took the witness stand today in the Screen Directors' Guild bargaining hearing and declared that unit managers' and assistant directors' duties were at variance with those of directors. Unit managers and assistants are under the direct jurisdiction of the production department and have no authority to shoot scenes or sequences, while directors are responsible to producers and have no authority to replace the cast except for stars.

Following Mr. Zanuck on stand, Hal B. Wallis was questioned concerning dialogue directors at Warners. Harry Joe Brown also testified.

Hollywood Preview

"Mr. Doodle Kicks Off"

(RKO)

Hollywood, Sept. 22.—"Mr. Doodle Kicks Off" is a seasonal football picture. Joe Penner is the focal point of everything that happens. Most of that, although there are occasional lapses, is funny and amusing.

The star is a student who would rather be a musician than anything else. His wealthy father, William Davidson, a one time athletic hero, desires that Penner should follow in his footsteps. He promises the school a big endowment if Penner can be made a football hero. Everybody attached to the college, president, head coach and assistants, the captain and members of the team and instructors are in on the secret and all want the endowment. Yet nothing is done, until the president's daughter, June Travis, and love take a hand. Joe messes up the first game, but puts on a bewildering assortment of plays in the second half to win it and is very much the campus hero. Even though a clown, he thinks he is great and Miss Travis, although she loves and sympathizes with him, will not be permitted to disillusion him. However, walking off the field during the big game when he realizes the deception that has been practised on him, the song and call of love sends him back in the closing moments to be the sensation of a rally which he tops off with a phenomenal and comic kick to win the game and girl. Of course the school gets the endowment.

Author Mark Kelly brought into use many of the things he has seen and heard during his career as sports writer. Bert Granet adopted these, added humorous dialogue lines and romantic situation to give Director Leslie Goodwin a pot pouri of mirth, excitement and romance, with an occasional musical dab which he handled in a way to make amusing mass entertainment.

Running time, 75 minutes. "G." G. McC.

"Billy the Kid Returns"

(Republic)

This is somewhat better than routine western material, although it is cut to the usual pattern. Chiefly responsible for its quality is the personality, voice and ability of Roy Rogers. In this case, where music is introduced for the "singing cowboy," it is done with more excuse than is often the case in westerns. Too often it appears to be dragged in by the heels. Rogers has an appealing singing voice.

Smiley Burnette, for the comedy department, and Lynn Roberts, for the romance, are the chief supporting players. Charles E. Ford produced, with Joe Kane directing the original screenplay by Jack Natteford.

When a notorious Billy the Kid is killed by the sheriff, Rogers, who plays the dual role, is mistaken for the killer. The Kid is dreaded by the ranchers for his protection of homesteaders who are being forced off their land by the cattlemen. The sheriff deputizes Rogers to impersonate the Kid in order to break up the ranchers' attacks on the settlers. He succeeds, via a full quota of hard riding, shooting and fighting, meanwhile falling in love with Miss Roberts, daughter of a settler from the east.

Running time, 56 minutes. "G." Charles S. Aaronson.

"Wanted by the Police"

(Monogram)

An active and occasionally exciting little screen story, this stars Frankie Darro in the first of a series of four for Monogram. It should prove satisfactory for the double bill trade which expects nothing too pretentious, but wants something with a measure of appeal.

Darro is supported chiefly by Evalyn Knapp, Robert Kent, Lillian Elliott and Matty Fain. Howard Bretherton directed under Lindsley Parsons' supervision from a screenplay by Wellyn Totman and an original by Donn Mullaly and Renaud Hoffman.

Darro, just out of high school, finally forsakes baseball for a job. He gets one in a garage and suddenly finds himself in the middle of a stolen car racket. He is forced to continue, but finally extricates himself with the help of his sister's sweetheart, Kent, a policeman, via the expected route of running gun fights and speeding cars which serves to add a touch of excitement to the film's climax.

Running time, 59 minutes. "G." Charles S. Aaronson.

WE accept gratefully the dandy red flannel union suit sent by the Vick Chemical Co. as a promotion stunt for its incoming rural series, "Seth Parker Sketches." The suit, several sizes too ample for us, has been turned over to A-Mike Vogel of the MOTION PICTURE HERALD, who promises to treat it with tenderness and reverence. The letter which came with the suit urges us to wear it not for its comfort or style, but for the way it will keep us warm in zero weather. But what way is that for the Vicks Co. to promote the sale of its preparations? If, by virtue of wearing the suit, we won't get the sniffles, we'll not need to buy the Vicks products.

Air actor Bill Johnstone has been so busy with his radio assignments—he appears in "The Shadow," "Valiant Lady," "Mercury Theatre," "Johnnie Presents" and other programs—that he has been unable to keep a marriage appointment with the lady of his choice, Georgia Brady. Late of a recent afternoon, however, he developed some free time, and with Miss Brady, hopped down to the Municipal Marriage Bureau. They arrived a few seconds after the bureau closed for the day, but so eloquently did Mr. Johnstone plead with the clerk that the latter decided to perform the civil marriage rites. The marriage still hasn't taken place, however, for Mr. Johnstone had neglected, and still hasn't found time, to get a pure blood certificate.

motion picture industry? Information is sought as to the program lengths and the number of broadcasts per week, and whether they are netwo[illegible] national spot, or local programs, and if sponsored by independent or circuit theatres.

The second question asks if programs sponsored by advertisers in other industries use material drawn from pictures, and if that material be film personalities, picture gossip, previews, productions or music from pictures. The third query asks if any of the station's sustaining programs publicize the film industry.

Asked to Check Film Time

The fourth question asks the station owner to check the amount of time on commercial and sustaining programs which may be classified as motion picture exploitation, and asks that the value in dollars of this time be estimated. It concludes by asking if the station has any cooperative arrangements with local picture houses, and urges the station to make comments to the N.A.B. on the motion picture situation.

A letter accompanying the questionnaire, signed by Paul F. Peter, director of research for the N.A.B., reviews the decision by Howard Dietz, the Motion Pictures Greatest Year ad committee chairman, to place the campaign in newspapers exclusively, repeats highlights from the statement made recently by Ed Kirby, N.A.B. public relations director, who indicated the value of radio to the picture industry, and offered support to his statement by citing the extensive use of radio by the screen on a purely cooperative basis, and urges that the stations cooperate, so that the N.A.B. may be able to reach "a sounder and more equitable relationship with the motion picture industry."

Trade Groups Go Under U.S. Probe Monday

Commerce Dept. to Send Out Questionnaires

WASHINGTON, Sept. 21.—The Department of Commerce next week will inaugurate its investigation of trade associations in all industries, including motion pictures and radio, with the mailing out on Monday of questionnaires asking for information regarding the organization, financing and activities of each of some 2,300 associations, it was stated today by Assistant Secretary Patterson.

Explaining that the purpose of the study is to secure information "necessary to evaluate the trade association as a whole, rather than to secure information regarding the operations of individual associations," Mr. Patterson said the inquiry will be conducted wholly independent of any action taken by the Department of Justice or other members of the Administration monopoly committee.

The department's study of the patent situation, another phase of its work for the monopoly committee, of which

David Sarnoff Comments . . .

Returning yesterday from a survey of several weeks abroad, David Sarnoff, president of RCA, had this to say:

On the European situation:

"While war has been averted for the present, it does not in my opinion mean peace in Europe. The number of people employed in armament gives a false impression of the economic situation in Europe. I think the European picture is very confused."

On the American situation:

"I think there is a more cheerful picture in America. I look for an improvement in general business and radio business as well."

Television to Stand Alone, Says Sarnoff

David Sarnoff, president of RCA, does not anticipate a Government subsidy or control of television, as is the case in England, but expects "private enterprise to develop it just as it did radio," he said yesterday on arriving on the Ile de France from a radio and television survey abroad.

He said that television in America is as far advanced technically as in England, but the reason the British

They All Say Goodbye, But Queen Mary Fails to Leave

Many film executives will probably be surprised to learn this morning that Sam E. Morris, A. W. Smith, Jr., and Arthur Jarratt, head of Gaumont British theatres, to whom they wished "bon voyage' on the Queen Mary yesterday afternoon, were still in port this morning.

The "big blow"—meterologically known as a low pressure area, otherwise hurricane—delayed the liner's scheduled departure at 4:30 P. M. yesterday. At 6 P. M. a notice was posted saying that due to the elements sailing had been postponed to 5 A. M. today, and Cunard White Star line officials last night weren't sure that the ship would sail then.

However, Mr. Morris took it all calmly. "I should worry about the Queen Mary," he said. "I've got troubles of my own."

Mr. Smith was anxious to get away for his 30-day vacation in Europe and was disturbed no end. Mr. Jarratt, occupying a three-room suite with his wife and daughter, also was nettled a

RKO Control To Be Fixed In Few Days

Financial Factors Await Decision of Sarnoff

With the return to New York yesterday of David Sarnoff, RCA president, conferences designed to determine the future financial control of reorganized RKO and the personnel of its new board and management are scheduled to be begun immediately. Mr. Sarnoff arrived on the Ile de France following a six-week business and vacation tour of Europe.

Preliminary discussions which have been in progress for the past month will crystallize within the next 48 hours, according to several official forecasts. The predictions are based upon the advanced stage of the proposals now in being and which may become an actuality with the final approval of Mr. Sarnoff.

One of the first developments, however, and one which will determine the makeup of the new board and management, is the resumption of negotiations for the purchase by Atlas Corp. of the remaining RKO securities held by RCA. The realization of an agreement on an option or for outright purchase of RCA's holdings would give financial control of the reorganized company to Atlas and, in advancing the investment company's already

Smith Sails; Hopes To Become Exhibitor

Andrew W. Smith, Jr., until recently general sales manager of United Artists, plans to enter the exhibition field, he said yesterday before sailing on the Queen Mary for a month's vacation.

Before joining U. A. a year ago he discussed a deal with the Springer estate to take over several houses formerly operated here by the late Jack Springer. little, as he wanted to get back to Britain before any international trouble should start.

The notices posted said that passengers who wished to spend the night ashore might do so, but they would have to be on board by 3 A. M. today.

Before the boat was supposed to sail, about 30 of Mr. Smith's friends, including many from United Artists, where he formerly was general sales manager, crowded his cabin and there was a party.

Mr. Morris is going over primarily for the opening of the new Warner Theatre in London's Leicester Square, the company's first house on foreign soil, scheduled for opening Oct. 12. He said he spoke with Jack L. Warner, head of production, by long distance yesterday and Mr. Warner was not certain whether he could make the opening because of the press of production matters on the coast.

Mr. Jarratt was here seven weeks on a vacation and to renew acquaintances in New York, Hollywood and Canada. On the coast he said he observed a desire among the studios to make pictures for the international market, with the British Empire especially in mind, which, he added, is as it should be since 75 per cent of the films shown in Great Britain are from Hollywood.

Hollywood, Sept. 21.—Divergence of duties of directors and assistants and unit managers today was told by V. L. McFadden, assistant production manager, and Frank Mezler, studio manager of 20th Century-Fox, at a National Labor Relations Board hearing of the Screen Directors' Guild petition to be declared the collective bargaining agency for these crafts.

Mr. McFadden, queried as to whethere directors chose their own assistants, declared there were some instances in which directors named assistants who were relatives.

Grandiose Film

London, Sept. 21.—Paramount's first major quota film, "Royal Divorce," produced by Herbert Wilcox and directed by Jack Raymond, is a grandiose, if unexciting, picture costing £75,000, but appearing to be worth double.

It tells conscientiously, without humor, the intimate story of Napoleon and Josephine, and the emotional tragedy of the Emperor forced into divorce from the woman he loves. The spectacular staging tends to dwarf the human element.

Hollywood, Sept. 21.—E. W. Hammons said today he will leave here on Friday, planning to arrive in New York next Monday. He will outline the complete Grand National product lineup next Thursday or Friday in New York.

Yesterday and today, Mr. Hammons continued to devote his time to studio conferences with E. L. "Can't Take It" Took $313,000 in 3 Weeks

"You Can't Take It With You" garnered $313,000 in its three-week run at the Music Hall, ending last night. The third week's take was $90,000.

"Boys Town" took $32,000 in a second week at the Capitol. The Astor did $15,145 with "Marie Antoinette" in a fifth week, following a fourth week's gross of $16,650.

RKO said that "Room Service" yesterday gave the Rivoli its biggest opening day gross in two years, despite the rain.

"Four Daughters" is being held a third week at the Brooklyn Paramount. For the three-weeks run the theatre estimates a take of $65,000.

Hollywood, Sept. 21.—Attorneys for Samuel Goldwyn reached an amicable settlement with Clyde Fitch's heirs today in a dispute over the right to the title of "Cowboy and the Lady" whereupon Mr. Goldwyn changed it back to that from "Lady and the Cowboy," which had been temporarily affixed.

Mr. Goldwyn started shooting today on "Restless Age," formerly called "Daring Age," with Jascha Heifetz directing an orchestra of 77 pieces. Alfred Newman will appear in the film.

Circuits Sign Pact With Service Union

A 10-year basic agreement was signed yesterday with the Building and Service Employes Union, Local 54, by representatives of major circuits, Broadway houses and independent theatres, guaranteeing several hundred New York film houses against "strikes, boycotts, picketing and lockouts." Included in the pact are porters, cleaners, matrons and watchmen.

In addition to a 48-hour week, the agreement provides a minimum wage scale of $16.80 for men and $14.40 for women, subject to revision every two years. The pact involves 3,000 employes.

The negotiations had been under way for two years and the agreement was signed late yesterday in the office of C. C. Moskowitz in the Loew Building. Among the signers of the agreement are Loew's, RKO, the Brandt circuit, Randforce, Skouras, Fabian, the New York Strand, Rivoli, Roxy, Paramount and a few members of the I. T. O. A.

Jesse Lasky Returns On Radio-Film Deal

Jesse L. Lasky will arrive in New York from Chicago today to resume negotiations with major companies for the sponsorship of his radio-film broadcast idea. Details of the plan have been kept secret by Mr. Lasky pending the closing of a deal.

Negotiations, it is understood, have been conducted with Paramount and RKO, but, so far as could be learned, have not been concluded. Indications are that the sponsorship proposal now will be broached to another company. Ralph Kohn is associated with Mr. Lasky on the radio-film proposal.

Find Over 500 Editorials on Big Ad Drive

More than 500 editorials related to the Motion Pictures' Greatest Year campaign and the industry in general have been published by daily newspapers of the United States and Canada since the opening of the drive, Sept. 1, campaign headquarters reported yesterday on the conclusion of a study of newspaper cooperation for the drive.

The editorials are characterized by their friendly attitude toward the industry and comprise in the aggregate the greatest volume of favorable publicity to be accorded motion pictures during any comparable space of time, it was said. In addition, thousands of columns of news stories and pictorial material related to the drive have been published during the same period. More than 150 special editions featuring the campaign were published by daily newspapers and 120 cooperative advertisements prepared by the campaign directors have been published to date without charge.

Campaign headquarters is preparing formal notifications for exhibitors and "Movie Quiz" contestants of title changes in several contest pictures and will create a notification procedure for any further title changes. The first two title changes were in Universal's "The Comet," changed to "Private Secretary," and RKO's "Ranger Code," changed to "Renegade Ranger."

Canada Contributes $30,000 to Campaign

Toronto, Sept. 21.—The Canadian committee of the Motion Pictures' Greatest Year campaign reported at a meeting here today that $30,000 has been collected in the Dominion to date. Of the total, $17,000 came from the Famous Players Canadian circuit for 200 theatres.

A special trailer is being made in Hollywood for Canada, with Deanna Durbin, a native of Winnipeg, featured in a message to Canadians. Notice is being rushed to all theatres in Canada explaining the procedure made necessary by the errors in the "Movie Quiz" booklets. Morris Stein, district manager of Famous Players, has been appointed chairman of the Toronto regional committee for the campaign.

Atlanta, Sept. 21.—The Trial of Judge Vivian L. Stanley's $100,000 suit against Warners went into the second day of its latest hearing in Fulton Superior Court here after the jurors, attorneys and judge had viewed the allegedly damaging picture, "I Am a Fugitive From a Chain Gang." During the second day of the hearing, Judge Edgar E. Pomeroy denied two defense motions seeking a mistrial in the case.

Tablet Will Commemorate Start of Film Shows Here

Leading up to the 50th anniversary of the development of motion pictures, which is planned for celebration by the industry next year, a tablet will shortly be erected on the 34th St. side of Macy's department store at Herald Square, commemorating the first commercial showing of films in this country.

The store stands on the site of Koster & Bial's Music Hall where, it is generally conceded on April 23, 1896, films were introduced to a paying audience. The event is in connection with the Motion Pictures' Greatest Year campaign, and the tentative date for the tablet unveiling is Oct. 4.

A ceremony will be held with Will H. Hays, Mrs. Thomas A. Edison, the Edison Foundation and others participating. Mr. Edison will be honored as the inventor of motion pictures, and the occasion will note the fact that the Koster & Bial showing used Edison films projected over the Vitascope, the first successful projector, invented by Thomas Armat of Washington and built by the Edison plant. This has been established by Terry Ramsaye, editor of Motion Picture Herald.

Paul Hollister, Macy's advertising head, who has been working on the plans with Paul Gulick, coordinator of the industry drive, said yesterday there will be a store window display of the 10 placards prepared by the drive committee tracing the history of films from Edison's early experiments to the coming of sound in 1927. There will also be a window exhibit of old cameras.

development is so much better known is because there are regular daily broadcasts by BBC in London which receive much publicity.

"But that is no indication of their superior television facilities," he added. "The actual commercial use of television in America is much more a financial and artistic problem than it is technical. The cost and working out the means of defraying the cost by means of adequate private sponsorship is the chief deterrent."

Mr. Sarnoff said that the London metropolitan area, with a population of about 10,000,000 has about 3,000,000 television receiving sets installed in homes. "This is only a drop in the bucket," he declared, as proof that the British development still has a great distance to go.

pictures, it was said. Japan was well stocked last September when American companies ceased sending pictures. Together with a number of revivals, the stock was sufficient to supply the market for a year.

The major companies refused to give details of the negotiations and termed the situation "delicate." Principal bone of contention is the refusal of the Japanese Government to permit money to be sent out of the country.

RKO Control To Be Fixed In Few Days

formidable position as an RKO creditor to an even more strategic level would entitle it to major creditor re[illegible]resentation on the new company[illegible] board of directors.

Tentative agreements on creditor representation on the new board are reported to have been reached, but obviously could be upset by the acquisition of RCA's holdings by Atlas Corp. According to report, the initial board will be of 11 members, with two representatives each for RCA and Rockefeller Center, three for Atlas Corp. and Lehman Bros., and the remaining four to be apportioned among unsecured creditors and independent debenture holders and stockholders. Consummation by Atlas of an option or purchase agreement on RCA's holdings would bring about a revision of this representation, probably with Atlas obtaining four board members, Rockefeller Center, two, and three places being accorded to unsecured creditors, and independent debenture and stockholders, for a total membership of nine.

Option to Affect Management

Determination of the management of the new company, it is understood, will also be affected by the completion or not of an option or purchase agreement on the RCA holdings. Creditors' nominees for important posts in the new company would undoubtedly be determined, in this event, by Atlas Corp. in whatever instances that complete unanimity is absent now. Several names have been advanced in the preliminary conferences, but only two have major creditor support, it is said. Any change in financial control of the company could be the key to an ultimate decision between the two.

Clarification of several phases of the decree which are regarded by home office foreign departments as confusing has not been received from European managers yet. In consequence, no meeting of the heads of home office foreign departments has been scheduled, although one is expected to be called as soon as the required information is received.

Indications are that the subject will come up for further discussion at the adjourned meeting of the M.P.P.D.A. board of directors today, however. It was discussed informally at the board meeting last Friday.

Allied Seeks United Front Upon Games

A united front of New York exhibitors to fight the crusade of the Society for the Prevention of Crime against chance games in theatres will be sought at a meeting at 1 o'clock today at the Astor called by Max A. Cohen, president of Allied Theatre Owners of New York.

The meeting is open to anybody and a number of I.T.O.A. members plan to attend. Mr. Cohen is incensed by the action of the society in causing a raid on the Jewel Theatre in Harlem last week and the arrest of the house staff on lottery charges. The house is operated by Mr. Cohen's Belle Circuit.

Harry G. Kosch, attorney for Mr. Cohen and the Allied unit, charge that the society's crusade aims to cash in on the publicity given to the Hines "policy" trial and is making theatres the goat. The case is due for hearing in Magistrate's Court Oct. 4, when Mr. Kosch will present citations to prove that where no monetary consideration is required for participation in chance games, they are legal in this state.

Ticket Taxes Fall Off to $1,425,063

1937. Collections for the first eight months of the year, the bureau announced, totaled $12,390,638 and were nearly $362,000 under the $12,752,344 collected in the same period last year.

Business throughout the country generally was well maintained, it was indicated by figures for the Third New York (Broadway) District, which showed a drop in collections from $681,445 in July to $282,513 last month, or considerably more than the decline in total collections. Revenues from the district were nearly $111,000 under the $393,838 received in August, 1937.

Box-office collections were the chief sufferer, dropping to $243,909 from $620,631 in July, but taxes on free or reduced rate tickets fell from $3,420 to $324; on tickets sold by brokers, from $10,372 to $3,970; on tickets sold by proprietors in excess of the established price, from $1,308 to $36; on permanent use or lease of boxes and seats, from $1,436 to $342, and on admissions to roof gardens and cabarets, from $44,278 to $33,931.

Suit Is Filed Over "Blockade" Stoppage

MILWAUKEE, Sept. 21.—The American League for Peace and Democracy has instituted a $2,500 suit for damages against the Oriental Theatre Corp., operators of the Oriental and Tower, neighborhood houses, on a charge of failing to show "Blockade" for two nights as originally advertised.

The complaint charges that "certain individuals and groups, hostile to the program and purposes of the league, coerced and intimidated the theatre management into withdrawing the picture."

The league, in its complaint, declares that it sold hundreds of tickets for benefit theatre parties for the two nights. When the theatres failed to show the film the second night, as scheduled, the league picketed the houses.

HOLLYWOOD, Sept. 21.—The first of four I.A.T.S.E. locals to choose officers under the return of autonomy, members of the Sound Technicians' Local 695, met and unanimously returned to office Harold V. Smith, international officer, as business representative.

Joe Aiken was named president. The meeting was presided over by Fred Raoul, representative of the International executive board, and opened with frequent talks from the floor by members not wishing to have autonomy returned.

Fr. Flanagan Denies

Omaha, Sept. 21.—Rev. E. J. Flanagan denies that Boys Town near Omaha is receiving a lot of money from the proceeds of the film, "Boys Town," which M-G-M is releasing. He has informed the press here that the contract with M-G-M called for payment of $5,000 for use of the name and the amount was used up in the home's expenses in connection with the production. Father Flanagan fears that prospective contributors to the home may get the wrong slant.

Minneapolis Groups Battle for Theatre

MINNEAPOLIS, Sept. 21.—Theatrical interests here are engaged in a three-way battle for a permit to erect a new theatre in St. Louis Park, village bordering on Minneapolis to the west.

Applications for licenses have been filed with the St. Louis Park City Council by representatives of the Minnesota Amusement Co., Ben Friedman, theatre operator of Minneapolis, and Harold Field, theatre operator and head of the St. Louis Park Theatre Co.

Embodied in the proposal made by the Field interests is an offer of from 10 to 15 acres of ground, gratis, to be used by the village for a public park and general recreation grounds. Mr. Field says his company is prepared to start construction of a $100,000 theatre immediately. It would have 1,000 seats and parking space for 600 cars.

Further hearings on all the proposals will be conducted later by the village council.

Tri-National Films Formed by Otterson

Tri-National Films, Inc., is the name of the company which will distribute films imported to this country by Inter-Allied Films, Inc., company headed by John E. Otterson. Mr. Otterson is listed as president of both corporations. Vice-presidents are Edouard Molinier of Paris, and John Sutro of London.

Carroll S. Trowbridge, distribution manager of the new company, reports that the company will distribute 15 features this season, beginning with the release of "Orage," French film in which Charles Boyer is starred and "Peg of Old Drury," first British import.

Music, Maestro

Critics and such-like folks around town are in a fair way to becoming musicians, if RKO has anything to do with it. Not long ago Leon Bamberger, promotion boss, sent out innumerable harmonicas in the interests of Bobby Breen and "Breaking the Ice," and now Rutgers Neilson, publicity chief, breaks out with a flock of "ocarinas" or musical yams. Is it surprising that "Carefree," the Astaire-Rogers screendance, features a whirl called "The Yam"?

Ancient Wings

Paramount should "make the papers" with the greatest of ease with that stunt to release the DeHaviland Liberty plane used in "Men With Wings" for a "race" from west to east with a standard Douglas transport some time between Oct. 1 and 8, which will be National Air Transport Week. Jack Knight, veteran, will fly the ancient and honorable crate, which was built for World War service.

Flour and Films

Warners is hoping for a heavy pie baking season at home. By Oct. 15, national release date of "The Sisters" General Mills will have distributed 500,000 boxes of Softasilk Flour, each bearing a portrait of Anita Louise in four colors and with credits on the film. It looks like a natural for local tieups.

Marionettes

M-G-M's "Marionette Moviettes," on tour in exploiting "Marie Antoinette," already has demonstrated its worth. So much so that the company has decided to use the same type of exploitation device on "The Great Waltz" and "Sweethearts." The marionette show will tell the story of each film with figure and voice.

Schenck Eulogizes Legion at Luncheon

HOLLYWOOD, Sept. 21.—Joseph M. Schenck, speaking as president of the Producers' Association at a luncheon tendered General Charles B. Summerall, Major General Frank Parker and Brigadier General Harcourt Hervey at the 20th Century-Fox lot today, said of the American Legion "That this nation remains a white spot on the world map is due in a large measure to your heroic efforts." He added, "The motion picture industry is willing to cooperate with you in any manner or form you may designate and is ready to join you in any patriotic cause you may espouse."

General Summerall who had sat with Shirley Temple throughout lunch, responded graciously to the effect that this privilege was well worth fighting the war for. About 40 attended the luncheon.

"At present our company does a bigger business in refrigeration than in radio units, and the company's name is, therefore, really a misnomer. That's why we want to change it to The Crosley Corp.," explained Powel Crosley, Jr., president. At the same time Crosley denied his company planned to enter the automobile industry.

The corporation is offering four cash prizes of $250, $150, $100 and $50 for the best half or full-hour plays by authors living in Canada. The contest has been decided upon by CBC in an effort to create national interest in the development of Canadian plays by Canadian authors, to assist them in reaching a high standard and to find a permanent market and fair remuneration for their works.

The judges will be independent of CBC, and no CBC employes or their relatives may enter the competition. Officials of CBC indicate this is the first serious attempt made in Canadian radio to give opportunities to Canadian authors. The contest will close Jan. 1.

The blanking out of WEAF and WABC will necessitate rebates to the sponsors whose programs were affected.

WHN got WABC back on the air by offering its transmitter facilities to Columbia's key station.

New Shows on the Air

"Big Town"

"Big Town," starring Edward G. Robinson and Claire Trevor in a story of newspaper life, was another program which returned to CBS Tuesday, after a summer layoff.

Highly melodramatic in plot, "Big Town" reopened its new season with Robinson, as Managing Editor Steve Wilson of the Illustrated Press, printing a graft story he had been warned to suppress. The story reached the street, but not the readers, for strong arm crews ruined the news trucks, the newsstands, slugged newsboys carrying the paper, and, invading the plant, ruined the presses. Robinson, however, finally gets the facts to the public by having his story printed in the plant of a trade school, with the grafters landing behind bars as a consequence. Robinson is superb, and Miss Trevor, a reporter on the Illustrated Press, is no less a standout. Production is of a high quality. "Big Town" is offered Tuesdays from 8 to 8:30 P.M. on CBS, sponsored by Lever Bros.

"Al Jolson's Show"

Al Jolson, Martha Raye, Parkyakarkus and Lud Gluskin's orchestra, holdovers from the same show last season, save Gluskin's orchestra, which replaces Victor Young's combination, returned to the air Tuesday over CBS for Lever Bros. The special guest was Doug Corrigan, the flier.

With Jolson at his effervescent best, and Martha Raye in top shouting form, the program clicked musically and vocally. The comedy was a take-your-pick choice; it was good or bad, depending on how much or little one likes the Parkyakarkus routines. Personally, we consider him most unfunny. All in all, however, the Jolson show can be depended on to provide a consistently pleasant half-hour. The vocal and musical numbers included "Walking Stick," "A Tisket, A Tasket," "At Long Last Love," and "I'm Going to Lock My Heart." Tiny Ruffner is the announcer. The Jolson program is broadcast Tuesdays from 8:30 to 9 P.M. on CBS, with Lever Bros. sponsoring.

Majors Give Positions on Shorts Sales

Theatre Policies Govern Efforts in Most Cases

Paramount, like M-G-M, does not insist that exhibitors buy its shorts in order to obtain the features, but the policy varies with other major companies, according to statements by sales executives over the weekend. Several companies said their policies are flexible.

The issue of "shorts forcing," long an exhibitor grievance, came to the fore late last week when Max A. Cohen, president of Allied Theatre Owners of New York, disclosed a letter from William F. Rodgers, M-G-M sales head, saying that where a theatre does not use shorts, the company does not demand their purchase.

Mr. Rodgers told Motion Picture Daily that the same applies to the M-G-M newsreel. "We have never forced the sale of newsreels," he said. "Very few theatres do not use them, but M-G-M will not insist on an ex-

Legislatures, Courts Coming Film Headache

Several Cases Pending; 42 State Sessions

The industry will be confronted with potentially the most formidable legislative and court chapters in its history beginning next week and continuing into 1939, home office legal and executive figures assert.

The U. S. Supreme Court convenes next Monday and has or will have on its calendar four or five cases of major concern to the industry for final determination within the succeeding few months.

Congress will convene immediately after the first of the year with all indications pointing to the reintroduction of an anti-block booking bill and other measures affecting the industry.

The legislatures of 42 states will convene during January in regular sessions. The Florida legislature will

Lack of Power, Repairs Delay Opening; Total Damage Unknown

Many theatres operating in the New England area were still darkened yesterday after the ravages of hurricane and flood waters on Wednesday. Difficulties with power lines and washed out roads still prevent reopening of houses.

Connecticut, Rhode Island and Massachusetts received the brunt of the storm. Minor damage was reported in New Jersey, Long Island and New York, but the theatres are open. The Greenport, a Prudential house in Long Island, where a wall collapsed, is to be rebuilt. Work will start this week.

Major circuits here sent construction men into the stricken areas Saturday, but reports on the extent of the damage were still incomplete. Paramount reported 12 houses in the New England area closed by floods and power shortage. Insurance adjusters accompanied repair men into the field. Marquees, roofs, signs and display windows were the chief sufferers.

RKO, with houses in Providence, Boston and Lowell, was hit only in Providence where water closed the Al-

Court Fight Expected on London Rules

By AUBREY FLANAGAN

LONDON, Sept. 25.—London exhibitors, acting concertedly, have finally reached a decision with respect to the controversy over the new regulations imposed on theatre seating policy by London County Council.

Taking legal advice, the exhibitors will follow the policy of the Cinematograph Exhibitors' Association, and will observe the unpopular licensing conditions regarding plans and interior signs in the theatre. However, as soon as the new licenses are issued for the 1939 season, in November, the exhibitors plan to launch a vigorous legal attack in the courts, challenging the right of the London County Council to direct methods of trading.

In accordance with their plan, the local exhibitors have already communicated with the London County Council advising it of their intention to comply with the regulations and asking the council's cooperation on exact procedure. As yet they have received no reply.

Critics Found "Carefree" An Entertaining Musical

The reviewers of New York's dailies were more than moderately entertained by the latest of the Fred Astaire- Ginger Rogers' musical efforts, "Carefree." They actually dusted off some adjectives. Excerpts from the reviews:

Herald Tribune— . . . One of their (Astaire-Rogers) happiest collaborations. The stars are in irresistible form. . . A captivating screen musical.

Journal American—The reunion of Fred Astaire and Ginger Rogers has been entertainingly contrived. . . . Moves along with charm and humor. You'll find it fun.

Mirror—An enchanting light comedy. . . . With the music of Irving Berlin it is superlative. It is grand fun. You shouldn't miss it.

News— . . . The new filmusical has everything. It moves with a slick smoothness through story and musical numbers. It is delightfully gay.

Post— . . . Combine to produce fast fun bordering on polite slapstick. Fred has never been more charming, Ginger never more winsome.

Sun— . . . It is all quite cockeyed and quite merry. . . . It is lively and diverting.

Times— . . . Is in excellent musical comedy taste. . . . Clearly, a happy event. . . . The result of it all is happy indeed.

World Telegram— . . . Thoroughly delightful and entertaining charade. . . . An exceptional medley of romance, songs and satire.

Legislatures, Courts Coming Film Headache

convene in April and Georgia in July, leaving only four states in which no regular sessions are scheduled for the coming legislative period. The four are Kentucky, Louisiana, Mississippi and Virginia, and special sessions may be called in any of these.

Industry observers point out that seldom in the past have so many of the states scheduled legislative sessions running concurrently. The introduction of legislation affecting all branches of the industry is to be expected during these sessions, it is said.

The New Jersey legislature will resume a regular session next month, which was carried over on a postponement from early last Summer. Its new regular session will start next January.

Dakota Case Coming Up

The coming session of the U. S. Supreme Court will determine the constitutionality of the North Dakota affiliated theatre divorce legislation. The decision will have a direct bearing on whether or not similar legislation will be introduced in other states. The appeal is scheduled to be filed with the court late next month. The court will also determine the validity of anti-double feature clauses in exhibition contracts and, in another appeal, will decide the legality of subsequent run admission price regulation and restraints on double featuring by means of contractual provisions with first runs.

In each of the foregoing cases the distributor-appellants have experienced setbacks in the lower courts.

Overshadowing all other litigation during the coming months, however, will be the all-embracing equity action filed by the Department of Justice against the organized industry last July, which is pending in the Federal district court in New York. Five or six local suits filed against exhibitor-distributor defendants by complainants within the industry also may go to trial this winter.

"It's only a hike of 20 miles to El Centro, and I can see four pictures at a crack there," he replied.

Hollywood Previews

"There Goes My Heart"

(Roach-United Artists)

Hollywood, Sept. 25.—Hal Roach's first contribution to the United Artists program is a fluent film full of magnetic names and containing a goodly number of typically Roach comedy sequences that distinguish it from previous treatments of the plot wherein the ace reporter sets out to interview the heiress and winds up by marrying her. It is rich in showmanship values and equally suitable for city and prairie patronage.

Fredric March plays the slouch-hatted reporter and Virginia Bruce the discontented rich girl who runs away from her grandfather, Claude Gillingwater, finding employment and anonymity in his New York department store. Patsy Kelly is the glib salesgirl whose room she shares and Alan Mowbray sprints through the film as her chiropractor sweetheart. Eugene Pallette plays the perspiring editor of the reporter's newspaper, Arthur Lake a blundering photog, Etienne Girardot a fidgety male secretary, Nancy Carroll a jealous salesgirl and Harry Langdon a blandly amusing cleric.

Miss Kelly is a standout in the comedy department, demonstrating a vibrating machine, panicking a cafeteria and carrying on a kiss-and-run courtship with her swain. The most effective comedy sequences are a department store scene in which Marjorie Main tries to buy a fireless cooker, an apartment house sequence in which floor lamps are plugged into flasher-type street signs, a good humored drinking bout in the newspaper editor's sanctum and a knockabout fight in an ice skating rink. Langdon's brief performance in the closing minutes promises great things for the series which will team him with Oliver Hardy.

The screenplay by Eddie Moran and Jack Jevne is episodic in the effective Roach style and director Norman Z. McLeod adheres strictly to the Roach policy of making every sequence stand on its own feet. Milton H. Bren, vice-president in charge of production, has seen to it that the film is staged, clothed and executed entirely in the Roach tradition.

Running time, 83 minutes. "G." Roscoe Williams

"The Night Hawk"

(Monogram)

Hollywood, Sept. 25.—"The Night Hawk" further develops the theme of a newspaper reporter who has a penchant for mixing up in crime. Occasionally some of its elements and twists become a little incredible. Yet under the spur of consistent good acting and direction, the film stacks up as acceptable thrill action entertainment. Melodrama is the principal component. But romance and comedy have been worked in intelligently.

A racketeering gang seeks to prevent delivery of an iron lung. Robert Livingston, given to apple eating and ducking out on his girl friend, June Travis, lands it in time to save Billy Burrud's life, thereby earning the gratitude of his mobster brother, Robert Armstrong. Meanwhile a pal of Livingston's is killed. Rival criminals Armstrong and Ben Welden seek to pin the guilt on each other. The reporter intuitively suspects Armstrong. Livingston sets out to halt delivery of a cargo of hot liquor. Trapped by some of Armstrong's rebelling mob, he is saved from death by Armstrong. Paying for a life that has been saved by saving a life, the gangster advises the reporter that he can find more exciting and much less dangerous fun in romance with Miss Travis.

Thematic content of Earl Felton's original screen play concentrates on action and excitement in all the story's phases. In his first directing effort, Sidney Salkow keyed his technique to accentuating those entertainment qualities.

Running time, 65 minutes. "G." G. McC.

Sales Session Held Here by Universal

Sales policies on new Universal pictures being added to the company's new season schedule were outlined to eastern district and branch managers by W. A. Scully, vice-president and general sales manager, at a meeting at the Astor Saturday.

Recent additions to the company's schedule include the Bing Crosby and W. C. Fields pictures. Prospects for similar additions to the schedule in the future were described at the meeting by Nate J. Blumberg, president, and Matthew J. Fox, vice-president.

Monogram Completes Plans for 1938-'39

Monogram has completed plans for its production and release schedule to the end of the year, comprising one-third of its 1938-'39 program, W. Ray Johnston, president, who is now on the coast, advised the home office Saturday.

The releases include three for October and four each for November and December. Mr. Johnston is expected to start east in time to attend the testimonial dinner for Edward Golden, Monogram vice-president, at Minneapolis, Oct. 14, continuing on to New York thereafter.

To Work for Film, Stage Cooperation

The American Theatre Council is expected to act promptly on the resolution adopted by 700 members of Actors Equity Association, Friday, calling upon the council to appoint a committee to work for closer cooperation between the stage and film industries in the interest of the development of new acting and play material.

Officials of the council who were queried over the weekend regarded the proposal favorably and said that it undoubtedly would be considered at the council's next board meeting.

"The stage and films have the same source of supply," one spokesman pointed out, "yet they are not competitive. A cooperative plan for the development of talent for both should be possible and the council, as the representative of all branches of the legitimate theatre, is the proper agency to propose it."

The resolution was proposed by Paul Dullzell, executive secretary of Equity, who suggested that film companies could aid in the organization of stock companies at strategic points by making available theatres which they own and by assigning their stars and feature players to such productions.

The resolution follows upon a similar suggestion made editorially in the current issue of Equity, the official publication of the actors' organization.

Kosch Will Confer With Myers on Suit

Harry G. Kosch, general counsel for New York Allied, is scheduled to attend a conference in Washington in about two weeks with Abram F. Myers, national Allied counsel, and Department of Justice officials.

The conference is understood to be in connection with exhibitors' affidavits being gathered by Allied units for the department reciting alleged abuses by the major companies. The affidavits will be used by the Government in its anti-trust suit.

Majors Give Positions on Shorts Sales

hibitor buying the newsreel to get the fi[illegible]res."

Mr. Rodgers declared that it has been M-G-M's policy "right along" not to compel the purchase of shorts with features, against house policy, but admitted that the letter to Mr. Cohen was the first time he had put it in writing as applying generally.

"We have no intention of forcing shorts down the throat of any exhibitor who cannot make use of them,' he explained. "To do so is not economically sound."

Elimination of shorts will not hike the cost of features, since the feature contract is negotiated apart from the shorts program, Mr. Rodgers added. He said also that adjustments on a shorts contract in event an exhibitor has purchased shorts his house cannot absorb would depend on the reason, and "if he uses shorts we would expect representation."

Agnew on Paramount Stand

Paramount's position was made clear by Neil F. Agnew, distribution chief, who said: "Paramount does not force the sale of shorts with features. To say that we will not do so would be mere repetition of what we are already on record as having said. In my opinion, our policy on this matter is too well established and too well known to be news."

The 20th Century-Fox sales department said that "if a particular operating policy calls for no shorts, then we do not insist on shorts." An official statement came from W. C. Gehring, central division manager, who declared: "Due consideration is given at all times to the house policy of our accounts and all matters involved. If any customer of ours runs shorts we feel we are entitled to a share of the business."

U. A. Sells Shorts Separately

William J. Clark, 20th Century-Fox short subjects sales manager, added that since the company's 1938-'39 program calls for 52 one-reelers of a diversified type, he did not believe that it would prove burdensome on any exhibitor.

Universal's policy was given by William A. Scully, general sales manager, as follows: "Our salesmen, naturally, try to sell as much of our short subject product as possible. In consequence, we have contracts for both all or part of this output."

Mr. Scully would not commit himself on future policy because Allied had not as yet communicated with the company. Mr. Cohen said that he sent a letter Friday to the sales heads of all major companies other than M-G-M in order to obtain their official policy, in the light of Mr. Rodgers' commitment.

Abe Montague, Columbia sales head, had no statement, but indicated that one would be given to Allied if he was asked for it.

RKO, through a ranking sales executive, said that the company attempts to make the best deals possible on shorts, meaning that accounts are persuaded to take as many as they can possibly absorb.

United Artists' policy is to sell its shorts as a group separate from the features, according to the sales department. This company's shorts program consists of a series of 12 "World Windows" in color, three of which have been completed.

Warner sales exceutives were unavailable for comment.

accept the resignation of the producer members of the board—Darryl F. Zanuck, E. J. Mannix and David O. Selznick.

The board issued a statement in which it said: "The board feels that the future of the Academy is too important to the industry to be jeopardized by any individual resignations at this time. The board has decided to continue on its present basis until existing economic differences have been adjusted and a more harmonious condition shall exist in the industry.

"At that time the board hopes that the guild members, present Academy members and other artists and creators in the industry will join in concerted participation in the reorganization of the Academy, completely free from economic and political problems, confining itself solely to the advancement of the arts and sciences of motion pictures."

week for Chicago where the first regional sales meeting will be held Oct. 1, instead of going to San Francisco, as originally planned, for the initial session. A New York meeting will be held Oct. 6, with Jack Skirball leaving Hollywood in time to attend.

Close Republic Deals

Product deals started by James R. Grainger, Republic president, before he left for the coast recently have been consummated by Jack Bellman, eastern district manager, with the Warner group of about 40 houses in New Jersey, the Warner upstate circuit and Si Fabian houses in Brooklyn. Frank Damas, Moe Silver and Max Friedman signed for Warners, with Morris Epstein, Jack Berkowitz and Bernie Mills assisting Mr. Bellman.

New England Film Damage Is Extensive

Boston, Sept. 25.—The extent of the theatre damage in New England is just beginning to be realized. Some exhibitors lost their homes. Damage was particularly severe on Cape Cod. The Gem in Petersborough is under water. The Merrimack Park drive-in at Methuen was demolished by the hurricane and flooded, for a $25,000 loss.

Skylights went by hundreds throughout New England. Lack of power is keeping many theatres in suburban Boston from reopening. Western Massachusetts Theatres are unable so far to contact their two theatres in Northampton. Maine and New Hampshire Theatres, Inc., were yesterday unable to contact all their Vermont theatres. Mullin & Pinanski report some 40 theatres damaged.

Roofs are gone from the Colonial in Newport, Metropolitan in Leominster, Brookline in Brookline and Orpheum in Somerville. Some exchanges were putting all employes into service with private automobiles, and many points were available only by plane.

Paramount Still in Dark About Damage

heads of the circuit, advised Mr. Freeman by telephone that managers of outlying theatres expressed the fear that further damage might result to theatres from flood waters of New England rivers in the event new rainfall occurred. Virtually every major river in the New England area was reported at or near flood stage.

Physical damage to the circuit's houses from wind and rain was extensive, the operators reported to the Paramount home office. Roofs, marquees, theatre fronts and plate glass comprised the bulk of damaged or ruined property in most theatres. Mechanical equipment and furnishings also were injured in flooded theatres. The loss of patronage by many houses continued into the weekend while repairs were still under way or where power lines still had not been restored to normal operation. Twelve of the circuit's houses remained closed, where power lines were still out Saturday.

The Paramount home office was unable to establish communication with the Maine & New Hampshire circuit headquarters over the weekend, so that the extent of damage in that territory may not be known for several days. John J. Ford, head of the circuit, is expected to make a preliminary report today.

Providence Still Dark

Providence, Sept. 25.—Theatres in the downtown area were still closed today. Repairs to carpets and motors which were damaged by flood waters are being rushed. Ed Fay's Carlton and Majestic, Loew's State and RKO Albee were all partly under water during the storm. Fay's Theatre was badly damaged by water, his other two not severely.

Many Houses Remain Dark After Storm

bee. An estimated $2,000 damage was done to carpets, motors and orchestra floor by floods which swept the downtown area. Boston and Lowell houses were reported unscathed.

Harry Moskowitz of Loew's was in Providence over the weekend inspecting the State, but no estimates could be given of the extent of damage. Loew's New England houses are operating in all cities with the exception of Providence and Springfield. All in the storm territory suffered wind damage.

Warners, which operates about 25 houses in Connecticut and Massachusetts, reported 21 theatres open, but no word was received from the remaining houses and their condition was unknown because of lack of telephone service.

Operating in Long Island

Circuit heads with theatres in Long Island and New Jersey returned from personal tours with reports that all houses were operating as usual and damage restricted to destruction of glass and signs.

Walter Reade, Jr., stated that Reade houses in Kingston, N. Y., and Hudson, N. Y., were damaged by flood waters and an upright sign was destroyed at Asbury Park, but that all theatres reopened the day after the storm. Brandt theatres located in Long Island, upstate New York, New Jersey and Stamford, were almost untouched.

New Haven Theatre Power Is Restored

New Haven, Sept. 25.—Most of the neighborhood theatres in New Haven had light and power available today, but up to the restoration of the service the few downtown houses which were able to operate were benefiting. Warners' Roger Sherman reported average business.

Film carrier services were delivering via roundabout routes, often hazardous. The Warner Palace in Norwich, and the Harris Brothers' State in Hartford were the most severely damaged, with the orchestra floors flooded. Several small towns were beyond communication. Some theatres were receiving operating power from factories and fire companies.

Hartford Houses Get Power; All Are Open

Hartford, Sept. 25.—Assurances of continued electric power kept theatres here open despite the flood. Only the State was closed, with half the auditorium and all the dressing rooms inundated. Chick Webb and band, appearing at the State, went back to New York.

Business hit a new low in Hartford Wednesday night following the hurricane. Thousands of insurance workers, dismissed early Thursday, aided in boosting matinee business the second day of the disaster.

Within 10 minutes after the plea went out, more than 100 telephone calls were received from 'jacks, volunteering to risk the job.

George Putnam, CBS announcer, like all his network brethren the past week or so, has been working like a Trojan and serving a cravy schedule reporting the European war situation and the storm news. Completely relaxed after the picture concluded, he stood up and absent-mindedly announced: "This is WABC."

'Capsule' Has Everything, Except WOR Burial Report

By JACK BANNER

The good burghers of Long Island who go digging into the earth about the Flushing Flats some 5,000 years hence to recover the "Time Capsule" buried in that area Friday afternoon by the Westinghouse Electric & Mfg. Co., will find in the vessel everything but a recording of the WOR account of the burial proceedings. Now if the Westinghouse Co. will kindly oblige by temporarily exhuming the thing to enclose that recording, plus possibly this review of the broadcast, the 6938 A. D.'ers will have exceedingly complete evidence of how screwy some of the 1938 A. D.'ers were.

Dave Driscoll of WOR's special events staff, opened the WOR mike to the occasion by giving vital statistics of what the tube contained—plenty, rest assured, including a great deal about the motion pictures, the Westinghouse Co. and an expository dissertation mingling optics, mechanics, chemistry and sex (whatever that means) by Terry Ramsaye, editor of the Motion Picture Herald.

Just before Mr. Driscoll ran completely out of breath recounting what was in the tube, he introduced W. A. Robertson, chairman of the board of Westinghouse, who described what the people will look like in 6938 A. D. More's the pity, they'll look just like we do now, he assured the radio audience. At the exact moment of the autumnal equinox, as Mr. Driscoll reverently described, Mr. Robertson ceased speaking to operate the gadget which lowered the tube 50 feet down into the earth. Mr. Robertson thereupon returned to the mike and got in about 35 plugs for the Westinghouse Co. He was succeeded by Grover Whalen who dittoed for the New York World's Fair. Mr. Driscoll closed the broadcast (12:45 P. M. to 1:05 P. M.) and he got in a plug for WOR as he signed off.

MONTREAL, Sept. 25.—NBC and the Canadian Broadcasting Corp. will join hands Oct. 5 to present coast-to-coast coverage in both countries of what possibly may be the last of the fishing fleet races between Nova Scotia's defender Bluenose and Massachusetts' challenger, *Gertrude L. Aboard the Bluenose will be CBC men with a portable transmitter and on the Thebaud, an NBC crew with similar equipment. Not only will they give descriptions of the event from these advantageous positions, but will air two-way conversations between Skipper Angus Walters of the Bluenose and Skipper Ben Pine of the Thebaud.

In this, the first such broadcast ever tried, CBC will be represented aboard the Bluenose by J. Frank Willis of Halifax and Ted Briggs of Ottawa, both experienced seamen.

Fear Appeals To SEC Might Hit RKO Plan

Reported Minority May Invoke Chandler Act

The possibility that minority debenture holders may invoke the Chandler Act to make the S. E. C. a party to the RKO reorganization at the first scheduled hearing on Thursday was being considered with apprehension by major creditors in the reorganization yesterday who fear that new delays in the proceeding would result from such a move.

The Chandler Act is a revision of the Federal Bankruptcy law under which the S. E. C. is required to become a party to all reorganization proceedings in which the estate amounts to more than $3,000,000. Since the RKO reorganization proceeding was begun before the act became effective, however, the S. E. C. can come into the proceedings only at the invitation of the presiding court. Reorganization factors believe that minority groups not fully satisfied with the

MPTO TO ASK FOR STAND ON SELLING

Will Invite Sales Heads And Allied Leaders To Convention

Distribution heads of all companies will be asked to attend the M. P. T. O. A. national convention at Oklahoma City next month to state the views or policy of their respective companies on self-regulation of trade practices, it was learned here yesterday.

Moreover, national officers of Allied States Association will be asked to attend the convention and efforts will be made to obtain representation from all other branches of the industry, including major and independent production companies and exhibitors who are not members of either of the two national organizations.

Definite developments of an important character on trade practice regulation may materialize at the national convention or, failing this, the convention may adopt a policy calculated to gain trade practice reforms by other means than negotiation with distributors, to which it has adhered in the past, it was learned.

Major company policy on cancellations and score charges may be the twin targets of the convention. Exhibitor leaders point out that these

French Call to Colors Slows Production and Hits Grosses

By PIERRE AUTRE

Paris, Sept. 26.—The call for reservists to return to the army has effected the French film industry generally. Production has been slowed as actors, technicians, cameramen and other workers have departed to join the colors.

Ludwin Berger's "Three Waltzes" has been halted by the departure of Pierre Fresnay. The War Ministry has been asked to recall him for a few days, as the film was nearly complete.

Some studios may be forced to close because of depletion of staffs. Not many producers have been called as 75 per cent of them are foreigners.

The tense international situation has also hit theatres in Paris and the provinces. Receipts, except on "Snow White and the Seven Dwarfs," have fallen off.

A big broadcast scheduled for tonight with Irving Berlin has been cancelled because of the departure of musicians.

All of this has been in addition to the industry advertisements in the 2,000 dailies in this country and Canada, he said.

More than 32,000,000 "Movie Quiz" contest booklets have been distributed

Insiders' Outlook

PARAMOUNT has no thought of voluntarily divesting itself of its theatre interests in the near future.

Officials of the company admit a separation of theatres has been discussed—not with any thought of proceeding with theatre divestment in the near future but solely on a When, As and If necessary basis. The company, while facing the problem of how best to accomplish such a move, does so only in the light of meeting an eventuality and not in the contemplation of a step to be taken either voluntarily or before necessary.

Company officials reason that it will be six to eight years before theatre divestment would be brought about through successful prosecution of the government's suit. The estimate is based on the assumption that it will take three or four years for trial and appeal and that the court, as in comparable anti-trust cases in the past, will allow an additional three or four years for compliance.

The company also reasons that Federal or state legislation compelling a divestment of theatre interests is too much a matter of conjecture on which to base anticipatory action. If Federal legislation is enacted prior to determination of the Government suit, it, too, undoubtedly would allow reasonable time for divorcement.

State legislation, even if held to be constitutional, could be enacted in half of the 48 states without grievously disturbing affiliated circuit operations as they are now constituted.

There are the reasons, as Paramount officials see them, for perpetuating its theatre investments until such time as they are prohibited by statute or court order.

are matters for individual company action, neither of which requires consultation with other distribution companies for the formulation of policy. Therefore, they reason, the distributors' lament that trade practice concessions cannot be given without suspicion of conspiracy and violation of anti-trust laws has no bearing on these subjects, at least.

Say Problems Require Action

Problems growing out of clearance and zoning, over-buying and the absence of conciliation machinery within the industry, the exhibitor leaders concede, require simultaneous action by distributors. Problems of this nature, however, they hope will be solved through the further activity of the distributors' negotiating committee, of which Sidney R. Kent is chairman. The latter is expected back from the coast early next week and the exhibitors hope to see the renewal of the committee's deliberations thereafter, it was said.

The M. P. T. O. A. convention has been extended one day through Nov. 2 to care for the increased scope of the program. The session will open Sunday afternoon, Oct. 30, with a meeting of the board of directors and election of officers. Business sessions will be held morning and afternoon during the three succeeding days with daily adjournment at 4:30 P. M. to allow state organizations to hold meetings and elections of officers thereafter.

Republic Signs with Big Coast Circuits

Republic Pictures has closed a contract with Golden State Theatres, Inc., and T. & D. Enterprises of Northern California for the 1938-'39 product to be shown in the 75 houses operated by these companies.

The deal was closed by James R. Grainger, Grover C. Parsons, western district sales manager, and Sid Weisbaum, manager of Republic's San Francisco office, for Republic. R. A. McNeil of the Golden State Theatres and Mike Naify of T. & D. signed for the circuits.

Republic has also closed a deal with the Redwood Theatres and Midland Theatre Circuit for its 1938-'39 program for the 30 houses operated by these circuits.

Trailer-Made in Deal

Trailer-Made, Inc., has signed a 10-year franchise deal with Joseph B. Morgan, formerly connected with the Crandall Circuit for the handling of its product in Maryland, Virginia, the District of Columbia and North and South Carolina.

Universal Cuts Loss

Universal yesterday reported a net loss of $184,963 for the 13 weeks ended July 30. This figure compares with $627,933 for the corresponding period last year.

Hollywood Letter

Your diminutive, dynamic Mayor La Guardia enjoyed this year's Legion convention better than last. He didn't have to worry about keeping Times Square cemented down and he had time to learn things he didn't know until now from Walter Wanger and Sam Goldwyn on his visit to the United Artists studio.

His Honor and Mr. Wanger had fought it out together as Major and Lieutenant in '17, so the producer gave the mayor a big black cigar, replacing a brace of corncob pipes lost somewhere in the downtown celebration of the night before, and told him all—well, almost all—about how a motion picture, specifically "Trade Winds," is made. Your chief executive squinted through camera sights, tried out sound phones and overhead cranes, and moved on, confident in all this new knowledge, to the Goldwyn set where Jascha Heifetz and 77 picked symphonists were going through the motions for the lens, of playing the previously recorded music pouring out at them from the funnel of a playback. This mechanical marvel puzzled him some, but His Honor handled it without blinking. The thing that set him back in his chair was the realistic roar of applause from an audience that was nowhere to be seen. His comment on that was a virile variant of "Why doesn't somebody tell me these things?" followed by a query as to how much the devices cost, in bulk.

To the same set on Friday Sam Goldwyn invited the press and a limited number of distinguished guests "for tea at 4:15 to meet Jascha Heifetz and to hear him play in scenes for 'The Restless Age.'" Now there is no precedent in that, nor in the incidental presence of young Sabu and his becostumed native bodyguards to hold the eye while the Heifetz artistry engaged the ear, but no Goldwyn ceremony is official without a precedent. So this time, the first in memory of the oldest inhabitant, the tea was actually tea.

Another Hollywood precedent is to be established on the evening of the day on which, man and the elements consenting, these observations appear in print. Walt Disney, whose last Hollywood precedent, "Snow White," is for the ages, has announced, via impressive, formal invitation, a preview of eight Disney shorts for the new season, five of them specials.

This has not been done before. The practice has been to take a newly completed Disney short to an average sort of theatre on an average sort of night and insert it into the program without notice, checking response and proceeding accordingly thereafter.

Two of the shorts command special interest. "The Practical Pig" brings the three little pigs back to the screen. "The Ugly Duckling" is straight from the fable of the same name. A third, "Goofy Wilbur," adds a new star to the Disney roster. I'll dispatch the news about these and the others as soon after the preview as I can stop laughing.

The Warner studio party for the Legion was a life-saver for all the studios in town. Requests for passes dropped from an all-time high to zero instanter, so production started again.

Russell Birdwell says Bonnie Belle Barber, who started work in David O. Selznick's "Made for Each Other" at the age of 10 days, is the youngest earner on the Social Security agency's roster. She got $75 for her first day's labor but the studio had to deduct $1.50 and sent it in to the Government to hold for her until mid-September, 2003.

Sidney R. Kent and his associates from the New York headquarters of 20th Century-Fox will wind up their semi-annual studio visit and return to your town this weekend.

Warners have changed the title of "Comet Over Broadway," which has been changed to "Curtain Call," back to "Comet Over Broadway," and Sam Goldwyn has changed the title of "Lady and the Cowboy," which Clyde Fitch heirs said meant the same thing as their "Cowboy and the Lady," to "Cowboy and the Lady." Hollywood is really Los Angeles, but think nothing of it.

There must be gold in these yeahr hills after all. Mae West has just promoted herself another lode. Outside of that, the European poker game and the "unusual" weather you've been having, it's been a quiet and generally satisfactory newsweek up to now.

to theatrer-goers, indicating a possibility of more than 8,000,000 contestants, he said. The all-industry short subject, "The World Is Yours," will be ready for distribution about the middle of October to give new impetus to the drive at its half-way mark, he reported.

Congratulatory Notes Received

The campaign committee has received congratulatory messages from notables the world over on the place of motion pictures in world life. drive officials revealed yesterday. Among them are messages from the Duke of Kent, Herbert Hoover, Dr. Nicholas Murray Butler, Charles Edison. Norman H. Davis, J. Edgar Hoover, Fannie Hurst, Lotte Lehmann and the late Commander Frank Hawks.

"I have often thought that one of the reasons why one country loses the friendship of another is because the peoples do not know one another well enough to understand any point of view but their own," the Duke of Kent observes. "In overcoming this the film can play a great part."

Mr. Hoover, in the same vein, observes that "The motion picture industry has a distinctive place in the upbuilding of world acquaintanceship."

N.E. Theatres Reopening in Storm's Wake

lems of washout detours and fallen trees have been removed from most main highways.

Many Connecticut and Massachusetts towns were still without wire service yesterday, but most of them had solved their power problems. In some instances they had made connections with local manufacturing plants.

Daylight saving time was extended for a week by the Governors of Connecticut and Rhode Island to give relief workers more daylight time to carry on work. In a number of towns in both states martial law with an early evening curfew prevails, so that business is hard hit.

Wechsler Struggled To Aid Kelly's Son

New Haven, Sept. 26.—Lou Wechsler, United Artists manager, ventured to Westerly on storm-torn, tree-strewn roads when wire was received from Arthur W. Kelly, vice-president, that his son, Arthur W., Jr., was on a derailed train there. Master Kelly was Boston bound for the Fessenden School. When Wechsler finally got through, he found the boy had been sent on by special bus, along with other passengers.

Erle Wright, Loew-Poli publicity manager, was among the thousands whose pleasure boats suffered destruction during the hurricane.

Michael Tomasino of the Victory actually had "The Hurricane" booked for the Victory, but nature treated his patrons to a showing of the original.

The State Theatre, South Manchester, was able to take power from the nearby Cheney Mills. Other houses hooked up with fire company power. The Palace, New Britain, makes its own power.

Philip Schwartz of the Parkway, Bridgeport, narrowly escaped a falling tree.

New Haven, Sept. 26.—Flood damage to the Palace, Norwich and State, Hartford, is estimated at $5,000 each on first survey. The Capitol, Springfield, has suffered approximately the same amount of damage, while it is still impossible to estimate the loss to theatres in Rockville, Willimantic, Stafford Springs, Jewett City and other towns, cut off from communication since last Wednesday.

Eli Porter and H. H. Moskowitz of the New York Loew office are making a survey of the circuit, but it is believed the Poli, Springfield, is the only house on this circuit to suffer badly.

Most neighborhoods have resumed operation, after loss of from one to three days.

Fox Arrives on Coast

Hollywood, Sept. 26.—Matthew Fox, assistant to Nate J. Blumberg, arrived at the Universal studios today from New York.

White Sees Film

Emporia, Kan., Sept. 26.—Bob Burns' Paramount film, "The Arkansas Traveler," which has been dedicated to William Allen White, was shown to the well known editor and an invited audience at the Grenada last night. The film was brought here by George M. Arthur, the producer.

"It has veracity in dialogue, clothes and action," said Mr. White. "There were no hard-boiled reporters punishing desks and telephones, and no drunks. Small town folks were shown as unaffected, but not hicks and hayseeds. I was surprised."

G.N. Will Double Its Sales Force, Asserts Hammons

layed again, probably for a week or two, pending completion of arrangements for sales meetings in Chicago next weekend and here the following weekend. Mr. Hammons would not confirm Hollywood reports that the new schedule would consist of 44 features, 24 westerns and 44 short subjects. He said, however, that the number to be contributed to the schedule by Educational had not been determined yet, indicating that additions to the initial product lineup may be made in the future.

"Nothing to Say" on Selznick

Questioned about reports that Grand National might distribute pictures produced by the new Myron Selznick "profit sharing" organization in which Ernst Lubitsch and other independent producers, have evidenced an interest, Mr. Hammons was uncommunicative.

"I have nothing to say," was his only response to questions on the subject.

However, he denied reports that an agreement, even a "tentative" one, had been reached with Louis Jackson's Anglo-American Films on distribution of Grand National's product in England. Mr. Hammons said that the new company is open to "the best offer for British distribution." He plans to go to London in a week or two "if war does not break out," he said, to investigate several possible deals. Indications are that his first conferences will be with Associated British Film Distributors, whose two-year distribution deal with Grand National expired recently.

First Picture Is Set

The company's first picture under the new regime will start this week with Anna Sten in the starring role, he said.

The appellation "New" has been eliminated from the company's name for the present, Mr. Hammons said. Its corporate title will be Grand National Pictures. The original name was Grand National Films. Mr. Hammons is president; Edward L. Alperson, general manager of distribution; Jack Skirball, vice-president, and George Blake, secretary.

Ascap Plans New 10-Year Offers Soon

first step leading to the offering of 10-year contracts to the society's licensees as, obviously, Ascap cannot grant licenses for the public performance of works in its catalogue for a longer period than it has been authorized to act as agents for such works.

The current five-year contracts with exhibitors expire next fall, as do Ascap's current five-year agreements with its member authors and composers. In 1934, Ascap guaranteed exhibitors that it would not ask for an increase in the music tax during the life of the agreement. Whether or not increases in the rates will be asked if and when 10-year pacts are offered could not be learned at Ascap headquarters.

The board of directors of the society is scheduled to receive a report at its meeting tomorrow on the member acceptances of the new 10-year agreements to date.

Mexico Strike Ended By Union Agreement

By JAMES LOCKHART

Mexico City, Sept. 26.—Mexican studios are working again as a result of an agreement whereby the two labor unions disputing exclusive control of the industry's workers agree not to molest the other unions and producers. This ends months of suspension of native studios here which are used by 38 leading producers.

The unions agree to discontinue boycotts against pictures of those producers who were not sympathetic to them. Mexican exhibition has increased as a result of this peace.

Missouri Bank Night Brief Will Be Filed

Kansas City, Sept. 26.—Charles M. Miller, attorney for R. W. McEwan, Bank Night distributor, this week will file a brief with the Missouri Supreme Court, en banc, supporting the oral arguments he made before the court last week. Miller reargued the case of Missouri vs. McEwan, in which the Circuit Court held Bank Night is not a lottery, but in which a commissioner for division No. 2 of the Supreme Court held a contrary opinion.

The Supreme Court, en banc, allowed Miller's motion for a rehearing before the entire court, and took the case under advisement last week.

Charter Grand National

Albany, Sept. 26.—Grand National Pictures, Inc., was chartered here today by the Secretary of State. The capital stock is $5,450,000, consisting of 45,000 shares of $10 preferred stock and 5,000,000 shares of $1 par common stock.

Directors are E. W. Hammons, Jack Skirball and John R. Munn. Subscribers are Charles A. Brooks, Robert J. Reed and Graham Whitelaw.

Fear Appeals To SEC Might Hit RKO Plan

RKO reorganization plan as approved by Special Master George W. [illegible]ger last June will invoke the act by requesting Federal Judge William Bondy to bring the S. E. C. into the proceedings.

The most serious consequence of such a move by the minority creditors, it is said, would be the attendant delays in hearings on the plan.

Deliberations on board and management selections for reorganized RKO are scheduled to be resumed today and, while some sources believe that a final decision may be expected today or tomorrow, there is no assurance that such will be the case. However, no extended delay is looked for by the major creditor groups.

SAG and Producers Sign New Contract

gan, new SAG president, are that all stock and contract players receiving up to $1,000 weekly and all day players are to receive a 12-hour daily rest period. Free lance players receiving up to $1,000 weekly and stock and contract players receiving $500 weekly or less are to be paid overtime at the rate of time-and-a-half when working in excess of 48 hours any one week, and at the rate of two times their regular pay when working over 10 hours any one day.

Time worked on Sundays is to be computed at the rate of time-and-a-half. Mr. Morgan said "One of the most important provisions of this agreement is that under which a permanent committee of three, representing the guild and producers, is to be set up shortly to arbitrate all problems arising in the employment of extras."

Columbia to Resume Work On Television

Work on the installation of the CBS television station in the Chrysler Tower will be resumed in a few days with completion expected three months later, according to Dr. Peter Goldmark, CBS director of television development. Work on Columbia's television transmitter was virtually halted some months ago, following differences between the Chrysler Building management and the network, but these differences have been settled.

Following completion of the installation, an additional three months will be consumed in testing before the station will take to the air with regular programs.

With the outlook now bright for the rapid completion of the television transmitter, CBS will go ahead with the building of television studios in the Grand Central Station, with which the transmitter will be connected by coaxial cable.

Broadcast Hearings Listed for the Week

WASHINGTON, Sept. 26.—The Federal Communications Commission has set its schedule of hearings on broadcasting applications for the current week, as follows:

Sept. 27, before an examiner: Application of KAND, Corsicana, Tex., for increase of power from 100 to 250 watts.

Sept. 28, before an examiner: Applications of KLS, Oakland, Cal., for increase of power from 250 to 500 watts, and contesting applications for Citizens Voice and Air Show and Provo Broadcasting Co., for a 1,210-kilocycle station at Provo, Utah, with 100 watts night, 250 watts day.

Sept. 29, before the commission: Applications of The Birmingham News Co., for a 590-kilocycle, 1,000-watt station at Birmingham; William F. Huffman, for a 580-kilocycle, 250-watt station at Wisconsin Rapids, Wis., and WLAP, Lexington, Ky., for change of frequency from 1,420 to 1,270 kilocycles and increase of power from 100 watts night, 250 watts day to 1,000 watts, and contesting applications for Colonial Broadcasters, Inc., and Seaboard Broadcasting Corp. for a 1,310-kilocycle, 100-watt station at Savannah.

Mexico Adds 2 Stations

MEXICO CITY, Sept. 26.—Two new stations in this country recently went into operation. The Chiapas State Government has opened XEXJ, 1,260 kilocycles, to aid in attracting tourists and for broadcast of cultural programs. Toluca, 90 miles west of here, has recently begun broadcasting over XEC. The Federal Government concession on XECO in Monterrey has been cancelled because the station failed to make installations for better transmission.

Increase "Quiz" Network

The Noxema Co. will increase the "Prof. Quiz" network on CBS from 33 stations to 44 stations when it takes over the series from the Nash Kelvinator Co. on Oct. 1.

CBS First with Roosevelt Plea for Peace in Europe

CBS scored what is probably the most important scoop of the year Monday morning when it presented President Roosevelt's plea for peace directed to Adolph Hitler and President Benes exclusively over its network and its international short wave station W2XE at 3 A. M., E. S. T. Monday.

CBS was the only network and short-wave station on the air at the time, and thus was able alone to flash to the world the full report of the President's action. Nominally, the CBS closing time is 1 A. M., but because of the acute situation it had decided to stay on the air until 2 A. M. At 1:58 officials of WABC learned from sources in the State Department and from WJSV, its Washington station, that a message from the President would be available for broadcasting at 3 A. M. CBS immediately flashed all stations the network would remain on the air.

New Shows on the Air

"The Shadow"

Three premiere offerings trouped across the radio boards the past Sunday. They were "The Shadow," "Show of the Week" and Phil Lord's "Seth Parker."

"The Shadow," an eerie thriller which has been heard over Mutual during past seasons, returned to that network with Jack Johnstone wearing the sheets of "The Shadow." Last year no less a distinguished actor than Orsen Welles played the lead. "The Shadow" is as subtle as an old Pearl White serial strip, but, like all presentations of its kind, it packs a peculiar punch. It's great stuff for those who like it; anethema for those who do not. The sponsor apparently feels that enough of the radio audience cares for this blood and thunder series, for he has had it on the air for some seasons. Thet D. L. & W. Coal Co. sponsors "The Shadow," 5:30 to 6 P. M., on Mutual.

"The Show of the Week"

"The Show of the Week" is a musical variety show, cooperatively offered by scores of sponsors over the Mutual network. The introductory bandleader was to have been Dick Himber, but Himber suddenly became ill, and Fred Waring appeared. Ray Perkins is the em cee and comedian.

"The Show of the Week" is scarcely that, but it does pack merit. The band moments of course are all that can be desired, while Ray Perkins averages a much better score on this show than he has on past efforts. Howard Clothes Co. sponsors the program over WOR. The air time is 6:30 to 7 P. M.

"Seth Parker"

Phil Lord is back on the air. All the other Jonesport folks are back—"Ma Parker"; "Lizzie," the village chatterbox; "Cephus," her dull-witted brother; "Captain Bang," the retired old skipper; the Jonesport band, and the other characters. The format remains the same as of old—the weekly "githerin's" at the Parker cottage, with hymn singing, "homey" talk, New England dialect sprinkled, and a corny dramatization of New England life. The backbone of radio is made up of listeners in the hinterlands, and they'll probably never get enough of "Seth." The Vick Chemical Co. sponsors the program over the NBC-Blue at 7:30 P. M.

Dr. Benes Brother Heard Here on WOR

Immediately following Adolph Hitler's speech yesterday afternoon, which was carried by all networks and by all of the local New York stations via special network feeds to them, WOR and Mutual presented Vojta Benes, brother of Dr. Eduard Benes, president of Czechoslovakia, former member of the Czech Senate and now Inspector of Schools.

Mr. Benes, who has just arrived in this country, stated that his nation under any circumstances would fight for its liberty.

WOR to Air Benes Talk

WOR and the Mutual network tonight will broadcast an address by President Eduard Benes from Czechoslovakia. The period will be heard from 6 to 6:10 P. M.

Agent for Broadcaster

OKLAHOMA CITY, Sept. 26.—T. B. Noble, Jr., president of State Theatres, Inc., has been appointed service agent for the Wichita Broadcasting Co.

NBC Will Add To Its Latin Broadcasting

Following assignment of two new short-wave frequencies by the Federal Communications Commission, NBC will augment its present schedule of Latin America broadcasts. The two additional frequencies, fill out NBC's complement of wavelengths necessary to render year-round day and night service to Latin America and Europe on a regular schedule basis. The two additional frequencies are on 9,670 kilocycles and 21,630 kilocycles.

The latter frequency will be used during the daytime to carry to Latin America the programs which are now beamed toward Europe on 17,780 kilocycles in English, French, German and Italian. The 9,670-kilocycle will be used to put a better signal into the lower half of South America during evening hours, while the present 6,100 kilocycles frequency will be concentrated during the same hours on Latin America nearer to the United States.

Operation on the new frequencies will begin as soon as new equipment has been installed.

WIBC Not Complete; Opening Is Set Back

INDIANAPOLIS, Sept. 26.—The opening of WIBC here, first set for Sept. 25, has been delayed to mid-October to allow for completion of transmitting facilities. Studios and offices are complete.

Bob Longwell has been made program director, and Otis Roush continuity chief. Longwell has been with WFDF, Flint, Mich., and Roush has been production manager for WLBC, Muncie, Ind.

Barlow Is Re-Signed

Howard Barlow has signed a three-year renewal contract that will continue him as the leading CBS symphony conductor until Oct. 10, 1941.

V[illegible] 44. NO. 62 NEW YORK, WEDNESDAY, SEPTEMBER 28, 1938 TEN CENTS

Total Does Not Include Loss of Business

Last week's storm damage to New England theatres in which Paramount has an interest was estimated at between $150,000 and $175,000 yesterday by the home office.

The damage estimate was made on the basis of reports submitted by Martin Mullin and Sam Pinanski of the M. & P. circuit; John J. Ford of the Maine & New Hampshire circuit and Nate Goldstein of the Western Massachusetts circuit. The loss includes only physical damage to theatre properties. In addition, a number of the theatres were forced to close for three to five days after the storm.

Unable to Reopen in Providence for Week

PROVIDENCE, Sept. 27.—It will be another week, if then, under the most favorable conditions, before any of the theatres in downtown Providence reopen. The Majestic probably will be the first to reopen because the district in which it is located will be the first business area to get electrical service.

It will be a week tomorrow since the tropical hurricane swept Providence, bringing a tidal wave which in 25 minutes covered the center of the city for more than a square mile with eight feet of water.

Since that afternoon all business institutions have been closed and the city has been under martial law with a 5 o'clock curfew.

The Majestic and Albee were the only theatres unharmed in the center of the city. The Carlton suffered comparatively small damage. Fay's Theatre, Loew's State, the Strand and Empire Theatres were flooded.

The generators and mechanical refrigeration plants at the Strand and

British Trade Rallies to Aid Government in Crisis

By AUBREY FLANAGAN

LONDON, Sept. 27.—The Cinematograph Exhibitors' Association, major exhibitor trade organization in the country, has offered the British Government full cooperation in the present European crisis. The organization has guaranteed the use of 50,000 cars on 24 hours' notice, for service as ambulances, courier cars and the like.

All film house operators in the country are assisting the Government's preparedness campaign, showing recruiting and propaganda films and displaying posters, as well as offering to the Home Office and local authorities the use of their theatres for any possible service. Many theatres tonight relayed the radio message of Prime Minister Chamberlain.

Theatre staffs and other film units have been depleted everywhere by the calls for reservists and the recruiting of soldiers.

London, Sept. 27.—John Barnes, member of the London staff of Quigley Publications, received today notice of mobilization for the Royal Air Force. He is a pilot officer in the Royal Auxiliary Air Force.

Films Are Moving In Truck Strike; Accessories Halt

A strike in the trucking industry which was resumed yesterday after a four-day truce left most local film delivery services unaffected. Drivers here are organized in an independent union and were permitted to carry film without disturbance.

Shipment of advertising material and other accessories was stopped in many instances, however. Trucks were frequently stopped and searched by roving pickets. Where packages not containing film were found, the truck was compelled to return. The Film Exchange Building was closely watched and efforts to load advertising matter on trucks was stopped. Taxicabs were utilized in most cases for the delivery of accessories in the metropolitan area.

Horlacher Delivery Service, which conducts a general trucking business, was completely tied up and no film shipments were made. Express agen-

Newsreels Expect Censor's Control

Newsreel offices here anticipate a complete censorship in the event war breaks out in Europe. Government forces, it is believed, will shoot war scenes and farm the film out to existing newsreel companies along the lines followed in the World War.

Paramount and Movietone are relying on their regular European bureaus for coverage and do not plan to send extra men unless managers there specifically request reinforcements. Other newsreels are keeping in touch with the situation by cable and transatlantic telephone but have made no plans as yet.

German censorship was evaded when French authorities permitted News of the Day and Paramount cameramen to photograph construction activities on the new Siegfried line. Photographers mounted their long distance lens on cameras placed on the Maginot line and shot across to German territory. The shots appeared in

U. S. to Give Suit Aims in Talks Today

Consent Decree May Be Discussed Later

WASHINGTON, Sept. 27.—It is expected that today's conference between Assistant Attorney General Thurman Arnold and attorneys for major film companies will be confined principally to an explanation of the Government's stand in the suit and an outline of what the Department of Justice will require in the event the case is settled by a consent decree.

It is expected that subsequent meetings will be held at which will be worked out the stand to be taken by the companies toward further acquisition of theatres, which Mr. Arnold has suggested be halted pending settlement of the suit, except where the companies are committed by contract, and then possible terms of a consent decree.

The meeting is to be held at a local hotel, and it is expected that participants will be asked not to reveal any of the details pending conferences with their principals.

While department officials suggested that the conference would be more or

Chicago's Anti-Trust Brief As Popular as Best-Seller

By BILL CROUCH

CHICAGO, Sept. 27.—Attorneys Rosenberg, Stein and Rosenberg could have made the "best seller" class last week with their 114-page book, containing the complaint against B. & K. and the major film companies, if they had been so inclined. Instead they let out but a few copies and the result was a clamor for each.

Hereabouts the Allied-Independent suit against the majors is the prime topic of conversation. Along Film Row one hears but little else.

Principal idea in the mind of the independent group is to get as fast action as possible.

Chicago exhibitors are happy this week about two things. First, daylight time has been put in moth balls for the winter and Jack Benny is still off the air. With this situation existing exhibitors feel they may have a few days of increased business. With night falling sooner the local gentry can not spend the evening watching the girlies that play softball. Benny will be back on the air soon, however.

Outstanding is the list of vaudeville celebrities signed by RKO for the week of Oct. 7 at the Palace. Slated to appear are the Stroud Twins, Bert Wheeler, Dolly Kay and the Snickelfritz Band. The film will be "The Affairs of Annabel." Veloz and Yolanda, local box-office favorites, will play their third annual engagement at the Chicago starting Friday. In previous years this dance team has broken records at the Chicago. They get $8,500 per week for this engagement, a new high in dance team acts.

George Raft, "Chiefed" in last week to visit Virginia Pine. He will leave shortly for New York for the World Series Games.

B. & K. officials were disappointed last week with the personal appearance of Ed Sullivan, columnist, whose writings are published daily in the Chicago Tribune. Theatermen figured that with 800,000 reading the Tribune daily the rush to the box-office would be in proportion. The gross was the lowest in weeks. While here Sullivan presented some of the stars passing through town at various stage shows. What irked B. & K. considerably, though, was the "plugging" he gave local night spots.

Buddy Rogers and his band will arrive here next week for an extended run at the College Inn of Hotel Sherman. Rogers played here last year and did an enormous business. Mrs. Rogers (Mary Pickford) will join her husband here later in the fall it is learned.

Al Jolson is expected here soon, with his wife, Ruby Keeler, to adopt a baby girl at Evanston's famous Cradle. The Jolson's have a son from the Cradle and plan to get a girl playmate for the child.

less general in nature, a very different picture was outlined by usually reliable sources outside the Government.

From these sources it was learned that Mr. Arnold and Solicitor General Robert L. Jackson, irritated over the failure of the distributors to reply to the letter suggesting the halting of theatre acquisitions, are prepared to make the department's views emphatically known. Mr. Arnold, it is said, will tell the company representatives that unless they make their position clear on that point, consideration will be given to new Grand Jury proceedings.

Department officials are declared to be resentful of the failure of the companies to take prompt steps not only to clarify their position with respect to acquisitions, but also to offer plans for settlement of the case or to make known their proposals for bringing about the reforms at which the department aims.

Business in Albany Returning to Normal

ALBANY, Sept. 27.—Theatre operators in this area predict that business will be restored to normal by the end of this week, following the storm. Most of the circuit houses reported business 40 per cent under normal, and independent neighborhood houses suffered even more severely.

In the area of Rutland, Vt., transportation tieups seriously affected business, with indications that it may be weeks before completely normal conditions return.

Quits Sterling Circuit

SEATTLE, Sept. 27.—Rex Stevenson, booker for John Danz' Sterling circuit, has resigned, effective Oct. 1. He will move to California where another theatre connection awaits him. Richard Mannheimer will succeed him.

ITOA in Quandary

The I.T.O.A. is in somewhat of a quandary. At its last meeting Harry Brandt, president, told members that the next regular meeting would be held in two weeks, meaning next Wednesday. Since that is Yom Kipper, it is expected that the meeting will be canceled. Ordinarily, it would be held the following Wednesday, Oct. 12, but that is Columbus Day. Mr. Brandt is expected to solve the problem by setting a new date.

Report Loss Slight In Local Territory

Film delivery companies which service Long Island, New Jersey and Upstate New York report that all theatres in their territory escaped with only slight losses, and all are open with the exception of the Greenport, Prudential house in Long Island, wrecked by the storm. Delivery service is now normal after several days' difficulty with floods and roads blocked by fallen trees.

Frank L. Gates of Warners, who returned yesterday from a quick tour of New England houses, found damage small in most of the Warner houses in Connecticut and Massachusetts. The Palace in Norwich was still unable to open because of flood conditions in the city, and the Garde in New London was closed because of virtual military law.

All Loew and RKO New England houses were open yesterday with the exception of Providence, where lack of power facilities prevented resumption of operation.

Freeman Conferring With Theatre Heads

Y. Frank Freeman, Paramount theatre head, began a series of meetings at the home office yesterday with a number of the company's operating associates. The sessions are scheduled to continue for several days.

At the meetings are Karl Hoblitzelle, who returned Monday from a European vacation; R. J. O'Donnell, A. H. Blank, Ralph Branton and J. H. Cooper. All plan to leave New York, Friday. Mr. Freeman will leave Friday for New Orleans for conferences with E. V. Richards and will go from there to Atlanta.

Barney Balaban, Paramount president, and Stanton Griffis, chairman of the executive committee, will also leave New York Friday for a visit of several weeks at the company's studio.

"King" Has Big Advance

An advance exploitation campaign has been prepared for the opening at the Paramount today of "If I Were King." Basil Rathbone and Ellen Drew, featured players, are in town and have been interviewed by the metropolitan press. Many tieups and window displays have been utilized to carry plugs for the picture. A contest in a leading evening paper was arranged a week in advance. Five thousand letters were sent to educators asking for scholastic comment on the film.

Altec Officials Return

L. W. Conrow, president, and G. L. Carrington, vice-president and general manager of Altec Service Corp., have returned from a series of regional conferences in Detroit, Chicago and Kansas City. A new technique of adjustment for reproducing equipment has been developed, they report.

Mills Civic Hero

Last week's hurricane made a civic hero of E. C. Mills, chairman of the Ascap administrative committee and one of the community fathers of Shelter Island.

The island was in the path of the storm and damage to property was so severe that the discouraged burghers were on the point of a mass movement away from the island, instead of remaining to rebuild. Mills called an emergency town meeting and, citing the civic spirit that rebuilt San Francisco and other communities which have suffered major catastrophes, persuaded the townspeople to stick it out and build anew.

Johnson's Relatives Victims of Big Blow

One of the tragedies of last week's hurricane came to light yesterday with the funeral of Mrs. J. F. O'Neill, sister of James Johnson, advertising copywriter at 20th Century-Fox. Mrs. Mary Johnson, mother of Mr. Johnson, and his sister were at their summer home at Westhampton Beach, L. I., when the storm struck. The house was washed away.

The two were listed as missing. Searchers found the body of Mrs. O'Niell Sunday and the funeral was held yesterday at St. Bartholomew's Church. Mrs. Johnson is still missing.

Mr. Johnson was unaware of the tragedy until he received a wire from a sister in Chicago who noticed her relatives' names in a newspaper list of those missing in the storm.

The third week of "Spawn of the North" gave the Paramount a reported $31,000. "Marie Antoinette" at the Astor netted $11,200 in a sixth week. "Fugitives for a Night" grossed $6,200 at the Rialto.

Hollywood Preview

"Sharpshooters"

(20th Century-Fox)

HOLLYWOOD, Sept. 27.—The camera daredevils, Brian Donlevy and Wally Vernon, are catapulted through this headlong sequence of newsreel adventures—first of the series—at a pace that gives the audience scant respite between laugh and thrill. James Tinling's direction preserves a nice balance between humor and melodrama and the screenplay by Robert Ellis and Helen Logan, from a story by Maurice Rapf and Lester Ziffren, parallels actual newsreel events of easy memory so closely as to keep the spectacular goingson well within the limits of credibility.

Lynn Bari, looking and talking like Claudette Colbert, plays the girl the intrepid photographer loves but doesn't get. John King, Douglas Dumbrille, C. Henry Gordon and Sidney Blackmer are the heroic and sinister personalities encountered in a mythical kingdom where assassination appears to be the chief industry. Martin Joseph Spellman, Jr., is the very personable boy king whose life and throne are saved by the indefatigable representative of Graphic Newsreel. The plot, counterplot and subsidiary plots are too numerous and too intricately integrated to be briefed in the available lineage.

The picture is doubly timely. The population is perhaps a little more newsreel conscious just now than at any time since 1917. The contents of the picture are the type of contents likely to make up the real newsreels if that overseas situation explodes. The time to set in the attraction is, it would seem, right now.

Running time, 65 minutes. "G." ROSCOE WILLIAMS.

"U" Borrows Stewart

HOLLYWOOD, Sept. 27.—James Stewart has been borrowed by Universal from M-G-M for the title role in "Destry Rides Again." Joe Pasternak will produce and Harold Shumate is adapting the Max Brand novel.

Pittsburgh Union Signs

PITTSBURGH, Sept. 27.—All of the independent theatre owners in this district have signed new one-year contracts with the operators' union, Local 171, according to Larry Katz, I. A. T. S. E. representative in this district. In a majority of cases, slight increases have been granted, but theatres paying the highest wage scale were not asked to come through with raises. The circuit operators will not be required to negotiate a new contract until next summer, when their present pact expires.

Set Austin Film Opening

yesterday's release of both reels.

Reel editors point to loyalist Spain, where only Amkino photographers are permitted behind the lines, as an example of what may be expected. However, in the event that no censorship is imposed, cameramen who have had experience on European, African and Asiatic battlefronts in recent years, as well as several with a World War background, are ready to go into action.

New Wisconsin Bank Night Case Quashed

LA CROSSE, Wis., Sept. 27.—Ted Bolnick, manager of the Hollywood, was cleared by a six-man jury on charges of conducting a lottery in connection with Bank Night.

A similar action against the Rivoli, operated by the La Crosse Theatres Co., was dismissed following the jury's decision. This marks the third time that juries have failed to convict exhibitors on Bank Night charges. Walter Baier, manager of the Fort theatre, at Fort Atkinson, was cleared earlier in the year on a similar count, while at Kenosha, where charges of conducting a lottery were preferred against William Exton, manager of the Gateway, the jury failed to agree and was dismissed.

Film Quizzers Are Quizzed And Find the Going Tough

By JACK BANNER

Tsk, tsk, tsk and a couple of taskets. Whoever would have believed that Si Seadler of M-G-M, Lynn Farnol of United Artists, Lou Pollock of Columbia, Mort Blumenstock of Warners and Paul Gulick, coordinator of the Motion Pictures' Greatest Year campaign—the very gentlemen who conceived all those questions for the "Movie Quiz" which now are puzzling the minds of millions of film patrons—would themselves be unable to answer accurately all questions put to them? But hearing is believing, and those who listened to a radio Tuesday night heard it as the considered opinion of:

Mr. Gulick, that the swelling of one's front teeth is a symptom of nostalgia, and not of homesickness. . . .

Mr. Blumenstock, that a 180-degree angle is not a straight line, which it is. . . .

Mr. Farnol, that 2x2x2x2 does not equal 16, when even Roberta Muriel Banner, age 5½, can tell him that it does. . . .

Mr. Seadler, who obstinately insists that the Hudson River was not discovered by an Englishman, even though all the history books tell him that Henry Hudson, the discoverer, was an Englishman serving the Dutch East Indies Co. . . .

Mr. Pollock, who believes that if it takes three men a day and one-half to dig a well, it will take six other men working at the same rate of speed three days to dig the same well, when actually the latter crew can do the job in half the time.

Those were the shameful answers the aforementioned gentlemen gave Tuesday night to the questions put to them by Dr. Harry Hagen, conductor of the "True or False" program on the NBC network. The motion picture team appeared as part of a promotion for the "Movie Quiz" contest. They were opposed by a fair team of pummel and poke artists (masseurs to you).

But all was not gall for the film team, for Rodney Bush of 20th Century-Fox upheld the noble traditions of the industry by winning the grand prize of $25. Mr. Bush won out over Mr. Seadler in the closing moments of the fray, when the Leo representative tripped over the nationality of the discoverer of the Hudson River.

Dr. Harry Hagen, it must be said, didn't fare perfectly, either, for he repeatedly referred to Si as "See," and at the closing of the show he announced that the winner of the quiz, Mr. Bush, had appeared through the courtesy of Mr. "Daniel" Zanuck.

Participation in the series by the film team was arranged by the J. Walter Thompson advertising agency.

English Plan Varied Television Programs

LONDON, Sept. 27.—A wide variety of subjects has been selected by the British Broadcasting Co. for television during the forthcoming season. These include not only broadcasts of full feature films, but of numerous outdoor and sport activities.

Recently the work of the river police who patrol the Thames was televised from Wapping and the river itself. Various football matches are to be broadcast from London's number one soccer stadium, Arsenal. Imber Court, training ground for London's mounted police, and road racing on the Crystal Palace motor track are other subjects to be televised.

Film Queries Coming in WASHINGTON, Sept. 27.—Returns on the questionnaire sent out by the National Association of Broadcasters relating to the amount of time radio is devoting to the film industry are expected to be in by the end of the week, according to Ed Kirby, public relations director for the N.A.B. He estimates it will take about two weeks to analyze and check the reports after they are all in.

Sponsors "Information"

"Information, Please," quiz program which has been heard as a sustaining program on NBC for the past few months, has been sold to the Canada Dry Ginger Ale Co., which will take over the program beginning Nov. 15. The series will continue at the same time and day, Tuesdays at 8:30 P. M. over the Blue network. The J. M. Mathes agency placed the business.

New Crosley Name Approved by Holders

CINCINNATI, Sept. 27.—Stockholders of the Crosley Radio Corp. have approved by unanimous vote the proposal to change the corporate name to the Crosley Corp., and to amend articles of incorporation to increase and broaden the powers and scope of the company. The change in the company's name is in line with the policy of the organization to add to its line of appliances, and elimination of the word "radio" will no longer indicate a limited activity, according to Powel Crosley, president.

Final action will be taken at a meeting Oct. 17, when details of the proposal will be completed.

Plan Citizenship Series

WINNIPEG, Sept. 27.—Contributions to Canadian citizenship of the various ethnic groups in western Canada will be portrayed during the series of 13 weeks broadcasts, "Ventures in Citizenship," to be heard every Wednesday starting tomorrow from 9 P. M. to 9:30 P. M., E. S. T.

Winnipeg, because of its cosmopolitan population, has been chosen the center of this broadcast experiment. Robert England will supervise. Scripts have been arranged and written by John Kannawin in collaboration with W. H. Darracott.

WJZ Gets 39-Week Series

Lewis Howe Co. has placed a 39-week contract on WJZ for an as yet undesignated series starting Sept. 30. The schedule is for Fridays from 7:45 to 8 P. M. until Oct. 5. when a Friday period will be added. H. W. Kaster & Son placed the account.

Giveaways Ban Being Studied In Fox House

Division Managers Hope For General Use

With S. R. Kent, president of 20th Century-Fox, and Spyros Skouras, operating head of National Theatres, both expressing themselves in favor of abandonment of giveaways of all sorts, division managers of the nationwide circuits are watching results of the "no giveaway" policy in Southern California with a view to its possible extension elsewhere.

Mr. Kent, who conferred with Charles P. Skouras, head of Fox West Coast, during his present visit to the studio, says he believes there is a definite trend toward discarding giveaways and chance games and expressed the belief that "the public is becoming fed up."

Spyros Skouras is known not to have been very happy with giveaways and his views coincide with those of Mr. Kent. Furthermore, he believes that it is time for exhibitors to go back to showmanship.

N.A.B. Discusses Winter Activities

WASHINGTON, Sept. 28.—Plans for fall and winter activities of the National Association of Broadcasters were discussed today at a meeting of the executive committee, the first such meeting since early last summer.

Important to broadcasters among the matters considered were the copyright situation and the several suits against Ascap now in the courts.

There was some discussion of the questionnaire recently distributed among member broadcasters, asking for information regarding the extent to which free publicity is given the film industry, directly or indirectly, but in the absence of a definite an-

New Selznick Deal

Hollywood, Sept. 28.—John Hay Whitney, chairman of the board of Selznick International Pictures, Inc., today disclosed the signing of a new term contract whereby David O. Selznick will continue as president and executive producer of the company.

Selznick International has experienced no single change in executive personnel, membership of the board or list of stockholders since its inception.

Low Funds Slowing Wage-Hour Rulings

WASHINGTON, Sept. 28.—With lack of funds making it impossible to set up more than three or four industry committees before Congress meets, activities of Wage-Hour Administrator Elmer F. Andrews are being devoted to the preparation of definitions called for under the new labor standards act.

It is the hope of the administrator that most of the definitions, and a rough classification of the industries which will be subject to the act, may be completed before the law becomes effective Oct. 24.

Even when Congress appropriates additional funds, it was said by wage-hour officials today, it is not intended to set up a large number of industry committees to work out the minimum wages which are to apply until, after seven years, the minimum of 40 cents an hour provided in the act goes into

Col. Donovan's Home Is Scene of Gathering

WASHINGTON, Sept. 28.—Representatives of the major film companies tonight met with Assistant Attorney General Thurman Arnold and other Department of Justice officials around the dinner table at the Georgetown home of Col. William J. Donovan, counsel for RKO and the Irving Trust Co., for a highly secret discussion of the Government's anti-trust suit.

The place and time of the meeting were arranged by Colonel Donovan, who secured from Department officials a promise not to talk about the situation for publication, a pledge so thoroughly adhered to that not even the place of meeting was divulged at the

Crisis in Europe Results In Flood of War Pictures

HOLLYWOOD, Sept. 28.—The European crisis has stirred Hollywood to topical activity, with about 10 pictures of spy intrigue, World War action and similar material in preparation. The most recent is from Edward Small, who has assigned George Bruce to adapt his own idea for "The Maginot Line," which he visited.

Martin Mooney and Jonathan Latimer have been assigned by Paramount to Fritz Lang's original idea for "Men Without a Country," spy story set in this country. Paramount also plans "Air Raid," starring Olympe Bradna, which Jeff Lazarus will produce. Twentieth Century-Fox is ready to release "Submarine Patrol," with Richard Greene, Loretta Young and Nancy Kelly. Columbia has "Spy Ring." RKO is preparing "Miss X," story of intrigue in Washington, starring Sally Eilers.

Republic is shooting "Storm Over Bengal," story of the rebellion of a northern India tribe from British rule, with Patric Knowles, Richard Cromwell and Rochelle Hudson featured. Warners is doing "Dawn Patrol," with Errol Flynn, whose illness is delaying the completion of the film. Hal Wallis has received British permission to use World War scenes in the picture. M-G-M has placed "Idiot's Delight" back on the schedule. It deals with the effects of the World War on an actor troupe stranded in Italy. Norma Shearer will star.

RKO Delays Halt Decision On Personnel

Petition for SEC Move To Be Filed Today

New delays in the consummation of the RKO reorganization plan appeared inevitable yesterday and had the immediate effect of sidetracking for the present any possible immediate decision by the principal creditors on the personnel of the reorganized company's board of directors and management.

As had been anticipated, a minority creditor will invoke the Chandler Act to make the S.E.C. a party to the reorganization, a move which, if approved by the court, will bring about an indefinite delay in the consummation of the plan. The petition will be filed in U. S. District Court here today by John A. Stover, attorney for Ernest W. Stirn of Milwaukee, holder of 1,234 shares of old RKO Class A stock. While the Chandler Act makes it compulsory for the S.E.C. to become a party to reorganizations in which the estate amounts to more than $3,000,000, RKO was in reorganization long before the act became effective so that S.E.C. may become a party

Crisis Stops Talks On Decree in Italy

The general European crisis has made it impossible for foreign representatives of major distributors to hold any conferences with Government officials in Rome on the recent Italian decree creating a national film distributing monopoly, and no meetings will be possible until the situation is eased, it was learned here yesterday.

Not only are the Italian officials too preoccupied with international affairs at this time, but, moreover, the outbreak of war would make the distribution problem a purely academic one, as the restricted market abroad

Insiders' Outlook

BEFORE the calling of yesterday's conference at Munich between Mussolini, Hitler, Chamberlain and Daladier there were multiplying indications that the industry was getting itself into a state of extreme agitation. Some were predicting the sweeping away of all foreign markets which supply 30 to 40 per cent of the film revenue, if war should come.

The pessimists are probably calmer today with the return of hope that hostilities can be averted.

While they are in this mood it might be well for them to bolster their morale by noting that it was the last World War that put the American industry on its feet by creating an export market. While Europe was fighting the business came out of its swaddling clothes and advanced so fast that all other nations have been trying to catch up since.

Between 1914 and 1918 all the European belligerents came to realize that maintenance of civilian and military morale was fundamental. The lesson has not been forgotten. Film theatres were scarce in those days. Now every city and town; every naval and merchant ship of any size; every army post has theatres or projection equipment.

French production already has been affected by the partial mobilization. England is beginning to feel the effects. If hostilities should be prolonged it might conceivably become necessary to suspend the quota law, or transfer British production to this country. Alexander Korda has already called off "Four Feathers," which was to have been produced in the Sudan with British Army cooperation and he is reported to be planning a hurried return to England to discuss the emergency.

Films will be shown in all countries. If the present peace negotiations break down and a general war results, they will be produced here.

How American producers could get paid for what they might export would be a source of worry. Currency fluctuations and restrictions probably would be fantastic, but they're not pleasant to contemplate under present conditions. How American companies dependent in part on British financing might be affected also would be a problem.

The prospect is disturbing no matter which way the die is cast at Munich, but it is not entirely hopeless.

Last Thursday Motion Picture Daily wired its Rhode Island correspondent at Riverside to telegraph a survey of the theatre situation as a result of the hurricane. Yesterday it received the following reply:

> Received your wire only today (Tuesday) after being chased from pillar to post by messenger boys. My home in Riverside, R. I., was washed out with all the family possessions as we had not moved uptown, but had intended to the day after the blow.

> My father was rescued after two hours' immersion, so you can see I was not in one place very long. My present address is 34 Benefit St., Providence.

Benefit street is on the side of the highest hill in Providence, overlooking the Market Square section where the water was 20 feet deep.

Ed Fay writes that the full story of the hurricane toll in Providence has not been told and will not be for several days. Hundreds of persons were in downtown department store basements. The flood rolled across this section of the city in 25 minutes. Many buildings have not been pumped out.

Jack L. Warner Arrives

RKO Delays Halt Decision On Personnel

only at the invitation of the court.

[illegible] another and far more significant creditors' quarter, a new sentiment has appeared indicating a desire for a delay in the consummation of the reorganization at least until the present European crisis has been resolved. This sentiment stems from the obvious difficulty of marketing the new RKO securities which would be certain to follow the outbreak of a general European war with its attendant depressing effect on the securities market here. Underwriting of the new securities has been completed by Atlas Corp. already and they are being offered to subscribers.

The general uncertainty bearing on a delay in the consummation of the plan is said to be chiefly responsible for the failure of the principal creditors to confirm board and management selections for the reorganized company. The delay may be momentary only and the trend of today's initial hearing on the plan before Federal Judge William Bondy may make possible the overdue decisions on these twin subjects within a day or two. On the other hand, any situation which made an indefinite delay in the consummation of the plan inevitable would bring about a correspondingly lengthy postponement of board and management decisions.

Seven Board Member Designated

Seven board members appear to be definitely slated for designation at this time. They are David Sarnoff and Lunsford P. Yandell for RCA; Nelson Rockefeller and W. G. Van Schmus for Rockefeller Center; Floyd Odlum and Peter J. Rathvon for Atlas Corp., and either John Moroney, attorney, or Lawrence Green, investment broker, for unsecured creditors. Additional management men, when set, will be added to this list for a total of either nine or 11 members.

Today's hearing on a motion to confirm the report of Special Master George W. Alger approving the plan is expected to develop opposition from minority creditors only. The major creditors are in agreement on basic phases of the plan.

Principal objection to the master's report is expected to come from H. Cassell & Co., brokers, who hold $200,000 in debentures. Nathan Rosenberg, attorney for Cassell, contends that the report is unconstitutional because it deprives debenture holders of their security without adequate compensation. The U. S. Attorney General's office will be represented at the hearing and he is expected to defend the constitutionality of section 77b of the Bankruptcy law.

Mr. Rosenberg is expected to argue that the stockholders should not be permitted to participate in the plan until debenture holders are fully paid. In support of this contention, Mr. Rosenberg will point to the master's original report rendered last November when this viewpoint was upheld. Mr. Rosenberg will renew his plea for an allowance of stock in exchange for debentures which will permit an immediate sale of the new stock at a price equivalent to the par value of debentures plus interest. He will point out that the Government suit and the foreign situation make an investment in stock hazardous.

Another issue to be raised will be the voting power of the various classes of stock. It is contended that general creditors will receive 14 shares of common stock for each $140 in claims held. This will entitle them to 14 votes while debenture holders who are to receive one share of preferred and five shares of common for each $140, will have only six votes.

See $600,000 Net

RKO's earnings report for the first half of 1938 is expected to show a net in excess of $600,000. Theatre earnings, which comprise the bulk of the net, have been slightly below earnings for the first half of 1937. The picture company is believed to have shown a loss during the first six months, although it has been operating at a profit for the first part of the current half year.

effect for all industries.

In all probability, it was said, no committees will be set up for industries where the minimum wages now are so far above the 25-cent minimum which is to apply during the first year of the law to make improbable any agreement to raise them further. For some time to come, at any event, committees will be confined to those industries where the greatest need is seen for improvement of wage conditions, as in the textile industries, for which a committee already has been set up.

FWC Giveaway Test Will Run 6-8 Weeks

Los Angeles, Sept. 28.—Charles P. Skouras estimates that in six or eight weeks the Southern California "no giveaway" experiment by Fox West Coast should show that the abandonment of giveaways and premiums is worth while.

It is too early to tell yet, he said, but major giveaways, such as autos, radios, refrigerators and the like have already been eliminated throughout the southern division. Minor premium nights and variations of Bank Night are continuing in a few houses where contracts for such games are still in force.

The southern division houses are engaged in educating audiences not to expect premiums of any kind, meanwhile directing attention to the "Movie Quiz" contest. Major giveaways have been eliminated in Fox West Coast's northern division, but some form of cash premium, particularly Ten-O-Win, is being continued.

Sets Oct. 6 for Hearing

Federal Judge William Bondy yesterday set Oct. 6 for a hearing on the petition of Wicker, Neilson & Riddell for an allowance of $2,000 for services rendered as attorneys for Alfred West, who started the original equity receivership suit against RKO.

Clean Up Theatres After N. E. Storm and the damage was estimated at $3,000.

The Colonial at Newport, R. I., still closed as a result of the damage, is the only E. M. Loew theatre not open. Reports on more secluded houses are slow coming in since 175,000 telephones are out of order in New England. Film shipments are going by circuitous routes to many theatres, where washouts are delaying the resumption of train service.

Eleven Connecticut Theatres Are Closed

Eleven theatres in the New Haven area are still closed as a result of the storm which struck last Wednesday and it will be some time before they can resume operations, Ross Federal was informed yesterday by its New Haven office.

A total of 47 houses in the area were put out of commission for varying periods due to lack of power supply, fire, flood or wind damage.

Of the 11 damaged, the Garde, New London, suffered fire and flood damage, while the others, it is reported, were flooded and battered by the storm. These are the Easthampton, Easthampton; Colchester, Colchester; Moodus, Moodus; Glastonbury, Glastonbury; Saybrook, Saybrook; Strand, Mystic; Broadway and Palace, Norwich; State, Hartford, and Finns, Jewett City.

Loew Damage $6,000

Loew executives yesterday estimated that the hurricane damage to New England theatres totalled about $6,000. All houses have reopened with the exception of the State in Providence which is waiting for power lines to resume.

Rush Providence Repairs

Providence, Sept. 28.—City officials here indicated today that the resumption of power may be expected on Sunday or Monday. Downtown houses have rushed repairs to motors, carpets and seats which were damaged by the flood.

'Snow White' Sets Record

All Phases of Trust Suit Up At Conference

Department.

While definite information regarding the conference was lacking, it was understood that, freed from the formality which would surround a meeting under more official conditions, the group discussed all phases of the situation, including the attitude to be taken by the companies with respect to acquisitions of additional theatres while the suit is pending.

It was indicated informally that the conference was designed to pave the way for definite action by the companies along several lines—not only with respect to further theatre additions but also as to stipulations to be made and in laying the groundwork for a consent decree if the majors decide to take that course to avoid litigation.

At the Department, the refusal to discuss the matter was explained as due to the fact that the whole affair was arranged by Colonel Donovan. At Colonel Donovan's office, attaches expressed inability to give any information other than that the Colonel had not been in the office all day.

New York Attorneys In Attendance

Among the New York attorneys who came here for the conference, in addition to Col. Donovan, were John Kaskey and Ralph Harris, counsel for 20th Century-Fox; John W. Davis and J. Robert Rubin of Loew's; Thomas D. Thacher and Austin C. Keough of Paramount; Robert W. Perkins of Warners and William Mallard of RKO.

Mr. Arnold was accompanied by Paul Williams, who is directing the case.

In an informal discussion of the meeting, representatives of the companies said they were chiefly interested in matters of procedure and in ascertaining when the case would come up. They denied that any "gentlemen's agreement" had been reached regarding theatre acquisitions during the pendency of the suit, and pointed out that this was the first of what may be a number of meetings and the matter had not progressed sufficiently for any conclusions to be reached.

In other quarters it was said the group explored the possibilities of securing further extension of time for the filing of answers to the Government's complaint. The answers are due early in November and it has been represented that the companies felt more time would be necessary to work up their briefs.

To File "Birth" Briefs

Albany, Sept. 28.—Both sides will submit briefs on or about Monday to Supreme Court Justice Pierce H. Russell on the application to secure reversal of the ban imposed upon "The Birth of a Baby." Former Supreme Court Justice Ellis Staley, representing the American Committee for Maternal Welfare, Inc., and Charles A. Brind, law director for the Department of Education, as attorney for the Board of Regents, have exchanged briefs here.

New Industry Ads Feature "Quiz" Contests

Will Go Into Papers In US and Canadian Cities Where Hous[illegible] Are Entered in Test

THE new series of newspaper ads for the Motion Pictures' Greatest Year campaign, which were completed yesterday, feature the $250,000 "Movie Quiz" prize contest exclusively. Accordingly, they are to be inserted only in daily newspapers of those cities in the United States and Canada in which local theatres are entered in the contest and drive.

Campaign headquarters yesterday could not estimate the number of newspapers or cities in which the ads will appear but stated that "a good many cities have no theatres in the contest." The ads will run in issues of Oct. 4, 5 and 6.

Specimen ads of the new series are presented herewith. The smallest is 150 lines in three columns and the largest 177 lines in four columns. The theme of the new series is "See a Movie—Play a Game—Win Big Money." The copy is breezy, pointed and brief.

All of it features the prize contest and includes the slogan, "Motion Pictures Are Your Best Entertainment" and a notice of the remedy adopted for the questions applied to the five contest pictures which cannot be correctly answered. As previously reported, any answer submitted to a question on any of the five pictures will be considered a correct answer. Contestants, however, must give the name of the theatre at which they saw any or all of the five pictures.

The type of ads for the new series, and the copy, was decided upon by the campaign advertising committee after receiving reports and suggestions from exhibitors throughout the country following the appearance of the first newspaper ads. The ad committee consists of Howard Dietz, chairman; Robert Gillham and Charles E. McCarthy. Donahue & Coe is the agency.

Hollywood Previews

"Straight, Place and Show"

(20th Century-Fox)

HOLLYWOOD, Sept. 28.—The Ritz Brothers never have been funnier than they are in this headlong comedy about a race horse named Playboy (for Playmay, last year's box car mutuel payoff at Santa Anita) and the strange assortment of people variously and separately interested in his erratic career. The boys have been louder in shorter sequences, and repetitious in longer ones, but here they seem to have hit their screen stride. The preview audience, which included Sidney R. Kent and Charles E. McCarthy, exploded repeatedly during the earlier reels and kicked the chairs apart during the steeple chase finish, a totally incredible production feat which brings Harry Ritz down the home stretch in the lead and jumping his mount on the flat so Richard Arlen's can pass him and win.

The screen play, derived by M. M. Musselman and Allen Rivkin from a play by Damon Runyon and Irving Caesar, is a simple little thing about a fellow whose girl is so crazy about a horse that she can't find time to marry him, wherefore he makes a bet with her, wins the horse, gives it to three roughnecks who operate a pony-ride, loses the girl on account of giving the horse away and then wins her back by riding it to victory. The romantic interest, played lightly and formally by Richard Arlen, Phyllis Brooks and Ethel Merman, who finds spots to pitch in a couple of vocal numbers by Lew Brown and Lew Pollack, is brought forward now and again to give the audience a breather but isn't important otherwise. The gay, giddy, glad, sad, swift and generally terrific comedy sequences conducted by the Ritzes, who also find time to do one of their mass attacks on a song number, this one winding up with Swiss bells, are the materials that count, and for plenty. A wrestling bout and a pair of telephone gags rank second and third to the final madhouse masterpiece in which the three masquerade as abducted gentlemen jockeys, with intent to lose the race, and discover they can't run worse than "straight, place and show." This is probably a new high in slapstick.

David Hempstead, associate producer, and/or David Butler, director, displayed a new and needed cunning in the handling of the Ritzes. They are kept going steadily but never allowed to choke a gag to death. They are in front of the lens most of the time but don't get a chance to crowd it. The result is a tremendously funny picture.

Running time, 65 minutes. "G." ROSCOE WILLIAMS

"Girls' School"

(Columbia)

HOLLYWOOD, Sept. 28.—This is a fresh, sound, straightaway story about girls in a private school, what they do, how they get along with each other or don't, what their ideals are, their ambitions, heartbreaks, excitements and thrills. It is a wholesome story involved with no probings into the esoteric and it has nothing whatever in common with "Maedchen in Uniform" or any of the imitations of that film. It is a distinct novelty as to subject matter and treatment and susceptible of profitable exploitation as such.

The screenplay by Tess Schlesinger and Richard Sherman, from Miss Schlesinger's original, has Anne Shirley as a poor scholarship student acting as monitor in a private girls' school and Nan Grey as leader of the rich girls who scorn her. How Miss Shirley reconciles Miss Grey's separated parents and how incidents of a single day and evening bring to all the students a mature understanding of Miss Shirley and each other is told in a series of varied, arresting, plausible and frequently humorous sequences. Ralph Bellamy and Gloria Holden contribute a brief but brilliant interlude. Marjorie Main, Cecil Cunningham, Dorothy Moore, Margaret Tallichet, Heather Thatcher, Doris Kenyon, Noah Beery, Jr., Pierre Watkin and Peggy Moran are other members of a large and well matched cast.

Samuel Marx, associate producer, and John Brahm, director, handled with impressive success the telling of a primarily emotional story in terms of actionful incident. The result is a rounded, forceful, wholesome picture far off the beaten track of production but well inside the boundaries of box-office usefulness.

Running time, 70 minutes. "G." ROSCOE WILLIAMS

Local 306 Sues for Operators' Back Pay

Suit in the N. Y. Supreme Court by Joseph D. Basson, as president of Local 306, for $5,240 back wages in behalf of six operators, against Edjomac Amusement Corp., Max Rudnick, Edward Madden and Joseph Quittner, operators of the Eltinge at 242 West 42nd St., was revealed yesterday. The action was disclosed when Mr. Quittner applied for a dismissal of the complaint.

Mr. Basson charged that the defendants breached a contract made March 1, 1932, with the union, by discharging six operators May 4, 1933. Subsequently, the complaint stated, in May, 1934, the defendants were ordered by the Supreme Court to reinstate the operators, but have allegedly failed to pay their wages for the period during which they were not employed.

Chicago Engineers Threaten Walkout

CHICAGO, Sept. 28.—Theatre engineers here, members of the International Brotherhood of Operating Engineers, were set to stage a walkout at midnight tonight unless B. & K., Warners, Jones, Linick & Schaefer and RKO theatres restore a voluntary pay cut of 10 per cent which the union granted last July. About 120 theatres will be affected. The houses involved may be picketed starting tomorrow. Union officials say the engineers have charge of heating and air conditioning plants.

Lab Talks Broken Off

Negotiations between Arthur Gottlieb of Du Art Film Laboratories, where a strike is in progress, and Motion Picture Laboratory Technicians, Local 702, were broken off yesterday and the union posted pickets in front of the Loew Building on Broadway and Caravel Films on Fifth Ave. Mr. Gottlieb said he did not intend to resume talks with the union. He said he contemplates legal action.

Reserved for last place on the program and presented with special emphasis as the first Disney short produced from an outside work purchased for the purpose was "Ferdinand the Bull," a Disney treatment of the book by Munro Leaf and Robert Lawson.

Labor Claims Violations of New Films Act

By AUBREY FLANAGAN

LONDON, Sept. 28.—Already, in less than six months of the Films Act's operation, labor interests are alleging wholesale breaches of the law by British producers.

The Trade Union Congress has protested against evasions of the act. Categorical accusations that the fair wages clause in the act are not being observed by producers have been made in an official complaint lodged by the Association of Cine Technicians, who allege that the majority of films made under the new Films Act do not comply with its labor clauses.

The A.C.T. claims not a single penny of the additional costs spent by companies which previously spent less than the £7,500 labor cost, has been paid to technicians either in salary or improved conditions. The act says by inference that trade union rates shall be paid to employes. Only in one of the seven major films in production are satisfactory wages being paid, it is stated.

Technicolor 8-Month Net Up to $862,612

Technicolor Motion Pictures Corp. earned $862,612.35 in the first eight months of 1938, as compared with $451,258.16 for the corresponding period last year, it was said yesterday by Dr. Herbert T. Kalmus, president and general manager. The figures are after estimated adjustments but before Federal income taxes.

This is a new high for Technicolor, which has shown progressively improved earnings since its start several years ago.

The company has declared a dividend of 35 cents a share payable Nov. 1 to stockholders of record Oct. 17.

Races Through Holiday Traffic; Saves Sun. Show

SAN JOSE, CAL. — "On a recent Sunday afternoon, during peak show hours, with over 1200 in the audience at the Victory Theatre, the sound stopped during the last reel of the feature film," declared Ray R. Kelsall, district manager of the San Jose Amusement Co., Inc.

"Although Sunday traffic in San Jose is heavy, the Altec Inspector, J. W. Gilroy, actually got to my theatre in five minutes. He found a line fuse to the amplifier was constantly blowing, and at once installed his emergency amplifier. This took five minutes and the show was resumed without loss of a single patron.

"Gilroy located a defective insulation in an obscure place that was causing arcing to the transformer. He worked until 1 A. M., and got the regular amplifier operating properly."

Hollywood Preview

"Touchdown Army"

(Paramount)

HOLLYWOOD, Sept. 28.—This is a re-do of the one, or ones, about the smart Aleck who goes to West Point to play football and gets smacked down by the upper classmen but wins the Navy game in the final seconds of play and the major's daughter immediately afterward. Much of the footage is out of the library, but West Point graduation exercises, drills and gridiron conflict with Navy are never without interest. The rest of the footage has to do with the fiction side of the story and is admirably integrated with the stock stuff to make a smooth, brisk chronicle.

Robert Cummings plays the fresh cadet this time and Mary Carlisle is the major's daughter beloved by him and John Howard, the upper classman who disciplines him sternly but readily gives up the romantic tussle when the time's ripe. William Frawley, Owen Davis, Jr., Benny Baker and Raymond Hatton are other principals, Hatton accomplishing a neat feat with a comedy in the Chic Sale manner.

Timeliness and the West Point background are major exploitation factors. Kurt Newmann directed for Associate Producer Edward T. Lowe and the story and screenplay are credited to Lloyd Corrigan and Erwin Gelsey.

Running time, 70 minutes. "G." ROSCOE WILLIAMS

"Fugitives for a Night"

(RKO)

Here is a novel and fairly entertaining piece, in light vein, which has a touch of comedy, a bit of mystery and centers about the inner operation of a film studio. The central idea, and the best selling cue is the rejuvenation of a film star's stooge, a sort of personal valet and general handyman, via a murder and the subsequent unraveling of it.

Frank Albertson plays the stooge, Eleanor Lynn his sweetheart who leads him toward self respect, Allan Lane, a star who seeks to throw suspicion on Albertson, and Bradley Page, another star, who though slipping, attempts to help Albertson.

The title implies little of the content of the film, except that it is descriptive of the hasty flight from the scene of the murder of Albertson and Miss Lynn, and their wanderings, by car, freight train and bus, back virtually from where they started, where the murderer confesses rather than see Albertson arrested for the crime.

Lou Lusty produced, and Leslie Goodwin directed from a screenplay by Dalton Trumbo and a story by Richard Wormser.

Running time, 63 minutes. "G." CHARLES S. AARONSON

"Overland Stage Raiders"

(Republic)

With John Wayne as the leader of the engaging western trio, The Three Mesquiteers, this is entertaining and active western material. There is novelty in two regards, one that there is a conspicuous and pleasant absence of vocal rendition, rare in today's westerns, and secondly, that it centers about an overland stage in the form of a bus, and features an air line in the west.

Ray Corrigan and Max Terhune are the other two of the group, and they should be popular with the fans of western material. George Sherman, who directed under the supervision of William Berke, from a screenplay by Luci Ward and an original story by Bernard McConville and Edmond Kelso, kept the action geared to a rapid pace, in the air, bus and on horseback.

Wayne and his buddies buy into an airline and hope to salvage it with a contract to carry gold for a mining company. The bus line owner, fearing loss of his contract, attempts to break up the air line's business, with expected—and active—results. The girl in the case is Louise Brooks.

alysis of the returns, not all of which have yet been received, no conclusions were reached.

Officials of the N.A.B. said that the coming months will be exceedingly important to the broadcasting industry, because of the fact that most of the state legislatures will meet this winter and the further fact that one Ascap case is already before the U. S. Supreme Court and at least one more may be presented in the near future.

Kostelanetz Has Show

Andre Kostelanetz, who has been off the air since he left the CBS Chesterfield program last spring, has evolved a new show and will audition it on Saturday for the Coca Cola Co. in a CBS Playhouse. Coca Cola's last network show was on CBS last season, and was known as the "Song Shop."

Miller to Discuss Radio

Filming Radio

Paramount News and News of the Day yesterday dispatched crews to the CBS and NBC headquarters here to film the activities of the special events departments of those networks in covering the international war situation.

New Shows on the Air

"We, the People"

"We, the People" returned to its third season on the air Tuesday under the sponsorship of Sanka Coffee.

The program had variety, pace, was solidly produced, and presented a cast of non-professionals from widely divergent fields, ranging from a doctor who 15 years ago introduced insulin as a treatment for diabetes, to a lady tattooer from New York's Bowery.

The curtain was fittingly enough touched off by 87-year-old Daniel Frohman, dean of theatrical producers. Vojta Benes, brother of the president of Czechoslovakia, spoke in defense of his nation's stand; "Milly, the Ace of the Bowery," elucidated upon the tattooing business; Mrs. Franklin Pierce McCall, wife of the Florida kidnapper, without entering a defense for her husband, told why he had become a kidnapper and Slim and Slam, writers of "Flat Foot Floogie." Gabriel Heatter again was at the show's helm.

"We, the People" is presented Tuesdays at 9 P.M. over CBS.

"Bob Hope Show"

Bob Hope's new show for Pepsodent was inaugurated from Hollywood Tuesday night. A hit and miss quality marred the opening production.

Bob Hope, in our estimation one of the best comedy bets in radio, unfortunately was handicapped by a script which nowhere matched his talent, although at that, Bob left one with a pleasant memory. Jerry Colonna, Greek dialectician and a new foil for Hope, was a total loss. In our estimation, his routine possesses the worst qualities of George Givot's and Parkyakarkus'.

Connie Bennett was the feature guest of the evening. Instead of presenting Miss Bennett in a dramatic skit, the producers of the show placed her opposite Mr. Hope and Mr. Colonna in a gag routine, which is rank programming in our estimation. Skinnay Ennis's band was adequate.

The Bob Hope show is presented Tuesday at 10 P.M. on NBC.

Radio, Press Lauded For Work in Crisis

WASHINGTON, Sept. 28.—Radio and the press of America were lauded yesterday by Neville Miller, president of the National Association of Broadcasters, for their comprehensive reporting and news coverage of the war crisis.

The American people, Mr. Miller declared, are the "most highly informed people in the world" as a result of the press and radio coverage. "Whatever direction public opinion here is taking is based upon complete knowledge of the facts," said Mr. Miller. "In furnishing information from all quarters, the press and radio of this country are living up to their highest ideals of service in a democracy."

Hill and CBS Are Sued

A libel suit asking $250,000 damages was filed against Edwin C. Hill, radio commentator, CBS and the American Tobacco Co, in N. Y. Supreme Court yesterday by Moses Polakoff. He charged that Mr. Hill, in a broadcast over WABC advertising Lucky Strike cigarettes on Aug. 12, 1937, commented on the trial of "Lucky" Luciano and his conviction, and characterized the attorneys representing Luciano as "crooked lawyers." Mr. Polakoff was one of the attorneys.

Among speakers scheduled are: John W. Studebaker, U. S. Commissioner of Education; Dr. Henry Rowland Angell, educational director of NBC; Margaret Harrison, author of "Education in the Classrooms," and Neville Miller, president of the National Association of Broadcasters.

Kennedy and Hawks In a Mennen Series

John B. Kennedy and Bob Hawks have been engaged by the Mennen Co. for a new series of audience participation programs titled "People's Meeting of the Air," to start over a hookup of Mutual stations Oct. 9.

The series will originate in the Mutual Playhouse in New York and will be broadcast Sundays from 3:30 to 4 P. M., over WLW, WGN, WBAL, WAAB, WGR, WFIL and WCAE. WOR, New York, will broadcast the show on Mondays from 8 to 8:30 P. M. from Oct. 10 until Dec. 18, and thereafter on Sundays at the same time as the network. Mutual's New York outlet cannot carry the show on Sundays until after the December date because it is already committed to broadcast football games at that time. The H. M. Kietewetter agency placed the business.

Editors vs. Publicists

Editors and press agents will meet during Paul Wing's Energine "Spelling Bee" Oct. 2 over NBC. On the editors' team will be Paul Schoenstein, city editor of the Journal-American; Jimmy Powers, sports editor of the News; Fred Sammis, editor of Radio Mirror; George Ross, night club editor of the World-Telegram; a Broadway columnist as yet unselected, and William C. 'Movie Quiz' Now on KOL

SEATTLE, Sept. 28.—Theatre patrons who have questions about the "Movie Quiz" pictures or the quiz itself will have their queries answered by radio, beginning next week. Every Saturday Vic Gauntlett, advertising and publicity director for Hamrick-Evergreen theatres, will preside over a program to be called "Movie Quiz Questions." The program is being advertised on the screens of participating theatres, and also over the air by KOL, local unit of the Mutual-Don Lee network.

Sally Is Censored

Sally Rand, who plays "September Morn" behind a bubble, almost didn't make her scheduled appearance on the "For Men Only" program last night over NBC. Miss Rand submitted her script to NBC late yesterday and when network officials read it they refused to pass upon it. Finally they consented to permit her to appear if she would read a script prepared by the network. Following some temperament Miss Rand agreed. NBC obviously retained some recollection of what happened when Mae West was allowed to go on the air with an uncensored script.

This is motion pictures' greatest year and "Drums" proved it today. Extremely happy to advise that "Drums" opened here to one of the biggest opening days we have ever had in this theatre. This smash business was done in spite serious strikes in San Francisco retail stores and warehouses. Jammed crowds from early morning to late closing at night attested to great success of this picture. Audience and critic reaction really terrific. Both Charles Schlaifer and myself wish to congratulate Alexander Korda and United Artists on smash boxoffice hit.

Momand Hearing Is Delayed to Oct. 24

OKLAHOMA CITY, Sept. 29.—Because the taking of depositions in New York of defendants has not been completed hearings in A. B. Momand's Federal anti-trust suits against Griffith Amusement Co., 20th Century-Fox and other distributors was continued today by A. P. Murrah, U. S. District Judge, until Oct. 24.

"King" Starts Big

"If I Were King" grossed $18,700 in its first two days at the Paramount and is headed for a $75,000 week, or nearly double the average for the house.

Despite the fact that the theatre advanced its opening hour to 8:30 A. M., lines stretching into 43rd St. have been on hand an hour before the opening time and hold-outs have been the rule throughout the first two days. The crush was so great at the Broadway entrance yesterday noon that five police cars were summoned to untangle traffic at the 43rd St. corner.

Political Change Brings Relief to English Industry

By AUBREY FLANAGAN

LONDON, Sept. 29.—A tremendous feeling of relief was evident in the film industry here today at the turn in the political situation. The business had come to a virtual halt in the past few days. Theatres throughout the country suffered heavily at both evening and matinee performances, and there was little or no trading in Wardour St.

For the most part studios have been operating normally, despite the call to mobilization which took many employes. No theatres have been closed and all are continuing to collaborate with the authorities in propaganda and similar work. The

Final Moves Before Court On RKO Plan

Judge Critical of Plea For SEC Intervention

Reorganization of RKO moved into the final stages yesterday when U. S. District Court Judge William Bondy started hearings on a motion to confirm the report of Special Master George W. Alger, which approved the proposed plan. With only two exceptions, all creditor interests have approved the plan.

Ernest W. Stirn, holder of the unconverted Class A stock, presented a petition to have the provisions of the recently enacted Chandler Act applied to the present proceedings. Granting of this petition might set the plan back for months. Indications from Judge Bondy during the argument pointed to a denial of the motion.

At the request of Hamilton C. Rickaby, attorney for Atlas Corp., the proponent of the plan, Judge Bondy promised an early ending of the hearings. Argument will be resumed on Monday and it is likely that it will be concluded then.

Chesterfield has been liquidated. It maintains an office in the Loew's State Theatre building.

Final Moves Before Court On RKO Plan

Mr. Stirn's petition, which was argued by H. William Ihrig of Milwaukee, requested the indefinite postponement of the plan, an invitation to the S.E.C. to inspect it, and the voiding of all consents now secured with provisions for obtaining new consents. Mr. Ihrig contended that under the Chandler Act, the Atlas group has lost the right to propose a plan and that only the Irving Trust Co., as trustee, could formulate a plan. Mr. Ihrig disclaimed any desire to obstruct an early formulation of a new plan and suggested that the trustee could present the identical plan if it so desired.

Arguments Hinge On "Practicable"

Although it is generally conceded that the proceedings suggested by the Stirn petition are required under the Chandler Act, it was argued that reorganizations started before the passage of the act are not affected. Argument hinged on the word "practicable" found in the law. Proponents of the plan contended that speed was essential and said the S.E.C. could add nothing to the report of Special Master Alger.

Judge Bondy stated that he had the utmost confidence in the ability of the master and that he felt that the intervention of the S.E.C. would "inspire no greater confidence in the report." The court also disagreed with Mr. Ihrig's contention that Atlas had lost any right to propose a plan. Judge Bondy declared use of the word "practicable" gave him unlimited discretion in the application of the Chandler Act and that he was "disinclined" to have it affect the present proceedings.

Nathan Rosenberg, attorney for H. Cassell & Co., debenture holders, presented the only major creditor dissent with the plan. He pointed out that debenture holders could not be deprived of their security without adequate compensation. He asked that the debentures be given securities which would permit immediate liquidation at the full value of the bonds with interest.

Judge Bondy Makes Suggestions

Judge Bondy indicated considerable interest in this argument and made several suggestions which would maintain the creditor status of the present debenture holders but Mr. Rickaby insisted at each stage that the best plan had been worked out and no further amendments could be made.

David Stock, also representing Cassell interests, charged that the proposed certificate of incorporation would not be passed by the S.E.C. as it granted too many liberties to the board of directors. Counsel for Si Fabian, who is a contingent unsecured creditor, argued that the plan was unconstitutional because it failed to provide for compensation for certain guarantees. Joseph M. Cohen, attorney for independent stockholders attacked provisions made for debenture holders but was interrupted by the adjournment.

tributing company, reported a net loss of $1,135,522 for the 26-week period, compared with a profit of $476,491 for the same period in 1937. This result includes the accrual of interest on indebtedness of the subsidiary to its parent company in the total amount of $1,038,047 during the 26-week period. For the 11 weeks from July 2 to Sept. 17 the estimated loss of the picture company was reduced to $214,683, and during the past two weeks the company has operated profitably.

The parent company's cash position was improved by $791,177 during the period, to a total of $6,073,791. In addition, the fixed indebtedness of RKO was reduced by $967,095. Film inventories declined more than $2,000,0000.

Holdovers Disturb Omaha Subsequents

Omaha, Sept. 29.—Several recent first run holdovers on single bills have complicated the subsequent run situation here because there are only three first run houses.

"Boys Town" ran three weeks at the Omaha, taking the normal place of six features. The Omaha also gave two weeks each to "Spawn of the North" and "Love Finds Andy Hardy." The Orpheum had "Alexander's Ragtime Band" for two weeks. The Brandeis held "Four Daughters," "Birth of a Baby" and "Adventures of Robin Hood."

Even when good pictures are few, exhibitors point out, it requires sleight-of-hand booking to crowd them onto three first run screens. Several big pictures are coming up that will push bookings even farther into the future.

Warner Theatres Ad Men in Session Here

Nine Warner theatre advertising men from out of town met here yesterday with Harry Goldberg, advertising and publicity director for the circuit, to lay plans for furthering the Motion Pictures' Greatest Year campaign and discuss the merchandising of "The Sisters," which was screened.

Those attending were Larry Stein, Chicago; Sid Dannenberg, Cleveland; Dan Finn, New Haven; Bob Paskow, Newark; Charles Smakwitz, Albany; Everett Callow, Philadelphia; Joseph Feldman, Pittsburgh; Frank LaFalce, Washington, and Mort Levine, Atlantic City.

Para. Meeting Routine

Only routine business was on the agenda for the monthly meeting yesterday of the Paramount board of directors, company officials stated. Barney Balaban, president, and Stanton Griffis, chairman of the executive committee, have postponed their trip to the studio for another 10 days or two weeks.

The company's joint sales meeting for western and midwestern representatives will be held in Chicago tomorrow and Sunday with Mr. Alperson presiding. A meeting for the eastern and southern representatives will be held here Oct. 8 and 9. Mr. Skirball will come here from the coast for the second meeting.

Delay Decision on Future of FBI Unit

London, Sept. 29.—The Film Group of the Federation of British Industries held another lengthy meeting here to discuss the future of the organization, which is threatened with collapse, but no final decision was reached. The withdrawal of Associated British, Associated Talking and Sound City, and the abstention of Gaumont British has weakened the organization financially and the apathy of other members has served to halt the activity of the group.

The unit may reorganize to admit American producers in this country, but if that is done Neville Kearney, secretary, will resign. He claims a minimum of £2,700 annually will cover the expenses of the producer group, but this year the F. B. I. is £300 short of that minimum.

Goldwyn a Witness At Guild Hearing

Hollywood, Sept. 29.—Samuel Goldwyn was the principal witness today at the N.L.R.B. hearing on the petition of the Screen Directors' Guild to be named the sole bargaining agency of directors, assistant directors and unit managers.

Mr. Goldwyn testified that he knew of only one case in which an assistant director had directed scenes. Most of the session was given over to a discussion of how many hours directors take for lunch and who takes charge when they are tardy in returning to the set. E. J. Mannix is expected to take the stand tomorrow.

its views on self-regulatory moves within the industry, and probable [illegible]sequences of the separate investigation of Fox West Coast which has been conducted by the department for more than a year past.

Counsel for Loew's, Paramount, RKO, 20th Century-Fox and Warners were represented at the meeting Wednesday. Because of the scope of the discussions, which extended beyond the phase of affiliated theatre operation, counsel for the three other major defendants, Columbia, United Artists and Universal, are expected to participate in today's meeting.

Following this meeting and subsequent sessions which will be held next week, if necessary, a new conference with Department of Justice officials will be arranged, at which, according to present indications, counsel for all eight major companies will be present.

More than one additional meeting with Department of Justice officials may be necessary, and in the event that future conferences promise definite results indications are that the Government will again agree to an extension of time for filing answers to its bill of complaint in the equity action. Most of those answers are due Nov. 1.

Colonel Donovan, whose prominent part in the Wednesday conferences revived reports that his law firm, Donovan, Newton, Leisure & Lumbard, would be designated chief counsel for the defendants, remained in Washington yesterday. In his absence, counsel for other companies declined to divulge the Government's attitude on any specific subject involved in the discussion.

Says Justice Probe Coming at Greenwich

The Department of Justice will start an investigation before the week is over of the complaint of Prefect Theatres against Skouras involving clearance held by Skouras in Portchester over the Pickwick in Greenwich, Clarence D. Loewe, an official of Prefect, said yesterday.

Mr. Loewe said he received information yesterday from Thurman Arnold, special assistant U. S. Attorney General, that the investigation would get under way without delay.

The dispute is of long standing and involves allegedly unreasonable protection held by Skouras over the Greenwich house, which, in some instances runs to a maximum of 90 or 120 days, according to Prefect.

This was his first visit to the exchanges since becoming distribution chief, but his seventh all told.

Studios to Aid Film Drive Fashion Show

The cooperation of all major Hollywood studios has been obtained by the Motion Pictures' Greatest Year campaign directors in carrying out the all-industry fashion show which is slated to get under way by Nov. 1, campaign headquarters reported yesterday.

Plans for the fashion show provide for the licensing of one manufacturer in every branch of the fashion trades to turn out an exclusive article conceived by Hollywood designers. One store in each city will be designated to merchandise the articles, all of which will be tied in with the industry business drive and "Movie Quiz" contest pictures. Exploitation and fashion department heads of major company home offices will hold their first meeting at campaign headquarters today to devise promotional plans for the fashion show.

Campaign headquarters reported yesterday that due to the illness of Mrs. Edward E. Hughes, widow of Thomas A. Edison, her daughter, Mrs. John E. Sloan, will unveil the bronze tablet on the R. H. Macy store property, Oct. 4, commemorating the first commercial showing of motion pictures at that location 43 years ago.

Shubert Told to Testify

Lee Shubert, as treasurer of Duco Corp., was ordered yesterday by N. Y. Supreme Court Justice Samuel H. Hofstadter to submit to examination before trial on Oct. 7 in the suit brought by Jacob J. Shubert, as an officer of Duco Corp., against Charles D. Coburn for an accounting and damages of $674. Justice Hofstadter, who directed Shubert's examination on application of Mr. Coburn, also granted an application of the Shuberts for an examination of Mr. Coburn, the defendant.

Suit is based on Sections 60 and 61 of the General Corporation Law, and charges that the defendant, as an officer of Duco Corp., sold the film rights of the play, "The Farmer's Wife," in May, 1937, and failed to turn over the proceeds to the company. The defendant has counterclaimed against the Shuberts for $6,000 which they allegedly received for the sale of the scenery and properties of the play.

Chicago Engineers Picket 25 Houses

Chicago, Sept. 29.—Theatre engineers were picketing about 25 theatres here today as the Chicago Exhibitors' Association's president, Morris Leonard, continues to refuse the restoration of a 10 per cent voluntary pay cut the engineers took during the summer months.

Until the engineers could arbitrate a deal, according to a previous understanding, the increase would amount to approximately five dollars weekly per theatre, but as the walkout was not approved by the international it appears the local union is taking an unsanctioned and unreasonable attitude.

Philadelphia Drive Asked by Bernhard

Philadelphia, Sept. 29.—Joseph Bernhard, general manager of Warner theatres, speaking at a meeting of the Real Estate Board here today, urged Philadelphia civic organizations to form a "Promote Philadelphia Committee" to build civic pride and "exploit the city's advantages for working and living."

Mr. Bernhard said he spoke as a native Philadelphian, who formerly had spent 20 years in the real estate business in the city, and as "an officer of a company which is one of Philadelphia's largest business concerns, doing over $10,000,000 per year."

"Stanley-Warners' investment in Philadelphia includes real estate valued on our books at close to $30,000,000," Mr. Bernhard said. "We are one of the largest taxpayers in the city, turning over to the receiver of taxes every year nearly a half million dollars. In addition, we pay $1,400,000 rent annually for properties which we do not own, and we collect, in rent for our business property in the theatre block, more than $250,000 yearly. We employ in Philadelphia alone nearly 2,000 people and practically 2,500 in all the theatres managed from the Philadelphia office."

Charging that Philadelphia has not kept pace with other large cities, Mr. Bernhard offered his promotion plan and said that though the circuit has rejected millions in revenue from screen advertising, the screens of the 76 Warner houses in the city would be used in the campaign and the circuit would use its influence with other exhibitors to cooperate.

NBC to Fight N. J. Laws on Station Move

Approval by the state of New Jersey is no longer necessary before a radio transmitter may be moved, in view of the fact that the Federal Government now regulates broadcasting, it will be contended by NBC in fighting a New Jersey show cause order.

Permission has been granted by the Federal Communications Commission to transfer the transmitter of W2XDG, one of the NBC ultra high frequency stations, from its present site on the roof of the RCA Building to a location adjoining the WJZ transmitter at Bound Brook, N. J. Despite that, the Public Utilities Commission of New Jersey has ordered the network to appear in Newark Oct. 18 to show cause why the transfer should not be prevented. The commission claims the network failed to comply with a New Jersey law which empowers the body to regulate radio in the state as the F.C.C. does nationally. It is an old statute, originally designed to protect New Jersey listeners from interference of powerful nearby stations.

W2XDG and a sister station, W2XDH, now have their transmitters on the roof of the RCA Building.
